

For Our Citizens of the Future

BULLOCH COUNTY is concerned about their schools!

And its citizens are going about the business of doing something to determine their school problems and how to remedy them.

On Thursday night of last week, nearly 50 citizens from all sections of the county, including Statesboro, met at the courthouse and heard school authorities tell of the crying needs of our schools.

Inadequate school plants... antiquated school buildings... neglect to provide proper preparation for the high school student who does not go to college, but who takes his or her place in the community... dilapidated school transportation... misplaced school buildings... school buildings that are fire hazards... inequalities in teacher loads... and so on... many, many needs and problems.

These people who think so much of their community and are concerned about their citizens of the future came from all parts of the county.

They organized themselves into a committee to investigate the needs of the county schools... evaluate the findings of their investigations... and make recommendations.

This is not just a Johnny-jumpup committee to make a surface investigation. This is a group whose members realize the inadequacy of our schools and that only careful and intelligent planning can improve them.

The things the committee will consider are:

1. The kind of school plants required to serve effectively the educational program specifically planned to meet the needs of the communities served by the school.
2. The number of school plants needed to serve effectively all communities and individuals included in the system.
3. The desirable location of each school or school center.
4. The desirable size of each school, whether elementary or high school, or combination, and the number of pupils and teacher-stations required.
5. The greatest possible utilization of existing facilities as they may or may not be found appropriate for continued use in the total-over-all program.
6. Recommendations, including step-by-step program, possibly requiring a number of years to complete; to provide needed facilities, with individual project listed in the order of urgency and importance in the total scheme.

7. Possible requirement in terms of dollars needed to provide facilities in the immediate program and the long-range program.

To make the survey as easy as possible the committee will break itself down into four sub-committees with chairman and secretaries.

One committee will determine the kind of school program desired in Bulloch county and its implications for the school plant.

A second committee will make a population study. It will determine enrollment trends, distribution of school population by grade levels, geographical distribution of school population and of existing schools. This committee will make spot maps showing where each school child lives.

A third committee will evaluate the existing facilities in terms of educational fitness and other requirements.

And the fourth committee will study the administration, organization, and financial information relating to the provision of school plants and financing of capital outlay.

With all the facts and data in, a report will be written up. No frills or folderols. Just a plain, hard, down-to-earth, understandable report. These people will under their recommendations.

And if Bulloch county is to advance in its educational program... if Bulloch county would do right by its citizens of the future... it will be well that they study carefully the findings and act in accordance with the committee's recommendations.

The Negro citizens of Bulloch county are one up on the white citizens. They have been working for weeks on just such a survey. It is believed that out of it will come a satisfactory solution of the problem which confronts every community in our Southland—that of improving the educational facilities of its Negro citizens—giving them full opportunity to secure the education that is their constitutional right.

The effort is one of community-wide interest and one demanding community-wide cooperation.

Out of these two surveys will come better understanding between our two races on the matter of preparing our citizens of the future.

Every now and then a traveler who has found Statesboro an attractive city and its people warm and friendly, takes time out to write back and say so.

Now comes a letter dated February 20, 1950, from a traveler who lives in Malden, Mass. On February 18, 1949, he had an accident near here and while in town waiting for his car to be repaired he found the city friendly to him and his.

The letter is from Mr. Harold Krasnow and is written on a letterhead of Northern Products Co., Inc., wholesale grocers, of 36 Franklin street, Malden 48, Mass. He addressed it to the Chamber of Commerce here. He had some nice things to say about the Franklin Chevrolet Company and so the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce passed the letter on to Lehman Franklin.

In a sort of round-about-way we learned about the letter. We like to publish the nice things people say about our city and so we give you the letter just as it is.

"This is a letter that has been neglected for a year, but I feel that even now it is timely and necessary."

"I wish to thank your city and particularly the Chevrolet agency for the thoughtfulness and friendly, take time out to write back and say so."

"I had an accident 8 miles from Statesboro (on a very dangerous curve) on my way home from Florida, and was very lucky to escape alive."

"After being towed into the city, the Franklin Chevrolet Company repaired my car in about 25 minutes so that I might not be delayed any longer, and further."

"We believe that generally travelers find our community a good one to include on their map when they route-south, west-east, and back."

Last Wednesday we had lunch at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen on U. S. 301, and observed that the travelers who stopped there all were pleased with what they found here.

More and more travelers are going to be stopping here and when we give them a home and friendly welcome the "word" will get around.

STIMULATING... AND EDUCATIONAL

The Vocational School took Friday instead of Wednesday for Washington's birthday, so when Ellis came home Thursday afternoon he was packed up and headed for Eastman, to visit his parents there and his brother's family in Abbeville.

Zeb and Olga came over Friday afternoon with John and Zandra, we went over to Abbeville Saturday and they came back to Eastman Sunday, so we really had a get-together.

I guess every family enjoys days like these—we talked of everything from merry killings and high freight rates to gardens and baseball. Believing that all folks are interested in what other folks talk about, I'm going to put down some of our observations and conclusions.

I was informed us that "Cheaper by the Dozen," a novel which was published in the Ladies Home Journal, is being filmed with Clifton Webb, Myrna Loy, and a super-cast including 12 children. Twelve children mean headaches in any language and the studio directors were constantly breaking up fights and trying to settle differences which invariably came up. Clifton Webb, however, could instruct them to stop and they would! Later, it was discovered that his power stemmed from the fact that the older children told the others that Web would dump a bowl of oatmeal on their heads if they didn't behave. I want to see that picture and I know Bertha Brannen does, too, because she's the one who recommended the story to me last spring.

Baseball season is coming up and Eastman fans are getting excited. There was quite a discussion over the choice of top player for the first half of the century and the consensus was that Ty Cobb should have had the honor because he hit well over .350 (I believe) for over 20 years, and that's a record that hasn't been equalled.

Everyone agreed that Canasta, the game that runs you wild with wild cards, is exciting. We had several controversies in the course of three games, but with a little help from the referee we got them settled satisfactorily.

Olga and Mother Hargrove are getting to be authorities on azaleas. Before this visit, I named these blossoms vaguely, dividing them into three classes—white, pink, and dark red, but now I know what liners are and after shopping around two nurseries Sunday, I can name several varieties and distinguish between the dwarfs and the large ones.

Arson seems to be built into all children. I remember my brother setting fire to a stack of clothes on the basement floor in Akron, and how I wept because a new dress, in for its first washing, was ruined. When Beth burned up a small radio on our electric stove by simply turning on all the burners and gleefully watching it flame up. Now, Olga informs me that John has carefully placed two dolls on their fuel oil heater and successfully charred them beyond repair. They never actually caught fire, but they were singed and smell enough to earn space in the trash can.

Daddy Hargrove told us that the men scarified the ground on the Eastman ball diamond before planting rye and Bermuda seed. Mother Hargrove and I asked in unison, "What did they do to the ground?" He told us again and we looked it up. Scarify is a perfectly good word, but neither of us had heard it before, so we learned something.

Everyone was stove up with colds and talk naturally got around to anti-histamine medicines. Olga and Zeb quoted a recent article in Time magazine which cautions people to take these compounds only under a physician's direction. It seems that several deaths have occurred because of their use.

Farm Bureau

Farm Bureau Studying Group Hospital Insurance Plan of Local Organization

The community and county officers of the Farm Bureau met with the representatives of the local hospitalization program Monday night and worked out an agreement whereby Farm Bureau members could procure group hospital insurance at a reduced rate. By being a member of the Farm Bureau the family could save some $3.50 per year on the insurance and the registration fee of $2.50.

Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the Bulloch County Hospital Service organization, along with Dr. Glenn Jennings, Allen R. Lanier, and George M. Johnston, members of the committee from the organization, offered the group family insurance for $26 per year, $20 for a couple, and $10 for individuals in the renewal program.

The members of the chapter will also have a corn contest of their own this year. They spent their entire meeting discussing the latest methods of growing high yields per acre.

The Texas Oil Co., through its local representative J. D. Watson, put on the program at Portia Tuesday night. This organization is always available for one or two Farm Bureau programs each year. C. M. Cowart, president at Portia, and Carl Her, Edna president, both discussed plans for introducing group hospitalization to the community Farm Bureaus, as well as the present tobacco insurance program.

4-H Clubs to Show Public Their Work

Bulloch county's more than 1,100 4-H Club boys and girls plan to show the general public more about their work during the next few days. National 4-H Club Week.

The council officers, Raymond Hagan, president; Beverly Brannen and Heyward Morris, vice presidents; Eddy Beasley, secretary; Bobby Thompson, treasurer, and Sara Taylor, reporter, will talk during the farm and home hour Saturday over WYNS, 12:30 p.m., on their work from the county as a whole.

Several church programs have also been worked out. The council officers will conduct the services at the First Baptist Church here Sunday night, March 12. The county council will hold its regular meeting Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. at the Skate-R-Bowl.

Last year there were 1,107 boys and girls that completed projects of some kind in Bulloch county. The fat cattle show, poultry show, hog show and many other projects are known about to the general public. However, there are

Fires... Fires... Fires!

FIRES... FIRES... fires... and not a cloud in sight.

Sunday morning citizens of Statesboro were attracted by the forest fire which blazed into the highway just beyond the city limits on the north side of town back of the site upon which three new homes are now being built.

Sunday at noon, members of the Forest Heights Country Club were concerned about the devastating fire which raged just west of their property.

Saturday night the skies over all sections of the county were aglow from the light of Bulloch county forests burning to a black crisp.

Farmers all over the county, all over this section, are concerned over the hundreds of thousands of forest dollars going up in smoke... well most every farmer.

The only ones not concerned are the ones who deliberately set fire out in the woods.

The ones who carelessly flip a cigarette or a lit match into dry grasses.

The ones who don't own the land, the forests; who cling to the idea that burning off the woods is good for the forest.

And the ones who just don't give a continental about the rights of his neighbor and fellow citizen — or can we call such a one a citizen?

It doesn't take an expert in forest preservation to realize that this is the most disastrous time in months for forest land owners. Long and continued dry weather has left the woods in dry condition—tinder for a flipped match, a burning cigarette or the deliberate woods burner.

J. W. Roberts, Bulloch county forest ranger, reports that in the 10-day period from February 13 to February 23, thirty forest fires were suppressed, which had not been brought under control would have resulted in the destruction of 4,000 acres of forest lands.

There have been two huge fires in the county recently — one which blackened 250 acres near Arcola. The other, 300 acres on Colonel McLaws lands near Warnock.

It cannot be estimated in dollars the damage done to our forest lands.

And Saturday night of last week the skies over Bulloch county were aglow from the light of fires burning our lands to a heart-sickening blackness.

According to our forest ranger, 75 per cent of the fires in Bulloch county are maliciously or willfully set.

Farmers, burning stalks in fields too near woodland areas. Tenants, who hold to the mistaken idea that burning off woods tends to make the grass greener. People, who simply set fires to woods with no reason—just pure maliciousness.

There are ways to handle these—and Bulloch county is now doing something. Last week the Georgia Bureau of Investigation had men in the county checking into the causes of many of the fires.

Mr. Roberts has a word of advice to landowners—Don't "control burn" your woods. Don't burn grass, stalks in fields adjoining woodlands. Be careful. Protect your woods.

He stated that many landowners are calling in to report fires. He stated that his small crew of seven men and four trucks are working overtime, but they will get to these reported forest fires... as soon as they can! Then the fires spotted from the firetower near Hilltop on U.S. 80 at Hopeulick.

He pleads with landowners, the citizens of the county, "Use precaution in the handling of things that start fires. With short personnel and equipment it's rough in times like these."

We must be extra careful—dry land, high winds — to keep Bulloch county green!

Miss Floyd Honors Recent Visitors

Miss Virginia Lee Floyd was hostess Saturday at a delightful luncheon at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Floyd, complimenting Misses Shirley Ann Walters and Ann Brown, house guest of Miss Ann Walters during long week end at the University.

Red and black, Georgia's colors were cleverly adapted to the decorations and table appointments. Red camellias in black bowls were used on the luncheon table. The stand-up place cards were red with inscriptions in black ink.

MISS VIRGINIA DURDEN, BRIDE-ELECT, IS HONORED AT SERIES OF PARTIES

Miss Virginia Durden, bride-elect of March 12, continues to be honored at a series of pre-nuptial parties.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Durden was the inspiration of a lovely tea, with Mrs. Inman Foy Sr., Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mrs. Inman Foy Jr. as hostesses, at the home of the former.

An arrangement of Japanese magnolias and spirea was used on the mantle in the living room. The table in the dining room was overlaid with an exquisite linen cut-work cloth, was centered with white iris and spirea flanked by tall green tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Smith poured coffee. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. Bruce Oliff and Mrs. W. E. McDougald. Those serving assorted sandwiches, cakes and nuts were Mrs. Jake Smith, Mrs. William Smith, and Misses Ann Elizabeth Smith and Maxine Foy. Miss Durden was presented a set of tea doilies.

For this occasion the lovely honoree wore a mauve dress with satin top and marquisette skirt. An amethyst brooch added charm to her costume.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. A. Ernst, Mrs. Henry Ernst, Mrs. J. E. O'Neal, and Mrs. W. J. Hinely of Savannah.

Thursday morning, Mrs. Fred T. Lanier Sr. and Mrs. J. A. Addison were hostesses at a Coca-Cola party honoring Miss Durden at the Lanier home.

Camellias and azaleas were used in the living room. A lovely arrangement of Japanese magnolias and red bud, placed before a mirror in the reception hall, enhanced the scene.

Mrs. Rushing Feted On 67th Birthday

A lovely affair of Saturday afternoon was a party at the home of Mrs. Hobson Donaldson honoring Mrs. J. H. Rushing on her seventy-sixth birthday, given by her daughters, Mrs. W. D. Bradley of Hagan, Mrs. H. G. Brown, and Mrs. Hobson Donaldson of Statesboro, and Mrs. J. W. Clendenen of Jacksonville.

The table in the dining room was overlaid with a cutwork linen cloth with crystal candleholders tied with pink maline, with white and yellow candles placed on each side of the centerpiece, a beautiful, embossed birthday cake encircled by ferns and gladioli flowers.

Mrs. Rushing, handsomely gowned in black shirred taffeta, wore a lovely cameo brooch, and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Among those serving were her granddaughters, Shirley Clendenen and Saralyn Brown.

A party plate with chicken salad, crackers, congealed fruit cup with whipped cream, and a wedge of Southern pound cake was served with coffee.

A program of religious hymns and ballads was presented by Mrs. Z. S. Henderson and Mrs. Virgil Agan.

Mrs. Rushing was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Guests included Mesdames J. B. Atkins, J. C. Buie, J. L. Johnson, J. J. E. Anderson, Mary Proctor, Y. L. Atkins, H. V. Franklin, Darwin Franklin, A. J. Trapnell, Wilson Warren, Barney Daughtry, Jane Miller, Olin Atkins, J. L. Jackson, A. M. Deal, J. L. Brannen, W. R. Woodcock, Willis Walters, V. F. Agan, Z. S. Henderson, W. G. Neville, A. B. Green Sr., J. H. Watson, George DeBross, Mary Kennedy, Jesse D. Allen, Arthur Howard, Waley Lee, E. B. Rushing, T. K. Rushing, Jim Rushing, Rex Hart, Bernard Scott, and Ainsworth Davis.

Mrs. Myron Parrish, Mrs. Zita Burke and daughter, Miss Peggy Joe Burke, spent Saturday in Savannah.

Morning Bridge Fetes Visitor

Mrs. L. E. Fitch, of Ocala, Fla., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. N. Grimes, was the central figure at a bridge party Monday morning given by Mrs. Hinton Booth.

The home was beautifully decorated with flowers grown by the hostess. A vase of gorgeous Gerber daisies was used in the living room and arrangements of azaleas, iris and daffodils added color to the party scene.

Salad and sweet courses were served.

Mrs. Fitch was given a box of dusting powder. For high score, Mrs. Leodel Coleman received a linen handkerchief. A similar prize went to Mrs. Frank Grimes for low. Mrs. Dan Lester, for the elimination prize, was given a dainty apron.

Other players were Mrs. W. H. Blitch, Mrs. Cecil Brannen, Mrs. R. L. Cone Sr., Mrs. Alfred Doran, Mrs. Arthur Turner, Mrs. Clyde Mitchell, Mrs. Olin Smith, and Mrs. J. O. Johnston.

Ray Warnock, of New Orleans, La., spent the week end with relatives in Statesboro.

Hungarian Gives Violin Concert

Frederic Balazs, Hungarian by birth and American by choice, will give a violin concert in our auditorium on March 3 at 8:15 P. M. In 1940, twenty-year old Balazs arrived in the United States, and following his concert debut, joined the American Army. His debut in New York secured him immediate recognition. He appeared as soloist with many of our symphony orchestras, and is becoming one of the most popular and sought after concert artists in America today. This is shown by the fact that he has given nearly 400 concerts during the past five years.

Balazs is also one of our most successful composers. His compositions have been played by such outstanding organizations as the Budapest String Quartet, the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, etc.

Alumni Plan Gates For TC Entrance

On Alumni Day, June 3, T. C.'s entrance will have a new face. The Alumni Association's plans for gates at the college entrance is beginning to materialize. The gates will start at the site of the present pillars and will extend on each side 18 feet in a partial serpentine design. The red brick pillars will be twelve feet high and four feet square. Bronze tablets bearing the inscription "Georgia Teachers College" will be placed on top of the pillars. This is not a new project as the original plans for the gates were drawn up ten years ago; construction was postponed due to the war. The Association has recently decided not to follow the original plans, but to build a gate only at the front entrance, which will be called Alumni Gate. Cost of construction will amount to $1500. The final committee from the Alumni Society will meet today to express final approval on the plan. Alumni Park is materializing now and will be dedicated along with the gates on Alumni Day. Clearance of the park, which is located across from the highway in front of the gate began several weeks ago. The park is separated from the actual college grounds as the entrance fronted the dirt road on the other side of the park before the 301 highway was cut.

Rev. J. Lyle Jones Preaches For Rev. Clary at Methodist Church

By Mrs. John A. Robertson

It had been announced that the district superintendent, Rev. Geo. E. Clary, of Savannah, would deliver the sermon at the Methodist Church last Sunday, but, owing to illness, he was unable to do so. In his stead, Rev. J. Lyle Jones, pastor of Ashbury Memorial Church, Savannah, was the speaker, and delivered a masterful sermon on "Be Christlike."

In the afternoon at 3:30 Rev. Jones conducted the third quarterly conference, and reports on all phases of the church's work were made from Brooklet, New Hope, and Nevils churches.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parrish, Jr. and two sons have returned to their home in Winchester, Ky., after visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parrish, Sr. They are planning to return here in the summer where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hatcher Fort, S. C. visited relatives here during the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Watkins have returned from a two week's stay in Miami.

The February meeting of the Garden Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. C. Hall, with Mrs. W. W. Mann, Mrs. Bob Mikel, Mrs. R. R. Brinsdine, and Miss Henrietta Hall. After the business session the hostesses served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Atkins announce the engagement of their daughter Helen, of Brooklet, to E. G. Shuman of Stillton. The marriage will take place March 4.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met at the church Monday night and presented an interesting program. The advisors are Mrs. W. D. Lee and Rev. L. C. Wimbles.

Friday afternoon Mrs. David Rocker entertained a large group of little boys and girls with an outdoor party celebrating the sixth birthday of her little daughter, Vivian. Party refreshments were served and favors given to all the children. Mrs. Rocker was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Minick, Miss Betty Turner and Miss Evelyn Singleton.

Mrs. W. D. Lee spent the weekend in Hinesville with her mother, Mrs. R. R. Walker, who has been ill in the Oglethorpe Hospital in Savannah.

Word has been received that Sgt. First Class Douglas Donaldson, serving with the Idaho National Guard, has been accepted as an administrative instructor. He is a combat veteran of World War 2. He is a former member of the Georgia House. Mr. Donaldson is the son of Mrs. Annie Donaldson of Savannah, but he spent many years here at the home of his grandmother Mrs. J. W. Forbes, while attending Brooklet High School. He is a graduate of the Brooklet School.

The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be held next Thursday afternoon, March 9, at the school house. The program, "Foundations for Good Citizenship" will be arranged by Mrs. James Lanier, Mrs. Hamp Smith, and Mrs. David Rocker.

Last Friday morning at the chapel period the fourth grade pupils, conducted by their teacher, Miss Mamie Lou Anderson, dramatized "Little Red Riding Hood."

Bobby Brooks was the announcer, and the devotional was given by Gilbert Williams. Lewis Hendrix sang a solo, "Little Dutch Mill." The characters in the playlet were: Wolf—Ronnie Griffith, Grandmother—Beverly McCormick, Mother—Peggy Dickerson, Little Red Riding Hood—Carlyle Lanier, Huntsmen (who killed the wolf)—Hershel Kennedy, Tony Shurling, Jerry Bessley, and Corral Edwards.

Interment was in the church cemetery.

SAM J. BYRD

Funeral services for Sam J. Byrd were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Upper Black Creek Primitive Baptist Church by Elder W. C. Chandler of Statesboro. The active pallbearers were Donald Hannan, R. L. Riggs, Hobson Martin, Winton Byrd, Otis Waters, and Howell Lanier. The honorary pallbearers were Taylor Hendricks, Clady Donaldson, M. Y. Groover, Alvin McIlveen, Ester Parker, Brooks Fitch, W. Lee McIlveen, W. A. Hagan, C. A. Zetterower, J. T. Bishop and Ward Hagan.

Mr. Byrd was a native of Bulloch county, but died in a Savannah hospital following a lingering illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sephrina Waters Byrd; six sons, J. A. Byrd, W. P. Byrd, J. L. Byrd, E. S. Byrd and Ray Byrd, all of Savannah; and R. H. Byrd of Spooner, Wis.; two daughters, Mrs. O. A. Donnan and Mrs. J. A. Bobbitt, both of Savannah; one brother, E. L. Byrd of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Lulu Cook of Charleston, S. C.; and Mrs. A. A. Lanier of Brooklet; and twelve grandchildren.

Interment was in the church cemetery.

cause this drug was used in excess, and since it lowers the blood count, it's too dangerous to use carelessly.
The younger Hargroves also told us that cockers are wonderplaymates for children, but they advised us not to try to raise the children and dogs in the same yards with flowers.

In the mutual friends discussion, I learned that Eunice Ellis has a new and lovely hair-do—that Sara and Henry Ellis have a super home out on South College street, and that Statesboro is a town with beautiful flowers. Then Sunday, Mona and H. E. Dickens said they saw Sea Island Bank's Mr. Kingery at the Dublin Hospital when Dick was there.
So, I say this visiting business is wonderful. Talking is stimulating and educational.
