

Bulloch In The Spotlight

BULLOCH COUNTY continues to hold the spotlight on the national scene. In the October issue of the Progressive Farmer, a farm magazine with recognized national circulation, Bulloch county's hog program is featured.

It begins with the statement: "Georgia farmers get around 36 million in cash farm income from about 975,000 hogs in an average year. These are the hogs that are sold from the farm. They don't count the thousands that are slaughtered for home use."

The story tells how Bulloch county sells about 100,000 hogs a year. How our grazing program is complete. How hogs go from peanuts and corn to oats in a normal winter. How Bulloch county farmers put vetch in oats for winter and spring grazing. How they went to common vetch when the price of hairy vetch got too high. How in the spring hogs go from green pastures to mature oats. How they got more pounds of meat per acre off millet than any other crop.

How farmers in this county use large soybeans for summer grazing. How farmers here have done a great job in worming their hogs in the past three years.

The story tells about R. P. (Bob) McKell, and how he keeps his hogs out of mudholes—he has a sanitary water system.

The story of Bulloch county gets around.

And more and more of us come to know that we're living in the finest section in the world.

Will You Lose Your Right To Read The Truth?

WHEN THE Georgia Legislature reconvenes in January, the calendars of both the House of Representatives and the Senate will be jammed with important pieces of legislation, proposed bills that demand thorough study and action by the lawmakers.

Two of the so-called "anti-newspaper" bills remain on the House calendar. They are the "anti-monopoly" bill (S.B. 150) and the libel venue bill (S.B. 149).

Since as presently drawn, this newspaper would NOT be affected by either bill, we feel qualified to comment on both.

As to the anti-monopoly bill, we feel it is a waste of legislators' time, since we are confident the 1945 State Constitution gives the governor full authority to proceed against monopolies, including monopolies in the newspaper business as well as any other business. Passage of this bill would not strengthen the governor's hand if he chose to proceed against a monopoly, since he already has that authority in the Constitution itself.

As for the libel venue bill, we think it deserves a little clarification. The bill provides that newspapers could be sued (for libel or any other cause) in counties other than the county of publication. That is, a newspaper reader could sue in his own county, rather than in the county where the newspaper is printed.

Sounds good on the fact of it, but let's examine it. As drawn, the bill now would apply only in counties where a newspaper has 100 or more subscribers and then only to newspapers circulating (with 100 or more copies) in 10 or more counties. Obviously, it affects only the larger daily newspapers and only their readers in counties where they have 100 or more subscribers.

Sponsors say this bill is designed to protect readers from wanton libel. It looks a little on the punitive side to us.

Suppose, for example, a reader feels he has been libeled by the Atlanta Journal. If the Journal has 101 subscribers in his county, he can sue in his own county. If, however, the Journal has only 99 subscribers in his county, he must go to Fulton county to file his suit. In any event, the alleged libel will have been published 455,000 times. What's the difference? None, we say.

There's an important principle involved, too. That principle is that no government out to "classify" the press. Weekly newspapers found out to their sorrow that when government starts classifying the press, it isn't long until injustices creep in. We'll give you an example. When the rail strike was at its height, the Post Office Department clamped an embargo on certain types of daily mail. DAILY newspapers were exempted from the embargo, and they went right through the mails on time. WEEKLY newspapers were not exempted, and they lay around in some post offices for days. We think you can see why we think "classification" of the press is dangerous—dangerous to the readers, the all-important element in this picture.

We are confident Governor Talmadge will not ask the legislature to waste its important time on these measures. We feel just as the Governor said at the Georgia Press Association convention:

"Let us join hands, the State Government with the Press of Georgia, to work and toil for better things for all our citizens in the future." — The Waynesboro True Citizen.

No Second Place

STATESBORO accepts second place in no field.

Tomorrow night citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county will dress up and go to the college auditorium and hear Conrad Thibault, one of the nation's great baritone singers.

He comes here as one of the attractions offered by the Community Concert Association, which closed its membership drive last Saturday with more than 400 members.

The concerts to be presented by the association are equal to or better than many of the larger centers offer.

We owe this to the enthusiasm and efforts of the group who enrolled in the memberships last week, under the able leadership of Mrs. Sidney Dodd.

It was Mrs. Dodd who sparked the drive. It was she who kept the enthusiasm of the group at high pitch until the last membership had been turned in.

Statesboro is proud of her cultural program which is made possible by this concert group working together with the Georgia Teachers College authorities. It is a good combination.

We Reserve the Right

THERE CAN be no doubt that the best way to prevent abuse of any law, or the mishandling of public funds and property, is by keeping the records open for public inspection, and possible publication.

The truth of this is demonstrated in Georgia with Governor Herman Talmadge's directive in keeping with a new national regulation, opening welfare rolls to public inspection.

Since the directive went into effect many citizens whose names were on the welfare rolls have called the Public Welfare Director to have their names removed.

Citizens of Statesboro have asked us if we intend to publish the list of our county welfare rolls.

Our answer is: "We are not."

We do not wish to, nor do we intend to embarrass or humiliate those justly receiving needed assistance.

But know this: We reserve the right to turn the full light of publicity on the list when we believe that to do so will rid our county of "chislers."

THE BLOODMOBILE will be back in Statesboro on Wednesday of next week.

There is a dire shortage of blood and blood plasma. In fact, there is a critical need for more blood in Korea today, not to mention the fact that the reserve in this country is practically gone.

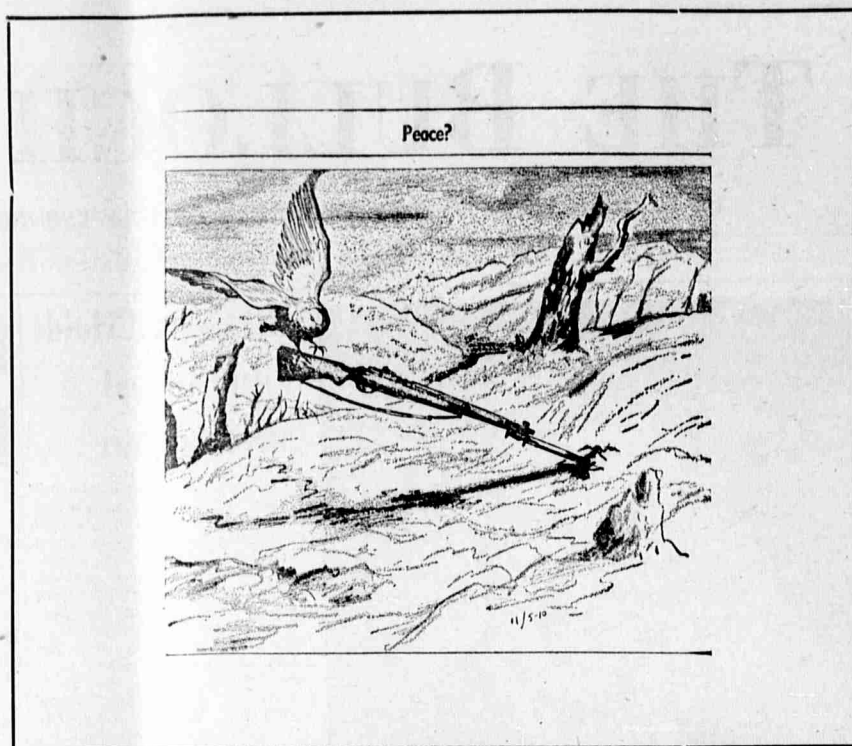

Only by increased contributions on the part of all able-bodied men and women can the present critical situation be relieved.

We must recognize that for men on battlefields there is no substitute for blood—it means life.

Will our conscience allow us to wonder for a moment if our negligence to give blood, which we can spare, might mean the death of the son of some mother?

Statistics show that the mortality rate in Korea is only 2.6 percent as compared with 4.5 in World War II. Much of this is due to the availability of Red Cross blood, made possible by the donations of people on Red Cross Bloodmobile visits.

Make your donation next Wednesday.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

NOW COMES the first request for that "Catfish Muldown" which the late P. H. Preston Sr. made so famous in the great "Muldown Battle" on the banks of the great Ogeechee River that rainy night of August 10, 1937, when he and Leon Tomlinson cooked pot-to-pot a batch of muldown big enough to feed 200 joes. (You will remember the battle ended in a draw.)

Recently in our paper we wondered if Judge Preston had handed down to his son, Prince, our congressman, that recipe for muldown. Leo Alkman, in his column in The Atlanta Constitution, used our musings. Frank Holder, of Atlanta, read Mr. Alkman's paragraph and so wondered, too, if Prince had the recipe.

So Mr. Holder clipped out the paragraph, pasted it to a postcard and mailed it to Virginia J. Alkman, daughter of Russ Alkman of Bulloch county, who now works in the State Department of Education. He wrote Virginia:

"If you know Mr. Coleman, and if Mr. Coleman gets the recipe for catfish stew and if you can get the recipe from Mr. G. F. I'd like to get it from you."

So—Virginia writes to us: "Should you be able to fulfill the request thereon, assure you Mr. Holder will be most appreciative. He is a very kindly old gentleman."

And the Jackets will breathe the things they never did. But there is time left before Turkey Day. It's up to the Jackets to really make hay. Before we go completely haywire. We'll stand and use the poker on the fire...

WANDA WATSON, daughter of Jim and Bary Watson, is an interesting theologian at the tender age of two and a half years—pretty and blue-eyed. She was visiting her great-aunt, Mrs. B. H. Ramsey. Anne asked Wanda what church she attended. Wanda promptly replied, "I go to the Baptist Church. My mother goes to the Baptist Church, but my Daddy goes to the 'Messiah' Church." Wanda, upon seeing a Bible on Aunt Anne's table, said, "I've got a Baptist Bible at my house. We presume that Anne's bible must have been a 'Messiah' Bible."

MRS. ED KENNEDY gets complete description of the arrival of Princess Elizabeth and her handsome husband, Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, as they stepped from the plane and appeared later in the parade. In a newsy letter from her daughter, Mary Jones (Mrs. Baker Williams), who with Mr. Williams has an apartment at Arlington. We quote from Mary Jones' letter: "Baker and I were at the airport to see Princess Elizabeth arrive. We were lucky—couldn't have gotten a better view. Truman and Princess Elizabeth passed by in the leman, well past the 70-year mark, with friends scattered throughout the country—remembering them on all the proper occasions..."

This brought on a wave of nostalgia, and we got out the August, 1937, copies of The Bulloch Herald which related all the events leading up to the Muldown Battle, the battle itself, and the outcome.

It all started when Judge Preston had for a long time the reputation of an expert at making Brunswick stew. At the same time, many claimed for Leon Tomlinson the title of King of Muldown Cooks.

The fat was in the fire. The late Judge Preston challenged the right of Mr. Tomlinson to the crown—and the battle was on. The late Col. Jack Murphy was prominent in the "hot war" which preceded the actual battle.

Judge Preston made up a sample batch and passed it around and was agreed that Tomlinson would have to "put the magic touch" to compete. Prince, even back then, was a veteran muldown eater, but wrote yet again to become a brewer of the delectable dish.

The "battle" attracted South-western attention. The spelling of the request thereon, assure you Mr. Holder will be most appreciative. He is a very kindly old gentleman."

voice, vibrant with joy, announced the return of Spike. Then said tones followed. "Mrs. Brannen, he is pitiful. You can see every bone in his body." If the children forgot and made a fuss, Spike feebly wagged his tail.

YOU'VE OFTEN HEARD about children who wanted Mamma to go to the hospital for a little sister or brother, but it takes Florence Ann Robertson to come up with a new version. Florence Ann is the daughter (one of them) of Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Robertson. Last week, Margaret probably interfered with some activity of her daughter—and the thwarted daughter, in a reproving tone (to put it mildly), informed her mother that she was going to the hospital and tell Dr. Daniel to get her a new mother!

Hallowe'en's End Brings Many Sighs, But Sighs of Relief

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

THERE WERE genuine sighs of relief (on the part of the adults, at least) when the Hallowe'en season ended in Bulloch county.

"Hallowe'en," the Encyclopedia Britannica states, "or All Hallowes, the name given to the 31st of October (as observed) as the Vigil of Hallowmas or All Saints Day. Though now known as little else but the even of the Christian festival, Hallowe'en and its formerly attendant ceremonies long antedate Christianity. The two chief characteristics of ancient Hallowe'en were the lighting of bon fires and the belief that of all nights in the year this was the one during which ghosts and witches are most likely to wander abroad..."

Well, The Encyclopedia Britannica needs to be brought up to date in several respects. True, we still playfully observe the belief in the wandering abroad of witches, hobgoblins, ghosts, and other spooks, and, unfortunately, we occasionally have an unlooked-for bonfire. But in our community and nation something new has been added, or maybe I should say that Hallowe'en has added itself to something new. The schools, always hard-pressed for the money needed to forward worthwhile projects, have in a large measure, turned Hallowe'en into a carnival of revenue.

Now, everybody knows that the schools need money. Nobody would argue that point. Everybody knows that it is a good thing to have the young folks occupied on that particular night. No one would argue that point.

But there are many folks who feel that Hallowe'en has become over-emphasized, not only as regards its true purpose, but also as a detriment to and a disruption of the regular schedule of the school. Teachers get weary from the terrible task of trying to teach children something during the last week in October. It takes the week following to clean the buildings after the carnival and to settle the children down to normalcy. Mothers are weary from candy-making, cake-baking, and costume-sewing. The teachers complain that their pocket-books are depleted. The merchants try to recover from the calls made upon them to contribute to the Hallowe'en bazaar, or to buy chances on Hallowe'en Cakes, and many other prizes.

When it is all over everybody sighs a sigh of relief, especially those parents who have children in more than one school. Some of them vow that they intend to get rid of all their "chilun," come next October.

It all makes us wonder why we parents, teachers, and citizens don't get together and begin to make some different plans for next year. Plans to raise the needed amounts of money for the desired projects of the Bulloch county schools and plans to entertain safely the youth of our town and county.

Where parents gather it is possible to hear different suggestions. Someone has suggested that the schools have open house during one school day, a day on which parents and patrons go and see what the schools are doing. The callers could pay a dollar or two, the money being put toward the project aimed at. Another suggestion is to have two foot-and-a-half-mile races. They hit upon a county-wide school fair at Hallowe'en, possible at one of the tobacco warehouses, where the various concessions could be placed and where the final program could be given. A parade in the afternoon would include floats from each school. Prizes would be given for originality, an originality which would give impetus to the interest and participation of the children.

Reader, what would you suggest? If you have a suggestion, send it to The Bulloch Herald. If any suggestions come in we'll pool all the ideas and turn them over to the proper school authorities.

MRS. W. R. WOODCOCK HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

The children of Mrs. W. R. Woodcock surprised her Monday morning at her home for dinner. She had so many things to do she had forgotten about her eightieth birthday.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brannen Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. George Prather, Mr. and Mrs. Will Woodcock, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McElveen of Sylva.

The dinner? The guests brought generously-packed picnic hamper.

Mrs. Raymond Darden Jr., entertained Friday afternoon for her son, Bobby, on his fourth birthday. Mrs. Darden was assisted in entertaining by Rena and Ruth Dixon and Mary Ann Hodges. Assistance in serving ice cream, cake, and punch were Mrs. Vandy Boyd and Mrs. Doy Boyd.

The children attending were Jody Woodcock, Delmus Williams, Phil Hodges, Benton Hodges, Mike Parrish, Johnny Norris, James Beasley, Matt Pound, Ronny and J. E. McCroan, Sam Groover, Joe Fletcher, Albert Deal, L. C. Mann, D. L. Thomas, Frank Grimes, Joe Watson, Jim Brannen, M. S. Pittman, W. W. Edge, Dan Blitch Sr., and Mrs. Willson.

MRS. RAYMOND KENNEDY REMEMBERED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Thad Morris was hostess at a delightful party Tuesday afternoon complimenting her sister, Mrs. Raymond Kennedy, on her birthday.

African violets, chrysanthemums and other lovely house plants were used in the decorations.

The table in the dining room was centered with the birthday cake.

Mrs. Robert Morris served coffee and tea at one end of the table, while at the other end Mrs. W. H. Ellis served strawberry shortcake with whipped cream. Chicken salad sandwiches and party mints were served from the table. After the guests were seated in the living room, Mrs. Morris served toasted cheese strips.

Numbers were given each guest upon arrival, and Miss Eunice Leach, with the lucky number, received a dainty handkerchief.

Mrs. Kennedy was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Mrs. Morris presented her with lingerie. Robert, Helen and Baby Karen sent the honoree a corsage of pink carnations.

Other guests were Mesdames Darwin Franklin, Herschel Franklin, Jim Mathews, Ed Kennedy, J. E. McCroan, Sam Groover, Joe Fletcher, Albert Deal, L. C. Mann, D. L. Thomas, Frank Grimes, Joe Watson, Jim Brannen, M. S. Pittman, W. W. Edge, Dan Blitch Sr., and Mrs. Willson.

JOINT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Friday afternoon Mrs. J. A. Hargraves and Mrs. Charlie Howard were hostesses at a joint birthday celebration for their sons. Edwin Hargraves was six and Richard Howard was eight years old.

Favors were given and the birthday guests were served birthday cakes, ice cream, and punch. Mrs. H. S. Bondurant assisted Mrs. Howard in serving and Mrs. Franklin Parrish of Metter assisted her mother, Mrs. Hargraves.

Edwin's guests were Britt Franklin, Franklin McElveen, Carroll Williams, Carlyle Rushing, Phyllis Matz, Charles McBride, Carolyn and Mike Turner, Don Lanier, Charles Vink, Jimmy Davis, and Renee Roan.

HERBERT KINGERY'S HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kingery on East Grady street was beautifully decorated throughout with white chrysanthemums and white dahlias from her mother's garden and gorgeous red dahlias from a friend, Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, as they observed open house Saturday evening.

Mrs. Waldo Floyd was at the door and Mr. and Mrs. Kingery greeted their guests informally. Mrs. Kingery was charming in light green taffeta with milled bodice and very full skirt. A lovely corsage was caught at the waistline. The table was overlaid with an exquisite madiera outwork cloth with a border of fine imported lace. An arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white dahlias with a five-branched silver candelabra enhanced the beauty of the table.

Mrs. J. W. Robertson, Mrs. Kingery's mother, poured coffee, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Parrish of Port, Mrs. J. H. Hinton of Brooklet and Mrs. Frank Futrell of Guyton. Those serving were Mrs. T. R. Bryan, Mrs. C. B. Mathews, and Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr. Mrs. Raymond Summerlin kept the guest book. Others assisting in entertaining were Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Roger Holland and Mrs. J. O. Johnston. Mrs. E. C. Watkins directed departing guests to the garden at the rear of the house thus providing a lovely exit.

Mrs. Everett Livingston of Atlanta, house guest, enjoyed the freedom of mingling with the guests.

One hundred and fifty enjoyed the hospitality of the Herbert Kingerys.

MR. MRS. SHIELDS KENAN ENTERTAIN AT SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. Shields Kenan entertained Friday night at their home on West Jones avenue with a seafood supper for the following guests: Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Thackston, Mr. and Mrs. Penton Rimes, and Captain and Mrs. Leland Riggs. Fall flowers were used in the decorations.

DOUBLE DECK CLUB

Mrs. Jim Donaldson was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Double Deck Bridge Club at her home on Zetterover avenue.

Roses, chrysanthemums, and dahlias were used in the decorations.

The guests were served chicken salad in cranberry rings on lettuce, hot cheese biscuit, fruit cake topped with whipped cream, and coffee.

Mrs. Jack Carlton won club high. Mrs. Bernard McDougald scored high for visitors, and Mrs. Percy Bland won cut. All received nasangua camellias.

Others present were Mrs. Will Woodcock, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Percy Averitt, Mrs. Deane Watson, Mrs. Lloyd Brannen, Mrs. Bill Adams, Mrs. Hal Macon Sr., Mrs. Glenn Jennings, Mrs. Perry Kennedy, Mrs. D. L. Davis, and Mrs. Inman Dekle.

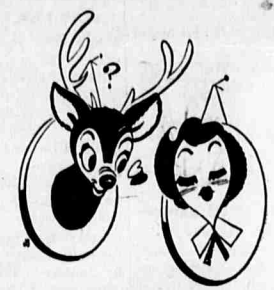

BARNEY AVERITT visited the JACK AVERITTs at Durham, N. C., and attended the Tennessee-North Carolina football game last Saturday.

KEEP THIS AD—

Here is Something That Might Be Of Supreme Interest to You

This man's wife had lain in bed some years as an invalid suffering the tortures of aches, pains, soreness, etc. He compounded this medicine and soon after she began taking it, her suffering began to subside. When her sufferings were all gone and she was back enjoying normal life and health again, he put it on the market. Now several thousand people have already taken it, and it is surprising how many of them have found that their rheumatic aches, pains, soreness, etc., began subsiding even before they finish taking the first supply. If you are interested in more information, if you will give your name and address to Brazil Medicine Co., Hot Springs, Arkansas, the manufacturer himself will give you the names of people who have already taken this medicine, whom you can contact personally. This is one man who has a medicine who is not afraid for any person to contact any person who has taken it. (ADV.)

How to be a "Dear" to Your Party Line Neighbors

On every telephone party line, it's always open season for "Deers" who:

- Use the line sharing
- Hang up the receiver carefully (and quietly)
- Keep calls brief
- Space calls fairly

So be a "Dear"—you'll be a "prize" trophy on any party line—your service will be better as well.

To the Voters of Bulloch County: This is to publicly announce that I am a candidate to succeed myself as County School Superintendent of Bulloch County. Your cooperation during this term of office is greatly appreciated and I will be grateful for your support during this campaign. If elected, I will continue to fulfill the duties of this office to the best of my ability, with the interest and welfare of our children at heart.

H. P. WOMACK.

FOR CHAIRMAN, BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I wish to announce myself a candidate for the office of Chairman, Board of County Commissioners, subject to the rules as fixed by the Democratic Executive Committee for the Primary to be held November 28, 1951.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

ALLEN R. LANIER.

FOR SHERIFF

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for Sheriff of Bulloch County, subject to the rules and regulations of the Democratic Primary to

Farm Bureau News

Esla Farm Bureau Turns In More Memberships Than In Previous Years

The Esla Farm Bureau was the first chapter in the county to turn in more memberships this fall than ever before. Robert A. Wynn, assistant county agent reported. Mr. Wynn stated that Esla had turned in 58 members this year as compared with 56 of last fall. Carl Ter, Esla president, says a few more will be added from that community.

Other communities which had turned in a creditable number of renewals by November were Newell, Port, Warnock, West Side, Siltson, and Siltkoke. The Negro chapters had received 132 members.

On the basis of renewals already in, Mr. Wynn feels that the county will again have a Farm Bureau membership of which to be proud. Middleground chapter renewed 44 at their meeting on Thursday night of last week. W. C. H. Jones Jr., their president, predicted that they would get at least as many members this fall as in the past.

E. D. Alexander, extension agent from Athens, and John B. Preston, agronomist from Tifton met with the Middleground chapter to discuss pasture.

Mr. Alexander urged the group to plant more Coastal Bermuda as a summer grass, and pit reseeded Crispus clover on their higher soils. White clover planted in Bermuda was suggested for lower soils.

If low, fertile land is available where it can be cut off from pasture and protected at certain seasons, fescue might be a good choice. Mr. Alexander stated that if it is to provide winter grazing for the county.

I will appreciate the help of everyone in my race for re-election in the primary to be held November 28, 1951.

Respectfully yours,

STOTHARD DEAL.

FOR SHERIFF

To the People of Bulloch County: It is a pleasure for me to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Bulloch County. In serving the citizens of this county it has always been my purpose to study the many duties involved in holding this office and to acquaint myself fully with the requirements of it. There is no office in which I can serve more than in the office of Sheriff. Under prevailing world conditions, it is necessary that your Sheriff shall be experienced in this work. It has been a source of gratitude to me to serve you; and I wish to thank each and every citizen of Bulloch county for the confidence placed in me; and it shall be my purpose, if elected, above all things, to continue to serve you faithfully and to do a thorough and efficient job in the office of Sheriff of your county.

FOR SHERIFF

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I will appreciate the help of everyone in my race for re-election in the primary to be held November 28, 1951.

Respectfully yours,

STOTHARD DEAL.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR CORNER

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I wish to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Corner, as I am offering for the second term, as I am now serving my first. During the time I have served, the people in this office, I have undertaken to serve efficiently and to extend every courtesy to all of the officers of the county connected with their work and to be considerate and appreciative of the work of the jurors who have served with me. I hope to be elected for an endorsement term; and I assure you that every attention will be given to the duties of this office, with a deep appreciation of your favors in supporting me for re-election.

Thanking you for your support and help in the coming Primary to be held on November 28, 1951, I am,

MALLIE JONES.

Respectfully,

FOR MEMBER BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I am a candidate for Member of the Board of County Commissioners, subject to the rules of the Democratic Primary to be held on November 28.

I will appreciate your vote.

W. A. GROOVER.

FOR ORDINARY

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I hereby announce as a candidate for re-election for the office of Ordinary for said county, according to the rules and regulations of the primary which is to be held on the 28th day of November, 1951.

I will appreciate your vote and influence.

Sincerely,

F. I. WILLIAMS.

FOR MEMBER BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

To the Voters of Bulloch County: I am a candidate for Member of the Board of County Commissioners, subject to the rules of the Democratic Primary to be held on November 28.

I will appreciate your vote.

EDGAR WYNN.

WINNERS DONATE TO FOUNDATION

Cheatham Hill, Cobb county, and Flat Creek, Rabun county, northwest and north district winners respectively in the 1951 4-H Club community improvement program, each gave $100 of their $300 awards to the Georgia 4-H Club Foundation to help build the State 4-H Club Center at Rock Eagle Park in Putnam county.

4-H'ERS TO GO TO CHICAGO

November 24 is the day some 30 Georgia 4-H Club boys and girls will leave Atlanta for the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago. These members have earned the expense-paid trip by winning state championships in various projects. Breakfasts, dinners, luncheons, parties and tours await them in Chicago.

Forestry Notes

Eight decades ago this newspaper you now are reading would have come, not from the trees, but from the rag.

Paper was then manufactured from rags, and there never seemed to be quite enough rags to keep the paper mills running.

Pioneer women in Bulloch county may recollect the day Congress had to step in and issue a direct appeal to the women of this nation to supply the paper industry with enough rags to keep it going.

Today, fortunately, for farseeing Bulloch county farmers and landowners who have been practicing good management on their timberland, see pulpwood rather than rags form our major paper supply.

Appeals from the Bulloch County Forestry Unit, therefore for the public to treat the forests like the financially lucrative crop it is, are based on good, sound reasons.

Behind those reasons lies the fact that wildlife-free woodlands in our area mean not only good money returns for farmer and landowner; they mean a prosperous, sound economy to benefit the entire population of Bulloch county. No county with acre upon acre of blackened wasteland can rank high in economic or agricultural importance.

Keep Bulloch county woodlands free of wildfire is one of the most vital appeals which can be made during this dangerous fall forest fire season.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

An election will be held in the City of Statesboro the first Friday in December, 1951, being the 7th day thereof, for the election of five Councilmen to serve for the ensuing term of two years.

Anyone desiring to become a candidate in this election shall file notice of such intention with the City Clerk fifteen days prior to the election, stating whom he is running against, or the particular seat he seeks to fill, and pay the qualifying fee of $15.00.

This October 31, 1951.

CITY OF STATESBORO.

AN APPEAL

To the Voters of Bulloch County

On November 19, 1947, I was elected Tax Commissioner of Bulloch County, for which I am most grateful, and I have tried in every way to show to the public my deep appreciation. It has been my aim to fill the duties of the office in fairness to everyone.

Now, I am asking you to elect me again on November 28, which will be my second term. As you all know, it is a custom in this county that anyone is allowed to have any office for two terms. Just at this time the duties of the office are so great that it is impossible for me to see the voters in person before the election, therefore I am taking this method to solicit your help in my campaign. You will always have my deepest appreciation and I shall continue to fulfill the duties of the office in the best way possible.

Miss Nona Quinn Trains 68-Voice Choir at SHS

For the first time in the history of the school, Statesboro High has a choir. There have been glee clubs organized by several public school music teachers, but no choir until this year.

The choir is under the direction of Miss Nona Quinn of Washington, Ga. Last year she attended Northwestern University and in 1949 taught public school music in Washington. She came to Statesboro this fall.

Executives for the choir are: Joe Ben Cassidy and Bud Johnston, secretaries; Sybil Griner, junior; and Charlie Joe Hollingsworth, sophomore.

The choir is scheduled to go Christmas caroling as the season approaches.

Open House at The Aldred Sun.

Walter Aldred announced today the formal opening of The Aldred Hotel on Sunday, November 18.

In making the announcement, Mr. Aldred invites the public to open house to be held Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

He states that Mr. Bob Winburn will manage the new hotel, and Mrs. Isobel McDougall will be the hostess. Jack Robinson is the night man.

The Aldred, colonial in architecture, is one of the most modern hotels in this section. It will open with 35 rooms, furnished comfortably and luxuriously. The rooms are carpeted from wall to wall, and the furniture is of solid oak. All baths are completely tiled and equipped with tubs and showers.

A breakfast bar will provide quick service for guests, and large areas around the hotel provide parking space.

Mr. Aldred's plans call for an additional 16 rooms at a later date, for a total of 51 rooms.

He cordially invites all Statesboro and Bulloch county to attend the open house Sunday.

Middleground To Give Thanks Thu.

Announcement is made that there will be a special Thanksgiving service at the Middleground Primitive Baptist Church next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

A basket dinner will be served at the church following the service.

Church members are reminded of the working on Tuesday of the Statesboro tobacco market, and the city's sanitation program improved. Large scale agricultural improvements were made throughout the area.

The Statesboro tobacco market held the rest of the state in the quantity of tobacco sold during the season.

Rites Held For Lonnie B. Banks

Lonnie B. Banks, 41, of Metter, died at his home Wednesday morning of last week after an illness of several months. He was the son of the late Elder David C. Banks and the late Annie Brannen Banks of Statesboro. He moved to Metter from Statesboro four years ago where he was engaged in the dairy business.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eubie Lanier Banks; two daughters, Ann and Jean Banks; four sons, three sisters, Mrs. E. C. Meadows, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Emmitt Beasley, Statesboro; and Mrs. J. W. Donaldson Jr., Metter; four brothers, Osborne C. Henry, W. Edwin D., and Bernard, all of Statesboro; and his stepmother, Mrs. Susie Deal Banks, of Statesboro.

Funeral services were held at the Bethlehem Primitive Baptist Church last Thursday, with Elder Pat Bird officiating. Burial was in the East Side Cemetery, with Hooks Mortuary in charge.

Gospel Concert at West Side Nov. 20

Tuesday night will be gospel singing time at the West Side Baptist Church. The program will feature the Statesboro quartet and the Statesboro Quartet put on a one and one-half hour gospel singing concert sponsored by the Statesboro community.

The Bulloch Four is made up of Otis Hollingsworth, Charlie Joe Hollingsworth, Joe Bishop, and Bernard Banks with Dean Winski at the piano. The Statesboro Quartet is made up of Clyde Rich, Junior Powell, Burney Rich and Junior Coleman, with Gilbert Powell at the piano. The time is 7:30 p. m.

Lion Club Members Ride In Parade Of Elephants On Circus Day Nov. 22

"The Parade of the Elephants" will introduce the King Brothers Circus to Statesboro Thanksgiving morning, when they march through the business section of the city next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. (This is not a circus parade.)

It was announced this week that King Brothers Circus will put on a parade, a feature of which will be the parade of the elephants of the circus elephant herd. Lions who have been named to ride in the parade are Dr. Ed Smart, president of the Statesboro Lions Club, Norman Campbell, Max Lockwood, Dekle Banks, Bob Thompson, Bob Stiles, Dr. Albert Deal, S. M. Wall, Joe Nevill, Kenneth R. Carr, Lonnie Young, Fleming Pruitt, John Adams, Dr. W. D. Lundquist.

The King Brothers Circus, said to be the second largest in the world, will feature 150 performers and a score of clowns, 125 animals from all parts of the world, and hundreds of other attractions.

Other members of the Lions Club will be in and out of the parade selling circus tickets. Dr. Ed Smart states that if citizens of Statesboro in advance (by Thursday noon) from members of the Lions Club riding the 15 elephants and lions will stay in Statesboro and be used to help finance the club's Eye Conservation program.

The circus grounds will be located on U. S. 80 on the Swainsboro highway, near the city limits. Admission will be $1 and 50 cents, plus tax. Reserve chairs are 62 cents.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m.

Dr. Ed Smart, president of the Statesboro Lions Club, announced this week that 1,000 certificates to the King Brothers Circus to be here Thursday, November 22, have been given to H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, for distribution to children in the Statesboro public school system.

This certificate will entitle each school child to purchase a ticket for his family when presented at the circus ticket office.

Statesboro Wins Second Prize In Georgia Power 1951 Champ Hometown Contest

Statesboro was named second prize winner in the 1951 Champion Home Town Contest in the 3,000 to 20,000 population group, it was announced today by Charles A. Collier, vice president of the Georgia Power Company. The city will receive $750 and a bronze plaque.

In addition to Statesboro, winners in the 3,000 to 20,000 population group are: Dublin, first prize of $1,000; and Tifton, third prize of $500. In the under-750 population group the winners were Greenville, first prize of $1,000; Menlo, second prize of $750; and Powder Springs, third prize of $500. In the 750 to 3,000 population group, the winners were Arlington, first prize of $1,000; Chipley, second prize of $750; and Comer, third prize of $500.

At the same time it was announced that Franklin, first prize winner of last year, received a sweepstakes award of $1,000 in a special contest open only to former first prize winners.

Statesboro's 1951 contest period was from September 1 to October 31. The city's recreation program, which won national attention when it was featured in an article in the Ladies Home Journal, was expanded and its services to the young people of Statesboro greatly increased.

Under the town's housing program, 126 new homes were built in 1951, and improvements were made to most of the existing homes. A $82,000 Health Center was completed and the city's sanitation program improved. Large scale agricultural improvements were made throughout the area.

The Y.M.C.A. secretary, the closing address at 2:30 p. m.

Prince Preston Talks At SHS Armistice Program

Congressman Prince H. Preston was the speaker at a special Armistice Day program held at the Statesboro High School on Friday, November 10.

Congressman Preston talked on "What Armistice Means to America and to You."

In concluding his talk Representative Preston told of the recent atomic weapons experiments held in Nevada. "The day before we were to see the explosion," he said, "we were shown movies, we read pamphlets, and were given lectures on the things we were going to see. For the first time in my life I actually knew what made the great bomb tick."

He described how the next morning the group was escorted to a mountain about 30 miles from where the explosion was to be. "We put on dark glasses," he said, "so dark we could hardly see our hand in front of our face. The explosion happened just as they said it would. We saw and heard the plane. It was just a speck and very high up. Then we saw the mushroom cloud. It was as big as a basketball, and we were 30 miles away."

He then went on to describe the shape and color and effect of the blast.

On the program with Congressman Preston was Rev. Lough, Miss Quinn, public school music teacher, led the assembly in the high school Alma Mater.

Capt. J. A. Bunce Given U. S. Duty

Captain James Arthur Bunce Jr., USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bunce Sr. of Statesboro, recently returned from duty at Rhein-Main, Germany, and has been assigned to Headquarters, 4th Air Force Base, Maryland. This was announced recently by Brigadier General W. O. Senter, Chief, Air Weather Service, Washington, D.C.

At Andrews, Captain Bunce is assigned as weather forecaster in the USAF Weather Central. In his overseas assignment he held similar duties with a weather unit in Germany.

Captain Bunce is a graduate of Statesboro High School and received his B.S. degree from Georgia Teachers College.

He entered the Army Air Corps in December, 1941, and received his pilot wings in July of 1942. During World War II, he flew combat missions as a B-24 pilot in the European theater of operations. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The Air Weather Service, to which Captain Bunce is assigned, is a component of the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) and provides meteorological information to the U. S. Air Force and Army Ground Forces around the world.

Demonstration at Atkins Appliance

A revolutionary new kind of automatic dishwasher has at last eliminated the only household task still done in the old-fashioned way. A special demonstration, under the direction of Mrs. Elaine M. Sneadek, home economist, is to be held Monday, November 19, 3:30 to 5 p. m., under the sponsorship of Atkins Appliance Co.

The reason why housewives never again need soak their hands in dishwater will become evident, it is said, when they see this demonstration of the Youngstown Automatic Dishwasher, and have explained to them the principle on which the appliance works.

Mrs. Sneadek, a graduate home economist of Louisiana Tech, is home service director of the Chas. S. Martin Distributing Co., Atlanta. Her background includes high school teaching and laboratory research.

Her work in demonstrations to attend the meeting since several important matters will be discussed. The club membership numbers are 25.
