In the first of a series of bi-monthly golf tournaments being held for the ladies of the Forest Heights Country Club, Mrs. Sam Strauss and Mrs. Joe Brown tied for first place.

Mrs. Grady Bland placed second, Mrs. Lloyd Brannen, third; and Mrs. Charles Olliff was winner of the special award for the day. Other entrants in the ladies' tournament were: Mrs. Buster Bowen, Mrs. Hugh Arundel, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Sam Strauss and Mrs. Fleming.

Hank Donchevsky, golf professional at the club, states that this handicap tournament marks the first of a series to be known as "Ladies' Day," to be held every first and third Tuesday of each month. Various types of tournaments will be featured on these days. Lunch will be served at the club for the players.

In the first Ladies' Day players tied off in 10 o'clock. Mrs. Clint Anderson served lunch, made up of creamed chicken with noodles, tomato salad, fresh butterbeans, hot rolls, tea and ice cream.

After lunch the last nine holes were played and awards were made.

The feature of the first tournament was the evenly matched play throughout the day.

For further information regarding Ladies' Day call Mr. Donchevsky at the club.

C of C. to Employ Full-Time Sec'y.

The Chamber of Commerce has its way, some of the present area around the city will be taken into the corporate limits of the city. Many of the places of business around the city limits are enjoying city advantages but are not helping to pay for them to the extent that city dwellers are paying, according to the thinking of many members of the organization.

Dr. Mooney named George M. Johnston as chairman of the committee and asked L. A. Waters, Robert Donaldson, Fred W. Hodges, and Mayor J. Gilbert Cone to work with him.

Mr. Waters reported three additional members for this year. They were L. E. Brannen, M. E. Alderman, and Homer Simmons.

The Chamber of Commerce is interested in keeping as many of the 312 purebred Hereford cattle to be sold here in the county May 26 as possible. Mr. Donaldson was asked to work some system of making certain all those interested in such cattle knew about the sale.

They Follow the Sun ...

TO THE Doubting Thomases who pose the stock question, "What good does the tourist do us here in Statesboro?" one Statesboro businessman has an answer.

It seems this business man was getting a little fed up with expressions of doubt that tourists using U.S. Highway 301, U.S. Highway 25, and U.S. Highway 20 through Statesboro on their way to and from tourist playgrounds in Florida bring any lasting benefits to our community.

He made a survey. A pretty complete survey. And he can back it up, for those who wish to challenge him.

Beginning at Phil Bean's "Ogeechee Lodge" on U.S. 301, near Dover, and moving along 301 into town, through town, and on out to "Tobacco Trail" on 301, he found that 23 businesses had added 110 people to their payrolls.

These are 110 brand new jobs created by the motorists who choose 301 as their tourist route.

No attempt was made to determine the amount of salaries paid to these 110 people in these 110 newly created "301" jobs.

No attempt was made to determine the amount paid to contractors, builders, building supply concerns, carpenters, brick masons, for constructing new buildings, improving present buildings—that the wishes, the desires, the whims of people.

Remember "Mother"

SUNDAY, MAY 14, is Mother's Day. To express your homage in time-honored fashion, serve her steaming waffles. Preferably in bed.

Later in the day you'll be showering her with gifts, flowers, and warm-hearted Mother's Day greeting cards. But waffles are the most traditional Mother's Day present of them all.

Ancient Romans held a festival in honor of the Mother-Goddess Hilaria on the fifteenth of March each year. Feasting, music and dancing followed offerings in her temples. To lure converts, early Christian missionaries distributed the first "waffles"—hot, crisp, grid-stamped cakes.

Devotion to mother is an ancient tradition. King Solomon paid history's first great tribute to mother love when he judged between two women claiming the same child. And many generations of Jewish and Christian children alike have bowed before the Biblical command, "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother."

All over the world, motherhood is held in high esteem. Extreme veneration for family patriarchs is an ancient Chinese tradition. The Taj Mahal of India, the world's most beautiful building, is a monument to a mother. Shah Jehan built it in memory of Mumtaz Mahal, his favorite wife and mother of his sons. He lies buried there beside her.

Mothers in medieval Europe were honored on "The Virgin's Day," dedicated to the mother of Christ. On Midlent Sunday—the fourth Sunday before Easter—presenters were brought to Mary's shrines and living mothers were similarly remembered.

Sixteenth Century England converted Midlent Sunday into "Mothering Sunday." Boy and girl apprentices journeyed home for the day, bringing remembrances and trinkets. Mother's traditional gift became a simnel cake—a rich plum pudding enclosed in a very hard crust.

The famous American statue, "The Pioneer Woman," honors the valiant mothers who carried civilization westward through hostile Indian territory. President Abraham Lincoln expressed typical appreciation when he said, "All I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." At the age of 9, he had stood by her deathbed as she voiced her last request, "Be something, Abe."

The first specific "Mother's Day" in the United States was not a popular success. Miss Mary Towles Sasseen, a school teacher in Henderson, Ky., in 1887 began holding annual exercises to honor mothers. The idea was adopted by the schools of Springfield, Ohio, in 1890, but it spread no further.

Miss Anna M. Jarvis founded our present Mother's Day in 1907 when she arranged a memorial service for her own mother in Andrews Methodist Church in ple following the sun might be granted—for a sum.

We'll go along with this businessman and his figures.

If there is any doubt in your mind that tourists add something to the material welfare of our community, take time out and observe the new tourist motels built within the last two years to house the travellers—for a sum; the new restaurants and improvements to existing restaurants to feed the travellers—for a sum; the new filling stations, and improvements to existing filling stations to supply gas and oil to travellers—for a sum.

All these spending money to attract the tourists, who respond generously when pleased with what they see and buy.

And the money taken in by these businessmen fans out to the groceryman, the druggist, the clothier, the theatres, the auto dealer, the baker, and on out over the community.

And we improve our recreation center, more streets are improved, store fronts are cleaner, homes are better kept.

No benefit from tourists?

Sit this one out and figure it yourself.

And IF Bulloch county should have a crop failure—there'll always be enough tourists with enough money to follow the sun . . . down U.S. 301, right through Statesboro.

Grafton, W. Va. Her spirited campaign for nationwide observance was crowned with success in 1914, when President Wilson signed a Congressional Resolution setting aside the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day and authorizing Federal display of the flag.

The custom of annually expressing affection for Mother with thoughtful gifts and warmly sentimental Mother's Day greeting cards has spread steadily ever since.

May 26—Opportunity Day

MAY 26 REPRESENTS "Opportunity Day" for farmers of Bulloch county. For on that day 305 head of purebred Hereford cattle will be sold at auction at the barns of the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company.

The demand for purebred breeding stock in Bploch county this spring has far exceeded the supply. The Bulloch county farmers' problem today is a lack of sufficient cows in their breeding herds.

Included in the nine carloads of cattle received here last Friday, and now grazing in Bulloch county, are 120 cows with November and December calves at foot, and rebred; 52 heifers, two-year olds, bred to calve in the early fall; 50 cows, now with second and third calves to drop in the early fall; and 8 sires. Six of the sires are two-year olds of Prince Domino breeding; one is a five-year-old son of T. Royal Rupert 60th, and one is a four-year-old son of a Prince Domino Return Bull.

All of these cattle have been tested for TB and Bangs twice since September and will sell "clean."

These purebred cattle come here from the M. B. Hughey Estate of Charlotte, Texas, a section of the country very much like that we have here. John C. and W. F. Smithdale Farm, Limestone, Tennessee, bought the entire herd and brought them to Statesboro, where they will be sold. They are now grazing in this county and will be adapted to local conditions by sale time.

This sale will give Bulloch County farmers an opportunity to add profit-making stock to their herds.

We believe one of the best ways to utilize land taken from row crops by cotton allotments is to convert the land into good permanent pastures and graze it with good blooded livestock—the kind of livestock that will utilize this feed to the best advantage. Livestock will give more dollars per pound of feed.

Grasses like Coastal Bermuda, Dallas, and the Fescues, together with such clovers as Ladino with Dutch, and Dixie Crimson, can be grouped to give our farmers almost a year-round grazing program, with little labor to be expended after the program is established.

For consistent income, and opportunity for improved living standards, you can't go wrong to look to and develop your livestock program.

The Two Great Hopes For Peace

Editor's Uneasy Chair

LAST WEEK six of Statesboro's youthful poets occupied our Uneasy Chair. Now, a new crop of poets take over this week. Please be patient. Read their poems and know that we are ever on the side of youth and stand on "ready" to promote everything we can for their happiness. And if it makes them happy to see their poems in print, then we print them—and you'd better like them.

MOON THROUGH THE SKIES
As I look through my window each night,
I see a most beautiful sight,
The moon casting a frosty light
Through the pines.

Inspired me to write these lines.
—JEAN MARTIN.

THE MOON
The moon was up in the sky
Sat and watched the stars dance by
But when a dark cloud passed his face,
He frowned and hoped it would hurry its pace.

FLOWING WATER
The water flows down the stream.
It shines like a silver beam.
It whispers to the lonesome trees
And plays a melody with the breeze.

—DEAN ARNETT.

FISHING
Smoothly floating on the pond,
Of fishing I am very fond.
Bait your hook and throw it in,
Fishing happily till day's end.

Carry home your string of fish,
Mother'll clean them, that's your wish.
But Mother has another thought.
To you the knife she has brought.

Tired and sleepy, weary too,
This day has the best of you.
Fun was fun while it lasted;
But now it's work, dad-blast it!

—JOE JOHNSTON.

ALL'S FAIR

Believe me, I hang my head in shame; when the telephone rang I hardly knew my name. "Is this 212," a strange voice said (nice one, too). "Oh, dear," I thought, "Is somebody dead?"

"What's playing at the Georgia Theatre," the voice gently coaxed. I smothered a yawn—"What's this?" I wondered. "Am I being hoaxed?"

"THIS IS BOB Thompson, WYNS."

RIGHT THEN we came to the conclusion that a man who has the nerve to wake up at seven o'clock in the morning is fearless, intrepid, energetic. We soon appeared at WYNS and encountered so much activity that we thought we should have done the breakfast dishes or least dusted the living room when we left home.

WE MET Bob Thompson, who introduced us to Jack LoPrestle, program director.

THE INTERIOR of the radio station is being redecorated. Venetian blinds, drapes, and other changes are being made. Before Bob has Open House he plans to have the grounds landscaped.

WE KNOW how to sympathize with Ruth (Mrs. John N.) Bushing of Brooklet, as we saw her stop half way up the stairs at a department store. Ruth was accompanied by her twin sister, Lella. Mae Bland, Lella has constantly attended her twin since a serious operation several months ago. Ruth bees, And then the thing I thought had drowned will lift its pretty head. And look at me as if to say, "See I'm not dead."

—THELMA FORDHAM.

STATESBORO HIGH SCHOOL
I can't feel feeling my heart swell with pride and make
When I think of our grand school, Statesboro High.

We all stick together when a job's to be done,
There's nothing too great, no, not under the sun.

When we all work together with might and main,
We tackle the problems with each thought the same.

So let's give three cheers for Statesboro High.
May the honor of the Blue and the White never die.

But live in our hearts when our school life is o'er
When many of us will meet never more.

For there's one thing in our hearts that will never die—

THE FOREST
When walking in the forest, you're at peace.
For there all your troubles cease.

The wonderful colors are everywhere,
And soon you are without a care.

As through the paths you make your rounds,
You listen to all the wonderful sounds.

Every animal is your friend,
And all the plants seem to blend.

As you dream of things to be,
That have been, and are to be.

As you linger there in the glen, finished dish, as reflected in a mirror behind it, we think we could have eaten it. Betty made a "Jack Robinson" cake—as fast as you could say it. Come to think of it, Betty wouldn't have had to "know you was a-come," to have baked a cake. We marvelled that she did so many things right before our eyes without getting all hot and bothered. There were no flour smudges on the tip of her nose and no beaten eggs on the ceiling. She even slipped in jokes—like the one about the Negro cook who carried home grapefruit rinds. When asked by the lady of the house, "What are you going to do, candy them?" "No, m'am," her cook said, "I'm going to put 'em in the garbage can. They makes it look so stylish."
The forest seems to whisper, "Rest."

WE SAW lovely Betty Bird Sanders of Augusta down town with a large folio under her arm. We promptly reached for it, and were we amazed! And for a time inarticulate. In the folio were beautiful flower prints that Betty had done. A collection of her work was used in a private showing at Mrs. Goodrich's during the National Golf Tournament held there last week. They bought up all of her rose prints. But we admired her collection of cannelia prints. Then when we saw her magnolia prints we were undecided which were prettier, and upon seeing the delicate beauty of her iris in water color, we gave up. We wanted them all. We hope some of our neighbors buy some so when we feel a bit dejected, we can get a lift by Mrs. Ray urged the ladies to be more active in the Farm Bureau and pointed out that the major objective of the Farm Bureau was to improve the standard of living on the farm. The ladies control the spending of some 85 percent of income and if any organization helped to increase the farm income, then the ladies should help promote that organization, she stated.

West Side Farm Bureau featured a singing period by Miss Ann Trice, Bill Sirmann, Marjorie West, and Miss Betty Eubanks, and A. J. Morris Tuesday night. These students of Georgia Teachers College sang many songs that farm people do not usually hear, as well as some popular songs.

C. B. McAllister, executive vice president of the Sea Island Beach, discussed the changing conditions in agriculture and pointed out that many things that are now happening could lead to disaster for farm people. He urged them to help promote 4-H Club work and to maintain their soil fertility and to make certain various government programs were of the kind desired before voting for them. Mr. McAllister discussed at length the need for preserving free enterprise and cited several examples where government programs tended to destroy free enterprise.

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor.

It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion.

You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of washboard road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter.

Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness.

Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat.

In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world.

We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted.

Even Dynaflo Drive*—always silky-smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride.

But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher.

Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbug with one of these level-striding honeys.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.
