

Negro Gets State's First Farm House Loan Here Today

Harvey V. B. Wilson and wife, a Negro couple of the Rehobla community, this morning received the first farm housing loan to be made in Georgia to a Negro farmer under the new Farm Housing legislation of 1949.

The announcement is made by R. L. Vansant, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, and Hal Roach, supervisor of Bulloch, Bryan, Effingham, and Chatham counties.

The loan papers were signed in Mr. Roach's office this morning at 10 o'clock. Construction on the new home will begin immediately.

Harvey Wilson is an army veteran of World War II, and is carrying on a general farm program under the guidance of Vocational Agriculture Teacher J. W. Lawton, of Willow Hill School. His principal cash crops are hogs, tobacco, and cotton. He has six Poland China brood sows, two Hereford cows, and 100 chickens growing out for layers. He has seven acres of permanent pasture under fence, with more to be added as needed. Twenty-five acres of blue lupine have been turned under where corn is now being planted. Twenty acres of peanuts are grown for his hogs.

According to Mr. Roach and Mr. Vansant, loans are now being made to eligible farm owners to construct, improve, alter, repair or replace dwellings or other farm buildings essential to the operation of their farms. A farm owner-operator who is unable to secure a loan elsewhere and who lacks the necessary capital to make needed improvements, and who is able to repay such a loan from farm or other income, is eligible to make application for Farm Housing assistance. Loans are made for a period ranging from five to 33 years at 4 percent interest. Housing loans are secured by a mortgage on the farm subject to any existing prior liens and such additional security as may be necessary to protect the government's investment. These loans are made to farm owners to build or repair the dwellings occupied by tenants.

Applications, like all other F.H.A. applications, are received at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration and eligibility and the amount and type of assistance to be made available are determined by a local committee of three farmers and businessmen who are familiar with the needs of farmers in their area, and with the services of the F.H.A. The local committee is composed of James L. Deal, Middleburg; W. Lee McElveen, Brooklet; and Cluise Smith, West Side.

But Now Is Christ Risen From the Dead

Whoever, therefore, is a true believer has of necessity an indefeasible hope, and absolute certainty of salvation. He shares the resurrection of Christ. His sins are as absolutely buried out of God's sight as the body of Christ was buried in the tomb from the light of day. They can no more touch and spoil his hope than they can touch and condemn the risen Lord. All true children of God are now, because of His resurrection, wholly and forever justified, assured absolutely that they are now heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ, and waiting only for the day of full and final deliverance and glorification.—Goodwin

Statesboro May Get Another Federal North-South Highway --- U.S. No. 21

A new federal north-south highway that may give another boost to Statesboro's growing tourist trade is almost a certainty, Alfred Dorman, president of the Tobacco Trail Association, announced this week.

The South Carolina highway commission has authorized the petitioning of the American Association of State Highway Officials to give federal designation to state highway 26 from U. S. 1 near Lugoff to Orangeburg, S. C.,

where it would connect with U. S. 301.

The action of the commission is tantamount to approval, Mr. Dorman stated.

The new route will probably be U. S. 221.

The new road will save many miles for tourist as well as permitting them to miss the congested traffic areas around Columbia, Augusta, and the Horse Creek Valley.

Taking off U. S. 1 at Lugoff and then re-entering U. S. 1 at Folkston would save some 40 miles.

Procuring a federal number for this road has been in process for a long time. Fred W. Hodges, Walter Aldred, and Mayor Gilbert Cone made a trip to Columbia some time ago to appear before the S. C. Highway Commission again for a federal number.

The Tobacco Trail Association has worked for it over a four-year period.

Portal 4-H Wins in Annual Stunt Nite

Portal 4-H Club was again the winner of the annual stunt night award Saturday, April 1. The 19 clubsters participating in the Portal stunt built their skit around a "4-H Club Court" in which they tried a clubster for not carrying out a project to the best of her ability and then after the judge suspended sentence for three months, the clubster came back a winner.

Portal took top honors last year. Miss Ollie Mae Jarnigan, Miss Pearl Hendrix, and Mrs. Harold Hendrix, advisors to the Portal group, assisted with the stunt again this year.

Leefield's poetic take off on the perils of paradise folly and the need for 4-H Club work in the schools was good enough for second honors. Mrs. F. W. Hughes, their advisor again this year, coached the junior club to its second time second place honors. Leefield has won top honors twice in the annual event. Martha and Jimmy Clark, representing the Laboratory High School, won top honors in the talent event with a song.

Doug Cartee, representing Middle Ground club, took honors in the talent show with an Italian song. He was appropriately dressed in costume. West Side's alphabetic skit won an honorable mention. Stilson's "hadacol" broadcasting skit, Brooklet's hillbilly songs, Nevils' mop dance, Middle Ground's dance and song, Register's black face minstrel, and Warnock's song all provided ample entertainment to make the some 500 people present enjoy the evening.

The talent numbers generally were based on readings and musical numbers and were good enough to let the audience know the clubsters did possess talent as well as humor.

Fred W. Hodges, chairman of the County Commissioners, made the presentations of the talent and stunt awards. The judges were Mrs. Erickson, former Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mississippi State, Orman W. Whitehead, Auburn.

"Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight"

Our ten o'clock curfew lasted for 50 years, but the town council voted it out. I dropped in at the meeting in Town Hall last week just in time to hear Smiley Roberts.

"The curfew is old-fashioned," says Smiley. "We ought to be grown-up enough by now to behave like grownups. Seeing to it that our kids get to bed in the responsibility of each family." Then Judge Cunningham adds, "Most of us are in bed when the curfew horn blows anyway. It wakes me up just when I'm getting to sleep!"

Esla Farm Bureau to Hold Corn Contest This Year 3 Now Entered

Members of the Esla Farm Bureau will have a corn contest this year, according to plans made Tuesday night at their regular meeting.

Those entering the contest were A. F. Cook, Carl Ier, L. P. Martin, and Ivy Chassereau. Others will enter next meeting and plant their corn accordingly. Some of the group has also planted an acre of corn to donate to the local Farm Bureau to help put some money in their treasury.

The group spent some time studying pastures and looking at motion picture on methods of fertilizing pastures and crops.

The Esla group featured a fillet supper, Stilson had a shad supper (an annual event for this group when the Pig Eye delegations serves supper). Nevis went to a hamburger, grits, and lettuce and tomato salad supper, and Port had a barbecue supper.

Dr. Fielding Russell, head of the English department at Georgia Teachers College, was the West Side Farm Bureau speaker Tuesday night.

STILSON The Stilson Farm Bureau heard Eaton Harden, fieldman for the Georgia Farm Bureau, Wednesday night. Mr. Harden outlined the progress the Farm Bureau had made toward perfecting a farm program with support prices that would prevent depressions, but pointed out that these gains were not permanent, nor were they perfect. He urged the Farm Bureau members to continue to help improve that support program.

The first president, George Washington, found that farmers were of information on how to produce abundantly and maintain their soils. Dr. Russell pointed out. After the Land Grant colleges were set up, according to legislation passed in 1862, it was found that more research was needed and the experiment stations were established. Then came the need for county farm and home agents under the extension service to carry the information to those that could not attend college. Later, in 1917, vocational education was started and then on down to the farm programs as are now known.

Paul Nesmith discussed his system of growing peanuts, which has given him a yield of some 1700 to 1800 pounds per acre annually. Mr. Nesmith was asked by Hudson Allen, the local president, to tell the group how he grew more peanuts than the average man did last year. He used the large type peanut, Virginia runners, planted them in 39 inch rows, six inches apart in the drill, side dressed them with 400 pounds of 0-34-10, dusted four times with sulphur to control leaf spot, and used 600 pounds of land plaster per acre.

Mr. Nesmith then gave the Tifton experiment station's recommendations as calling for closer rows.

Special music was provided for the meeting by Carl Bishop, Bernard Banks, Otis and Charlie Joe Hollingsworth with Lewis Hursey at the piano.

Those entering the cotton contest were A. S. and Alex Hunnicutt, L. P. Joyner, Clouse Smith, W. H. Smith, W. H. Smith, Jr., and Emory Hunnicutt.

Typhus Fever On Decline in County

Raymond Summerlin, of the United States Department of Public Health, this week announced that, because of the DDT dusting program being carried out in Bulloch and other counties of Georgia, there has been a decided decline in the number of cases of murine typhus fever.

He cited figures released by Roy J. Foster, director of the Typhus Control Service of the Georgia Department of Public Health, showing that since 1945 there has been an 81 percent decrease in the number of cases of murine typhus fever. That year there were 1,113 cases reported as compared to 212 cases for 1949.

The reason for the decrease has been due to the DDT dusting program, the rat eradication program, and other control measures.

However, in the last two years the rate of decline has declined because of decreased financial support.

Typhus is still a major public health problem and every effort should be made to take advantage of the marked decrease and eradicate the disease. This cannot be done unless full financial support is given the program," said Mr. Foster.

Mr. Summerlin points out that during the last year 177 boys and girls took part in the basketball program. They played 150 games each week for a total of 150 during the season.

Statesboro's recreation program is considered one of the best in the state.

Recreation Week Raised $2,330.47

This week Max Lockwood, superintendent of Statesboro's recreation center, announced that the Recreation Week of funds for the "Citizens of the Future" produced $2,330.47.

This week the recreation center is two years old.

In his report to the recreation board, Mr. Lockwood said that during the last year 177 boys and girls took part in the basketball program. They played 150 games each week for a total of 150 during the season.

Hadacol Helps Grocer Work Hard, Long Hours

There is plenty of hard work and long hours in the retail grocery business and this is especially true for Paul E. Earnhardt, 218 South Church St., in Salisbury, Md. Earnhardt works at the Earnhardt Super Market in Salisbury, one of the largest and most modern grocery stores in that thriving section of the East Coast.

The grind began to tell on Mr. Earnhardt about three months ago and he was sure that he was suffering from a serious ailment. He had been feeling weak, run down, nervous, had difficulty sleeping at night, nervous indigestion, gastric disturbances, headaches, aches, suffered with stomach bloating, and gas pains around his heart. After the third bottle, Mr. Earnhardt started gaining weight, had no gastric disturbances, headaches or gas pains. He never felt better and work long hours. He recommended HADACOL to Mr. Earnhardt, like so many others, had tried many preparations without beneficial results before he heard the wonderful news about HADACOL.

Mr. Earnhardt puts in long hard hours at the Earnhardt Grocery store now but is again in perfect health. He says that his friends comment on his improvement he advises them to give HADACOL a trial. "Over the years," he says, "I have seen HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer."

The Statesboro Pilots will play their first home game here on the night of May 16 when the meet Glennville. They will play the first game of the 1950 season May 15 when they play Glennville in Knoxville.

The announcement was made this week by C. B. McAllister, president of the Statesboro Pilots.

Plans are being made for a great opening for the first game here. Mr. McAllister stated that a 1950 Ford will be given away that night. Tickets are being offered on the new automobile now.

The Pilot president stated that players are now being considered, applications coming in from Miami to Ontario, Canada.

He stated that the Pilots are one of Statesboro's most favorable attractions. "People all over the nation are familiar with the Pilots of the Ogeechee League," he says. He shows a letter from a young man who lives in St. Catherine, Ontario, and who writes that he has heard much about Statesboro and its baseball club.

Directors of the local club are Joe Tillman, Jake Hines, Loran Durden, Roy Beaver, F. C. Parker, Roy Waters, Stothard Deal, Herbert Kinyere, secretary, and Harry Cose treasurer.

Box seats are now being offered and may be secured from members of the board of directors. "There isn't many left," Mr. McAllister warned. "Get yours now."

Hadacol Helps Grocer Work Hard, Long Hours

There is plenty of hard work and long hours in the retail grocery business and this is especially true for Paul E. Earnhardt, 218 South Church St., in Salisbury, Md. Earnhardt works at the Earnhardt Super Market in Salisbury, one of the largest and most modern grocery stores in that thriving section of the East Coast.

The grind began to tell on Mr. Earnhardt about three months ago and he was sure that he was suffering from a serious ailment. He had been feeling weak, run down, nervous, had difficulty sleeping at night, nervous indigestion, gastric disturbances, headaches, aches, suffered with stomach bloating, and gas pains around his heart. After the third bottle, Mr. Earnhardt started gaining weight, had no gastric disturbances, headaches or gas pains. He never felt better and work long hours. He recommended HADACOL to Mr. Earnhardt, like so many others, had tried many preparations without beneficial results before he heard the wonderful news about HADACOL.

Mr. Earnhardt puts in long hard hours at the Earnhardt Grocery store now but is again in perfect health. He says that his friends comment on his improvement he advises them to give HADACOL a trial. "Over the years," he says, "I have seen HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer."
