CLIPONREKA CULLINGS

In helping usher the newly-arrived Herald into this cold and cruel world, we are stopping to announce that this column will be filled by the doing of those who live in that great Garden Spot of Bulloch, that Garden of Eden lying between Statesboro and the Screven county border. If anything happens in your home tell us—if anybody gets married, divorced, scandalized, rich, paupered, in fact if ANYTHING's worth of mention happens we want you to tell us, and we'll tell the waiting world. Whatever happens is news, probably some better, some worse, and it's news we'll fill the paper with it. So if this column goes stale, it will be due to the laziness of the reporter (most probable), or to your lack of telling us.

Roaming up and down the highway it seems that with the arrival of the springtime sunshine everybody got busy in the field and we found Adam Deal with all his corn planted, squaring off for his annual battle with the cotton picker—Uncle Ed Quattlebaum squaring his charming bride (Orrie Brunson) around town, after returning from their honeymoon—James Deal, "professor" at Cliftonville, taking the school kids home in the rain, when the bus happened to be late—Lee Stewart learning to like soup while his jaw mended—the pungent aroma of pressing fertilizer, being trucked to its destination—"Folly" Dixon with the finest string of Ogchee fish we've seen in a long time—Durwin Franklins' new windmill and pump, which reminds us that here are plenty of windmills in the county but too few pumps—Frank Fletcher, red-eyed from lack of sleep since he got electric lights from the new Georgia Power Lakeview line, explaining that he liked to look at the new lamps so much he couldn't go to sleep.

With pork at a premium, Capt. Gibson pet Durso now presented him with a fine birthday present of twelve fine pigs. Capt. Gibson (whose name is John B. Gibson, and is foreman of the Central of Georgia section down Clito way) says nature ought to have provided more places at the table for Mrs. Durso since she only has feeding spigots for ten. The present feeding she has for two to wait for the second table.

The next sun shiny day we'll roam again. In the meantime we are signing off as your

HIGH SCHOOL NEEDS STUDIED

At a recent meeting of the Rotary Club, a member of the Senior Class of the High School appeared as guest speaker. The Rotary Club invited this senior to speak with the idea of learning the High School's need for a gym, a home economics instructor and an industrial art course.

For some time the Rotarians have manifested a very keen interest in the needs of our high school and under their leadership it is being determined what can be done and how to go about fulfilling these needs. They have been old and their investigations have proven that there is a great need for the equipment and courses for which the high school is asking.

The need of a gym is keenly felt by our students when they go about the county and state to participate in athletic competition with schools which boast of completely equipped gyms. It has been suggested that the lack of a properly equipped gym reduces the interest that the normal boy and girl would have in his and her school activities, scholastically as well as athletics.

The good that could be derived from courses which teach these boys and girls how to use their hands helping make their homes better in obvious. There is no denying the good that home economics can do for the girls studying it. There is no denying the good that a boy derives from the study of industrial art.

The Rotary Club is to be commended for the interest it is showing and for the steps it has taken and is taking to bring these needs before the proper authorities. It is believed that they will succeed in securing these things that the school needs. The students of the school are enthusiastic in their cooperation with the Rotarians and have faith in the eventual realization of their wants and needs.

We understand that a committee of Savannah Avenue Neighbors has called a special meeting to pass on the eligibility of Sam Northcutt as a neighbor. Sam's new home is in the process of completion and he has neglected to apply to the proper persons for admission into the neighborhood. The chairman, however, has issued a statement to the effect that if Sam will comply with certain requirements that his being applied will be given consideration. We understand that Sam will meet the requirements.

The Bibb County chain gang has been on a 44-hour week. Until March 20 they had always worked from sunrise to sunset. It occurs to us that perhaps we will next hear that they have been on a "sit-down" strike.

FOR THE GOOD OF YOUR SOUL

If you like a sport that will test your mettle without breaking your back try bowling. If you have never bowled, go down to the Army on Thursday nights which is Ladies' Night, take your better half, or at any rate, the other half, and try it. Roll one of the balls and hear the soul-satisfying crashing of "timber" as the pins fly. You will find that it gets you, then the smart thing to do is to get Mr. Cromartie to give you a pointer or two and you are off. When you go home you will sleep like a top. Verily, bowling is a swell game. We like it because it is the civilized man's last chance to raise an awful racket without apologizing to a soul.

Charles Darwin was a young man studying for the clergy when he got a chance to go on a 5 year scientific expedition, as a clerk. There were no women along with whom he might waste his time so Darwin adopted natural history as a hobby. On this trip he made the observation for his theory on the origin of the species.

Like most artists, Robert Fulton was a super-energetic lazy man. At fourteen, he built a paddle wheel boat in order to avoid poling while fishing. When away from his easel, he didn't deem it necessary to account for his spare time to any one lady, and consequently became an amateur inventor of torpedoes and submarines; then perhaps seeking for the torpedoes to sink, Fulton developed the steamboat.

A charming Southern woman spurred young Eli Whitney on to the invention of the cotton gin, it must be admitted. Whitney was a scholar who liked traveling. Whitney met a nice lady and again it was a case of too much crocheting. He made a trick embroidery device for her. The Southern lady said he could make anything, and it was suggested that he try his hand at a cotton ginning machine. He did.

Think on this:
"No matter what doctrines are preached from the pulpit, what creeds are recited by the congregation, or what pronouncements are made by general conferences, Assemblies, or Synods. The acid test of the Church's usefulness is its ability to produce fruits of the Holy Spirit among its members."

Do you ever wonder what became of the meat weighing scales that used to be out at the old packing plant? Gilbert Cone is using them in his business of weighing your meat at the Statesboro Provision Company.

With Summer coming on, we find ourselves interested in an appliance designed to condition the air at the arm pits to eliminate perspiration. Two bulb shaped pumps, one under each arm pit, provided, with flap valves through which, antiseptics, and other chemical conditioners can be inserted. When arm pressure squeezes the bulbs, air, conditioned by the chemicals in the bulb is forced out through valves, cooling the arm pits.

How would you boys like to work for Joe Penner? You know, the radio duck salesman. He always hires four kids to sit in the front row at his broadcasts. He judges how funny his jokes are by how much these kids laugh. Sure. He pays them five dollars each.

CLIPONREKA GULLINGS

Young Roaming Reporter hasn't done much roaming this week on account of a shortage of gas but heard that one of our most prominent citizens disappeared from home this week and hasn't been located. It seems some practical joker wrote him a note, sent it in a plain envelope, saying: "Look out! All has been discovered." Said citizens wife reported that he never came back to the house after going for his mail. She's offering a reward, but it's that kind of a husband, we are wondering why.

Grandpap Ethridge, now in his 80's, is enjoying (?) a first class of mumps this week. Says he's expecting to start cutting his baby teeth by May.

Doy Atkins and his better nineteenth, who was Georgia Mae Dixon before she took the fatal turn, retained a whole lot of Atkins and Dixon with a barbecue on Sunday. Everyone reports a glorious time and Clyde Dixon says if he had eaten any more he would have needed an undertaker.

Mrs. Cliff Thomas has returned from a stay at Port with her family, the Freeman-Carter's. About sixty children of the City Sunday School enjoyed an Easter Egg hunt Sunday afternoon. Blanche and Evelyn Dixon assisted by the McDougall boys dyed the eggs. Saturday afternoon and after Sunday School the older folks hid them. Quite a scramble ensued when the hunting began.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Padgett and children, Gordon Allen and Barbara, together with Mrs. H. J. Martin and her children, H. J. and Ruth, of Savannah, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibson. Miss Mildred Braddy, of Millen, who was visiting the Padgetts, accompanied them.

Baby Billy Deal, son of Mrs. Lillie Mae Deal, and grandson of Mrs. O. H. Hendrix, is in the Statesboro hospital, suffering from a serious trouble that the attending physician hasn't fully diagnosed. The nurses report some improvement today, however.

The most amusing sight we have seen this week was Lonnie Zetterower, wrapped up head and shoulders in his heaviest overcoat, shedding tears because he didn't cotton up in the prettiest sight we have seen are the dog-wood trees back of the Jess Fletcher's—their leaves are just beginning to see the little freezing sprouts of corn trying to look brave after Saturday night's freeze—the most pathetic sight was the girl who spent the family bank-roll on Easter finery and woke up Sunday to find she couldn't wear any of it. She made up a roaring fire and stayed home.

All of which reminds you, Roaming Reporter, to ask you for a little help. We are not going to film Gone With the Wind, nor do a Lum & Abner broadcast, but we are on a hunt for:
1. The oldest man or woman (white or black).
2. The oldest house or building.
3. The oldest mule, horse, cow, cat or dog.
These are pertaining to Bulloch County. We want you to write us, care of the Herald, what you know of that has some ancient history, where we can find it, etc. Out of all may come something interesting to many of our readers and if we can find some really old person, we promise to make it very interesting to humor her. Please address your letters care of the Herald to your

DEBATING TEAMS
WIN DIVISION MEET

BY COUNT OF 2 TO 1 AND
3 TO 0

Last Friday night the two debating teams of the Statesboro High School successfully represented their school in the Eastern Division debating matches.

The affirmative side of the question, resolved that Electric Utilities should be Governmentally Owned and Operated, was debated by Margaret Ann Johnson and Miriam Lanier. They met the Statesboro High School Auditorium and won by a 2-1 decision. The negative side was argued by J. Brantley Johnson and Betty Rayner. They met Metter, in Metter, and won by a 3-0 count.

It has not been determined which side of the question will represent the High School in the District Meet.

HI OWL MEMBERS ATTEND
PRESS ASSOCIATION

James Thayer (circulation manager) and G. C. Coleman, Jr., editor, members of the staff of the Statesboro High School newspaper, attended the First District Press Association, which was held at the John C. Coleman Hotel in Swainsboro, Ga., on March 26.

The membership of this association is composed of the editors of the weekly newspapers in the First District and is held for the benefit of these editors.

Several interesting and instructive talks were made. One of the most interesting was given by "Red" Edgerton, of the Western Newspaper Union. Mr. Edgerton pointed out in his talk that a school page in the editor's weekly publication would cause a great deal of public interest in his paper. Other talks were made by E. Ledford, of Vidalia, Judge George Kirkland, of Swainsboro and W. G. Suttill, of the Savannah Press.

At the luncheon, which was held in the Rathskeller of the hotel, several interesting talks were made, of which Mr. D. B. Turner of the Bulloch Times, made the response for the visiting editors. Mr. Eugene Anderson, of the Macon Telegraph, made a very impressive talk during the luncheon hour also.

Alcott—Under the Lilacs.
Douglas—Forgive us Our Tresspasses.
James—Smoky.
Mitchell—Gone With the Wind.
Verne's 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea.

The present officers of the club are: President, Dorothy Durbin; Vice-President, Katherine Smiddy; Secretary, Mary Frances Ethridge; Treasurer, Rufus Wilson; Book Committee Chairman, Jack Averitt; Social Committee Chairman, Nina Howard; Bulletin Board Committee Chairman, Myrtle Swinson; Program Committee Chairman, Harold Smith.

Those who are planning to enter are: Annette Coleson, Blitch, Robert Hodges, Jones Lane, Shirley Clark, Emoline Ratney, Elizabeth Rainey, Frances Deal, J. Brantley Johnson, G. C. Coleman, Jr., Miriam Lanier, Margaret Ann Johnson, Betty McLeomore and Hines Smith.

STUNT NIGHT PRACTICE WILL BEGIN SOON

The Senior Class students are beginning to talk about Stunt Night.

The Stunt Night is an annual event of the Senior class. It is a night of plays, both comedies and beautiful. The entire senior class takes part in these plays and it is an enjoyable occasion for the students.

The senior class of this year is going to begin practice right away and they hope to put on a night of good entertainment.

DISTRICT SPELLING CONTEST TO BE HELD APRIL SEVENTH

The District Spelling Contest is to be held on April 7 throughout the First District and the Seniors of the High School are now preparing for it. Statesboro High School has never won a first place in this event since it has been included in the events. It is hoped that they can win this year. As it has been said, "It is not a high honor to be able to spell good, but it is a disgrace to those who spell poorly."

The Seniors are being urged to study so that they make a good showing in this event.

CRITERION COPY OFF TO PRINTERS

TO BE PRINTED BY FOOTE AND DAVIES, ATLANTA

The copy of the 1937 Criterion, the High School year book, is in the mails and will go to press at a very early date. It is being printed this year by Foote and Davies of Atlanta.

Marion Lanier, the Editor-in-Chief, states that, in his opinion, it will be the best Criterion that a Senior class has ever published. She states that the credit for the completeness should go to the entire staff under the guidance of Miss Mary Lou Carmichael, and that now, with it off, the staff is taking things rather easy.

STATESBORO HIGH SCHOOL
LIBRARY BEEN IMPROVED

The Statesboro High School library has been improved and deal during the past year. New chairs have been bought and the tables have been widened. Antin—The Promised Land.
Bronte—Wuthering Heights.
Clemens—Huckleberry Finn.
Davis—Friend of Caesar.
Doyle—The White Company.
Green—Birds of the South.

ROTARY CLUB VISIT
THE SENIOR CLASS

Several days ago the Senior Class was visited by a committee appointed by the local Rotary Club. This committee met with the class and asked that they appoint one boy and one girl to meet with them at their weekly luncheon and give them some idea of the school's needs and wants. They were especially anxious that a member of the class appear before them so that they could get, in the student's own words, a picture of their needs.

G. C. Coleman, Jr., was selected to represent the boys and Marion Lanier was selected to represent the girls. G. C. met with the Club Monday a week ago and Marion met with them Monday, April 5th.

The students were very pleased with the opportunity that the Rotary Club has given them and appreciate very much the interest that the Rotarians are showing in them and their needs.

137 YEARS OLD

A LESSON IN POISON

In a cargo of animals and birds arriving in Savannah last week from Calcutta, a deadly snake described as a Russell viper was found. Captain J. H. Hall, master of the steamship, issued the statement that the viper had stung itself to death. The above news is interesting in that it illustrates a truth applicable to the human species—For a viper to die of its own venom may be a rare occurrence, but thoughtful people realize that very much the same sort of thing happens frequently in the case of humans. Spiritually or morally speaking, men and women are dying daily from self-inflicted doses of their own venom.

Among the most common poison venoms that we foster and develop in our system are worry and hate. These poisons truly warp and eventually destroy their victim. John Wesley once affirmed: "I dare no more fret than I dare cure or swear. Benjamin Franklin advised: 'Do not anticipate trouble or worry about what may never happen.'"

Hate is always inimical, deadly and poisonous. Victor Hugo once said: "An elephant hated by a worm is in danger, but the main thing that we need to remember is that hate is also self-destructive. Let's not die of our own venom!"

COTTON FARMERS ADVISED TO HIKE PER ACRE YIELD

OFFERS FOUR WAYS OF INCREASING YIELD PER ACRE

Farm Agent Byron Dyer this week advised all Bulloch county farmers to join the state-wide movement to increase cotton yields per acre, while reducing such acreage to conform with the 1937 AAA conservation program. Pointing out that a higher yield per acre on present acreage will mean more profit per acre and will allow more land to be used for growing food and feed crops, the Agent declared farmers no longer can afford to get less than a maximum on their land.

As a means of increasing yield per acre, Mr. Dyer suggested that the farmer: (1) select good seed and treat it with Ceresan to kill disease spores, (2) fertilize liberally with a high-grade fertilizer that has proven adapted to the soil, (3) leave a good stand, planting the cotton in 1 1/2 to 4 foot rows and chop it so as to leave about two stalks every foot in the drill, and (4) prepare the land well and cultivate shallow and often.

The Agent particularly stressed the importance of treating planting seed to insure a good stand of cotton. He said dry weather in many sections of the state had caused large quantities of immature seed, and improper care in harvesting and storing had damaged still other seed. Tests during the past several years have shown clearly that treated seed give better stands of healthier plants, especially when the seed are not the very best.

Treating and testing of seed can be done at home with very little expense. For simple instruction, agents, vocational agriculture teachers, or Rural Resettlement farm supervisors, all of whom will be glad to furnish full details. Among the organizations joining in the "Grow More Cotton Per Acre" movement is the Georgia Cotton Seed Crushers Association.

Prohibitionists of Georgia are planning to launch an organized campaign to defeat repeal of the state's bone dry law at a referendum on June 8. W. W. Gaines, head of the Consolidated Forces for Prohibition, announced intention of a concerted and intensive drive against the local option bill left to the people by the general assembly, which adjourned last week. Definite plans, according to Mr. Gaines, have not been completed but "there will be a campaign and it will be well organized."

Repeal—mission victory in a similar referendum by a margin of less than 300 votes in 1935 were expected to organize another campaign for the measure.

Wet leaders in the legislature during consideration of the bill were practically unanimous in off-the-floor discussion of the measure that the drive on their side of the question would be much more intensive than two years ago.

Unable to get the house of representatives to pass an outright repeal bill without submission to the voters, the repealist conceived the referendum in order to get "some repeal bill" passed.

If the referendum is favorable to repeal, each county then would have to vote for local option before being able to have legal liquor sales.

The wet campaign in 1935 centered in Savannah, where a majority of 10,000 was given for repeal. The vote in other large cities was much lighter in comparison to the total number of ballots cast in the port city.

Campaign arguments this year, if they follow the trend legislative debate, will find the dry devoting their time to the moral issue and the effects of the use of alcohol, while the repealist will concentrate on the question of taxed sale against "bootlegging."

It is interesting to note that in Georgia there are 15,000 Federal licenses, Georgia being dry and in Florida, a wet state, there are 8,000 Federal licenses.

We were made very happy by a visit of Mr. R. H. Warnock, of Brooklet, who came in our office and gave us an idea of how well the Herald was being received in Brooklet.

Mr. J. Dan Lanier, of Groverland, and one of Bulloch's largest farmers, made his weekly visit to Statesboro to assist Mr. Johnson, Dr. Kennedy and Mr. R. C. Hitt, who have been handling the liquidation of the old bank. It was recalled that they have paid an aggregate of about 88 per cent of the deposits in the Bank of Statesboro.

Mrs. K. K. Trapnell was the guest of relatives in Register on Wednesday.

Mr. W. J. Williams is spending awhile with his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Williams, in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Darius Brown, of Swainsboro, were the guests of Mrs. Brown's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. Miller, Sunday.

Miss Rebekah Woods has returned to Savannah after spending several days with her parents.

Mrs. E. C. Watkins, Emory Watkins, John Shearouse and Miss Jane Watkins, of Brooklet, and Mr. Watkins Edwards, of Ellijay, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parrish Sunday.

Work has been started on a modern ice plant for Portals. The plant is being erected by the Statesboro Provision Company.

The new plant will be both a refrigerator and stock will be offered for sale to those interested.

The plant will cost approximately $15,000 and will have a capacity of ten tons of ice daily, which will provide a service for Portals and the surrounding community. The plant will be operated by electricity.

school calendar was the chapel program last Friday morning presented by the third grade, and their teacher, Miss Maude White. Some time ago this grade bought a study on the birds of our community. They gathered information from literature and observation and used a part of the material in a chapel program. Their rhythm band and singing was the music used. Poems, stories and readings on birds most common in our community, was included. This program was well planned and directed by the pupils.

Because of an unforeseen reason, the faculty play "When A Woman Decides" to be staged at Neville, will be postponed until Thursday night, April 8th.

At the special county-wide election held Wednesday the voters of Bulloch expressed their views on the question of tax exemption for industries which might desire to locate here by a vote of 568 for and 12 against the proposal.

The final count of the votes showed that the county and city are in favor of the five-year tax exemption for industrial plants.

The election was called when an investigation was made recently to determine the desirability of Bulloch county as a site for a rayon garment factory. The investigators for the home office of the factory found Bulloch county an excellent location and before finally deciding to set up here are asking for a five year tax exemption.

The authorities making these investigations are proposing to set up a plant for the manufacture of rayon garments and they state that they can employ 800 young women.

Exceeding care is taken in the examination of all domestics, both colored and white, before they are allowed to work in the homes in the county. They are required to furnish a certificate from the health commissioner before they are allowed to work. All food handlers are required to pass rigid examinations.

Dr. Winchester displayed a number of charts showing the remarkable improvement in the health conditions in Glynn county that have been brought through the workings of the health commission. These charts showed that diphtheria is unknown in the county. Malaria is under complete control. Smallpox is almost unknown. Tuberculosis at a very low figure and typhoid a thing of the past.

In talking to the members of the Chamber of Commerce Dr. Winchester told them that what had been done in Glynn county could also be done in Bulloch. He stated that to begin with, it would be necessary to have a unit made up of four people: a health officer, a health nurse, a sanitary inspector and clerk. He pointed out that under the Ellis law that state and federal funds would be available to the county in the event the Grand Jury would confirm the recommendations of the two grand juries of some eight or ten years ago. He stated that in the event the Ellis law is recommended that federal and state funds amounting to 50 percent of the necessary cost would be available. He stated that the state would provide a budget on which the county would have to operate to maintain a unit. The county would have to make arrangements to finance its share of the cost of the health unit, but Mr. Winchester pointed out that the cost would be nothing compared to the lives of the children saved, the improvement in the health conditions in the county and the happiness that results from such conditions.

Mr. John M. Henderson, United States Division Public Health Engineer, following Dr. Winchester explained how the federal government participated in the operation of the Ellis health law. Mr. Henderson is working with Dr. Winchester in Glynn county.

Dr. Winchester and Mr. Henderson came to Statesboro on their invitation of the Chamber of Commerce, and the county Commissioners who are interested in setting up a health unit in Bulloch County. Mrs. Virginia Varner, District Advisory Nurse of the State of Georgia was instrumental in arranging for Dr. Winchester and Mr. Henderson to come to Statesboro.

DR. WINCHESTER SPEAKS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

GLYNN COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER TELLS HOW BULLOCH COUNTY MIGHT ORGANIZE HEALTH UNIT

Tuesday, at its regular meeting, the Chamber of Commerce heard M. E. Winchester and John M. Henderson describe the health conditions that exist in Glynn county and how Bulloch county might become one of the healthiest counties in the state.

Dr. Winchester stated that his department works hand in hand with the school system and that it is his duty to check every case of every type of disease that may develop. Every school teacher is required to pass a thorough physical examination before they become associated with any of the schools in the county. Every child entering school is given a tuberculin test in order to detect possible cases of tuberculosis and in the event it is discovered, immediate steps are taken to place the child in the proper surroundings in an effort to cure or to arrest the case. Remarkable success has favored these precautions.

Exceeding care is taken in the examination of all domestics, both colored and white, before they are allowed to work in the homes in the county.
