Farmers Buy 28 Bulloch County Purebred Cattle

Bulloch county farmers bought 28 head of the purebred Hereford cattle sold here on Monday of this week.

Despite the high prices paid for the animals, livestock-minded farmers realized that good cattle will make more money for them than scrub.

The 60 purebred cattle auctioned off at the sale averaged nearly $600 per head with 35 graded heifers selling at around $280 each.

The sale held at the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company barn, is the first of a series of purebred cattle sales arranged for the Statesboro through W. E. Aycock and Sons of Moultrie.

Mr. Aycock and his sons, Bill and Frank, have been holding a series of purebred cattle sales for many years. They plan to hold three or four sales here each year in the future.

Most of the cattle offered here Monday were from Georgia breeders with a few from Texas and a few from Florida.

The greater number of the cattle were sold to farmers of Bulloch, Screven, Effingham, Camden, Emanuel, and Burke.

Those in Bulloch to buy are Alfred Dorman, S. J. Proctor, Henry S. Blitch, Zach Smith, J. E. Hodges, W. A. Bowen, Fred H. Smith, Joe Boone, Bruce Groover, Paul Groover, Dan R. Groover, Clate Mikell, John H. Brannen and J. B. Altman.

At a meeting held at the City Office last week members of the 1950 committee met and laid the groundwork for the 1951 entry.

Present at the meeting were Harris Yearbrough of Augusta, and Frank Hood of Atlanta, representing the Power Company, who accepted the city's entry in the contest.

The Statesboro committee examined the scrapbooks of all the winning cities in the 1950 contest. Two hundred and fifty Georgia communities have entered the 1951 contest and will compete for cash prizes amounting to $8,550.

Rainfall for the same week was 0.66 inches. This information furnished special to The Herald by Mr. W. C. Cromley of Brunswick.

Statesboro Receives 52 Units Under Federal Housing Setup

Alfred Dorman, chairman of the Statesboro Housing Authority, received a telegram from Senator Walter F. George, Washington, D. C., last Friday, advising him that 52 housing units have been provided for Statesboro.

The telegram as received by Mr. Dorman reads: "Pleased to advise you that the Federal Housing Administration has approved 52 housing units. Preliminary loans must be approved by the President, with which to make a survey to determine how many of the 52 units will be for white residents and how many for negro residents, and how many more units Statesboro will be entitled to receive.

The preliminary allocation of 52 units was based upon the Department of Commerce figures as of the 1940 census. It is believed that more units will be allocated with the completion of the survey.

The location of the units will be determined later.

The Statesboro Housing Authority was set up at the regular meeting of the City Council on October 3, 1950 by resolution.

The mayor and council appointed the members of the authority. Alfred Dorman was named chairman and will serve for five years from December 5, 1950. Glen Jennings was named to serve two years, S. D. Groover for three years, A. M. Braswell for two years and O. C. Banks for one year.

The authority held its first meeting on January 29, 1951.

Hudson Temples Shows Grand Champ FFA Hog

Hudson Temples of Register, son of Mrs. Coy Temples and the late Mr. Temples, exhibited his seven-month-old Spotted Poland China gilt to the grand championship of the fourth annual Bulloch County F. F. A. purebred hog show here Tuesday.

Runner-up honors went to Calvin Wilson of Brookline for his Duroc gilt.

More than 500 people turned out to see 53 youthful Future Farmers from five Bulloch high schools exhibit their prize hogs, competing for prizes totaling over $500. The schools represented were Stillson, Nevils, Register, Brookline, and Port.

Temples, 14-year-old ninth grader, raised his champion gilt from a sow that was shown here last year. He received $50 from H. P. Womack, county superintendent of schools, who presented the awards. Wilson is a freshman and the Duroc gilt is his first F. F. A. project. He received $20.

Prizes for the show were contributed by Statesboro and Bulloch county businessmen, and the Sears, Roebuck Foundation. Each school represented has a chapter chain with ten pigs, five of these sponsored through the statewide Sears' program and the other five through local firms.

Judges of the show were Ralph Dixon and Albert Clifton, former vocational agriculture teachers at Metter, and E. W. Graham, vocational agriculture teacher at Milledgeville.

Entries in the five locally sponsored chains received awards of $15, $12.50, $10, $7.50 and $5 according to their placings. They are listed below in the order they were judged:

Sea Island Bank pen: Richard Cowart, Brookline; Jackie Anderson, Port; Elton Young, Nevils; James Williams, Register; and Edwin Akins, Stillson.

Bulloch County rank pen: R. L. Akins, Brookline; Talmadge Royal, Register; Jimmy Williams, Nevils; Douglas Lee, Port; Edward Shaw, Stillson.

Statesboro Livestock Commission pen: Hudson Temples, Register; Jeff Roach, Nevils; Waldo Stewart, Port; Billy Frawley, Brookline; Charles Stokes, Stillson.

S. W. Lewis, Inc. pen: Billy Tyson, Brookline; Anita Suben, Nevils; Teddy Edwards, Stillson; Hudson Williams, Port; Jimmy Adams, Register.

Bullock Yard pen: Calvin Wilson, Brookline; James Haygood, Nevils; Lavern Deal, Stillson; Hubert Miller, Port; Bobby Bohler, Register.

Competition for boys with Sears' chain pigs was within the chapter groups with the top two individuals getting $3 each and quality prizes for their hogs. May in a big area F. F. A. chain show at Savannah. Third prize winners received $10, fourth $7.50, and fifth $5. Placings were as follows:

Brookline high school group: James Minick, Jay Brinsden, Jackie Binsley, D. W. Lee, and Billy Bennett.

improvement, Beverly Brannen in the use of cottons, Janice Deal and Hal Cox in public speaking, Ted Tucker in junior speaking, La-phane Warnock in senior dress revue, Dale McCormick in food preparation, Emil Alfred in livestock judging, Bob Thompson in health, and Raymond Hagan in tractor maintenance. The rifle contest will be named at the May meeting of the 4-H Council.

The May meeting of the council will be held at the Dan W. Hagan pond at 3 p. m. on May 5. Each clubster will bring a picnic lunch. "And he or her own fishing tackle and worms," according to Miss Beverly Brannen, county president.

C. of C. Sponsors Radio Program

A weekly series of radio broadcasts on the subject "You and Your Government" will be sponsored by the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce beginning tonight (Thursday) at 7:15 over the local radio station.

The program will continue for eight consecutive weeks and is sponsored in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in the interest of better government through better citizenship.

The series of broadcasts will be directed by the national affairs committee of the local chapter with Mr. D. B. Turner, editor of the Bulloch Times, chairman.

William J. Bird, national affairs advisor of the national chamber will be the commentator, and will discuss various socialistic trends in America, together with legislative proposals now before Congress.

Mr. Turner states that the program usually will discuss both sides of major legislative issues now facing the future of America. Mr. Bird reflects the majority opinion of 3,500 chambers of commerce in the United States.

The first of the series, the one tonight, will be on the subject "Something for Nothing Bugaboos." Mr. Bird will discuss the current popular habit of believing all money that is given away is "free money."

Baby Show Set For April 18

The annual Baby Show for Statesboro and Bulloch county will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 18, at 3:30, in the auditorium of the Statesboro Grammar School, Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr. said this week.

Several years ago, the Beta Sigma Phi society originated this annual affair, and public interest has increased with each show. Ribbons will be awarded the winner of each age group, and a loving cup will be presented to the grand winner. Out-of-town judges have been secured.

Children from six months old through four years are invited to enter and may register by calling Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr., Mrs. Julian Hodges, or Mrs. Howard Neal.

The public is cordially invited to attend the show. Admission will be 25 cents.

Doug Cartee, Jan Futch Win 4-H Talent Show

4-H Clubsters, Douglas Cartee and Jan Futch were named winners in the annual 4-H Club Talent Show held last Saturday at Laboratory High School.

They will represent Bulloch county in the district talent show being held on July 9-11.

Young Cartee's talent for singing won him a loving cup and Jan Futch's tap dancing won her a loving cup for her.

The selection of the judges, Mrs. V. F. Agan, Delmas Rushing, and W. D. Jones, met the routing appointment at the Dan W. Hagan pond at 3 p. m. on May 5. Each clubster will bring a picnic lunch. "And he or her own fishing tackle and worms," according to Miss Beverly Brannen, county president.

Statesboro Enters 1951 Champ Hometown Fight

Statesboro has officially entered the Georgia Power Company's 1951 Champion Hometown Contest, according to Mayor J. Gilbert Cone. Kermit R. Carr was named to head the committee to work up the city's presentation. Mr. Carr was the chairman last year when Statesboro won third place in the state contest.

At a meeting held at the City Office last week members of the 1950 committee met and laid the groundwork for the 1951 entry.

Present at the meeting were Harris Yearbrough of Augusta, and Frank Hood of Atlanta, representing the Power Company, who accepted the city's entry in the contest.

The Statesboro committee examined the scrapbooks of all the winning cities in the 1950 contest. Two hundred and fifty Georgia communities have entered the 1951 contest and will compete for cash prizes amounting to $8,550.

Rainfall for the same week was 0.66 inches. This information furnished special to The Herald by Mr. W. C. Cromley of Brunswick.

VIDALIA, DARIEN TO DEFEND TITLES IN LITERARY MEET

Vidalia in Class "B" and Darien in Class "C" will defend titles in the First District High School Literary Meet at Georgia Teachers College tomorrow. The competition usually draws about 800 students from the area.

The Statesboro committee will judge the events.

The show will be staged at 8:15 p. m. in the college auditorium. Tickets will cost 50 cents for students and one dollar for adults.

Hudson Temples Shows Grand Champ FFA Hog

Hudson Temples of Register, son of Mrs. Coy Temples and the late Mr. Temples, exhibited his seven-month-old Spotted Poland China gilt to the grand championship of the fourth annual Bulloch County F. F. A. purebred hog show here Tuesday.

Runner-up honors went to Calvin Wilson of Brookline for his Duroc gilt.

More than 500 people turned out to see 53 youthful Future Farmers from five Bulloch high schools exhibit their prize hogs, competing for prizes totaling over $500. The schools represented were Stillson, Nevils, Register, Brookline, and Port.

Temples, 14-year-old ninth grader, raised his champion gilt from a sow that was shown here last year. He received $50 from H. P. Womack, county superintendent of schools, who presented the awards. Wilson is a freshman and the Duroc gilt is his first F. F. A. project. He received $20.

Prizes for the show were contributed by Statesboro and Bulloch county businessmen, and the Sears, Roebuck Foundation. Each school represented has a chapter chain with ten pigs, five of these sponsored through the statewide Sears' program and the other five through local firms.

Judges of the show were Ralph Dixon and Albert Clifton, former vocational agriculture teachers at Metter, and E. W. Graham, vocational agriculture teacher at Milledgeville.

Entries in the five locally sponsored chains received awards of $15, $12.50, $10, $7.50 and $5 according to their placings. They are listed below in the order they were judged:

Sea Island Bank pen: Richard Cowart, Brookline; Jackie Anderson, Port; Elton Young, Nevils; James Williams, Register; and Edwin Akins, Stillson.

Statesboro Livestock Commission pen: Hudson Temples, Register; Jeff Roach, Nevils; Waldo Stewart, Port; Billy Frawley, Brookline; Charles Stokes, Stillson.

S. W. Lewis, Inc. pen: Billy Tyson, Brookline; Anita Suben, Nevils; Teddy Edwards, Stillson; Hudson Williams, Port; Jimmy Adams, Register.

Bullock Yard pen: Calvin Wilson, Brookline; James Haygood, Nevils; Lavern Deal, Stillson; Hubert Miller, Port; Bobby Bohler, Register.

Competition for boys with Sears' chain pigs was within the chapter groups with the top two individuals getting $3 each and quality prizes for their hogs. May in a big area F. F. A. chain show at Savannah. Third prize winners received $10, fourth $7.50, and fifth $5. Placings were as follows:

Brookline high school group: James Minick, Jay Brinsden, Jackie Binsley, D. W. Lee, and Billy Bennett.

improvement, Beverly Brannen in the use of cottons, Janice Deal and Hal Cox in public speaking, Ted Tucker in junior speaking, La-phane Warnock in senior dress revue, Dale McCormick in food preparation, Emil Alfred in livestock judging, Bob Thompson in health, and Raymond Hagan in tractor maintenance. The rifle contest will be named at the May meeting of the 4-H Council.

The May meeting of the council will be held at the Dan W. Hagan pond at 3 p. m. on May 5. Each clubster will bring a picnic lunch. "And he or her own fishing tackle and worms," according to Miss Beverly Brannen, county president.

C. of C. Sponsors Radio Program

A weekly series of radio broadcasts on the subject "You and Your Government" will be sponsored by the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce beginning tonight (Thursday) at 7:15 over the local radio station.

The program will continue for eight consecutive weeks and is sponsored in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in the interest of better government through better citizenship.

The series of broadcasts will be directed by the national affairs committee of the local chapter with Mr. D. B. Turner, editor of the Bulloch Times, chairman.

William J. Bird, national affairs advisor of the national chamber will be the commentator, and will discuss various socialistic trends in America, together with legislative proposals now before Congress.

Mr. Turner states that the program usually will discuss both sides of major legislative issues now facing the future of America. Mr. Bird reflects the majority opinion of 3,500 chambers of commerce in the United States.

The first of the series, the one tonight, will be on the subject "Something for Nothing Bugaboos." Mr. Bird will discuss the current popular habit of believing all money that is given away is "free money."

Baby Show Set For April 18

The annual Baby Show for Statesboro and Bulloch county will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 18, at 3:30, in the auditorium of the Statesboro Grammar School, Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr. said this week.

Several years ago, the Beta Sigma Phi society originated this annual affair, and public interest has increased with each show. Ribbons will be awarded the winner of each age group, and a loving cup will be presented to the grand winner. Out-of-town judges have been secured.

Children from six months old through four years are invited to enter and may register by calling Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr., Mrs. Julian Hodges, or Mrs. Howard Neal.

The public is cordially invited to attend the show. Admission will be 25 cents.

Doug Cartee, Jan Futch Win 4-H Talent Show

4-H Clubsters, Douglas Cartee and Jan Futch were named winners in the annual 4-H Club Talent Show held last Saturday at Laboratory High School.

They will represent Bulloch county in the district talent show being held on July 9-11.

Young Cartee's talent for singing won him a loving cup and Jan Futch's tap dancing won her a loving cup for her.

The selection of the judges, Mrs. V. F. Agan, Delmas Rushing, and W. D. Jones, met the routing appointment at the Dan W. Hagan pond at 3 p. m. on May 5. Each clubster will bring a picnic lunch. "And he or her own fishing tackle and worms," according to Miss Beverly Brannen, county president.

Formula For Honest Elections

THE THING is so simple that we're sure it'll never be accepted.

In one sweeping it would wipe out all the finagling, all the deals, all the crookedness, all the corruption that accompany our elections, from the lowest levels to the highest levels.

It would leave those who would seek public office for personal gains, for personal greed; those who would become the front for pressure groups, for group interests, dangling from limbs with little ground under their feet.

It would give our government back to the people to whom it belongs by right of citizenship.

And, oh, would that it could be implemented so that honesty in our elections becomes the rule, rather than the exception.

At a recent meeting of the Statesboro Rotary Club, Dr. Marvin Pittman submitted a simple procedure for insuring honest elections in this great nation of ours.

It's that simple that it would frighten the professional statesman, the petty politician, the ward heeler, the fixer, the dealer, the whole kit and kaboodle of them, and send them scurrying to their holes to figure out a way to beat it.

Dr. Pittman believes that WE, THE PEOPLE must become one hundred per cent responsible for all elections.

To effect this he suggests that the whole public must pay the bill for all political campaign. (We can hear the howling going up from every politician in Georgia).

The public must write the rules and enforce them. (Oh my, the screaming becomes louder).

No candidate must be expected or allowed to pay any part of the campaign expense. Dr. Pittman thinks that it is enough that the candidate contributes his candidacy.

No private interest must be allowed to contribute to a campaign. To do so must be recognized as a violation of law and bear a heavy penalty. (That wailing comes from the special interest boys).

Candidates must have definite platforms and present and defend them entirely and only according to the rules. To do otherwise would disqualify him as a candidate.

Here Dr. Pittman referred to the system of campaigning in South Carolina, where all the candidates move together from community to community, speaking from the same platform at the same time.

The principles and procedure for holding elections must become universal—city, county, state, and national.

Dr. Pittman's conclusion is that using such principles and such procedure "would go far toward removing corruption from politics and encourage honest citizens to seek office, help them to remain honest, and give us a truly democratic government."

Before giving the Rotarians his simple plan for honesty in elections he prepared them for it with: "The public seems shocked over the revelations of corruption in politics made by the Kefauver Committee. Corruption in politics is interesting new. It has merely come to a natural stage of development."

"In the past, politics has been controlled by somewhat more respectable powers special interest, railroads, highways, liquor interests, organized reputable pressure groups like labor, private medicine, wholesale grocers, automobile interests, school teachers, and others.

"So, before we get too much excited over the tie-up between the organized gamblers, Murder, Inc., we should realize that they are the natural and inevitable result of our system of conducting elections."

"It is WE, not THEY, who are primarily to blame for the situation."

"You and I and EVERYONE else knows that a truly honest and fair election is the exception, not the rule. This is true because:

"1. Elections have become too expensive for any candidate to bear. He, therefore, looks for 'an angel' to pay the bill. All such angels are devils camouflaged with angel wings.

"2. These angels insist upon 'anonymity.' In doing so, they make intellectual purgers of themselves, of the candidates, and the people who serve as their agents.

"Our present system of conducting elections corrupts otherwise honest men when they become candidates. It prostitutes business. It deceives and disgusts the public who want honest elections. It destroys our faith in the so-called democratic process."

Then, just before Dr. Pittman revealed his simple plan, he said: "The Kefauver Committee has merely revealed in a dramatic form what all of us knew already—that politics, elections, as now conducted, are dishonest and degrading."

"The real question then is: What are we going to do about it?"

And then he let the Rotarians have it.

The thing intrigues us. We would like to see it in operation—if only on a local level.

But for it to work the election must become everybody's job. Not just the "boys" working quietly out in the districts, putting out "the money" and making "the deals" where they think it does the most good.

WE, THE PEOPLE must be one hundred per cent responsible for the elections. And it'll work.

How We Learn Secrets of Prayer And Meditation

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

"THE CHURCH has in her keeping the secrets of prayer and meditation and perhaps she has kept them in the lexicon of orthodoxy." From Hungry Sheep. This phrase is copied from Paul M. Marston's book, "Mr. Jones Meets the Master."

How true that statement is we can only realize after much serious consideration. Have we as Christians learned the secrets of prayer and meditation with the risen Christ? Or have we been so busy with using Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, Primitive Baptists, Episcopalians or Catholics that we haven't had enough time for prayer and meditation with Christ? Have you ever wondered what church Christ would feel at home in all of them? He would feel like a stranger in all of them.

Could it be that we are concerned about standing, sitting or kneeling to pray rather than what we are doing? Or that we baptize with water or in water rather than with the Holy Ghost? Have we been so busy denouncing others that we have forgotten to pray for one another? Have we forgotten that our judgment is the only judgment and that our judgment is not only unnecessary but dangerous?

What could be accomplished through the various branches of God's Church is undreamed of if we could only forget our differences and remember that we have God in common.

We must have our convictions but let us be sure that they are strictly for God and His work, and His living Church.

It has never seemed wrong to me that the different denominations because in smaller groups people can work together and grow to understand one another. By having different groups we are able to choose the individual has the choice of choosing a formal or informal service. But does it seem right when we allow our various differences to hinder the progress of the Kingdom of God? Or is it right for any individual church to assume that it is the only church? Is it right for us to dwell on outward rites that were intended to symbolize something in our souls?

It is my own personal joy to go to the church of my own choosing on the Sabbath and to be concerned with its welfare throughout the whole week, but I pray that I will not be known as a Presbyterian instead of a Christian.

Andrew Murray said, "The man who prays for himself will not find it easy to be in the right attitude toward God. But where the heart is filled with fervent love to others, prayer will continually rise to God for those whom we love, and even for those with whom we do not agree. . . . If you wish your love to grow and increase, forget yourself and pray, pray earnestly for God's children and His Church."

And then he let the Rotarians have it.

The thing intrigues us. We would like to see it in operation—if only on a local level.

But for it to work the election must become everybody's job. Not just the "boys" working quietly out in the districts, putting out "the money" and making "the deals" where they think it does the most good.

WE, THE PEOPLE must be one hundred per cent responsible for the elections. And it'll work.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE GO AVISITING

We went visiting Sunday afternoon.

Now when some people go avisting they come home with a paper sack full of garden peas, a batch of butterbeans, a shoe box of okra, a dozen ears of corn, a quart of new syrup, a watermelon, or a half dozen links of sausage and some "fresh"—in season.

Now others go avisting and come with a couple dozen daffodil bulbs, a rose cutting, a little crepe myrtle tree, or a newspaper spread of petunia plants or poppies—something for the yard.

Last Sunday we went to see Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hodges, and Mrs. Claudia McKinnon, who call her "Claude," on the Old River Road.

It is in that section that Bulloch County's roots first found security. Sitting in the everyday living room in the Hodges home we listened to Claude McKinnon and Susan Hodges tell of the first settlers along the old River Road. They held in our hands records of New Hope Church dating back to 1816.

We marveled at the fine handwriting of Eli Kennedy, as he kept the records of the church's quarterly conferences.

ALL'S FAIR . . . . . By Jane

Rainy days and sunny days all jumbled in together.

Make for us a variety in typical April weather.

Those of us with virus could dispense with rainy days.

We'd rather have the sunny days and indulge in lazy ways.

But the brides and grooms don't consult the weatherman—

They get the license, hunt up the preacher; no complicated plan.

Soon we get a card from Daytona Beach: "Wish you were here."

And we know quite well they're lying—nothing they don't care.

But Uncle Sam, without regard for love or wedding bells,

Rings curtains on the honeymoon and their happiness dispels.

MAYBE it isn't as bad as that. We learn that many of the young married National Guardsmen who are leaving Camp Stewart for Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, are taking their wives with them. Among those who will have trailer homes are Eddie and Polly Rushing, Jerry and Jean Howard, Ray and Margaret Hodges. Eloise Brannen says that if her husband, Cpl. George Brannen, stationed at present in a Kentucky camp and who finished school April 18, can get a furlough, he will come down and take her and their son, Mike, to Wisconsin with him. They are also planning to buy a trailer. If this keeps up there'll be quite a colony of Statesboro folks in Wisconsin.

ESTHER BARNES had the misfortune to lose her suitcase on her way to Atlanta with other delegates to the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. Esther was lucky, though, for she was able to open the suitcase and identify the owner. She wore her suit throughout the day, and by the time she needed her bag it was delivered to her at the hotel. Mrs. Barnes is a state officer—corresponding secretary. It isn't all play, says Mrs. Barnes. Her first assignment was to get letters off to legislators demanding their support of such bills as the Dependents' Support Bill which prevents a man crossing the state line to avoid paying expenses for his family, etc. Also a bill providing for transferring cripples to the Public Health Department.

EAVESDROPPING—Heard a woman say to her shopping companion: "I told her I wasn't hard to please, but I was, in a way, too." Well, aren't we all?

ORDINARY FRANK WILLIAMS assists in social news: After many inquiries as to who married on Sunday afternoon and finding no one who could give answers, I asked the dispenser of licenses—marriage licenses, that is. Well, Ancil Hodges and Mrs. Ora Prosser of Milledgeville got married on Saturday. And on Sunday there was Jack Bailey, who married Miss Mildred Goble. Just like that, I get the right answer. Frank could tell me more. Carl Anderson married them at his home and he went on to say that when the newlyweds left his house the car was so loaded down with tin cans and stuff that it could hardly go. They—that is, Jack and Mildred—wanted a very quiet marriage, but their friends saw to it that all the roads leading from the Rev. Carl Anderson's home were blocked. So it was that Mr. and Mrs. Bailey left on their honeymoon trailed by friends in cars in the good old Bulloch county "send off."

TWO PARTIES in one afternoon should be enough for any girl's eighteenth birthday. It so happened that Marilyn Neville was invited to a party in the Blue Room at the Jaekel, Barbara Ann Jones and Joanne Shearouse.

Learn and Live

A California coroner says that daydreaming while walking or driving is a worse traffic menace than driving "under the influence." He quoted statistics to prove his case. Or he might have said it this way:

The roads are rendered dangerous by the man who drives and drinks. But a greater hazard at the wheel is the man who never thinks!

German Student Expresses Thanks; Gives His Impressions of America

EDITOR'S NOTE—Just before

Christian Hans Brossman, a German student received a diploma from Georgia Teachers College here after spending a year in the college under the sponsorship of the Georgia Rotary Club. Kendall Weisiger, prominent Atlanta businessman, was the guiding spirit behind the club's sponsorship of the German youth who attended schools in this state. Just before he left to return to his home in Germany, young Brossman wrote a letter to Mr. Weisiger. Last week it was published in the college newspaper, The George Anne. With the paper's permission we reprint it here.

Another distinct chapter in my life is coming to its close. And it is certainly an important one. It seems appropriate and natural to me to pass it in review and try to summarize what it has contributed to my personal growth. My sponsors have certainly a right to know what this year has meant to me and I know that they are interested to hear what I shall take home with me to Germany.

Three things seem to me outstanding and worth mentioning. I am grateful for the opportunity to learn, that you have given me. There were so many new and challenging things that have created a thirst for knowledge that could not be satisfied in this short year. In the routine of the classroom it is so easy to become stagnant, to cease growing. I am sure that the new stimulus received here will help to prevent just this. I am proud of my diploma, but I regard it only as a milestone on the endless way on which I hope to proceed without ever getting tired.

The second great gain I made is the broadening of the horizon that is the outcome of living with other people in another world. I think that it is the only way to obtain a true picture of another nation. This picture will never be clear-cut on black and white. It will be confusing, but real.

I have come to know that Hollywood film stars, women wrestlers, snake worshippers, cowboys, G-men, and all the others I had read about so much, make up less than one-tenth of one per cent of the American people. The vast majority is so much more like the folks at home than different. I have come to realize that there is a lot more to American life than automobiles, skyscrapers, and all the material things listed in Sears Roebuck's catalogue.

In fact, I believe that the only generalization I can apply make is that America is the land of endless variety. Variety in climate, scenery, origin of the people, their customs, way of thinking, and of worshiping God. There is not a single trait that one could pick out and use as a label for America.

This insight makes for a change to a more objective and tolerant attitude and this I regard as the most valuable outcome of my stay here.

Last January I came to this country, eager to find out whether it would be true what your ambassadors of goodwill over there in Germany had told us. I was somewhat skeptical, because some of them showed a kind of missionary zeal and super-salesmanship that always makes me suspicious.

I was tempted to draw comparisons that would be favorable to my country. Soon, however, I realized how stupid it is to try to give yourself a boost in such a snobbish way. There was no hate or contempt for my nation that would have made it necessary to defend it.

So I learned to look at things objectively to see them in their setting and proper perspective. I tried to find out why they are different, aware of the fact that this is not equivalent with bad or inferior. I tried to find out the good points rather than the bad ones, looked for ideas worthwhile to take home with me. And I found many, many more than I could possibly enumerate here.

Friendliness and a genuine interest was the first impression and I have experienced these in the same way all the year through.

I admire the American people's great, almost religious, faith in education. As a teacher I wish we had more of it at home. Pittsburgh's "Cathedral of Learning" appeared to me as a symbol of faith. Every time when I saw fathers in blue overalls bringing their son or daughter to college in a pickup truck I could not help thinking how wonderful it is that these people, hard working farmers, do not shrink from sacrifices to give their children a good education. What gave me this great opportunity if not your faith in education as a way to a better tomorrow?

I admire a society where a man counts for what he is rather than his father's position or bank account, where no stigma is attached to you, because you had to fight on the other side five years ago.

There are so many other things I can like about America, that I, who came as a critical observer, shall go as a friend and admirer of this nation. When I leave in a few days a part of my heart will be left behind forever in America, with my friends here.

And yet I am looking forward to going home. After all, I have not become an American or a half-American. Nobody has ever tried to make me one. I shall go home not as an American but as a German, a better citizen, however, of my country and the world. I feel prepared now to serve in my place in classroom and community, guiding young people on the way that I see so much clearer now as the right one. It is the way of tolerance, cooperation and friendliness that leads to peace and happiness. Then I shall be able to express my gratitude better than in mere words.

In a few days we shall celebrate Christmas. You may have a pine or a fine cedar for a Christmas tree, decorated with colorful bulbs; we shall have a fir or spruce with flickering wax candles. You will sing carols and we will. The words will be different; the meaning, the feeling behind them the same. "Peace on Earth." Is not this the one thing we all crave for? Together we shall hope, pray and work so that it will be true—In spite of everything.

I wish you a Merry Christmas and many a Happy New Year.

Sincerely yours,
HANS BROSSMAN.

Coastal Bermuda Needs Plant Food, And Cultivation

By J. R. KELLY

Hundreds of acres of Coastal Bermuda grass have been planted in Bulloch County in the past several months. The automatic planter owned by the Georgia River Soil Conservation District and a number of privately owned planters have been given full time, and some of them night and day.

It is now time to cultivate and fertilize the grass. For best results the grass should be cultivated until well established in the row. Some agricultural authorities claim cultivation is as important as fertilization. If your grass is not cared for, it is possible the native grasses and weeds will so suppress it that it may die or be so suppressed it will take several years to become established.

By proper fertilization and cultivation, it is possible to have complete ground cover by July or by August. Ask Mr. Paul Neumath, farmer in Bulloch county. He had complete coverage in three months, but he also cared for his grass. It was planted right and then cultivated and fertilized.

Forestry Notes

By J. W. ROBERTS, Ranger

Springtime, which means "go in" time and the period when family picnics and outings come to the forest in Bulloch county, too often flashes a D-A-N-D-E-R signal to the Bulloch County Forestry Unit.

Citizens of Bulloch county can make their fishing and picnic trips into pleasant excursions—or they can let carelessness with fire turn the trips into disaster.

A match or cigarette lightly discarded into the bushes by a fisherman anxious to reach the spot where "the big ones are biting" can in a few minutes turn an acre of Bulloch county forestland into a blackened scene of desolation.

A blazing campfire left by a happy family after enjoying a picnic supper in the woods can turn a coating of springtime greenery into a picture of charred ruin.

The loss of persons who during the past winter tried to help keep down the annual forest fire loss in Bulloch county is indeed gratifying. With the coming of more pleasant weather, which in turn brings more people into the outdoors and woodlands, their efforts must be doubled.

The Bulloch County Forestry Unit already reports 35 acres lost during April. Each citizen of the county can do his part in helping prevent further loss. Reporting both wildfires and plans for control burns to the unit will help. Making sure campfires, cigarettes, and matches are "dead out" whenever you are in the woods also will be of great aid.

There's a right way to build a campfire as well as to put one out. Scrape away all inflammable material from a spot six feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the middle and build your fire there, keeping it small. Never build a campfire against trees, logs, or near brush. To extinguish the fire, stir coals while soaking them with water. Turn sticks over, soaking both sides and the earth near the fire. Feel embers with bare hands to make sure the last spark is "dead out."

HOME DEMONSTRATION

This is the sixth year that Georgia farm women have joined with those from other states throughout the nation in observing National Home Demonstration Week. Scheduled for April 29 to May 5, this week is expected to attract the participation of nearly 45,000 Georgia rural women.

Georgia farmers should plant Coastal Bermuda in pastures in the spring and summer when moisture conditions are favorable.

A Look at Bulloch Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of reports on the schools of Bulloch county. The information for this series was compiled by members of the school buildings committee of the Bulloch County School Survey.

MIDDLEGROUND

Nine grades, seven teachers, on brick veneer building, eight rooms, auditorium, lunch room separate, all located on seven or eight acre site.

Water under pressure, electric pump. Typical classroom, movable desks, white ceiling, light green walls, yellow and gray, recently painted.

Space heaters, double-hung shades in good condition. Partially wire, no classrooms lighted, bookshelves under window, transoms for cross-ventilation, flowers on sills. Fifth grade gets sunlight in morning, bookshelves.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hisei, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a mother of two children and like all mothers, she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children.

And when little four-year-old Lucille Hisei wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should do something about it, Mrs. Hisei gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hisei gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hisei says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

IRMA SPEARS TO WED IN HOME CEREMONY

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Spears of Columbus, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Irma Spears, of Statesboro, to Charles W. Lee Jr., of Stillson.

The wedding will take place in May at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Spears was graduated from Alabama Polytechnic Institute, at Auburn, with a B. S. degree in Home Economics. After teaching home economics in the Jessup High School for one year, she came to Statesboro as Home Demonstration Agent for Bulloch County. She has served the county in that capacity for eleven years. Under her guidance Home Demonstration Clubs have increased from seven to fifteen clubs.

Miss Spears has also worked with the 4-H club girls in co-operation with County Agent, Byron Dyer. While serving as corresponding secretary for the Georgia Home Demonstration Clubs, Miss Spears represented the state at the National Convention of Home Demonstration Agents in Chicago. Recently a national magazine carried a feature story written by Miss Spears.

The groom-elect, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lee Sr., of Stillson, prominent in the county for many years, is associated with his father in farming.

Bill Holloway, Statesboro Florist, Talks to Denmark Farm Bureau

Flowers should be arranged in a plain vase or container so as not to detract from the beauty of the flowers, Bill Holloway, owner and manager of the Statesboro Floral Shop, told members of Denmark Farm Bureau Tuesday night.

In what W. W. Jones, president of the Denmark organization, termed the most colorful speech he had ever heard, Mr. Holloway pointed out and demonstrated the various methods of preparing bouquets.

Some suggestions made by Mr. Holloway included the grouping of spike flowers, such as gladioli, around the edge of the container, grouping according to color, putting round flowers in the center, putting each flower show by not letting too many in container; use of odd numbers of flowers in vase; when putting flowers in a pitcher tall stems should be on handle side and short ones at mouth to give appearance of flowers pouring out.

THE BULLOCH HERALD, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1951

with the Ivanhoe group Friday night.

People of Bulloch county should be proud of their soil and standard of living, he pointed out in discussing the rocks and poor soil with which his people had to contend.

Mr. Higa expressed his love for the United States and longs to remain here, but stated he owed it to his family and his people to return to Okinawa in two months to help in any way possible to reach the standards of living he had found here.

The Ivanhoe group kept Mr. Higa on the floor answering questions about his homeland for some two hours.

Following an oyster supper on Thursday night, the Middleground group discussed the place of a permanent pasture in the farm program and had a motion picture on pasture as a part of the program.

Although practically every farm in the community now has a small permanent pasture, it was the opinion of the group that more permanent grazing was needed.

Mansonori Higa, Okinawa student at Georgia Teachers College, discussed the mode of living and agricultural practices on the island.

"I Bin Thinkin'"

By LEHMAN FRANKLIN

Did you know that Thomas Jefferson was born on April 13th? He went through college easier than a whistle through a knot-hole, and at 32 he was a member of the Second Continental Congress. He was a handy man with a pen, as when Newman of Stilson was second and Newman of Stilson was second and Newman of Stilson was second.

Three boys were exhibited with Butler Lewis of Nevils placing first and receiving $10. Newman of Stilson was second and Newman of Stilson was second and Newman of Stilson was second.

The show was held at the Bulloch Stock Yard under the direction of the county's vocational agriculture teachers who are also F. F. A. chapter advisers. They are O. E. Gay, Register; A. D. Milford, Portals; George Chace, Stilson; John Spence, Brooklet; Gordon Hendrix, Nevils; Lefter Akins, Statesboro; and J. T. Folds, Laboratory school.

Visitors at the show included J. N. Baker, district supervisor of agricultural education, Swainsboro; and T. D. Brown Jr., state F. F. A. leader.

We congratulate Wendell Marsh, a 16-year old baseball pitcher in the Statesboro Junior League. Marsh pitched a no-hit, no-run baseball game for the Junior League Red Caps to defeat the Pilots 11 to 0 in the 1951 season's first game.

The local paper in Riverside, Calif., announced that Assemblyman John Babbage would speak on "What Can We Do About Taxes?" Was-a-l, now, podner, that's a mighty tricky question. If there's any question about your car holding up for the duration of the emergency—then don't take chances. Come in to see and try the new Chevrolet. You'll like the smooth, powerful drive. You'll go for the comfort and economy and you'll like the price. See you for a demonstration at FRANKLIN CHEVROLET CO., INC. Phone 101.

About 50 percent of Georgia's egg supply comes from outside the state, and these out-of-state eggs are sold at an average of 900 miles before they are eaten.

Cooked Fine Dinner: Threw It To DOG! One lady used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at food. She was swollen with grief, full of grief, full of grief.

Finally she got CERTA-VIN and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. This is the new medicine that is helping so many stomach victims here in Statesboro. It helps you digest food faster and better. Taken before meals, it works with your food. Gas pains go. Inches of blood vanish. Contains herbs and vitamin B-1 with iron to enrich the blood and make nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN—Fletcher-Cook Art Drug Store. (Adv)
