

'Mixer Bound' Is Top Hog In Herd

"Mixer Bound" will head up Emory Saunders' herd of purebred Hampshire hogs.

This blue blooded boar was state fair yearling champion in Indiana in 1949, then took top honors in one Florida fair at Tampa in 1950, and then clinched his show record by winning the state fair honors in Florida this year as well as top honors at Live Oak.

"Mixer Bound" was bred by Gilbert Garner, Conservancy, Indiana, who sold him to the C. and L. Ranch, Earlton, Florida. This ranch put the outstanding individual on the show circuit.

However, Mr. Saunders is not depending on Mixer Bound all the way for his herd sire. He is also using "Georgia's Designer," a boar he bought two years ago from Mullady Farm, Inc., Elgin, Ill.

MOST FOLKS never need to call the fire department. But they like to know it is ready to rush protection to their homes if flames threaten. And they pay taxes for well-manned modern equipment.

Life insurance is financial protection for the family against the certainty of old age and death. Premium deposits,

Thumpers Hauled the Pumps

Hoof-thumping horses hauled smoke-belching pumps to fires back in 1891, the year Life of Georgia was founded. You can read about that era in "The Southern Sentinel," a newspaper printed in the style of the time.

VOLUME XI

The name "Robert Ripley" and the exhibit "Believe It or Not" are an accepted combination everywhere where more than 40 years ago the publication of the cartoon book began that name.

Not so well-known is Ripley's amazing collection of unusual items, often the originals from which his drawings were made. This collection gathered by Ripley on his perennial jaunts to strange, faraway lands, contains items to thrill and fascinate curiosity seekers of all ages.

A special showing of oddities, curiosities, and art objects from this collection, being exhibited on national tour under the auspices of the Disabled American Veterans, will be presented in Statesboro on Sunday afternoon (March 4) by The Department of Georgia D. A. V. This exhibit, mounted in a special custom-built trailer, will be located at the Court House and made, to assist them in carrying on their services to disabled veterans.

The exhibit, containing many items never before seen except by Ripley's intimates, is one of six collections of similar material, A. V. Funds received from voluntary donations accepted by the State Department and Chapters of the D. A. V. within the state where the contributions are made, to assist them in carrying on their services to disabled veterans.

He then added that if citizens wished to volunteer to become blood donors they should call Mrs. J. D. Fletcher at Phone 280 or call the chairman of the civic organization, or club, through which they wished to make their contribution.

To give a pint of blood that someone may live is one of the most unselfish acts a person can perform, so volunteer now!" he said.

Nevils Wins District Class 'C' Title; T.C. Professors In N.A.I.B. Tourney

The Nevils High School basketball team is the new first District Class "C" champions. Nevils defeated a hard-fighting Stillson team in Statesboro last Saturday night by the narrow margin of one point—29 to 28.

Junior Tidwell, Nevils forward, sunk a free throw in an extra-time period for the winning point. At the end of the first period Stillson had a one point lead with the score 6 to 5. At the halftime Stillson had increased their lead to three points, 18 to 15. At the end of the third period Nevils took the lead 25 to 21.

In the final quarter the playing became spirited when Stillson tied up the game in a 28-all score at game-end. In the brief overtime period Tidwell's free throw carried the Nevils boys to Macon.

The Nevils team consisted of Tidwell, Waters, Toole, Smith, Young, and Haygood.

The Stillson team was made up of Fordham, Strickland, Findley, Edensfield, Atkins, and Newmans.

In the consolation game Register defeated the Darien team 63 to 54.

At Portia, Adrian High School defeated Soperton for the Class B first district championship.

Spotlight Turned On Farm Masters

I'll be Bulloch County Week in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution magazine section again Sunday when the Henry S. Blitch family will be featured.

Andrew Sparks, who wrote the story on Statesboro and Bulloch County which appeared in the magazine section about a year ago, has written the Blitch family story. Kenneth Rogers, veteran photographer for the Journal-Constitution, made the color pictures for the story.

The story on the farm and home operations of Bulloch County's 1950 Master Farmer Family appeared in the February issue of the Progressive Farmer, a farm magazine that covers the southeast with over 2,500,000 subscribers.

T. C. Choir Will Sing Sunday P. M.

The Georgia Teachers College Philharmonic Choir, under the direction of Dr. Ronald J. Neil, will present Haydn's oratorio "The Creation" at the Sunday night service of the Statesboro Methodist Church.

Soloists for the performance are Anne Trice, Betty Hart, and Sally Serson, sopranos; Billy Moore and Gene Roberts, tenors; Bill Fox and Gene Henderson, basses. Martha Driskill will be at the organ, and Beverly Barger at the piano to accompany the work.

The text is taken from the first chapter of Genesis. After an organ introduction representing "Chaos," the base soloist is heard singing: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The chorus takes up the narrative with "Let there be light" and the work proceeds with a description of the following days of creation, solos and choruses alternating. The oratorio closes with the thrilling chorus "The heavens are telling the glory of him."

Bloodmobile Back In Statesboro On Tuesday, March 6

The Bloodmobile will be back in Statesboro on Tuesday, March 6 for its regular collection of whole blood.

The Minkovitz, chairman of the Bulloch County Bloodbank program, announced today that the Bloodmobile will be at the Community Center from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning and 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon.

Chairman of the organizations in the city and county are being urged to contact their prospective donors and have them at the collection center on Tuesday.

Mr. Minkovitz states that more than 200 donors are needed if Bulloch County is to furnish her quota of whole blood.

The Bulloch County Hospital continues using a great amount of whole blood. It is now being used desperately in Korea for the armed forces.

"We cannot stress too much the urgency of the need for whole blood. We know that many citizens have given blood—some one time, some more than one time. But we also know that many have not taken advantage of the opportunity to perform this great unselfish duty to their community and nation."

He then added that if citizens wished to volunteer to become blood donors they should call Mrs. J. D. Fletcher at Phone 280 or call the chairman of the civic organization, or club, through which they wished to make their contribution.

$385,000 Dormitory Authorized For T.C.

Georgia Teachers College officials today announced plans for construction of a men's dormitory here at an estimated cost of $385,000.

The Board of Regents of the University System has authorized construction at the earliest possible date, President Zach S. Henderson said. The project is one of four just passed by the regents and accepted by the University System Building Authority, which issues revenue bonds as a means of financing. Dr. Henderson said he expects an early call for bids from contractors.

The building will have two stories and 78 rooms, with each room accommodating two men. It will be located between Sanford Hall, present men's dormitory, and the Athletic Center.

An overflow of male students since World War II caused the college to ask for the additional dormitory. Crowded conditions have abated somewhat this year, but the college, Dr. Henderson asserted, could not plan any growth with only its one present men's dormitory.

The new organization will meet at the high school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, March 7, at 3:15. Questions and problems dealing with the schools will be discussed.

They All Sing Praises Of Statesboro, Bulloch

Georgia, she quickly asked what section I replied, "Statesboro, located in South Georgia." She nearly dropped the menu and, after catching her breath, informed me that she was born in Statesboro, having lived there three years before moving north.

"Her maiden name is Thelma Martin, however I do not remember her married name."

"To the amazement of my friends, we began a lengthy discussion on Statesboro. She said her parents were very fond of Statesboro and throughout her childhood had often made numerous complimentary remarks. As a result, she visited Statesboro soon after being married and was very much impressed.

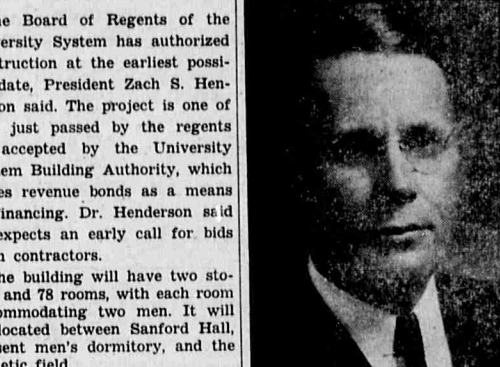

"For once I really felt as though this world isn't so big, after all. The incident goes to show that from Maine to California there's a lot of people who know about Statesboro."

"I was traveling with two boys, one from Winston-Salem, N. C., and the other from Hopewell, Va. We decided to eat supper in Detroit and selected a small restaurant located in the heart of the city."

"As we were sitting at our table casually talking, the waiter approached and, as all 'Yankees' do, immediately noticed our Southern drawl. As if she didn't already know, she asked if we were from the South. One of my friends explained that he was from North Carolina, our colleague was from Virginia, and that I was from Georgia."

'Go To Church' Is Sponsored By Bulloch Clubs

March has been designated as "Family Go to Church Month" for members of the home demonstration clubs of Bulloch county, according to Mrs. Dan Lee, the council's development and family life committee chairman.

Mrs. Lee stated that the club members, together with the members of the county 4-H clubs are joining in the observance of the month and will make extra efforts to attend the church of their choice during March.

Each member will take all the other members of the family. "We believe that this will develop into a family go to church all the time movement," Mrs. Lee said.

Mrs. Lee attended a meeting of the Georgia Family Life Conference recently and she states that religion in the home was emphasized throughout the program.

Others who attended the conference with Mrs. Lee are Miss Mary Jo Moore, Miss Christine Driggers, Mrs. Otis Groover and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Flower Expert to Conduct Classes

Flower growers and lovers will be given an opportunity to take lessons in flower arrangement from a master when Gregory Conway comes here on Wednesday, March 7.

Mr. Conway is one of the nation's finest flower arrangers and an expert landscape gardener, and an author of books of flowers and arrangements.

Mr. Conway will conduct two classes at the Bulloch County Library next Wednesday, the morning class at 10 o'clock and the afternoon class at 2:30. A fee of $2 will be charged for each class.

The members of the Civic Garden Club state that they are very fortunate in securing Mr. Conway and urge all who are interested to see him.

There's No Feeling To Equal It

THERE'S NO other feeling to equal that of having done something fine for your fellowman.

There follows a lift of spirit and a glow of satisfaction that accompanies only some unselfish act.

"What is mine is thine, and I'll share it" could well be the guiding philosophy of us all and no finer manifestation of it can be imagined than to volunteer to contribute a pint of one's life blood that someone else might be given a better chance to live.

Over the last two years Bulloch county citizens have contributed their blood generously and graciously.

We know that you have heard over and over the great need for blood and blood plasma for the armed forces fighting in Korea. And yet you know and we know that the need is there and desperately:

There's only one source of whole blood—from you and you and you and us.

Many have already given once, many twice and some more than twice. But there are yet many citizens of this county who have not lifted their hands and their voice to volunteer to contribute a pint of their blood that it might save the life of some man fighting for his life and for the freedom of your nation and our nation.

The Bloodmobile will be back in Statesboro for its scheduled visit on Tuesday, March 6.

Blood donors are needed. The need is great.

If you have not contributed to this great program, raise your hand and your voice now and say, "I'll give a pint of my blood."

Phone Mrs. J. D. Fletcher at 280 and she'll tell you about what time to report at the Community Center so that you may make your contribution with minimum delay.

If you are a member of some organization, some club, or farm organization, then notify the chairman of that organization's blood donor committee and they'll make arrangements for you.

"What is mine is thine, and I'll share it".

Give To The Red Cross

Now Is The Time!

Citizens of every community in Bulloch county and every other county in the United States are devoting a portion of their time in one of the nation's greatest efforts—the drive to raise funds for the American Red Cross.

The 1951 quota for the nation has been set at $67,000,000, 27 per cent over last year's quota.

Beginning this week, citizens of Statesboro, Brooklet, Portal, Register, Denmark, Nevils, Emit, Bay, Lockhart, Stillson, Hagan, Sinkhole, all Bulloch county, will begin working to help raise Bulloch county's share in this drive.

Ernest Brannen, county drive chairman states that the principal points in the expanded Red Cross program for this year are:

1. Acting as official agency for collection of blood and its derivatives for the military and coordinating the collection of blood derivatives for civil defense. To fully meet these and regular civilian needs, the Red Cross must collect 1,500,000 pints of blood this year.
2. Training 20,000,000 persons in first aid, including treatment of injuries from atom-bomb attack.
3. Training 100,000 and reactivate 150,000 nurses' aides and training 1,000,000 housewives in home nursing and civil defense.
4. Assisting civil defense in providing food, clothing and shelter during an emergency period.
5. Expansion of Red Cross services to the armed forces to meet the needs of the proposed 3,000,000-man fighting force.

Since the Red Cross movement was conceived in 1859 it has been the world's greatest humanitarian effort.

And now as never before it moves to relieve suffering.

Give!

Don't Listen To Rumors

DAME RUMOR got in a dirty piece of work around here recently.

A man told a local banker that he had heard that War and Savings Bonds were not going to be paid off in full by our government.

The banker straightened this man out, but it goes to show how confused people can become, and how it reflects upon our way of life.

The man could not remember who told him that his War Bonds and Savings Bonds were not going to be paid off in full, but, "I heard it", he explained.

"Somebody was deliberately giving out 'bad dope' and to the detriment of our community and our country."

We don't like it and if somebody gives you that story go to Wallace Cobb at the Bulloch County Bank or to C. B. McAllister at the Sea Island Bank and they'll set you straight.

Our Hat Goes Up

THINGS and people in Bulloch County keep our battered hat up in the air most of the time. We never get to wear it any more, but it makes us happy.

This week we throw it up in the air for the Nevils High School basketball team, the new First District Class C Champions. They defeated another fine Bulloch county team, Stilson, 29-28 and it took an overtime period to win. But there's glory for all, for Stilson's girls became the district champions week before last.

The Nevils boys and the Stilson girls will represent the district in the Macon state tournament.

A state tournament is not complete without a Bulloch county team playing and these two fine teams are not letting their district down this year.

Congratulations to the fine boys and girls who participate in this fine youth competition.

Choose One

RECENTLY a speaker at the Rotary Club submitted three philosophies that might serve as guides for living. Here they are, choose one.

- "What is mine, is mine, and I'll keep it."
- "What is thine, is mine, and I'll get it."
- "What is mine is thine, and I'll share it."

About the Red Cross . . .

The American Red Cross during the coming year will attempt to recruit and train an additional 250,000 nurses' aides to help in hospitals and clinics and as a reserve for service which might be needed in shelters and emergency stations in connection with the nation's civil defense preparation.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, the American Red Cross spent $5,054,000 from national funds in behalf of victims of major natural disasters. During the year the Red Cross conducted 394 disaster relief operations.

Red Cross learn-to-swim programs are increasing steadily in popularity. For the third successive year the organization has passed the half-million mark in the annual total number of persons taught how to swim. Last year, 128,000 certificates were issued over the nation. Civic organizations, schools, recreation departments, youth groups, newspapers and radio stations, and others recruited classes, looked to the local Red Cross chapter to provide the training.

The American Red Cross now has more than 1,700 men and women serving in approximately 1,400 military installations in the United States and overseas. Of this number, 500 are on duty in the Far East and in Europe.

The American Red Cross opened a recreation club in Pusan, in South Korea, in mid-November. On opening night the club was visited by 10,000 servicemen. The club's facilities, including refreshments and comfort articles, are free to all servicemen.

Whole blood shipments to Japan and Korea for wounded fighting men have been carried on regularly by the American Red Cross since last August, thanks to blood donations by the public through the organization's regional blood centers.

Spring—Thoughts Of Love, Gardens, Housecleaning

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

"AH, WINTER'S back is broken," or some similar expression, was heard last week when a little warmth brought forth blossoms on the flowering quince and the Pear trees, plum trees, and peach trees pretended by their new dress that spring was about to come.

Perhaps the young men's fancy may lightly turn to thoughts of love in the spring but most of the older men's thoughts turned abruptly to their gardens. Some made certain that Irish potatoes were planted by February 15. Others dreamed of rows of onions, lettuce, beans, and the like, and found their sleep disturbed by the more esthetic type of man became conscious anew of camellias, azaleas and sweet peas.

Practically every woman in town, regardless of her type, turned her thoughts to one main topic, spring cleaning. Fingertips that had been sleepily dusting suddenly terribly noticeable. Windows were unobscured by dirty one day when the day before the little women had not been seen.

Doubtless, women all over Bulloch county started making plans for spring cleaning. It seems that every woman has a slightly different method. Usually, there are two main courses to follow.

First, there is the closet, wall, woodwork, windows, etc., method. Here one starts with the closets and in the house. When each is cleaned out, sorted out and thrown out, and finally mopped out, the walls are tackled. This method is called "mop and wash."

As for this house cleaner, she is of the old school, and perhaps the urban sisters would say, country. But there are greater housecleaners than the thorough cleaning of one room. It is exhilarating to smother the pictures from the walls, and the curtains from the windows, "air" the mattresses, and wash the springs (unless you're so highfalutin as to have those covered things). A vacuum cleaner may be a great help in the kitchen household, but, in this opinion, there is something that can take the place of sunshine, soap and water. After the floors have been mopped, waxed, and the furniture rearranged one can stand in the door (daring not to look to the right where the other room is now dirty tier-looking than ever), and derive as much sheer joy as a great artist who looks with satisfaction upon his completed work.

There is a great deal more to this cleaning that the actual elbow grease. The cleaner, if she is a mother, must be a real diplomat, and control her avid desire to throw out all the accumulations of six months' hoarding. There'll be Christmas cards, wrappings, ribbons, the valentines, rocks, dirty old play money, unfinished airplanes, half-naked dolls, shells from the beach, gaudy, and hundreds of other things, depending on the child's interests. So the mother spends hours of coaxing, begging, and persuading the boy or girl that this could go. (At least, there is one less problem here since the removal of one beloved neighbor to another city, who used to save her dispirited articles for the children—and oh, how they blessed her for it.)

Then, if the cleaner is a wife, there is the task of getting rid of the husband's hoarding. His accumulations depend on his interests and business. Here there is the overflow of book catalogues, and newspapers that never get clipped. Invariably, the husband always complains that he can't find anything since his desk has been put in order.

The hardest job in the world is to get the last room cleaned before the first room is hopelessly dirty again.

But spring cleaning is a glorious adventure. It helps to clean out the pettiness and littleness that has gathered along with the dirt—and, somehow, the soul, as well as the windows, takes on a new shine.

THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1951

A weekly newspaper dedicated to the progress of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Published every Thursday in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Ga.

JIM COLEMAN, Adv. Director

Entered as second-class matter January 31, 1946, at the post office at Statesboro, Ga., under Act of March 3rd, 1879.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

OUR RUTH REBECCA (Ruth Rebecca Franklin Morehouse) has done it again.

In the February issue of the New York Times magazine she has a story entitled "Head Man of the Broadway Cast." In the April 1951 issue of the magazine "The Woman," edited by Kate Smith, of radio and movie fame, Ruth Rebecca has a story which is a condensation from a story, also published in the New York Times. This one is entitled "Marketing Was Never So Magnificent," being a story on "from soup to nuts to art—they're all at the super markets, orchids and soft music."

We're proud of our gal, Ruth Rebecca, who will have gathered by now. She was the best newspaperwoman in Georgia before she became the wife of Ward Morehouse, himself a writer of some note. She is fast becoming, in this weekly newspaperman's book, one of the best newspaperwomen in her second home, New York City.

We hobnobbed with some of the state's fine newspapermen last week end at the Georgia Press Institute in Athens—Albert Jenkins of Baxley, Albert Hardy of Commerce, Charles Hardy and the Hardy boys' father, Albert Sr., of Gainesville, R. E. Ledford of Vidalia, Norman Chalker of Waynesboro, Jack Sawyer, Ralph McGill, Leo Aikman, H. H. Trotter, Lee Rogers, of the Atlanta Constitution, Wright Bryan, Ernest Rogers, Olin Miller, the Atlanta Journal, and many others.

Except for Atlanta, I expect Statesboro was about the best represented community at the institute.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK...

TODAY, MARCH 1.—Blistery.

FRIDAY, MARCH 2.—Cooler.

SATURDAY, MARCH 3.—Cooler.

SUNDAY, MARCH 4.—Fair.

MONDAY, MARCH 5.—Warmer.

TUESDAY, MARCH 6.—Stormy.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7.—Will be stormy.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG.

There were Mr. Dave Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Turner, Mrs. Renner Brady, Mrs. Isabel McDougald, Mr. and Mrs. Worth McDougald (Worth is on the Journalism school faculty at the University of Georgia), Charles Kopp and five of the college's Georgia-Area staff, and us. Statesboro all over the place.

It was good to see all these people from over the state. It relieves the monotony of the weekly grind that is attached to the publishing of a long string of newspapers.

We heard famous newspaperpeople like Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer; Mark Etheridge, of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal; William Lawrence, foreign correspondent for the New York Times; Sylvia Porter, dance writer for a long string of newspapers.

The city of Athens was good to us. They gave us a big red sticker to put on our windshield, reading, "OFFICIAL GUEST," which allowed us to park when, where, and as long as we pleased. It was nice.

And, after it was all over, it was wonderful to get back to Statesboro and home.

ALL'S FAIR By Jane

YES, Mrs. Bob Morris and son, Robbie, are home and Marguerite is amazed at the way Statesboro has grown in the years since she left here. She finds very few of her classmates—Willie Coleman, Albert Braswell, Roy Hitt, Betty Smith Dobson, and many others—but so many of the girls have done away like Marguerite they have moved away, but we certainly hope that you will have a wonderful time while you're with us, Marguerite.

By the way, her husband's Navy rank is Lieutenant Commander, but his title in his Washington assignment is Head of Distribution of Publications in the Bureau of Aeronautics. He writes that he is thrilled with his job which is a challenge because of the great responsibility that goes with it.

WE PICKED this up at the office of the Chamber of Commerce: We were looking at the folders and publications in the display rack when Jackie furnished us with this story. A representative of Marineland, Fla., visited the office one day to leave an attractive folder exploiting the wonderful sights one can enjoy while viewing the wonderland of fish and other sights to be seen under water. He asked Jackie if she by any chance would be visiting Marineland soon. Jackie replied, "Oh, yes. I expect to be through there in March on my honeymoon." After a bit of conversation, the visitor reached in his pocket and pulled out a couple of passes and handed them to her. They were made out to Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Bohler. He added, "I'll bet that's the first time you have had your signature written like that, and it's your first wedding present." Jackie told us it was. Say, Jackie, seems like the postman calls more than twice at your office.

WE SHARE with you a few excerpts from a letter from Martha Jean Rodgers, whose husband, Charles Rodgers, is representative of the American Red Cross in Germany. Charles and Martha Jean have just been assigned new quarters. "We are thrilled over our new place. Just like a honeymoon cottage located in Bad Tölz," she describes the place. "It is very beautiful, located in a huge building. The ready-to-wear department has a huge fish pond in the center. In the PX they carry everything from snack foods to shoes and clothing. Not a wide selection, but the commissary is in the same building and resembles a chain store. We have a good selection of canned foods, and frozen foods; however, our selection of meat is not a wide variety, as all of it is frozen—steaks, chicken, beef steaks, and hamburger. Our produce counter is very small, as that comes from Italy at this time of the year."

Concerning the difference in camps there and those we have in the U. S., Martha Jean has this to say: "The Kasernen is quite different—smaller in area, but quarters for troops much better. In fact, they are made of concrete, with marble floors."

ISABEL SORRIER listens with open mouth as she hears tourist rave over the beauty of our town. (Think of what he would have said if camellias, dogwood, and azaleas had been in bloom.) He inquired about opportunities in the town—desired a place such as Statesboro in which to live. Makes good listening. We'd like to point out opportunities, and we are more hopeful now that we have a manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

CONGRATULATIONS to Bill Holway of the Statesboro Florist Shop for his new honors—elected vice-president of the Georgia Florists Association, which met last week at the Bon Air Hotel in Augusta. More honors for Statesboro and Bulloch county.

ALSO, we introduce a new club—"The Eta Chapter, Psi State, of the Delta Kappa Gamma society which met at Georgia Teachers College Tuesday afternoon with Sophie Johnson, Maud White, Edna Luke, and Elia Johnson as hostesses.

The Future Teachers Club, all retired teachers of Bulloch county were invited guests. The college F. T. A. Club was present. Earl Reynolds, president of the college F. T. A., was recognized and gave a few fitting remarks. Mrs. Lillie Deal gave the address, "Why Is Teaching a Highly Desirable Profession." Miss Mattie Lively was recognized as an honored guest as a retired teacher.

As ever, JANE.

Free The Crippled Children

We have a large front yard with a small back yard with an outdoor grill, and on each side is an oven. We are situated on a hill and our front yard slopes quite a bit. The house is ideal—made of concrete, as are all the houses, and trimmed with lovely wood which is carved. It has a picket fence all around and a little picket fence leading to the walk. We have an entrance hall. Off this is the kitchen, dining room, living room, small bedroom, garage and half-bath. Upstairs is the master bedroom, hallway, plenty of attic space and a large bathroom. The hallway has marble floors. She points out another difference: "The floors are hardwood. They scrub them and they appear white. The major before us had the floors varnished and kept polish on them so they really looked good. We have a large basement which contains a furnace room, laundry room, and another large room. There is a porch all around two sides of the house, both upstairs and downstairs."

She says that though they would be very happy there they would like to soon come home every once in a while. "Tell everyone 'hello' for me." There is a postscript. "Write often; the jitters do wonders for our morale." Mrs. Charles Rodgers is the former Miss Martha Jean Nesmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josh T. Nesmith. In case you'd like to write her a letter, her address is: Mrs. C. E. Rodgers, American Red Cross, A.P.O. 407, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Double Ceremony Last Thursday Joins Two Popular Local Couples

Coming as a surprise to their friends was the double wedding Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, February 22, with Miss Elizabeth Lanier and Lannie Smith exchanging vows simultaneously with Miss Marilyn Jones and Arthur James Riggs.

The wedding took place at the home of Elder and Mrs. Henry Waters on Broad street with Elder Waters performing the impressive double ring ceremony.

The brides, entering together, met the grooms before the fireplace in the living room. The mantle, centered with an arrangement of white gladioli with magnolia leaves and white tapers extending to form a graceful altar design, formed a lovely background for the double service.

Mrs. Lanier wore a light blue suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Miss Jones wore a golden beige suit with pink candy straw hat, pink gloves and a corsage of pink carnations. Other accessories were brown.

Mrs. Waters played the wedding march and as the vows were exchanged she played "Love's Old, Sweet Song."

Good Plants Can Be Grown Here, E. L. Anderson Tells Nevils Group

If tobacco farmers will only do the things they already know how to do, they can grow ample tobacco plants any year, E. L. Anderson, former tobacco demonstrator and now a merchant in Statesboro, told the Nevils Farm Bureau on Wednesday night.

Mr. Anderson believes every tobacco farmer in the county knows just what to do to grow plants, but many of them simply do not get around to doing the necessary jobs. As an example, he pointed out that every tobacco grower knows how to control blue mold, but that lots of growers just put on a little once in a while instead of keeping the plants black with it.

Many tobacco farmers go to much expense to grow plants, yet fall short because of carelessness in blue mold control, fertilization, or something of this nature. Mr. Anderson predicted 50 percent of tobacco growers were careless in some phase, and then were forced to pay high prices for plants, in addition to the expense of preparing their tobacco beds.

Tobacco plants will be higher this year, if you have to buy them, Mr. Anderson stated. Watching the beds daily or at least every other day from now on and getting to work on them immediately if blue mold shows up may save the beds. A light application of dry stable compost on the green beds will help dry them out and will also help beds having yellow plants. Beds that are soggy, however, should be drained.

Mr. Anderson also asked the group to make certain they put fertilizer deep under tobacco. Lots of stands are lost because they are in contact with fertilizer before enough growth has been accomplished. It would be well to put tobacco on a higher bed to start with than most growers are now using, Mr. Anderson thinks.

Burning the Woods for Boll Weevils Will Help Bulloch County Farmers Get Rid of Only One Thing—Their Valuable Timber

One Man Boll Weevil won't be affected, no matter how hot the flames may be in the deep woods and no matter how many trees you lose when you burn over the boll weevils winter chiefly in the adult stages in grass, around gins, rock dams or terraces, on the underside of fallen leaves in the edge of woods, and in other protected places near cotton fields.

Bulloch county farmers have come to discover in recent years that seldom are boll weevils found further than a short distance from the edges of cotton fields. Other methods, including simple clean-up of fields, terraces and fence rows, as well as poisoning are being used in place of destroying the woods.

The unusually cold temperatures experienced in the area have resulted in our woodlands being as dry as tinder. The Bulloch County Forestry Unit has had several calls resulting from farmers burning the woods and then being unable to control the flames when a sudden shift of the wind sent the fire off in another direction.

For that reason, the entire personnel of the Bulloch County Forestry Unit is especially interested in gaining the cooperation of the farmers in abandoning the old method of trying to destroy boll weevils by burning their woods. Not only does this method fail to destroy the boll weevils, but it destroys one of the farmer's principal cash crops—his timber crop.

Already, during February, your Bulloch county forestry unit has had to battle eight woods fires. These fires destroyed 90 acres, some of it in marketable timber and some in young pine seedlings which in years to come would have meant cash to the owners. Let's keep this record from becoming worse and let's refrain from burning these valuable woodlands.

Future Farmers of America of Bulloch County are now readying their pigs for their fourth annual Pig Chain Show to be held here on April 10.

The F. F. A. pig chain shows began in 1948 when Sears Roebuck, Statesboro Livestock Commission Co., Bulloch County Bank, S. W. Lewis, Sea Island Bank and the Bulloch Stockyards gave 50 gifts to the F. F. A. chapters in the county.

These gifts were fed out, shown in the 1948 show, and one gift was given from each litter to another boy in the chapter. This procedure was carried out annually, increasing the number of pigs in the chain each year.

The following Future Farmers will have gifts in this year's show: Portal—Waldo Stewart, Jackie Anderson, Walter Daniel Barnes, Hubert Miller, Douglas Lee, Bobby Hayton Morris, Hudson Williams, Grayson Olliff, J. M. Bowen, and Prince Finch. Their advisor is A. D. Milford.

Considered one of the smoothest girls' basketball teams in the state last week, Stilton's team lost the final match for the state championship to a strong Cedar Grove team on Saturday night.

Leona Newman, Barbara Murry, and Shirley Bragg were named MVPs but the game ended 34 to 32 in favor of the Cedar Grove team.

Stilton got off to a fast start in the tournament defeating Westside 31 to 25 on Thursday of last week.

Friday they blasted Baker county's defending Class C titlists from the tournament in the major upset of the week by the score of 44 to 30.

It was in this game that S. A. Drigger's Stilton sextet, playing without a substitution, rolled up a 28 to 14 halftime lead. Stilton capitalized on a smooth, deliberate offense and the brilliance of little five feet, two and three-fourths inches Leona Newman, who ran up 28 points.

The line-up for the game was: Leona Newman, Barbara Murry, Shirley Bragg, Faye Sanders, Joan Lee, and Betty Harden.

And Saturday night Cedar Grove defeated the girls from Stilton for the state C championship.

Brooklet defeated Hawkinsville, then lost to Pickens County 44 to 31.

Dr. Pittman Visits German Students

German students in American colleges have looked up from their text books and have observed that all buildings here are not skyscrapers, that all people are not rich and vulgar, as is illustrated by American movies, and that, while nearly everyone owns an automobile, he still works as hard as we do, and that nearly all the people are gentle and good.

Of the full 126 who share in this revelation, one put it into words for Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president emeritus and extension director at Georgia Teachers College, who during January and February attempted to visit all the German teacher trainees enrolled in United States colleges and universities.

Dr. Pittman traveled as consultant for the German Teacher Training Program, sponsored by the Department of State and the Office of the United States High Commissioner for Germany. He visited most of the 51 campuses where Germans are studying.

He found that, besides their change of ideas concerning the United States, the students expressed themselves as benefiting most by their observation of "the democratic way of life in government, in education, in social relationships, and in family life."

Public reception of the German teacher trainees, Dr. Pittman learned, also is good. He quotes the "average citizen who has come to know one of these German teacher trainees" as saying:

"Well, I have thought that our Department of State has made a lot of mistakes in our foreign policy but if it is responsible for this German teacher-trainee program, which I think is one of the finest things that has ever been done, maybe I might change my mind about some of the other matters the government has done, if I just knew more about them."

Dr. Pittman, who served as an educational consultant in all parts of the world, twice in Germany, was primarily responsible for bringing three German students to the Georgia Teachers College from 1948 through 1950. He thinks that "we are being well paid... in the new vision, renewed hopes, and restoration of faith in mankind which their living among us has brought to us."

Stilton Girls Considered Smoothest In State 'C' Basketball Tournament

Considered one of the smoothest girls' basketball teams in the state last week, Stilton's team lost the final match for the state championship to a strong Cedar Grove team on Saturday night.

Leona Newman, Barbara Murry, and Shirley Bragg were named MVPs but the game ended 34 to 32 in favor of the Cedar Grove team.

Stilton got off to a fast start in the tournament defeating Westside 31 to 25 on Thursday of last week.

Friday they blasted Baker county's defending Class C titlists from the tournament in the major upset of the week by the score of 44 to 30.

It was in this game that S. A. Drigger's Stilton sextet, playing without a substitution, rolled up a 28 to 14 halftime lead. Stilton capitalized on a smooth, deliberate offense and the brilliance of little five feet, two and three-fourths inches Leona Newman, who ran up 28 points.

U. of Ga. Graduates Plan Celebration

One hundred thirty-six graduates of the University of Georgia will gather at the court house Monday night at 7:30 to discuss plans for local participation in the college's sesquicentennial celebration being held this year.

A group of alumni met last week with Mr. Healey, captain of the 1950 basketball team to help with plans for Monday night. He stated that he will be at the meeting together with several others from Athens to tell of the expansion plans for the university. He will also show the motion picture of the Georgia-Maryland football game played on Sanford Field last fall.

Included in the group which met with Mr. Healey were I. M. Foy, Robert Donaldson, Byron Dyer, Doble Banks, Gene Curry, Raymond Poss, and A. J. Trappell.

Mr. Trappell and J. E. Brannen are two of the early graduates of the university.

Mr. Healey expressed surprise on his visit to find that so many citizens of the county are Georgia grads.

Citizens of Bulloch county are invited to attend the movie and be guests of the Bulloch Tractor Company. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mr. Thompson or Mr. Tiltman.
