

Boll Weevil At Work In County

What with the boll weevil and the pear leaf spot, farmers in Bulloch county are having a rough time, according to Byron Dyer, county agent.

The boll weevil infestation reached 14 per cent in Bulloch county Saturday. However, some of the 17 fields checked ran as high as 28 per cent.

This means that those cotton farmers planning to do for weevil control this year needs to keep after them each week now. Dr. P. M. Gilmer, entomologist, Georgia Coastal Plant Experiment Station, says.

Most of the cotton growers are already using BHC or Toxaphene on their cotton.

The station found in its tests last year that Toxaphene sprayed on longer and gave a better kill over a long period but that during rainy weather or early in the season BHC was better.

With from three to eight hours of open weather after BHC is ap-

Dorman Addresses Statesboro Rotary

In a challenging talk to the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday, Alfred Dorman charged the business people of the city to do something to help the people in the small communities in this and surrounding counties secure better roads into Statesboro.

He suggested that if we do not, other business men in other cities would help these communities secure paved roads into their cities and then "court" them for their trade.

He related some of the things he had seen recently in other sections of the nation on an extended trip he made. On his "I saw 25,000 to 30,000 people idle, walking the streets, on strikes," he said.

In Michigan, he said there were 90,000 men on strike . . . "out of work."

And "brought on by themselves," he explained.

At the University of Alabama, 10,700 went home for summer vacation and Tuscaloosa's cash register quit ringing.

He urged the citizens of Statesboro to become more aware of our own college and realize what it means to this community.

And in closing he challenged the business men who are crying "poor business" to do something about it.

SOUND SIMPLICITY at rock-bottom cost is the keynote of this new model home recently opened by the Montauk Beach Company, Inc., on Long Island, N.Y. Designed after the suggestions of Douglas Tuomey, building consultant for Good Housekeeping magazine, the architect kept expenses down by: (1) Elimination of basement; (2) Simple frame and roof; (3) Dry Wall construction; (4) Simplified windows and trim; (5) Use of closets for partitions. Although the house embodies the latest principles and advancements in moderate-priced design and construction, it's so simple to build that the toolwielding amateur can do much of the work. The Montauk Beach home lends itself to any seashore terrain and can be used for a summer or year round home. It is featured in the June issue of the magazine.

'Pid' Deal Takes C of C On Word-Tour of Europe

Elizabeth "Pid" Deal took the members of the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce on a word-tour of Europe, including France, Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Italy, and the Island of Capri. She was the guest of the club at its regular meeting Tuesday of last week.

Miss Deal taught in a school maintained for the children of the delegates to the United Nations, and employees of the Marshall Plan in Paris, France.

Included in her first, second, and third grades were princesses and princesses, and of the "aristocracy of the world" according to Colonel A. M. Deal, who presented her to the club.

Miss Deal told of her travels during her holidays. She found Switzerland beautiful, with the people healthy and living in communities with no evidence of World War II. Her experiences in Belgium gave her an unfavorable impression.

In Spain she experienced the close surveillance that is characteristic of totalitarian states. It was while in this country that she was robbed of her purse, including all her funds, and her passport. It was only after considerable trouble and help from the American Consulate that she was able to secure enough funds and a new passport to enable her to return to Paris. It was during this experience that she learned she had been under constant watch by the Spanish police. "It was a strange feeling," she said.

She told of seeing the Italian hard at work, rebuilding communities ruined by the war. "The people were cheerful," she said. Before coming home she visited

Back Home; Had Fun By JAN GAY

Register Future Farmers of America are finding it hard to get "back in the groove" after last week's fun-filled excursion to St. Simon's Island. Memories of hair-raising motor-scooter rides, a trip to Jekyll Island, swimming, and just plain loafing, will occupy the boys' minds for a long time to come.

An unexpected thrill came to those who spent one day of their stay at Jekyll Island. They had an opportunity to see the island from the air. Several who had the plane ride had never been up before until Jekyll's air-taxi service had it possible.

The folks at home have no doubt heard all about "Dr. Johnson," who kept the crew healthy. Miss Ellen Johnson, Marrietta friend of Jan Gay, accompanied F.F.A. chapter advisor Mr. Owen Gay, Mrs. Gay, daughter, Jan, and the boys to St. Simon's. With her trippy bottle of baby lotion and box of band-aids, she found remedies for everything from sun-burned backs and blistered noses to sore toes and over-eager appetites.

A favorite pastime with the boys was touring the island on motor-scooters. In fact, some of the most enthusiastic riders did during business hours.

Woman's Club Report For 48-49

As President of the Woman's Club of Statesboro, I wish to submit the following report from April 1948, through May, 1949.

The keynote of friendliness was sounded at the first meeting in September at which time stock was taken of yourself as a club member. You will find, I hope, that your profits mount to a huge sum. Are you not a better woman for these associations? Are you not a better member of your community? Are you not a better club member, more intelligent and efficient? Are you not a better friend?

The affirmative answer to these questions has been of great value to me; and I do thank all the many kind things you've said and for your cooperation in the work we have tried to keep both before us throughout the year.

All club meetings with exception of one, have been presided over by your president. The club collect has been attended each time and a message of inspiration given, besides regular routine of business. I have attended, along with others, many meetings which have widened my circle by having contact with leaders—the women of vision who are striving with, and for you to make this world a better place. I attended State Conference in Macon in 1948. State Conference in August in April, 1949, also attended two district meetings in Savannah, one in Guyton, and one in Savannah.

This report is a mere resume of the things done by the various committees and should I omit something important, please call my hand so that it may be put in for sake of the future record.

The Executive Board is the steering committee, thanks to the first Vice President, Mrs. Grover Brannen, has presided at the meeting and the Second Vice President, Mrs. J.O. Johnston, has kept the record of work done and presented same to regular club meetings. The minutes of each meeting may be reviewed if any are interested in knowing the details.

At the close of past year's work, our club house was leased to a city for use as a Recreation Center in Memorial Park. The challenge was accepted for sake of youth and we do feel that we have a real part in molding the future of the children of the community and city.

We have a member of the Board of Directors, Mrs. W. A. Bowen, and Mrs. Inman Dekle represents the club at the meetings. These reports to us and our spokesmen. We have assisted materially to the comfort of the house by completing payment on installing of gas heat. A clock was given club by Mrs. Ed Pretorius and it is placed on the wall. This is a big asset for we can keep up with time and also see how far behind time we run. Thanks to Mrs. Pretorius for such a timely gift.

The yearbooks show the outline of programs have been most interesting and informative, thanks to Mrs. E. B. Rushing and her committee. Mrs. Rushing has always presided most graciously and we have had some outstanding speakers, Miss McAlpin, Mr. Jack Averitt, Dr. Neil, Miss Sue Snipes, Miss Spears, Mrs. Maud Edge, Mrs. Carroll, and others.

The Educational Committee, of which Mrs. Weaver chairman, has had a very important role in the affairs of the club. Highlights of news has been given by some of her committee at most of the regular meetings. The club received special mention at the State Conference for educational work done the past year. They've held discussion groups which included men as well as women, and the topic this year centered around democratic documents and our government. Through their contribution the dedication service in April, stand reminding us of Tallulah the library this year. There's a corner in the library where Federated Papers and club news are kept. Mrs. Hodges secured six subscriptions to the Federated Club Woman Magazine.

The Garden Committee, under Mrs. Alfred Dorman's guidance, gives a very enthusiastic report of their activities and plans. They have held monthly meetings and each member was given an assignment at the first meeting. They studied and worked. Parliamentary rules was one of the subjects studied and, of course, flower arrangement. They've been instrumental in getting grass and shrubbery planted in the double streets and parks. They held a very successful Camellia Show in January. The money made from the show will be used in beautifying the library grounds. Two of the committee acted as judges of Decorated Doors and Windows in Savannah in December. At the April meeting they sponsored a flower show and Mrs. Arthur Howard won the beautiful plant. Two year president's desire that flowers and flower arrangements be displayed at each meeting but it took the garden committee to really put that over when they were hostess to the club.

The Membership Committee, with Mrs. Ed Pretorius heading it, certainly did their part. They were active most all the year and many new members were added to the roll and some few once-upon-time members were brought back into the fold.

Each Committee has acted as hostess to the club and, my, how we have enjoyed the socials. All was carried out so well and pretty and nice.

'Twould have been too good if all the visions could have been reached, with this resume before you, I'm sure you agree that we have had a most successful year and from the bottom of my heart I wish to say to each one, "Thank You."

HD Club to Sponsor Booths at County Fair

The home demonstration club in the county will sponsor the booths in the fair this fall. Mrs. Billy Simmons, council president, announced following their May meeting.

When the fair committee met in the winter they voted to give the PTA organizations the first chance of handling the fair in 1949 and the demonstration clubs second chance. The PTA groups voted to not exercise their priority and waived their chance to the home demonstration clubs.

Mrs. Simmons stated that the presidents of the 15-home demonstration clubs would meet this week, probably, to work out their plans and submit them to the fair committee. She expressed the belief that the 4-H Clubs would be invited to help put on the fair, especially from the "pick and shovel" angle.

The 1949 Fair will be held during the week of September 19-24. H. E. Allen, president, stated. Others officers of the fair are Cecil Kennedy, vice chairman, and Rufus G. Brannen, secretary.

Leading Accidents
Falls were reported as the leading type of accident to farm people in all regions last year. They accounted for a fourth of all accidents, while those involving machines and animals were next, accounting for about an eighth of all accidents.

Army rejections showed how prevalent tuberculosis still is. But instead of feeling that "the government ought to do something about it," our county took up a collection and bought a traveling tuberculosis clinic.

This "clinic" is a completely equipped truck that goes from town to town X-raying everyone free of charge. The best way to fight a disease is to try to stop it before it gets out of hand.

BOY SCOUTS LOWERS AGE ENTRANCE FOR SCOUTING

Coastal Empire Council Boy Scouts of America has just lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective next Sept. 1.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the national Executive Board of the organization, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said the decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents.

After Sept. 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

The program known as Senior Scouting, Dr. Schuck announced, now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land, sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships or Explorer Squadrons, respectively.

High School Campaign To Be Intensified

The present high school campaign, which will be intensified during the next two months, is probably the most important ever undertaken by the recruiting service, the Recruiting Sergeant stated today. Now that the emphasis in recruiting is on quality, it is imperative that efforts be concentrated on securing the highest caliber of recruit. The high school graduate is the answer to this problem.

In citing the many advantages of an Army career, the recruiting sergeant stressed the opportunities for interesting work; the chances for advancement in a career field; the best technical training available anywhere in the country; job and financial security; and, finally, liberal retirement benefits. In the Army also, the sergeant said, is the chance for a young man or woman not only to join up with an up-to-date business organization, but to grow with it in a career field of his or her own choosing.

One of the most profound influences in shaping our country has been the Army, the sergeant reminded. It has made statesmen, educators, scientists; it has made contributions to humanity in such fields as medical research, electronics and numerous technical fields.

The Army offers greater opportunities and advantages than ever before in its history to young high school graduates who want to serve their country and at the same time build a successful future. Through the knowledge they will gain in service, the sergeant said, in apprenticeship and in practice, they have training for serving in hundreds of different ways. This is an opportunity which cannot be equaled.

See your recruiting sergeant today for full details. He is located at the courthouse in Statesboro.

covered their funds were so depleted before the week was over that they found it necessary to make known to several St. Simon's residents their somewhat hidden and rusty talents for mowing lawns and clipping hedges!

Lonnie Ellis, whose cooking is famed around Register, accompanied the party as chief cook and bottle washer. Although cooking for 20 boys is no easy job, there was never a lack of food. Everybody had plenty to keep him going through swimming, skating, bowling, and all the other activities which made this F.F.A. trip a complete success.

President Henry Ellis, yielding to the hilarious spirit of his fellow Lions, omitted the usual address and let the program committee, with Kermit Carl as Monarch of the group, demonstrate how playful a Lion can get.

First, in a beautiful presentation, Mrs. W. H. Ellis, mother of the Lion President, received a beautiful corsage of red carnations. By that time the boys were getting restless and, instead of a lullaby, Lion Carl brought out the cubs. They were Max Lockwood, Dr. E. B. Stubbs, Albert B. Green, Percy E. Hutto, Don Hackett, Al Sutherland, and Sam J. Franklin.

Small chairs were provided for them. Tall Twisters, Paul Saue and J. P. Redding, experienced papas, definitely improved the appearance of the little ones by adding baby bonnets and hats to their somewhat somber attire. The darling little cubs were penalized if they left the chairs or removed their baby apparel. Their wives paid the fines and the cubs were then allowed to eat at the table with the full-fledged Lions.

Prizes given were overwhelming—for instance, Mrs. E. B. Stubbs won first door prize and received an actual life-size screen door, all tied up with blue ribbon. Mrs. Sidney Dodd won the second door prize. When Lion Smart, optometrist, was called on to deliver an address on a subject dear to the hearts of the Lions, a howl of protests came from John Gee, photographer, as he held that Smart would thereby advertise his profession. Lending further color to the heated argument were remarks from Howard Christian, who denounced Gee, and Lion Thackston took up the cudgels for Gee.

Lovely and luscious Margaret Sherman charmed the average beast with such songs as "Deep In My Heart" and "Indian Love Call," accompanied by that killer-diller of the Ivories, Emma Kelly. It was learned that Lion and A. B. Green and Lion and Mrs. Sidney Dodd Jr. were celebrating wedding anniversaries. So they were called to the podium and, standing beside Margaret Sherman, were REQUESTED to hold hands while she sang "Sweetheart," which was dedicated to them.

There was some other hocus-hocus, such as Lion Carr calling on Lion Gee, district commissioner of Boy Scouts of Bulloch County, and presenting him with a

Lions Roar For Ladies

By JANE

The walls of the Forest Heights Club resounded to the roar of the Lions and the walls of the sleepy cubs as they put on a show for the Lionesses, who were their honor guests the evening of Tuesday, June 28.

The jungle kings were held in solemn dignity until Lion President Henry Ellis invited Dewitte Thackston to lead the Salute to the American Flag, which was followed by the invocation, given by the Rev. George Lovell.

As soon as the members and guests were seated the Lions reverted to their jungle habits and, in surprisingly professional manner and with a Disney or should we say "dizzy" touch, sang "Ladies' Night" and "There's a Club in Our Town," led by Lion Al Sutherland.

President Henry Ellis, yielding to the hilarious spirit of his fellow Lions, omitted the usual address and let the program committee, with Kermit Carl as Monarch of the group, demonstrate how playful a Lion can get.

First, in a beautiful presentation, Mrs. W. H. Ellis, mother of the Lion President, received a beautiful corsage of red carnations.
