

SOCIETY

SOCIALS * CLUB MEETINGS * PERSONALS

STATESBORO FOLKS TAKE TO BEACHES

One group spending several days at the beach and visiting the Lanes Simons was composed of the Bud Tillmans, with sons, Grant, III, and David; Marian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Earl Davidson, of Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. Grant Tillman and daughter, Miss Shirley Tillman.

Mrs. Grady K. Johnston chaperoned a group composed of girls who kept her practically breathless as she attempted to keep up with them in the surf and on the beach. In the group were Mary Jon Johnston, Kay Lough, Carolyn Blackburn, Sybil Griner, and Thelma Fordham.

The J. T. J.'s came home from Tybee during the week end after enjoying their annual home party at the beach. In the group were Bette Womack, Ann Evans, Fayre Sturges, Wendell Ann Ataway, Mary Louise Rimes, Kathleen Boyd, Billie Zeen Bazemore, Deborah Prather, Elita Ann Atkins, and Fay Atkins.

In another party of girls who earned vacation money by rummage sales and cake sales were Jackie Mikell, Margaret Ann DeKle, Jane Strauss, Jean Martin, and Jo Attaway. They stayed at Andrews Apartments. Mrs. Jesse Mikell was the girls' chaperone.

The T. E. T.'s spent a week at the Percy Avertit club. The group were Hal Avertit, Gilbert Cone, Bobby Donaldson, Jerry Fletcher, Jack Bowen, Brooks Waters, J. Waters, Wendell Ann Ataway, Frank Williams, Edie Hodges, and Bud Johnston.

The following mothers took turns as housekeepers for the boys: Mrs. Bob Donaldson, Mrs. Everett Williams, Mrs. James Johnston and Mrs. Otis Waters, Mrs. Loy Waters and Mrs. Gilbert Cone, Mrs. Barney Avertit, and Mrs. Marsh.

Miss Genevieve Guardia has returned from Tybee where she was a guest at the Deckle Beach Hotel of Miss Jackie Josey of Agnes Scott College during the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tillman and Mr. and Mrs. Light Trappell occupied the T. E. Rushing beach home.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Johnston observed their first wedding anniversary Friday night with a buffet supper at his mother's home on North Main street.

The table from which supper was served buffet style was attractively decorated with a lovely arrangement of pink gladioli and white carnations at one end; at the other end, a three-tiered wedding cake, embossed with pale pink roses, was encircled by ruffles of pale pink nylon. Hours of dainties, baked ham, potato salad, baked beans, pickles, relishes, apple tarts, an ice cream were served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Kucklighter of Glenview, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oltorf, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hamilton.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Lee W. Hollingsworth of Jacksonville spent the week with his sister, Mrs. Ernest Brannen.

Mrs. John Woodcock and daughter, Harriett, spent Monday night with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Woodcock, enroute from Miami to their home in Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheppard of Titon arrived Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dossey have returned from a visit to Florida. They were accompanied home by Mrs. T. G. Dean and daughter, Mary Ann.

Misses Caroline Lett of Montezuma, Mary Newell Rainey, Jean Simmons of Americus, will arrive Thursday afternoon and will be guests of Miss Virginia Lee Floyd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCroan and Mrs. Darwin Franklin have returned from a visit to relatives and friends in Louisville and Wadley.

Laborer's Wish Comes True, But Loses His Job for Ride

CHICAGO, Ill.—All his life Robert Leachman, 23-year-old railroad laborer, wanted to drive a freight train. He dreamed his dream recently when he was riding in a big diesel locomotive. The trouble was, he took the ride alone.

Leachman saw a shiny new passenger diesel standing unattended on a siding in the railroad yard. He climbed aboard and ran his hand over the controls. The locomotive gave off a puff of smoke, and he yanked every lever he could see. "I couldn't stop," he said. "Then I could."

A "kick along" from the take-off, the diesel, going 30 miles an hour, rammed a boxcar and a gondola, and came to a stop. The round house foreman accepted Leachman's resignation on the spot.

Stop-Look-Listen Before Mailing Packages Abroad

Bulloch counties who plan to mail packages to persons abroad would do well to stop, look and listen before doing so, because there are now new Federal Government regulations on the subject.

According to information received from Merrill C. Lofton, regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta, the postoffice in Statesboro will accept such packages except under the following conditions:

1. If shipment of package is prohibited without a validated export license, such a license must be presented to the post office with the package at the time of mailing.

2. If shipment without a license is permitted, the words "Gift—Export License Not Required," must be placed on the address side of the wrapper and the words "Gift" on the customs declaration.

The reason for this is that the Department of Commerce's Office of Internal Trade and the Post Office Department are cooperating to plug possible loopholes by which intentional violators of the government's export control regulations are violating such regulations.

Mr. Lofton explained that the majority of shipments by mail, both air and surface, do not require an export license because they come within the category of gift parcels that do not exceed $25 in value. Such shipments are permitted without license to all countries and North Korea. Nevertheless, from now on the mailers of such packages must mark them "Gift—Export License Not Required," he said.

The Commerce Department official urged that residents of Bulloch county who plan to mail packages to persons abroad should get in touch with the nearest Department of Commerce field office for further information on the subject. Such offices are located in Savannah, Charleston, S. C., Mobile, Jacksonville, Miami, and Atlanta.

Hormone Hubbed in Scalp Grows Hair in Five Weeks

NEW YORK.—Albert Roberts, president of the United Research Laboratories of Philadelphia reported recently a new hormone has grown hair on two men who had been bald for five years.

Each man, after five weeks of treatment, has hair about an inch long on the bald area—not fuzzy, but apparently normal hair—with a total of about 20,000 hairs on each head and signs that more are coming. This count is about a sixth of the normal amount for an average young man.

The two men, experimented on, were not identified, but Roberts said they were about 40 and 45 years old. Both had brown hair; the new hair was brown.

Roberts said that in experiments on animals it was necessary to continue small maintenance doses of the hormone to retain new hair grown on bald spots. He predicted this probably would be necessary for humans, too.

The hormone cream is white, odorless, and of the vanishing variety.

Roberts reported experiments on women were planned. To date he reported no bad reactions had been detected in either human beings or animals.

He announced the hormone would be made available from now on to research institutions, but would not be sold to the public. When it will be made available for medical or public use, depends on the results of research on larger numbers of bald persons.

Inventors Claim Gadget Turns Water Into Excellent Fuel

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A process for using ordinary water as a burner fuel is the latest invention of two Utah men.

George Jackson and William Daugherty, both of Salt Lake, said the device could be utilized as a room heater "or for commercial or industrial purposes, as in a boiler or other power plant."

In their patent application they stated: "We have found that the operation of this unit as disclosed produces an extremely intense heat with complete combustion of the constituent products, resulting in no carbon deposits, oily film, smoke, or other objectionable features generally encountered in fuel burners at used heretofore."

One of the inventors said a pint of water could be "burned" to produce enough heat to warm a four-room house for four hours. He said this was based on experimental estimates, not on actual heating of a house.

A homemade burner unit can be made for about $15, the inventors reported, but could offer no estimate as to what a commercial device would cost.

They said water was forced into the device by a pump, and the water then emerged in the form of jets of gas which burned and then apparently took over the combustion of the burner. The inventors said the alcohol burner was needed only to get the process going.

They said in their patent application they believe that the gases produced at the jets of the device are hydrogen and oxygen, and that these are generated as the water passes through a special system of coils in the apparatus.

If the device has commercial possibilities it could revolutionize home heating and industry.

Love Is More Than a Match For Starlet London Judge

LONDON, Eng.—Love was too much for a London judge. Palsied by a heart ailment, 25, on the roof of a seven-story apartment building at midnight. The charge: Being in a dwelling house for an unlawful purpose.

His explanation: "I had a spat with my girl friend. I wanted to be alone."

Comment by girl friend Joyce Kingdall: "We've made a down town house for an unlawful purpose."

Decision of the judge: "Love is unfathomable. Case dismissed."

INVESTIGATE THE OPPORTUNITIES OFFERED BY THE U. S. MARINE CORPS

See the U. S. MARINE Representative at the Post Office Every Monday 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Legal Ad

PETITION FOR DISMISSION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
Whereas, Geo. M. Johnston, administrator of the estate of Riley Mallard, deceased, represents to the court in his petition, duly filed and entered on record, that he has fully administered said estate. This is to cite all persons concerned, kindred and creditors, to show cause, if any they can, why said administrator should not be discharged from his administration, and receive letters of dismission, on the first Monday in August, 1951.

F. I. WILLIAMS, Ordinary.
(7-26-41c-112)

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF DISMISSION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
Whereas, J. T. Smith, administrator of H. B. Smith, represents to the court in his petition, duly filed and entered on record, that he has fully administered H. B. Smith estate. This is, therefore, to cite all persons concerned, kindred and creditors, to show cause, if any they can, why said administrator should not be discharged from his administration, and receive letters of dismission, on the first Monday in August, 1951.

F. I. WILLIAMS, Ordinary.
(7-26-41c-110)

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF DISMISSION

GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
Whereas, Mrs. Maude M. Nesmith, administratrix of Lesley C. Nesmith, represents to the court in her petition, duly filed and entered on record, that she has fully administered Lesley C. Nesmith estate. This is, therefore, to cite all persons concerned, kindred and creditors, to show cause, if any they can, why said administratrix should not be discharged from her administration, and receive letters of dismission, on the first Monday in August, 1951.

F. I. WILLIAMS, Ordinary.
(7-26-41c-111)

WANTED Pine Saw Timber

WRITE US IF INTERESTED IN SELLING Georgia & Florida Lumber Co.

P. O. Box 1522, Savannah, Ga.

GEORGIA Pick of the Pictures

Now Showing "AT WAR WITH THE ARMY" The New Film Fun Hit!

Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Bugs Bunny Cartoon—News Novelty

Saturday Only "BIG DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM!" Leo Gorcey and Bowery Boys

—in—"TRIPLE TROUBLE" Charles Starrett in "LIGHTNING GUNS" Plus TWO CARTOONS

Sunday Only "HARRIET CRAIG" Joan Crawford, Wendell Corey One of 5 Best Pictures of the Year

Monday & Tuesday "LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE" Ruth Roman, Richard Todd Also Sports Short & Cartoon

Wednesday Only "INSIDE STRAIGHT" David Brian, Arlene Dahl

Coastal Bermuda is adapted to all seasons of the state, but the majority of plantings have been in the Coastal Plains area.

Subscribe to THE BULLOCH HERALD

ANNOUNCEMENT
Dr. John D. Deal announces the opening of his office for the practice of medicine in Port, Georgia, July 1, 1951.

Cinderella Frocks for big and little sisters

Sun-Sets with dresses that take a tan!

Off-in-honor colors change these frocks from Sunday heat to sunshine frolics! Starchy-crisp pique—with charming young flyaway skirts in a great, wide, wonderful whirl of stripes!

Sizes 3 to 6½, Sizes 7 to 12, 3.98 3.98

Minkovitz

AIR-CONDITIONED FOR YOUR SHOPPING COMFORT

No news is (but definitely) NOT good news!

Suppose your didn't have a newspaper...

Suppose you had to depend on word of mouth or even the telephone!

It's the newspaper that makes the town. It's news that makes a newspaper!

The more news—the better! For local News...

READ YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER!

THE BULLOCH HERALD

Read The Herald's Ads

VOLUME XI

Georgia Power Company's Better Hometown Contest Lands Statesboro In June Issue Of Ladies' Home Journal

EDITOR'S NOTE: Statesboro was the subject of a feature story in the June issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

Miss Jan Weyl, an associate editor of the magazine, came to Statesboro and spent several days gathering the material for the story. Statesboro was selected from several communities which were considered for the feature. It came to the attention of Margaret Hickey, editor of the public affairs department of the magazine through, through the Georgia Power Company's "Champion Home Town" contest in which Statesboro won third place last year. We reprint the entire story here by special permission.

"Things have been happening so fast around this town for the past five years that it's hard to keep up," the man said. "Everywhere you look there's a new improvement. Just take the recreation program. We've got a swimming pool, sports for everyone eight to eighty, and the best recreation director in the state—and the people of the community did it themselves with practically no money."

"What I like," another man said, "is that if you show the most beautiful you have, they'll help you. It took me only ten days to get a loan from the bank to build my house and as soon as we moved in, a neighbor offered my wife some azalea bushes to make the lawn nicer. This town is progressive—and it's friendly."

The Statesboro, Georgia, story begins in 1946 when Statesboro's young men began coming home from the war with a new conception of what a community should be like: alive, alert, meeting—and anticipating—its needs. Statesboro, already a market center for livestock, cotton and tobacco, had changed from a crossroads community into a small city with growing pains. Two new highways crossed the city limits. More than 100,000 tourists passed through the town every year, and the population had jumped from 5000 to 15,000.

Statesboro was taking advantage of its opportunities. These men agreed that it was not. Most of its roads were unpaved, and its public facilities were inadequate; a small rash of juvenile delinquency had started great talking about the very great need for a recreation program. "Everywhere we looked we could see problems that needed doing," one man said. "And what's more, we decided to do something about it."

Statesboro today is a changed town—a tribute to the men and women of the community who volunteered their time, thought and money to make it such a fine place to live that in 1950 Statesboro was awarded third prize in the Georgia Power Company's "Champion Home Town" contest. Take the downtown section. Store fronts have been remodeled. Ten new, modern motels and tourist homes have been built—and the town now boasts at least four new, attractive restaurants. In the Georgia Power Company's "Champion Home Town" contest, Statesboro was awarded third prize in the Georgia Power Company's "Champion Home Town" contest.

But the biggest project—and the one Statesboro citizens are most proud of—is their recreation program. And to this program nearly every citizen in town has been able to make a contribution of some sort. "When you think of recreation, you think of Honey Brown first," one man said. "For years Mrs. Bowen, who had done recreation work here for many years, had a special project of her own which now was reaping the rewards of twelve years of continual plugging and begging for money."

"I missed a library so much when I moved here thirty years ago that I finally decided to do something about it myself," Mrs. Dorman said. "Miss Lester, Mrs. Hodges and I tramped the streets asking for contributions for twelve years—not continually, of course, but every time we thought people had any extra money we got out and asked."

They made $3000 selling chances on an automobile, added $1500 by treating library memberships for the future library at $15 apiece, and collected enough books to open a makeshift library in a room donated rent-free by one of the local banks. The women removed the rubbish, painted the walls and built bookshelves themselves—and after a year cancelled all memberships so that it could be in truth a public library.

The drive for a real library building continued. More money came in through donations of War Bonds, there were a few large contributions of as much as $2000 apiece—and at the end of twelve years, the women's work was complete. A $30,000 endowment to build a brick public library which today holds 21,000 books.

Then Mrs. Dorman's daughter, Mrs. Sauer, had another idea—why couldn't the Junior Woman's Club form a theater group and give plays for the benefit of the town? There never had been anything of the sort in Statesboro, and the idea met with immediate enthusiasm. Freddie Cernant, local instructor, offered to draw sketches of how the sets and costumes should look, and for the first production of year, the Junior Woman's Club women worked every afternoon scaling Miss Gernant's sketches to give flats for the scenery. Twelve other women put in just as much time buying material and sewing costumes—and the entire production, with every member of the Junior Woman's Club working, took two months. They even had a beautiful growing on the stage.

The Children's Theater, which so far has given three plays, has been a huge success, and the audience has been filled for each performance with up to 300 children. So far only adults have been members of the cast—"Most of these children had never seen a play before, and we had to show them the ropes," Mrs. Sauer said. "We could put them into one," said one woman, "but next year in Hansel and Gretel we hope to use children for the principal parts. We will be able to give the children speaking parts." What the club hopes to do eventually is form a real Little Theater group which will give one adult production and one children's production a year—hold an annual town cleanup day, have its own amateur dramatic group.

But the biggest project—and the one Statesboro citizens are most proud of—is their recreation program. And to this program nearly every citizen in town has been able to make a contribution of some sort. "When you think of recreation, you think of Honey Brown first," one man said. "For years Mrs. Bowen, who had done recreation work here for many years, had a special project of her own which now was reaping the rewards of twelve years of continual plugging and begging for money."

"I missed a library so much when I moved here thirty years ago that I finally decided to do something about it myself," Mrs. Dorman said. "Miss Lester, Mrs. Hodges and I tramped the streets asking for contributions for twelve years—not continually, of course, but every time we thought people had any extra money we got out and asked."

They made $3000 selling chances on an automobile, added $1500 by treating library memberships for the future library at $15 apiece, and collected enough books to open a makeshift library in a room donated rent-free by one of the local banks. The women removed the rubbish, painted the walls and built bookshelves themselves—and after a year cancelled all memberships so that it could be in truth a public library.

The drive for a real library building continued. More money came in through donations of War Bonds, there were a few large contributions of as much as $2000 apiece—and at the end of twelve years, the women's work was complete. A $30,000 endowment to build a brick public library which today holds 21,000 books.

room donated rent-free by one of the local banks. The women removed the rubbish, painted the walls and built bookshelves themselves—and after a year cancelled all memberships so that it could be in truth a public library.

The drive for a real library building continued. More money came in through donations of War Bonds, there were a few large contributions of as much as $2000 apiece—and at the end of twelve years, the women's work was complete. A $30,000 endowment to build a brick public library which today holds 21,000 books.

Then Mrs. Dorman's daughter, Mrs. Sauer, had another idea—why couldn't the Junior Woman's Club form a theater group and give plays for the benefit of the town? There never had been anything of the sort in Statesboro, and the idea met with immediate enthusiasm. Freddie Cernant, local instructor, offered to draw sketches of how the sets and costumes should look, and for the first production of year, the Junior Woman's Club women worked every afternoon scaling Miss Gernant's sketches to give flats for the scenery. Twelve other women put in just as much time buying material and sewing costumes—and the entire production, with every member of the Junior Woman's Club working, took two months. They even had a beautiful growing on the stage.

The Children's Theater, which so far has given three plays, has been a huge success, and the audience has been filled for each performance with up to 300 children. So far only adults have been members of the cast—"Most of these children had never seen a play before, and we had to show them the ropes," Mrs. Sauer said. "We could put them into one," said one woman, "but next year in Hansel and Gretel we hope to use children for the principal parts. We will be able to give the children speaking parts." What the club hopes to do eventually is form a real Little Theater group which will give one adult production and one children's production a year—hold an annual town cleanup day, have its own amateur dramatic group.

But the biggest project—and the one Statesboro citizens are most proud of—is their recreation program. And to this program nearly every citizen in town has been able to make a contribution of some sort. "When you think of recreation, you think of Honey Brown first," one man said. "For years Mrs. Bowen, who had done recreation work here for many years, had a special project of her own which now was reaping the rewards of twelve years of continual plugging and begging for money."

"I missed a library so much when I moved here thirty years ago that I finally decided to do something about it myself," Mrs. Dorman said. "Miss Lester, Mrs. Hodges and I tramped the streets asking for contributions for twelve years—not continually, of course, but every time we thought people had any extra money we got out and asked."

They made $3000 selling chances on an automobile, added $1500 by treating library memberships for the future library at $15 apiece, and collected enough books to open a makeshift library in a room donated rent-free by one of the local banks. The women removed the rubbish, painted the walls and built bookshelves themselves—and after a year cancelled all memberships so that it could be in truth a public library.

The drive for a real library building continued. More money came in through donations of War Bonds, there were a few large contributions of as much as $2000 apiece—and at the end of twelve years, the women's work was complete. A $30,000 endowment to build a brick public library which today holds 21,000 books.

Then Mrs. Dorman's daughter, Mrs. Sauer, had another idea—why couldn't the Junior Woman's Club form a theater group and give plays for the benefit of the town? There never had been anything of the sort in Statesboro, and the idea met with immediate enthusiasm. Freddie Cernant, local instructor, offered to draw sketches of how the sets and costumes should look, and for the first production of year, the Junior Woman's Club women worked every afternoon scaling Miss Gernant's sketches to give flats for the scenery. Twelve other women put in just as much time buying material and sewing costumes—and the entire production, with every member of the Junior Woman's Club working, took two months. They even had a beautiful growing on the stage.

The Children's Theater, which so far has given three plays, has been a huge success, and the audience has been filled for each performance with up to 300 children. So far only adults have been members of the cast—"Most of these children had never seen a play before, and we had to show them the ropes," Mrs. Sauer said. "We could put them into one," said one woman, "but next year in Hansel and Gretel we hope to use children for the principal parts. We will be able to give the children speaking parts." What the club hopes to do eventually is form a real Little Theater group which will give one adult production and one children's production a year—hold an annual town cleanup day, have its own amateur dramatic group.

But the biggest project—and the one Statesboro citizens are most proud of—is their recreation program. And to this program nearly every citizen in town has been able to make a contribution of some sort. "When you think of recreation, you think of Honey Brown first," one man said. "For years Mrs. Bowen, who had done recreation work here for many years, had a special project of her own which now was reaping the rewards of twelve years of continual plugging and begging for money."

"I missed a library so much when I moved here thirty years ago that I finally decided to do something about it myself," Mrs. Dorman said. "Miss Lester, Mrs. Hodges and I tramped the streets asking for contributions for twelve years—not continually, of course, but every time we thought people had any extra money we got out and asked."

They made $3000 selling chances on an automobile, added $1500 by treating library memberships for the future library at $15 apiece, and collected enough books to open a makeshift library in a room donated rent-free by one of the local banks. The women removed the rubbish, painted the walls and built bookshelves themselves—and after a year cancelled all memberships so that it could be in truth a public library.

The drive for a real library building continued. More money came in through donations of War Bonds, there were a few large contributions of as much as $2000 apiece—and at the end of twelve years, the women's work was complete. A $30,000 endowment to build a brick public library which today holds 21,000 books.

Then Mrs. Dorman's daughter, Mrs. Sauer, had another idea—why couldn't the Junior Woman's Club form a theater group and give plays for the benefit of the town? There never had been anything of the sort in Statesboro, and the idea met with immediate enthusiasm. Freddie Cernant, local instructor, offered to draw sketches of how the sets and costumes should look, and for the first production of year, the Junior Woman's Club women worked every afternoon scaling Miss Gernant's sketches to give flats for the scenery. Twelve other women put in just as much time buying material and sewing costumes—and the entire production, with every member of the Junior Woman's Club working, took two months. They even had a beautiful growing on the stage.

The Children's Theater, which so far has given three plays, has been a huge success, and the audience has been filled for each performance with up to 300 children. So far only adults have been members of the cast—"Most of these children had never seen a play before, and we had to show them the ropes," Mrs. Sauer said. "We could put them into one," said one woman, "but next year in Hansel and Gretel we hope to use children for the principal parts. We will be able to give the children speaking parts." What the club hopes to do eventually is form a real Little Theater group which will give one adult production and one children's production a year—hold an annual town cleanup day, have its own amateur dramatic group.

But the biggest project—and the one Statesboro citizens are most proud of—is their recreation program. And to this program nearly every citizen in town has been able to make a contribution of some sort. "When you think of recreation, you think of Honey Brown first," one man said. "For years Mrs. Bowen, who had done recreation work here for many years, had a special project of her own which now was reaping the rewards of twelve years of continual plugging and begging for money."

Get That Bum Outa Here!

STATESBORO's auto drivers continue to confuse the traffic situation here by making right turns on red lights at traffic control lights.

Pedestrians depending upon the "no-right-turn-on-red-light" find themselves out on a limb when they cross with the green light only to find a car driver endangering their lives by making a right turn against them.

Remember—no right turns on a red light.

STATESBORO'S 6000 citizens over a period of ten years. In 1949, when the Junior Chamber of Commerce took over the leadership of the drive by giving bridge parties, home-talent shows, car rallies and fashion shows, the fund rose to $50,000, and the city added a $17,000 modern filter system.

And the swimming pool and recreation center are run largely by the continued support and contributions of people in Statesboro. Twelve students from the local Georgia State Teachers College work four hours apiece at the center, supervising sports and working with clubs. Five Red Cross trained instructors take care of the time at the pool during the summer, and Girl Scouts and teen-aged girls supervise the small wading pool where children eight years and under may swim. When the USO closed down its operations in Statesboro after the war, the remaining $700 in its treasury went for play equipment for the recreation center, and individual clubs sponsor special activities.

Because there is no provision for the recreation center in the city's annual budget (a project which Mr. Lockwood hopes to achieve this year), an annual drive is still necessary to provide running funds.

Ask Statesboro citizens what they are most proud of in the recreation program, and they all say unhesitatingly: the swimming pool. It is one of the most modern in the state, and the water is reputedly clearer than the drinking water. For four months last summer 350 children and 100 adult women took free swimming lessons every morning, and in the afternoon the pool was filled with as many as 300 children at the same time. Children come from all over the county, as far as twenty miles away, and those who can't afford the $6 membership for afternoon swimming (15 cents a day) may earn their season ticket by helping to take care of the small zoo, running to the store on errands, or raking leaves for 50 cents an hour. Thirty-five boys and girls earned their membership last year.

The recreation center, open nine hours a day six days a week, is a busy place. Boys of all ages play basketball, football, baseball, volleyball and other sports in season. Girls have special softball teams, and 100 girls come once a week for Girl Scout meetings. Inside the center are a snack bar, free juke box, tennis tables, piano and a lending library. And it is here that clubs like the teen-agers Drag-On Club hold their meetings. Max Lockwood says emphatically, "No one is born knowing how to do anything. You have to learn. We're not interested in developing a great talent, but we are interested in giving each child a chance to participate in his capacity. Therefore, we divide teams into as even groups as possible, and we haven't had a single member of the team in the baseball season, seventeen boys' teams play an average of ten games each week, and the girls' softball league, for girls from eleven to sixteen, play two games a week. For big-all-star games with other towns at the end of the season, members of the team are selected on the basis of sportsmanship and performance—and the starting line-up is changed every time so that all the boys get a chance to play. Saturday morning county women can leave children under six at the recreation center for three hours in a special nursery school, where the children draw, paint and work at several crafts.

As positive proof that the Recreation Department has done its job, citizens point to their juvenile-delinquency record—only three teen-age boys arrested within the past two years. One of these boys was apprehended for taking $200 from swimming—pool funds, but the matter was handled quietly and most of the people in Statesboro never heard about it at all. He continued to work for the pool, repaying the theft from his earnings. "There is no such thing as a problem child," Max Lockwood says. "There are, however, many children with problems who have had little or no help and have been unable to find the solution for themselves. With a little help at the right time, these youths can become outstanding individuals."

Max Lockwood looks at the Statesboro recreation

Georgia Power Co. Asks For New Rate Schedules

The Georgia Power Company has applied to the Georgia Public Service Commission for electric rate revisions estimated to increase the company's revenues by $4,375,000 a year. According to Harlee Branch, Jr., president, new rate schedules are proposed in the residential, commercial and industrial classifications. The overall increases to residential and industrial groups will total approximately 8.5 per cent. Those to commercial customers will total about 2 per cent.

In the proposed rate schedules, Mr. Branch said, all bills will be on a net basis and the penalty for failure to pay within a 10 day period will be eliminated. This provision will also apply to other rate schedules which the power company does not propose to change, including rates for municipal water pumping and street lighting, and service to municipalities and REA cooperatives for resale.

Rates applicable to commercial and industrial customers have been redesigned for greater simplicity, and several schedules have been eliminated.

Mr. Branch said there is no difference in the rates for minimum bill customers using 20 kilowatt hours or less per month. For small residential customers using 40 kilowatt hours a month, the bill under the new rate would be $1.80, 5 cents more than the cost under the present rate. For 100 kilowatt hours the cost under the proposed rate would be $3.70 against $3.35 at present. For 250 kilowatt hours the cost would be $6.45 against $5.85. Large residential customers using 500 kilowatt hours a month, including 250 kilowatt hours for water heating, would pay $9.25 instead of the present $8.35.

In the proposed residential rates an extra energy charge is provided in the case of a few large customers who use electricity for house heating, air conditioning, or other purposes. A flat 30-cent per month increase in water heating rates for all except minimum use customers is provided.

In the case of most commercial customers, changes in their individual bills would be too small to be significant. The average industrial customer of the company will receive an increase in rates of slightly less than ten per cent. The present 23 rate schedules will be reduced to 18 and the demand and energy charges will be revised in the interest of fairness to all classes of users. The average price per kilowatt hour paid by all industrial customers will be increased from 9.2 to 10 mills.

"Our average residential rate per kilowatt hour," Mr. Branch said, "is 27 per cent below the national average. The company was granted a small increase at the end of 1948, amounting to a flat 25 cents per customer per month. This is the only rate increase we have had since uniform state-wide rate structures were established more than 20 years ago. Against this single rate increase, we have had five major reductions in our residential rates, saving our customers millions of dollars annually as a result of a continuously decreasing average cost per kilowatt hour. A typical customer using 100 kilowatt hours per month pays $3.35 not under our present rate and we are asking an increase to $3.70 a month. This is less than he would have paid in 1939. Under the rate which was in effect from 1929 to April, 1933, which included the lowest point of the depression, this customer would have paid five dollars for the same amount of service, or 35 per cent more than we are now requesting in our rates of residential price levels.

"Electric rates did not follow the general trend of the cost of living but decreased steadily up to 1948 when other costs were increasing. The small rate increase of 25 cents per month which the commission allowed us in 1948 and the small increase now proposed are only a small fraction of the decreases over the last two decades.

"The company is asking for the new rate schedules because our earnings are declining as a result of higher wage costs, fuel costs, materials and supplies, taxes and other expenses. Since the beginning of 1948 the company's annual payroll has increased $3,500,000 or 46 per cent; cost of fuel used has increased more than $6,000,000 a year, or 103 per cent, and annual taxes have increased more than $5,500,000, or 71 per cent. What we are requesting in these new rates is a rate or return of sufficient size to attract new capital to provide for Georgia's future growth.

"Our ability to attract new capital is of the highest importance, not only to this company but to the people of the state. We are now engaged in a tremendous expansion program which has been underway since the end of World War II and which will continue for several years to come. In five years, 1946-50, the company invested $114,000,000 in new electric facilities and during the three years, 1951-53, we expect to invest an additional $99,220,000. The new facilities are urgently needed to provide for the growth of Georgia's national defense and peace-time industry and to serve the homes and business establishments of its citizens. The money must be obtained from investors who naturally will not put their money in our business without expectation of an adequate reward. "In addition to our primary duty of providing adequate and dependable electric service, we want to continue to work for the advancement of Georgia's communities and earn enough to carry on this work."

Sellers Urge No Slowdown In Immunization
Go ahead with immunization of your child against diphtheria and whooping cough—it will not make him any more susceptible to polio, Dr. T. F. Sellers, director of the Georgia Department of Public Health, made this statement. He said it was to clarify a confusion in the minds of some persons, caused by recent news articles relating the course of polio to immunization.

"During an epidemic of polio, there is some evidence to indicate that immunization may, in some instances, influence the development of paralysis in the injected arm. Immunization does not predispose the child to polio. "Moreover, it can only influence the development of local paralysis if the child is infected with the polio virus at the time of injection. During an epidemic of polio, when the virus is widespread among the population, it may be advisable to postpone immunization for a while. Except under these circumstances, however, there need be no reluctance to have children immunized. "Protection of children against diphtheria and whooping cough is so important that it should not be de-

County Asked To Cooperate In Scrap Drive

Farmers, industrial leaders and owners of automobile "graveyards" of Bulloch County were asked by the Federal Government this week to cooperate in relieving the present nationwide shortage of scrap supplies at steel mills so that the national program of rearmament could be carried out.

A concerted effort in ferreting out scrap steel and iron from plants, warehouses and other industrial centers, from farms and from automobile "graveyards" and getting it moved into market channels to save the nation from a grave shortage at this time was requested in an appeal received here from Merrill C. Loftin, southeastern regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

County Asked To Cooperate In Scrap Drive

Farmers, industrial leaders and owners of automobile "graveyards" of Bulloch County were asked by the Federal Government this week to cooperate in relieving the present nationwide shortage of scrap supplies at steel mills so that the national program of rearmament could be carried out.

A concerted effort in ferreting out scrap steel and iron from plants, warehouses and other industrial centers, from farms and from automobile "graveyards" and getting it moved into market channels to save the nation from a grave shortage at this time was requested in an appeal received here from Merrill C. Loftin, southeastern regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

County Asked To Cooperate In Scrap Drive

Farmers, industrial leaders and owners of automobile "graveyards" of Bulloch County were asked by the Federal Government this week to cooperate in relieving the present nationwide shortage of scrap supplies at steel mills so that the national program of rearmament could be carried out.

A concerted effort in ferreting out scrap steel and iron from plants, warehouses and other industrial centers, from farms and from automobile "graveyards" and getting it moved into market channels to save the nation from a grave shortage at this time was requested in an appeal received here from Merrill C. Loftin, southeastern regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

Dr. Sellers said there is no polio epidemic in Georgia at this time. If such a threat of polio should arise in Georgia or nearby states, then the health department may advise immunization postponement. Until then, "Go ahead and have your child immunized," he said.

LEGAL NEWS

SUIT FOR DIVORCE
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
Paul E. Martin vs. Louise Martin.
Suit for Divorce, Bulloch Superior Court, July Term, 1951.
To Louise Martin, defendant in said case.
You are hereby commanded to appear at the next term of the Superior Court of Bulloch County, Georgia, to be heard in and for said county on the fourth Monday in July, 1951, to answer the complaint of the plaintiff mentioned in the caption of his suit against you for divorce.

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of J. E. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of J. E. Brannen to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent administration should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on J. E. Brannen's estate.

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian C. Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent letters of administration de bonis should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on Mrs. Ida R. Brannen's estate.

APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO SELL
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
This is to notify all persons concerned that Lester Mae Channel, administratrix of the estate of J. H. German, deceased, has filed with me an application for leave to sell certain lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of payment of debts and distribution, and

LOANS
F. H. A. LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 25 years to repay. Can secure commitment before you build. Can make F. H. A. loan on existing construction.
FARM LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 20 years to repay. Terms to suit you. Can close loan in 14 days.

CONVENTIONAL LOAN—On business and residential property. 5½% interest. 15 years to repay. THE LOAN IS 1% CHEAPER ON INTEREST THAN ANY CONVENTIONAL LOAN AVAILABLE HERE. WILL, in addition, save you $42.63 per $1,000. Example: On $5,000 will save 1% interest plus $213.35. Can secure loan approval 7 days.

SEE ME BEFORE PAYING MORE—A. S. DODD JR.
Upstairs Over Bargain Corner On North Main Street

TO GET GREATEST CONTROL OF BOLL WEEVIL at lowest cost per acre

YOU MUST USE aldrin

Here's exactly why:
Greatest coverage... just one pound of aldrin—as a dust or spray—controls the pests on 4 acres of maturing cotton. That's power!

Lowest cost... compare aldrin costs per acre of control with any other insecticide and you'll find that aldrin-izing is real economy.
Lessons risk from rain... aldrin gets in its lethal punch so quickly that most of its kill is completed within a few hours. Even if it rains the day after aldrin-izing, you don't have to re-do your work.

Three-way kill... no matter how aldrin gets to the weevil—contact, eating, fumigant action—it dies. That goes for thrips, tarnished plant bugs, rapid plant bugs, cotton fleahoppers and grasshoppers, too.

ASK FOR OFFICIAL EXPERIMENTAL PROOF
aldrin
SHELL CHEMICAL CORPORATION

LEGAL NEWS

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of J. E. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of J. E. Brannen to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent administration should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on J. E. Brannen's estate.

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian C. Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent letters of administration de bonis should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on Mrs. Ida R. Brannen's estate.

APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO SELL
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
This is to notify all persons concerned that Lester Mae Channel, administratrix of the estate of J. H. German, deceased, has filed with me an application for leave to sell certain lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of payment of debts and distribution, and

LOANS
F. H. A. LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 25 years to repay. Can secure commitment before you build. Can make F. H. A. loan on existing construction.
FARM LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 20 years to repay. Terms to suit you. Can close loan in 14 days.

CONVENTIONAL LOAN—On business and residential property. 5½% interest. 15 years to repay. THE LOAN IS 1% CHEAPER ON INTEREST THAN ANY CONVENTIONAL LOAN AVAILABLE HERE. WILL, in addition, save you $42.63 per $1,000. Example: On $5,000 will save 1% interest plus $213.35. Can secure loan approval 7 days.

SEE ME BEFORE PAYING MORE—A. S. DODD JR.
Upstairs Over Bargain Corner On North Main Street

TO GET GREATEST CONTROL OF BOLL WEEVIL at lowest cost per acre

YOU MUST USE aldrin

Here's exactly why:
Greatest coverage... just one pound of aldrin—as a dust or spray—controls the pests on 4 acres of maturing cotton. That's power!

Lowest cost... compare aldrin costs per acre of control with any other insecticide and you'll find that aldrin-izing is real economy.
Lessons risk from rain... aldrin gets in its lethal punch so quickly that most of its kill is completed within a few hours. Even if it rains the day after aldrin-izing, you don't have to re-do your work.

Three-way kill... no matter how aldrin gets to the weevil—contact, eating, fumigant action—it dies. That goes for thrips, tarnished plant bugs, rapid plant bugs, cotton fleahoppers and grasshoppers, too.

ASK FOR OFFICIAL EXPERIMENTAL PROOF
aldrin
SHELL CHEMICAL CORPORATION

LEGAL NEWS

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of J. E. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of J. E. Brannen to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent administration should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on J. E. Brannen's estate.

PETITION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
To All Whom It May Concern: Julian C. Groover, having in proper form applied to me for permanent letters of administration on the estate of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, late of said county, this is to cite all and singular the creditors and next of kin of Mrs. Ida R. Brannen, to be and appear at my office within the time allowed by law, and show cause, if any they can, why permanent letters of administration de bonis should not be granted to Julian C. Groover on Mrs. Ida R. Brannen's estate.

APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO SELL
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
This is to notify all persons concerned that Lester Mae Channel, administratrix of the estate of J. H. German, deceased, has filed with me an application for leave to sell certain lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of payment of debts and distribution, and

LOANS
F. H. A. LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 25 years to repay. Can secure commitment before you build. Can make F. H. A. loan on existing construction.
FARM LOANS—4½% interest. Up to 20 years to repay. Terms to suit you. Can close loan in 14 days.

CONVENTIONAL LOAN—On business and residential property. 5½% interest.

READ AND USE CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR SALE (Misc.)
ANTIQUES arriving daily. Many fine pieces from the recent Vanderbilt estate sale. Always you will find the best in fine china, silver, furniture and prints, and at prices you can afford to pay. If you have old glassware, china, furniture, iron, brass or copper, particularly marble-topped tables or picture frames, call or write and we will send a buyer to your home. Buying or selling, it is smart to see YE OLDE WAGON WHEEL-ANTIQUES, So. Main Extension, Statesboro, Ga.

FOR SALE—Used tractors for sale at bargain prices—Statesboro Machine Co. North Walnut St. Phone 309. (1p)

RANGES & REFRIGERATORS— We are now getting in some ranges and refrigerators that have been used by the home economics departments in the county schools. They are in excellent condition. We are selling them at a bargain. Call the AKINS APPLIANCE CO. and place your order now! They won't last long. Phone 446. (1p)

FOR RENT
FOR RENT: 5-room brick house on Savannah Avenue. Attic fan. Available now. Phone 466. (1p)

FOR RENT—Unfurnished apartment, 4 rooms and bath. Hot water, gas heat, garage free. 231 South Main Street. Phone 42-J. 1p

SERVICES
HOUSE NEED PAINTING? Let me give you an estimate on painting your home, inside and out. Prices are reasonable. C. R. RANNEY, 24 South Zetterwater Avenue. (6-21-40)

MONEY TO LEND—Several thousand dollars available for loans. First Mortgage Loans on improved city or farm property. Bring deed and plat, if you have one. Hinton Booth, Statesboro. (1p)

DO YOUR LAUNDRY THE EASY WAY. Bring them to RUTH'S AUTOMATIC WASHER, 25 Zetterwater Ave. Prompt service. Curb Service. (1p)

CITY PROPERTY LOANS
F. H. A. LOANS
—Quick Service—
CURRY INSURANCE AGENCY
11 Courtland St.—Phone 219-R

— FARM LOANS —
4 1/2% Interest
Terms to suit the borrower. See LINTON G. LANIER, 6 S. Main St., 1st Floor Sea Island Bank Building.

ANY JUNK batteries, old radiators, tin, iron, or old cars? Get cash for them. We will pay $2.25 each for junk batteries, $3.50 each for radiators, 50c per hundred lbs. for tin, $1 per hundred for steel, $1.25 per hundred for cast. We also buy burned and used cars. Highest prices paid. We have wrecker equipped to move anything, anywhere. STRICK'S WRECKING YARD, 1 mile north of Statesboro on U. S. 80. Phone 97-J. (1p)

Legal Ad
PETITION FOR DISMISSION
GEORGIA, Bulloch County.
Whereas, Geo. M. Johnston, administrator of the estate of Riley M. Johnston, deceased, represents to the court in his petition, duly filed and entered on record, that he has fully administered said estate, this is to cite all persons concerned, kindred and creditors, to show cause, if any they can, why said administrator should not be discharged from his administration, and receive letters of dismission, on the first Monday in August, 1961.
F. I. WILLIAMS, Ordinary.
(7-26-40-112)

NOTICE TO DEBTORS AND CREDITORS
To the Creditors and Debtors of Mrs. B. E. Newmans Sr., deceased:
All parties having any claims against said estate and all parties owing said estate are hereby requested to settle with the undersigned at once. This July 3rd, 1961.
B. E. NEWMANS,
Administrator of Estate of Mrs. B. E. Newmans, deceased. (Pembroke, Ga.)
(8-2-40-113)

ANNOUNCEMENT
Dr. John D. Deal announces the opening of his office for the practice of medicine in Portals, Georgia, July 1, 1961.

MONEY WHILE YOU WAIT AUTO LOANS
ANY YEAR, MAKE, OR MODEL
The fastest and easiest way to get a loan is to borrow the money on your car. There is only one thing to do—park your car in our big garage in rear of our office, come in and show us proof of ownership. The entire transaction takes only a few minutes and you can drive away with the cash in your pocket. There is absolutely nothing else to it.

2ND MORTGAGE LOANS
Even though you now owe on your car, you can get additional cash. It's not necessary to pay off your present loan.

PAYMENTS TOO HIGH?
Let us consolidate your debts and reduce your payments.

TIME AUTO FINANCE CO.
212 MONTGOMERY ST., Savannah, Ga.
Drive-In Parking Rear Our Office Phone 2-3136

HAVE A GOOD TIME BUT REMEMBER—
DANGER TAKES NO VACATION!!

APTS. WANTED
APARTMENT WANTED. Furnished bedroom and kitchenette, with or without private bath. Have one child. Call THE BULLOCH HERALD if you have one available.

ANY JUNK batteries, old radiators, tin, iron, or old cars? Get cash for them. We will pay $2.25 each for junk batteries, $3.50 each for radiators, 50c per hundred lbs. for tin, $1 per hundred for steel, $1.25 per hundred for cast. We also buy burned and used cars. Highest prices paid. We have wrecker equipped to move anything, anywhere. STRICK'S WRECKING YARD, 1 mile north of Statesboro on U. S. 80. Phone 97-J. (1p)

Don't miss it!
Come take a "Discovery Drive" in a POWERGLIDE
Discover for yourself why Powerglide automatic transmission gives smoothest, easiest driving in the low-price field... owner-proved over a billion miles.

CHEVROLET

FRANKLIN CHEVROLET CO., INC.
60 East Main St. Phone 101

Flo-Breeze Awnings
All-Weather Aluminum
Keep out heat and rain
Lowest Prices • FHA Terms
Home Comfort, Inc.
Your Certified Home Improvement
ALUMINUM SCREENS
WEATHERSTRIPPING
REINSULATION
INSULATION
East Main St. Phone 646

LITTLE PILES OF SAWDUST IN YOUR HOME MAY MEAN
POWDER POST BEETLES
Safety-Bonded
Guarantee
Free Inspection
ORKIN
CALL LONG DISTANCE, 6444,
14 West Bryan St., Savannah, Ga.

THE BULLOCH HERALD
27 West Main Street
Statesboro, Ga.
THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1961

A weekly newspaper dedicated to the progress of Statesboro and Bulloch County.
Published every Thursday in Statesboro, Bulloch County, Georgia.
LEONARD COLEMAN, Editor
JIM COLEMAN, Adv. Director
G. C. COLEMAN, Asso. Editor
Entered as second-class matter January 31, 1946, at the post office at Statesboro, Ga., under Act of March 3, 1879.

Space Travel Expert Maps Two-Way Trip To Moon by Rockets
POINT HUGO, Cal.—Arthur W. St. Germain, an authority on rockets, missiles and jet engines, and senior test engineer for the Fairchild guided missiles division at the navy's secret missile test center, says space travel is much closer than most people realize.
As proof of his statement, St. Germain offered detailed plans for a five stage rocket which he said could carry two men to the moon, land there and return. He said that his design, while not in production, was practical with "the application of techniques already at our disposal. This is probably the first time in history that people have known so much about an invention yet to be made."

The space ship would tower 325 feet into the air above the launching site, weigh 300,000 pounds and attain a speed of 23,000 miles an hour. Power would be provided by four rockets, one telescoped inside the other, which would drop off one by one as the ship roared upward through the earth's gravitational sphere.
The fifth rocket, carrying the crew, would coast to the moon once it reached outer space. The return journey would require far less fuel because the moon, being smaller than the earth, has less gravitational pull.
St. Germain said liquid hydrogen and oxygen would be the best fuels pending development of an atomic engine. He added that the landing on the moon would be made tail first, with jets and rockets acting as brakes.
The engineer's space ship is one of the latest concepts for travel to the moon and back. But the fact that he could talk about it for publication indicates that the craft is not an immediate project.
Point Hugo is the site from which the navy launches top secret weapons which travel hundreds of miles out to sea.

WANTED—
Pine Saw Timber
WRITE US IF INTERESTED IN SELLING
Georgia & Florida Lumber Co.
P. O. Box 1522, Savannah, Ga.

Athletes Foot Germ
Imbeds deeply—toss burn, itch—get fast relief
USE T-4-L BECAUSE—
Made with 90% alcohol, IT PENETRATES the entire area of infection to reach and kill more germs faster, thus bringing quicker relief. Your feet become healthy and hardy again. To keep them that way, apply T-4-L periodically—medical science says athlete's foot can come back.

IN ONE HOUR, IF NOT COMPLETELY pleased, your money back at any drug store. T-4-L is colorless, instant-drying, easy to use at anytime of day. WORTH TRYING. NOW AT FRANKLIN (REXALL) DRUGS.

Home Comfort, Inc.
Your Certified Home Improvement
ALUMINUM SCREENS
WEATHERSTRIPPING
REINSULATION
INSULATION
East Main St. Phone 646

LITTLE PILES OF SAWDUST IN YOUR HOME MAY MEAN
POWDER POST BEETLES
Safety-Bonded
Guarantee
Free Inspection
ORKIN
CALL LONG DISTANCE, 6444,
14 West Bryan St., Savannah, Ga.

THE BULLOCH HERALD, THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1961
Subscribe to THE BULLOCH HERALD

MOST SENSATIONAL BUY IN TOWN
at BULLOCH TRACTOR CO. Now!

THIS ALL-NEW NORGE REFRIGERATOR
ASK ABOUT OUR TERMS

What a buy! It's a genuine Norge... a beautifully styled, full family-sized 8.1 cu. ft. refrigerator with full-width Freezer Chest and large frozen storage capacity. And the Norge name—backed by Borg-Warner—assures you of thrifty, long lasting service. Come see—compare! You'll be dollars and features ahead if you do!

ALL THESE FEATURES—plus many more!
• LARGE FREEZER CHEST... space for 32 lbs. of frozen foods
• CHILL TRAY... for chilling foods quickly
• TALL BOTTLE SHELF... holds a full case of beverages
• BIG MEAT KEEPER... keeps fresh meats safely chilled
• PACKAGE SHELF... handy for butter, cheese, etc.
• VEGETABLE KEEPER... keeps 'em moist and fresh
• POWER KING ROLLATOR COLDMAKER... 5-year Protection Plan

BULLOCH TRACTOR COMPANY
WEST MAIN STREET STATESBORO, GA.

Better buy now!
Bonus Trade Allowance
now on Willys Station Wagons

-and you pay $100 to $400 less
FOR A WILLYS THAN FOR OTHER FULL-SIZE STATION WAGONS
DRIVE YOUR CAR IN TODAY for our liberal appraisal

ALTMAN MOTOR COMPANY
37 N. MAIN St. PHONE 407-R STATESBORO

WELCOME TO STATESBORO!
THE BULLOCH HERALD
DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY
STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1961
VOLUME XI
NUMBER 36

Price Of Tobacco Is High On Opening Day Sale Here

The 1961 tobacco auction season got underway here this morning on Georgia's largest tobacco market with common tobacco selling much higher than last season and with better grades up four to six cents above 1960.

Sales began at the New Statesboro Warehouse and at Sheppard's No. 2 Warehouse at 8:30 with the New Statesboro sale moving to Cobb and Foxhall at 10 o'clock.

The Statesboro market is selling under the Bright Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Association regulations which means that with two sets of buyers for the local market, the sale will run for five hours daily.

Last year the Statesboro market led the state with 12,248,524 pounds and it is the hopes of local tobacco boosters to again be the Number One market in Georgia.

At a meeting of the Statesboro Tobacco Board of Trade held Wednesday, H. P. Foxhall was re-elected president, Fred Cash, vice president, and Robert Donaldson, secretary. The Board of Trade approved marketing regulations as set up by the Bright Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Association.

The first row sold in one warehouse here today averaged 63 cents, with baskets selling from 45 to 66 cents. Farmers seemed well pleased with the opening sales. Much more common tobacco was offered today than the better grades. The Stabilization Corporation was getting only about 8 to 9 percent.

The Thermometer Last Week Said
The high temperature recorded last week was on Saturday, when the thermometer indicated a scorching 102 degrees.
The day-by-day temperature was as follows:
Monday, July 9 92 62
Tuesday, July 10 93 69
Wednesday, July 11 93 64
Thursday, July 12 98 69
Friday, July 13 102 70
Saturday, July 14 103 74
Sunday, July 15 102 72

'51 4-H Club Camp Called Best Ever
The annual 4-H Club camp this summer was the best yet, according to Beverly Brannen, county 4-H Club president. There were 228 clubsters from five counties, 50 of whom were from Bulloch county.

The group arrived at camp in time for a swim on Monday, July 9, followed by a supper and a television program that night and a couple of hours of folk games.

Tuesday found the campers in six groups. Chorus, Burrows, Powders, Smith, Mohawks, and Blackhaws. Jimmy Hodges was named chief of the Mohawks. Rogers Egan and Billy Tyson drew the job of operating the cauldron. The six groups rotated during the week in activities with handicrafts, football, basketball, tractor operation, swimming, rifle shooting, and teenage tennis.

For Wednesday, J. L. Dekle, D. B. Edmonds, W. Rowe, Roy Deal, J. W. Donaldson, Jr., Kermit R. Carr, Rex Miller, O. Carl Franklin, W. H. Burke, Hines H. Smith, S. M. Hendrix, Milton Tankersley, Dean Futch, T. E. Deal, J. L. Durden, Ernest W. Rackley, Z. T. Tyson, D. Homer Simmons, J. L. Cannon, Rex Trappell, Fred Woods, J. I. Wynn, L. A. Watkins, Walton Nesmith, J. H. H. Watkins, C. M. Williams, J. Olliff Everett, J. E. Bowen Jr.

Baseball was the order of the day on Thursday when the group played among themselves all afternoon, following which they went to see Ray Williams, former third baseman for Statesboro, and his Atlanta, plus New Orleans. The Bulloch county group visited the State Capitol and Stone Mountain on Friday.

Mrs. Erickson Is College Club Head
Mrs. John Erickson of Collegeboro was elected president of the Industrial Education Dames Club of the Pennsylvania State College at their first regular weekly meeting for the summer.

The club consists of the wives of men studying industrial education and faculty wives of that division at the college, and has approximately 50 active members. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Marshall Schmitt, Raleigh, N. C.; and Mrs. Andrew Brock, secretary, Rollinsburg, Va.

Mr. Erickson is associate professor of industrial arts at Georgia Teachers College. He and his family are at State College, Pa., this summer where he is doing work toward a doctor's degree.

Edith E. Lord Now Recruit In WAVES
Edith E. Lord, seaman recruit, WAVES, USN, of Route 5, Statesboro, has recently left civilian life for training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

For her, the past few weeks have been filled with drill, learning to identify aircraft and ships, how, when, why, and whom to salute, the background of Naval courtesy, history, organization, and how to live harmoniously and efficiently as a member of a large and complex organization.

Now ready for further assignment, the Wave will be transferred to duty within the shore establishment of the Navy, to one of certain foreign stations, or to a service school for specialized training.

Ten-Cent Investment Pays a Good Dividend
Bulloch county tobacco growers can well afford to invest 10 cents per acre in the Tobacco Associates program, R. P. Mikell, Farm Bureau president, stated at the Warnock and Sinkhole meetings last week.

The Warnock group met Wednesday night and the Sinkhole chapter met Thursday night.

The 10 cents per acre tobacco growers are being requested to ask the warehouseman to deduct from their check this year for Tobacco Associates work goes into an advertising fund, Mr. Mikell pointed out.

Although some 60 percent of the tobacco grown in the United States is consumed here, there is still a 40 percent that needs foreign advertising. Mr. Mikell stated it was estimated that this program had meant $244 per acre to growers in the fire-cured belt.

Mr. Mikell urged every grower in Bulloch county to write a note to their marketing card asking the warehouseman to deduct this 10 cents per acre from the first sale.

Farm Bureau officials believe that unless cotton sells for 60 cents or more per pound this fall that it would be a waste to borrow on cotton and let the CCC market it, as in the past. Mr. Mikell pointed out that the loan rate would be down around 32 cents, but that under existing laws the grower would get the difference between the loan and the selling price. Top Farm Bureau officials believe there is no reason why cotton should not sell for 40 cents or better this year, H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, strongly urged cotton growers to follow this procedure when he was in the county two weeks ago.

Mr. Warnock asked the Sinkhole and Warnock chapters to help get the right story across on price controls. He pointed out that the Farm Bureau believes that production is the thing needed now, and that curbs any kind of would tend to decrease production.

The sentiment expressed is that farmers are not getting rich during the present emergency, as various organizations are attempting to make the general public believe. It is also felt by many that if the price is taken care of, then farmers should also be under control.

Sgt. T. L. Wells In 'Queen's' Infantry
WITH THE 7TH INF. DIV., U. S. ARMY, IN KOREA—Sergeant T. L. Wells has been assigned to the 32nd Infantry, "Queen's" Infantry, Wells' unit blunted the Red attack in their sector, inflicting 4,786 casualties in a seven-day period.

Major General Claude B. Perenbault, division commander, commended the unit for "superior performance of duty, vigorous combat, and steadfastness of mission" and compared it to the "Bulge" and "Battle of the Bulge" of World War II.

Wells is a member of the most traveled division in the Far East. In eight months of action, the Seventh Division has made two amphibious landings, travelled all the way from Pusan to the Manchurian border, and fought on both coasts of the Korean peninsula.

GEORGIA'S LARGEST TOBACCO MARKET!

Superior Court Begins Monday
The July Term of Bulloch Superior Court will convene Monday, July 23, at 10 a. m. The following jurors have been selected to serve at this session:
Grand Jurors
Rufus G. Brannen, S. W. Starling, H. G. Mikell, W. Linton McElven, J. W. Robertson Sr., Clarence M. Graham, Hudson E. Allen, Remer D. Lanier, W. Prather Deal, Otis Holoway, D. P. Averitt, James R. Donaldson, R. L. (Bub) Lanier, Paul Nesmith, Jasper V. Anderson, H. W. Smith, L. G. Banks, J. H. Woodward, W. O. Griner, Bruce R. Atkins, Dorris R. Cason, John H. Brannen, Marlee Parrish, D. F. Driggers, J. O. Alford, Clarence J. Wynn, J. Frank Brown.

Traverse Jurors
W. D. Brannen (1523), J. Math Bowen, Rufus Brannen (46th), J. E. Howard Jr., J. E. Stewart, L. Brown, G. B. Bowen, N. G. Cowart, Bennie E. Deal, Geo. L. Roberts (Rt. 3), Roscoe L. Roberts, Naughton Beasley, Hubert Smith, H. D. Everett, R. L. Cone Jr., Dewey M. Lee, W. A. Hodges Jr., M. C. Cowart Jr., J. E. Stewart, J. W. Hart, Lester Mikell, J. Floyd Nevils, R. D. Bowen, W. Reginald Newsome, Olan E. Nesmith, J. P. A. Deal, J. E. Howard Jr., J. E. Stewart, O. Carl Franklin, W. H. Burke, Hines H. Smith, S. M. Hendrix, Milton Tankersley, Dean Futch, T. E. Deal, J. L. Durden, Ernest W. Rackley, Z. T. Tyson, D. Homer Simmons, J. L. Cannon, Rex Trappell, Fred Woods, J. I. Wynn, L. A. Watkins, Walton Nesmith, J. H. H. Watkins, C. M. Williams, J. Olliff Everett, J. E. Bowen Jr.

Sgt. Frank Watson Given Bronze Star
First Sergeant Frank P. Watson, son of Mrs. K. E. Watson of Rogersville, Tenn., was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with Letter "V" device for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States.

Sergeant's Watson citation reads as follows:
"On April 25, 1951, near Tachon, Korea, Sergeant Watson was working in a forward aid station when word was received that a rifleman in a line company had been wounded. With disregard for his personal safety, and despite the extremely heavy small arms fire crisscrossing the area, Sergeant Watson left his sheltered position and proceeded to the company area which was under attack by the enemy. He was able to check the flow of blood from the wound. He then lifted the man upon his shoulder and carried him over 100 yards of terrain to the battalion aid station. Sergeant's Watson's heroism, and high devotion to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the military service."

Memorial Be Held For Late A. M. Deal
Memorial services for the late Albert M. Deal will be held by the Bulloch County Bar Association in open court in Statesboro at 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, July 23; and family and friends are invited to attend.

Col. Deal died in April of this year at the age of 85, following a lifetime of law practice in Bulloch County. He was prominent in the civic, religious, and political life of this area, and had served in many capacities of leadership in local, state, and national affairs.

Secretary Of The Army Celebrates With 101st AAA Gun Battalion
A former Georgia National Guard unit helped Secretary of Army Frank Pace Jr. celebrate his 59th birthday at Camp McCoy, Wis., on July 5.

Making a whirlwind tour of the camp on his birthday, Secretary Pace also took time to meet with the 101st AAA Gun Battalion, in the Battery C mess hall. Battery C originally came from Swainsboro, and the other batteries are also from Georgia.

Two special birthday cakes were sent to the camp. Secretary Pace said that he was very glad to see that they were well treated but more than well treated. Then, turning serious, he explained that every man in today's Army has a unique opportunity to help keep things that make us proud to be Americans.

"These things won't stay with us just by wishing," he said. "We got to pay to keep them. The Army is there when it comes to taking the rap in the front lines, and I hope to see that they're there when it comes to getting a share of the credit."

Before leaving to continue his tour of the post, Secretary Pace told the mess sergeant, Sgt. Alton Davis, of Swainsboro: "You've got a fine mess here, sergeant, and nobody ever enjoyed eating with you more than I have."

This endorsement of their hospitality, though a cutting cake, was not surprising to Sgt. Davis and WOJG William A. Edfield of Rocky Ford, the mess officer.

Hospitality is an old Southern custom in Battery C—except when they're manning their ack-ack guns.

Richard E. Bird Is Honor Graduate
Richard E. Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy T. Bird of Portals was recently graduated "cum laude" from the University of Georgia, Athens. Mr. Bird graduated at the head of his class in the College of Business Administration. He received the bachelor of business administration degree with a major in accounting.

He was presented the Delta Pi Scholarship Key for the highest average of graduating students in the College of Business Administration and the Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Key which is awarded to the male senior in the College of Business Administration with the highest scholastic average. For the past three years he has been on the dean's list and has stood in the upper five percent of his class.

Mr. Bird was elected to the Phi Kappa Phi and Beta Gamma Sigma honorary scholastic societies. He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity and held the offices of tribune and secretary. In addition, he was a member of Delta Sigma Psi, professional business fraternity; Student Union, Demuthenian Literary Society, and was treasurer of the Y.M.C.A. men's dormitory.

Memorial Be Held For Late A. M. Deal
Memorial services for the late Albert M. Deal will be held by the Bulloch County Bar Association in open court in Statesboro at 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, July 23; and family and friends are invited to attend.

Col. Deal died in April of this year at the age of 85, following a lifetime of law practice in Bulloch County. He was prominent in the civic, religious, and political life of this area, and had served in many capacities of leadership in local, state, and national affairs.