It's The Same Crowd . . .

The same ones who were smart during the last war are playing it smart now. The same ones who could take a trip to Atlanta when gasoline was short.

The same ones who could have steak on their tables when meat was short.

The same ones who had good tires when tires were impossible to buy.

The hoarders, we're talking about. The smart operators.

They're smarter this war than they were during World War II . . . they think.

They are buying up tires, sugar, meats, and autos, when they don't have to deal with black marketeers.

Statesboro tire dealers report an unusual demand for tires. One has completely sold out. Others say the demand is much greater than normal.

A person frightened at the prospect of having to give up personal comforts with the life and liberty of his country at stake is, indeed, a sad sight.

A person so frightened that he resorts to hoarding is giving "aid and comfort to the enemy" just as much as the high government official who reveals top drawer secrets.

We can think of no greater disservice to our country in times like these, than for these scared people creating shortages.

The nation not only suffers, but the hoarder's neighbor gets it below the belt. He pays high prices because his hoarding neighbor is "playing it smart."

We were part of the last World War. We remember the tightening of our insides when we read of hoarding at home.

We said some pretty hard things then. Some of the boys at our side said some things . . . more bitter than the things we said, for they were much younger and couldn't understand the weakness upon which greed and fear is built.

Highlights of the President's Message

HERE ARE the highlights of President Truman's message to the people of the United States on Wednesday night of last week. Read them and keep them in mind.

The North Korean attack "was naked, deliberate, unprovoked aggression, without a shadow of justification." . . . It was "a clear challenge to the basic principles of the United Nations Charter."

"The speed, the scale, and the coordination of the attack left no doubt that it had been plotted long in advance."

"Thus united and resolute action" (52 of the 59 United Nations members, led by the United States) "is a milestone toward the establishment of a rule of law among nations."

"The attitude of the Soviet government . . . is in direct contradiction to its often expressed intention to work with other nations to achieve peace in the world."

America's action was "undertaken as a matter of basic moral principle." Mr. Truman says America "has no territorial ambitions whatever" concerning Formosa. Going further, he declares: "We seek no territory or domination over others."

On the diplomatic side, Mr. Truman makes two grave points. The attack in Korea, he declares, makes it plain beyond all doubt that the international Communist movement is prepared to use armed invasion to conquer independent nations."

And in what is evidently a direct warning to Russia, Mr. Truman comments that the Korean incident makes clear "that lawless aggression will be met with force."

This, he continues, "is the significance of Korea—and it is a significance whose importance cannot be overestimated."

President Truman asks Congress for legislation to:

1. Authorize $10 billions in increased defense spending.

2. Establish blanket authority for priorities and allocation of materials, limit the use of materials for non-essential purposes, prevent inventory hoardings, and requisition supplies and materials needed for national defense.

3. Control consumer credit and credit used for commodity speculation; specifically, control of credit going into private construction.

4. Provide federal loans where necessary to stimulate production of essential goods.

5. On the military side, Mr. Truman urged immediate ending of statutory limitations on the size of the armed forces.

With the first phase of hoarding over, let's look at the picture.

The things hoarders are "stashing" away include food, tires, nylons, sugar, refrigerators, and other things they remembered as being hard to buy in the last war.

We get it direct from our president that there is plenty of food. "Hoarding food," he said, "is especially foolish."

There is plenty of food in this country. He might have cited the fact that the government's Commodity Credit Corporation has on its hands millions of bushels, bales, bats, crates, or barrels of wheat, corn, cotton, potatoes, peanuts, cheese, butter, eggs, and other farm products.

Before the hoarders got busy, Cuba had a prospective surplus of 1,000,000 tons of sugar. Import quotas have been increased by 350,000 tons.

Take nylon hosiery. The hoarders are forgetting that nylon production capacity has been multiplied many times over from what it was at the end of World War II—and there must be a lot of satisfaction for the non-hoarders to tell the hoarders that nylon hosiery deteriorates after being put away for awhile.

Automobiles, refrigerators, home appliances, may necessarily be affected by steel allocation orders. But natural rubber for tires should be available, unless an Asiatic tidal wave of Communism should sweep down through Maylaya and Indonesia.

And it's completely possible that the war may be confined to Korea; and it's completely possible that peace could "break out." Then the supposedly smart buyers would find their pantry shelves and basements stocked with deteriorating, over-priced goods.

We hope they would feel not only a little silly, but also a little ashamed.

6. Immediate passage of the pending North Atlantic defense appropriation bill, with the announcement that increased amounts would be asked for later.

In the next category of "things to come," Mr. Truman announced that:

1. Just as soon as the necessary studies are completed he will send up a new tax bill. "The increase of taxes is our basic weapon in offsetting inflationary pressures," he declared, and added that "we must provide for a balanced system of taxation that will eliminate profiteering."

2. Authorization will be asked shortly to augment the military strength of "other free nations" in strengthening "of our common defense."

3. Finally, Mr. Truman appealed for self restraint by business, labor, farmers, and consumers, but warned sternly that if sharp price rises made it necessary, he would not hesitate to recommend price control and rationing.

Keep these things in mind.

Stop Monkeying With America

THE WISH of a great many people that excessive governmental regulation and control of their affairs be brought to an end is well voiced in a letter received not long ago by Rep. Earl Wilson, Indiana Republican. Here is what the letter said:

"What I have in mind—I can spend it or save it, and if I save it I can keep it, for myself or my children; no man dares to take from me what I have earned. I can be lazy and just get by, or I can work and be paid more and more as I produce more. Or, I can go into business and be my own boss. My children will start where I leave off; they can keep on, and go farther and farther, better and better. I can think and say what I want. I need never shrink in fear of anyone. No one commands me, no one will command my children. I don't much care what you call this—free enterprise or the American way, or democracy; names don't matter. It's America. I like it. Don't let anybody dare try to take it away or change it. I like it this way. I fought for it once. My boy fought for it this time. Both of us will fight again if anyone, from outside or in, tries to cheat us of this we love. It isn't perfect, but it's the best there is. I like it. I'm grateful. Stop monkeying with it."

Our comment is unnecessary.

The Boys Who Remember . . .

Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE FEEL LIKE A HEEL.

On Monday morning within thirty minutes of each other two beggars came in our office soliciting aid—rather they were selling pencils.

We turned both of them down and felt a little like a heel.

We wonder where they came from. They must have had money to get here. Maybe they hitchhiked.

They must have read the newspapers and knew that the Tobacco Market opened here Monday and they figured there would be a lot of loose money about. Maybe they even figured that there would be some suckers to pluck.

But they weren't working the tobacco warehouses—they were working the business houses.

There must be a reason. SHORT ROUTE TO ATLANTA.

Looking for a short route to Macon, Atlanta, Athens?

Our newspaper friend, Dyar Massey, editor and publisher of the Wrightsville Headlight, in Wrightsville, Ga., writes us that they have finally paved the 11.6 mile stretch on State Route 57 across the Connee River and that citizens of Statesboro may now drive from here to Macon on paved highways and that the distance is only 121 miles. By using this route—of course it goes right through Wrightsville—citizens of Statesboro ride only 202 miles to Atlanta, and if they go through Wrightsville on their way to Athens they ride only 169 miles.

IT MUST HAVE BEEN WONDERFUL.

Oh, to slip off our shoes, and wiggle our toes, after being on our feet all the morning and it hot as a fire popper, as we sit down to eat. Oh, to just relax our feet from the bounds of civilization as we sit in church, following the singing and as the preacher gets into his sermon. Oh, to air our feet in air conditioned comfort as we sit to lose ourselves in the cello-loud realm of the movies.

We recently noticed—not deliberately, mind you—the wonderful expression that identified relief, similar to that which follows taking off one's shoes after standing up in front of a hot fire ironing all day, on the face of a lady in a restaurant in Savannah, as she slipped her shoes from her feet under the table at which she sat and in what must have been sheer ecstasy, wiggle her toes.

It must have been wonderful!

ALL'S FAIR

By Jane

RECENTLY, in one of Dr. Tom Little's classes in Education Workshop, Sara Moore Riggs, a member of the class, asked if he would let her leave the class for the next fifteen minutes. She explained that she had brought her portable radio so she could listen to her nephew, Tupper Saussy, of Tampa, who was a guest that morning on "The Woman Speaks."

Dr. Little was in an affable mood, for he answered, "Why certainly. But why not bring it in here and we, too, can listen?" It is well that neither Tupper nor the Woman knew that a college professor and a group of teachers and would-be teachers were listening in. We think Tupper made a hit with "Some Enchanted Evening" and "The Sinner Dance."

THIS WEEK, we received a letter from Mishawaka, Indiana. You know how a woman acts when she gets a letter and just can't imagine whom it is from. She turns it over and over in her hand and finally gets around to opening it, whereas, a man, under the same circumstances, rips it open forthright—not indulging in imagination. The salutation did the work. "Goeden Dag, Leife Vriend."

I knew instantly that "Good day, my dear friend—" meant that the charming Marchen Parkes had graciously written us a note. She, with her husband, George Parkes, were guests recently of Jessie and Barney Averitt. She wrote, "It was so pleasant meeting you, and I was very flattered to be asked so many people stopped me on the way to speak on your program. Ever street and said they enjoyed listening to us," etc.

IN A RAPID GLANCE at my daily paper, the name, Elizabeth Woods DeCamp, caught our attention. We later learned that Mrs. DeCamp is a sister of Mrs. Harnsberger and she and her husband are both missionaries. Captain DeCamp and his wife have visited in Statesboro, and he is remembered as an excellent speaker. They were in Korea when trouble broke out, and Mrs. Harnsberger has been informed of their safe arrival in Japan with other evacuees.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT when Linton Lanier Jr., of Georgia Tech, came down on the Nancy and was met in the family car he received a wonderful surprise as they drove into the back yard. A spotlight was turned on a brand new automobile—all fancied up with ribbons, a cap, and a leather seat. package for a boy to get for a birthday present. Linton's birthday is really August 12, but in these uncertain times, his parents decided they'd like for him to have it before he received "Greetings" from Uncle Sam. . . .

WE SAW Jimmy Mincey just fixing himself up with a sport shirt with deep green collar and chest stripes of contrasting yellow. Billy Rushing was passing his opinion on the shirt. Jimmy explained that he had to do something to boost his morale. That everybody on the street was saluting him and shaking hands with him. These boys may joke—but we know it's pretty grim. And for the mothers—well, there just isn't a word for what they endure. They know that their boy is no better than your boy. But, even so, they aren't wishing it off on your boy either. War is something that we all look upon as horrible, useless. Why not make a super-human effort to nab Stalin before a World Tribunal condemns him as a war criminal? Only quick trial and death for the men who make puppets of their followers and start butchery will put an end to war.

IN OUR MAIL was another letter—this one from Germany—written by Jacquita Edmfield Dukes, who husband is Warrant Officer Lyman Dukes. She has a small son, Bo. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Edmfield, of Statesboro. They are stationed in Germany. Jacquita and her husband are planning a trip to Switzerland soon. We do hope she writes us about it. . . .

DAVE AND ANNETTE KING and their children, David, III, and Carol, were down from Lumberton, N. C., during the week end. David is, of course, Dr. King, a dentist. But, with his father, he is also owner and operator of a motel. Not long ago, the society reporter from the Lumberton paper made a trip to Florida and, upon her return, told Annette about the lovely meal she had at a most attractive place in Statesboro. In fact, bright red geraniums caused her to pull up at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

As ever, JANE.

cursor into the salt mines. For this she wore "a black coat, white pants, a cap, and a leather seat." You go up in the mines on a little train. She goes into detail. She of the 130 feet. That explains the leather seat. She rode elevators. She even crossed an underground lake in a boat. We decided that those people got their salt the hard way. The mine is cool, just the same temperature prevailing the year round. People go down in summer to cool off, and in winter to keep warm. Jacquita has trouble putting Bo to bed before dark. It isn't dark until 10 p. m., and the sun rises at 3:30 a. m. Jacquita says she and her husband are planning a trip to Switzerland soon. We do hope she writes us about it. . . .

Get Rid of the Rat!

Seummy, the Rat . . . his pal . . . Itchy, the Flea, Slipped into the luncheonroom . . . to eavesdrop, you see!

Children and teachers were planning with vengeance. To destroy the rats . . . the town's greatest menace!

Seummy and Itchy rushed to tell their rat friends. Of the dastardly plot by these human fiends!

"They're trying to starve us . . . taking our food; Cleaning up rubbish . . . covering garbage cans good."

Well, you never can tell about school kids, so that They're helping the growmps. . . . GET RID OF THE RAT!

The Korean War—Over the Fence

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

In a national crisis thoughtless selfishness may be our worst enemy. My neighbor and I decided this as we discussed the Korean war over the fence.

To each of us the war could have some very personal meaning if it lasted much longer. Her husband might go. In case he did, there was the business to think about, for it was just getting established since his return from the last war. The children were beginning to feel a security that was lacking during the war. This would be undone.

To me, there were two sons who would be called, in case of a long, drawn-out affair. The tedious, loving care that is put into the rearing of children cannot be easily exchanged for the patriotic feeling necessary to see one's sons dressed in uniform. So we were timidly discussing our feelings and both admitting that we were trying to leave it with God.

After this little talk we wondered how such a story could be true if it were of the women in town who had rushed down and bought up the nylons. My neighbor said with much feeling, "How could anybody wear nylons if most women are wearing rayon and cotton hose? In case of another terrible war would one feel dressed in nylons?"

We got around to sugar and coffee and other items likely to be scarce. Both of us had heard of similar to that which follows taking off one's shoes after standing up in front of a hot fire ironing all day, on the face of a lady in a restaurant in Savannah, as she slipped her shoes from her feet under the table at which she sat and in what must have been sheer ecstasy, wiggle her toes.

HONORED AT STREET PARTY

On College boulevard some social minded couples began their "block parties." They were informal, vastly entertaining, and in no time at all, other blocks were included and is now a "street party."

But College boulevard is definitely on the sad side as its residents are losing Major and Mrs. R. W. Mundy. Last Wednesday evening the street party honored Major and Mrs. Mundy at a Dutch supper at the Country Club. Mrs. Jack Whitchel decorated the table, using red roses in a crystal swan for the centerpiece, with ferns and clusters of feverfew branching out from it. A lovely bouquet of cut flowers marked Mrs. Mundy's place. After supper, dancing, bridge, and canasta were enjoyed.

Neighbors present were Major and Mrs. Mundy, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitchel, Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Summerlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Leodel Coleman, Mrs. Virginia Evans, Mr. and Mrs. James Bland, Mrs. Jack Darby, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Strickland, and Mr. and Mrs. Devane Watson.

Akins was given stationery and note paper went to Mrs. Cliff Bradley for low. Mrs. Gibson Johnston and Mrs. Willis Cobb received dainty handkerchiefs as guest prizes.

BRIDGE PARTY FOR VISITOR

Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a delightful bridge party honoring her visitor, Mrs. Frank C. Davis of Milledgeville.

Pink, lavender, and white asters decorated the dining room and lay ender dahlias adorned the living room. Ice cream and cake were served and during the games Coca-Cola and nuts were served.

For high score Mrs. G. C. Coleman Jr. received a double deck of cards. Mrs. Coleman also won a jar of tomato pickles for floating prize. Mrs. Walker Hill received a scarf for low. Others present were Mesdames Bernard Morris, Earl Allen, Tamadge Ramsey, Josh Lanier, Jim Watson, Curtis Lane, Jack Darby.

ELABORATE TEA FOR BRIDE

Mrs. John Ford Mays, recent bride, was the central figure at a lovely tea last Tuesday afternoon given by Mrs. Gordon Mays Sr. at her home on Zetzerow avenue. Mixed summer flowers in artistic arrangements were used in the living room. The dining room adjoined to a bridal motif of green and white. The table, covered with Madeira cutwork cloth, was centered with an exquisite satin wedding, pilloved on white chrysanthemums with graceful sprays of lace fern and white gladioli reflected on a mirror base. Silver candelabra on the table and buffet with burning tapers enhanced the beauty of the lovely flower arrangements. Mrs. C. B. McAllister greeted the guests, and receiving with the hostess and honoree were Mrs. W. O. Denmark, of Brooklet, mother, and Mrs. J. E. Parker, grandmother of the honoree. Assisting with entertaining were Mrs. Gordon Mays Jr., Mrs. Marvin Dixon, Mrs. J. C. Newton and Mrs. Bill Landrum, all of Milledgeville. Mrs. E. B. Rushing and Mrs. Rufus Cone. The register was kept by Mrs. Wiley Lee and Mrs. Cecil Anderson. Mrs. C. P. Olliff Sr. and Mrs. E. L. Barnes entertained on the porch. An ice course was served by Miss Joan Denmark, Miss Fay Anderson, Mrs. Bernard Scott, Mrs. E. W. Barnes, Miss Lois Stockdale and Mrs. Earl Allen. Bunches of grapes and leaves decorated the punch bowls which were placed on the lawn, and those serving punch were Mrs. Roger Holland, Mrs. Carl Blackburn, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Bruce Olliff, Mrs. J. O. Johnston, Mrs. Cliff Bradley, Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Mrs. A. M. Braaswell, Mrs. Roy Tyson, and Mrs. W. E. Cobb.

Mrs. Mays was lovely in a gown of pink marquisette and wore a cluster of pink carnations in her hair. One hundred and seventy-five guests called between 5 and 6:30 o'clock.

Big Boy that parks like a midget

You look at the king-size wheel-base on this strapping Buick Roadmaster.

You look at those long Buick-tapered fenders sweeping from bumper to "double bubble" tail beacon.

You step inside and luxuriate in legroom and hiproom and headroom generous as old-time hospitality.

You ride it—and wonder if wings were ever so soft.

You feel that big bonnetful of Fireball power whisk you from standing start to road speed with the honeyed magic of Dynaflow Drive.

And you tell yourself this is entirely too perfect. All this automobile must be hard to handle, too big for your garage.

Good sir, just slide over and take this Roadmaster's wheel.

Pick a curb space you'd ordinarily pass by, and back this Buick into it on your very first try.

Here Buick has done a neat job of reducing over-all inches while keeping interior king-size comfort. When you wheel this whopper into your own garage, you'll be tickled pink at the room all around it.

So come out! Head for your Buick dealer's now for a tryout of a Buick Roadmaster.

You will find it in a selection of body types, in finishes to suit a queen's taste—and at prices to make you wonder why anyone ever pays more.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow—DRIVE*

and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New 232 engine in 1950 models.) • NEW-PATTERN styling with MULE-THROAT forward, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and maneuvering, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from oil-rail springs, safety-ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tubes • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

*Based on RICHMOND, optional at extra cost on BUICK and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Register Associated Women See Flower Show at Meeting Thursday

The Register flower show, put on by Mr. Bill Holloway, Statesboro florist, at the Associated Women's meeting Thursday evening of last week was quite a success.

First on the program was a delicious supper, prepared by the ladies, consisting of fried chicken, salads, sandwiches, pickles, pork chops, rolls, cookies, cakes, pies, and iced tea.

Following the devotional by Mrs. Darwin Franklin, sacred songs were enjoyed by the group.

During the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. H. V. Franklin, Miss Sallie Riggs was appointed by the chapter to write the Register news. She was also appointed by the Home Demonstration Club last week to write the Register community and town news. A letter from Mr. Wingate was read by the secretary. The letter urged all members to attend the district Farm Bureau Queen contest July 21.

It was suggested by the program chairman, Mrs. Herbert Powell, that each member bring one or two visitors with her to the next meeting.

The program was turned over to Mr. Holloway, who presented a gorgeous array of flowers and gave instructions for the placing of flowers in suitable containers. He made several beautiful arrangements and then asked the ladies to rearrange them in their own way, giving ten minutes for each display. A prize, which was won by Mrs. Sam Nevils, was given for the best arrangement. Sec-

During the past week, two outstanding meetings were conducted for colored people. One of these was the District 4-H Club Short Course, held at the State 4-H Club Camp at Dublin, Ga.

This short course is under the supervision of the State Extension Services, and has for its purpose the training of Negro youth in the pursuits of health, citizenship, leadership, home improvement, home management, food preparation and preservation, recreation, and the production of gardens, farm crops, and livestock for sale and for use.

At this short course, Bulloch County was represented by 20 boys and girls who took active parts in the various phases of club work. The next meeting, on the third Thursday in August, will include a youth program, given by various talents in Register and surrounding communities.

Public Health Supervising Nurse.

Fannie Joe Wiggins, president of the Willow Hill chapter, was outstanding being chosen to preside at the leadership training program. She conducted these meetings with the efficiency of ability, culture, refinement, order and power. Other outstanding girls of her group from Bulloch were Sadie Smith, Jacqueline Scott, Clarence Smith, Jacqueline Jackson, June Hodges, and Mary Jane Carroll. Boys from Bulloch were Lehman Moore, Ernest Wiggins, Algean Miles, James Fred Smith, Ernest Anderson, Billy Scott, Gary M. Douglas Jr., Joseph Polk, Thomas Love, Leroy Polk, Norman Wells, and Doy Hall.

The meeting was highlighted with addresses by Messrs. Wilson Stills, Wm. Smith Jr., Alexander Norman, Rev. J. T. McMillan, and Alva Tabor, Mr. Tabor being the principal speaker. All of these emphasized the growing necessity of farmers being organized and cooperative in order to keep prices adjusted so that the farmers themselves, and America as a whole, can stand securely.

We urge the Negro farmers of Bulloch county to begin now in attempting to attain a 100 percent membership. They need a Farm Bureau.

T. O. Wynn Serves "Cooter" Supper

T. O. Wynn served his annual "cooter" supper Friday night to approximately 150 business associates and friends.

"Uncle Oscar" served these "cooter" suppers several years ago for the fellows he sold fertilizer to and for his close neighbors. The event was so delightful that he has reached out to include members of the family and friends all over the county.

Although he calls it a "cooter" supper, no "cooters" have ever been served. The menu always includes plenty of fresh water fish, barbeque, slaw, salad, pie, and green lemonade.

Two years ago he put on a special show for his friends in the form of a bull fight. It will be recalled that a neighbor's large Herford bull came over to Mr. Wynn's house about the time supper was being finished. The visiting bull was met by a like animal of Mr. Wynn's. After a few rushes and pushes, one of the animals pushed the other in a well and then fell in on it. Both animals had to be removed from the well with a wrecker. Neither of the bulls were hurt by the encounter.

the budget," he said, adding that "I can't see this 10 and 12 billion in deficit spending."

Representative Preston's view is that sacrifices must be made of government services as well as the nation's manpower and resources. "It seems to me," he said, "that the only way we are going to stop Russia is to mobilize and to strengthen our defenses to be ready for a general war. I don't think there is any other way to prevent Russia from making this a full-scale war."

The State Department also will be urged, the congressman said, to stiffen its back in relations with Britain, whose government has ordered its fleet units in the Pacific not to participate in the American action to prevent Communist China's invasion of Formosa.

"We should serve notice on Britain," Preston said, "that if she is withdrawing her partnership at this critical stage, all United States economic assistance will be stopped at once. We cannot continue to help strengthen Britain unless she is willing to continue in full cooperation with the United States and the United Nations."

Grand Jury Presentments

Georgia, Bulloch County: Bulloch Superior Court.

We, the Grand Jury chosen and sworn to serve at the July Term, 1950, of the Bulloch County Superior Court, submit the following report:

We recommend or appoint Dr. John Money for a period of four (4) years as a member of the Bulloch County Board of Health Department.

We wish to thank Judge J. L. Renfro for his able charge to this body, and Mr. Walton Usher, the Solicitor General, for his assistance in matters to this body.

We recommend that these presentments be published in the county papers at the usual price.

Respectfully submitted,

Farm Bureau Raps

Mr. Wingate told the Statesboro meeting that he would "definitely tender my resignation as a member of the Agriculture Committee of the Board of Regents at the next meeting." Fourteen of the district's eighteen counties were represented at the session here.

A second resolution endorsed by the district's farm leaders, presented by William Lanier, Metter, president of the Candler County Farm Bureau and representative elected to the General Assembly, called for a minimum of twenty-three days for selling the 1950 production of tobacco. Present plans indicate the markets will remain open 17 to 19 selling days.

This resolution, suggested by R. P. (Bob) Mikel, president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau, was necessary "due to the fact that tobacco farmers in the First District will not be through curing this year's crop in time to market their product prior to opening of the selling season in other areas of the tobacco belt."

Miss Unette Lamb, outstanding rural youth leader of Emanuel county, who the title of First District Farm Bureau Queen and will represent the district at the state convention to be held in Macon in November. Second place went to Miss Martha Evans, Screven county, with third place honors going to Miss Boots Beasley, of Bulloch county. The winner was crowned by Miss Juanita Blakey, Screven county, 1949 winner of the state contest.

Miss Willet Robinson, of Dover, First District A.W. director, charged by the queen contest, assisted by Mrs. Joe S. Ray, A.W. state head.

A highlight of the Statesboro session was the chorus of twenty voices from Screven county under the direction of Mrs. Hankin Howard, Ogeechee. Mrs. C. C. Crook accompanied the group.

W. H. Smith Jr. presided and presented those appearing on the program.

The Jack & Jill kindergarten will be open for boys and girls of kindergarten age on September 4. The school will be in session from 9 until 12 Monday through Friday. If you are interested in enrolling your child please see me immediately at my home at 17 Tiltman St., at 495-J. MRS. CARL FRANKLIN.

Mr. McAllister states that the remodeling of the building will be completed Saturday of this week and the bank will be ready to resume normal business operations on Monday of next week.

He invites the public to the bank's informal open house Sunday afternoon, August 6, from 3:30 to 6:30, when the bank will be open for inspection.

The large marble columns have been removed from the center of the floor and modern customers' desks now are in this area. The banking quarters are completely air conditioned.

Mr. McAllister announced that the remodeling plans of John Bishop was the contractor. Officers of the bank are C. P. Olliff, president; D. E. Turner, vice president; C. E. McAllister, executive vice president; and Kermit R. Carr, cashier. Directors are D. P. Averitt, Hinton Booth, R. J. Brown, Alfred Dorman, C. B. McAllister, and D. B. Turner.
