EDITOR

Editor of The Bulloch Herald:

I note in your paper what has been written regarding the college football stadium situation.

I am a former student of the college and am very interested in the football teams there. Being a grocer I have not been able to attend the games when played here in Statesboro as much as I would like. Since the games last year were played on Saturday afternoons it made it almost impossible for me to attend.

I agree very much with Mr. Grady Johnston's letter regarding night football and hope that it can be played in Statesboro. I feel sure that there must be a great many business men who because of their business are unable to attend the games when played in the afternoon, but would attend games played at night. With T. C. growing by leaps and bounds and it being recognized all over the state it seems that night football would be a great drawing card for it. It is my hope that soon we will be able to see T. C. play her schedule in a stadium and that her team will be as strong and as good as the teams she plays.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

VOLUME 1.

STATESBORO, GA., FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1937

BULLOCH SET FOR TOBACCO MARKET OPENING

Market Will See
Three Warehouses
Open to Farmers

MARKET EXPECTS TO EXCEED THREE AND A HALF MILLION POUNDS; 30 NEW BARNES HAVE BEEN BUILT IN COUNTY.

With less than a week away until the opening of the tenth tobacco selling season for Statesboro, tobacco curing in the county has reached its height, with every curing barn filled to capacity.

With three warehouses opening here for the first time in the history of the market the local market expects to exceed last year's sales of over three and one half million pounds.

To date the crop in this section has been grown, gathered and cured well. The crop was seriously threatened during the plant-setting season by blue mold, and while some few farmers were never able to get the desired acreage others more than made up for the loss. A month ago farmers believed the crop this year would be lighted in tobacco but tobacco is curing out much heavier and with more body than was expected.

The fact that upward to 300 new barns have been built in the county is an indication that there will be an increase in the tonnage. It is true that some of these barns were added because of uneven setting. Farmers in general express the belief that the crop this season is far above what was anticipated two months ago in acreage, tonnage, and grade.

On the opening day last summer the Statesboro market sold 2,450,000 pounds for an average of 21 cents and the second day 250,000 pounds sold for an average of about the same. With a new house here this summer the crowded condition that prevailed at times last summer will be eliminated and it is believed the first few days will find the poundage running about the same each day.

The Statesboro market has always been a leader in the one-set-buyer class and has handled as much and in some cases more than ten trucks than in the past had more than two houses and two-sets of buyers.

Local Market To Have New Selling
System on Floors

TOBACCO TO BE SPACED ON FLOORS TO SPEED SELLING AND SAVE WEED; FIRST SALE IN EACH HOUSE EVERY 3RD DAY.

At a meeting held Tuesday morning of the warehousemen who will operate the three tobacco warehouses in Statesboro, a uniform sales system was adopted for the Statesboro market.

The warehousemen making up the meeting were W. E. Cobb, H. P. Foxall, R. E. Sheppard and Charlie Randolph.

The sales system adopted is fashioned along the lines of the North Carolina system. The tobacco in each of the three warehouses will be spaced with wide aisles to allow the buyers more freedom and will speed the sales on the floors. It will also eliminate the usual tramping down of the tobacco by people moving about in the houses.

With three warehouses this year the sales will rotate with two complete warehouse sales each day with a first sale at each warehouse every third day.

It was also learned that a Board of Trade will be organized and that there will be a publicity agent to give the proper publicity that the Statesboro market demands.

All the warehousemen agree that the tobacco in this section this year will be good. They state that it seems to be curing out smooth and clean.

BISHOP O'HARA VISITS BROOKLET FAMILIES

Visits Strozz and Denitto Plantations; Plans to Return in Fall of Year at Christening of Farm

The little Catholic community on the Strozz and Denitto Plantations near Brooklet was honored by a visit last week from the Most Reverend Bishop Gerald P. O'Hara, of Savannah and Atlanta. With him were Roy Burns, who led the prayer, and Thos. F. F. and Andrew McDonald, who assisted in saying mass.

Immediately after the services breakfast was served by Mrs. Salvatore DeNitto, assisted by Mrs. Bennie Strozz, Mrs. John Nitto and Mrs. Fortuna Strozz.

The group were happy to learn that the bishop would return in the fall at which time the Strozz-DeNitto plantation will be named.

PROTECT WOODS FROM FIRE

A tree will make a million matches—a match will destroy a million trees.
Take no chances with lighted matches, tobacco, brush or camp fires.
Forest destruction is quick—forest growth slow.
Turned timber pays no wages.
When fire is discovered, put it out if you can. Get help if you need it.
ARE YOU PRACTICING PREVENTION AND FOREST PROTECTION?
GROW TIMBER—IT PAYS!

LOOKING TO JULY 29

Next week will be featured by tobacco growers moving into Statesboro by truck, mule and wagon, on foot and in the family auto. The tobacco market will open Thursday. All during the week they will be bringing their golden product here to be placed on the floors of the three warehouses. If they come the earlier part of the week they will sleep and eat with their tobacco until opening day, if they come the latter part of the week it will be in the late hours of the night, having spent the earlier parts in finishing off that barn or loading the last load, but come they will.

The market gives promise of being one of Statesboro's greatest. With an additional warehouse the three and one-half million mark of last year is expected to be exceeded.
Statesboro has not had a market forever.
Its first market was held in 1928 with the opening of the Statesboro Tobacco Warehouse Company's two houses. The market here is the farthest most market to the north in the state and the market farthest to the east in the state.

It is believed that the coming market will be the county's greatest. Added warehouse space and large acreage in this and surrounding counties indicate that there will be a new record for tonnage.

COME AGAIN AND WELCOME

This week-end marks the end of the first session of the Teachers College Summer School. There will be close to seven hundred who will leave here to return to their respective homes. These summer students constitute so many walking advertisements for Statesboro. They will have spent six weeks in our city and will have received a good many impressions which they will take away with them to be remembered, we hope, pleasantly. We join all Statesboro in saying "Goodbye and we wish you a most pleasant school year and we'll be seeing you next year."

Parents of children who will return to school this fall or of children who will be entering school for the first time, are urged to see that their children are given the necessary immunizations before the beginning of the next school term. During the summer months especially, typhoid vaccinations are a very important precaution against the danger of typhoid fever, and those who have not had this vaccine administered should do so.
Smallpox vaccinations are required for every child before entrance into school, and every pre-school child between the ages of six months and six years should also be given the diphtheria toxoid, which is almost one hundred percent effective in preventing the disease.

It is strange, but nevertheless true, that many persons who wouldn't think of plowing through a drawing room with cries of "Gangway! Here I come!" climb into their cars every day of the week and commit, on the streets and highways, the exact parallel of that social offense.

This fact lends point to the slogan of so many safety campaigns, to the effect that courtesy and safety go hand in hand. It's a long time since Alphonse and Gaston disappeared from the comic strips; but the spirit of of "You first, my dear Alphonse!" would go a long way, today, to remedy traffic ills.

We are being overwhelmed by the younger crowd, in and out of our office, all aspirants for the loving cups and medals being offered the winners of the Bulloch Herald's tennis tournament which is to be held the first part of August.

FARM LIFE CAN BE GOOD LIVING

Gradually under the united impact of spreading modernity given impetus by rural electrification, the days when life on a Bul-loch county farm meant unending drudgery and denial of a large part of the conveniences regarded as everyday essentials in urban homes, are passing.

An indication of the catching up with the world is in the fact that there are approximately 3,000 radios in the 5,000 homes in Bulloch county. The power company has recently started a rural electric line to Nevils, local refrigerator dealers are covering the county with kerosene refrigerators, the Library Board is sending up-to-the-minute reading matter into the rural communities.

Thus the march of progress spreads, reaching those who stand most in need of its modernizing touch. Recently reports indicate that farm youth is again trekking to the city, but electric lighting and electric power to operate the utensils of the homes and the barns will do more than anything else to check this migration and keep them on-the-farm.

Given the simple conveniences that modern civilization can bring, electricity, good paved highways, good schools and churches, and easy access to the community centers, there is no life that can compare for the average man, to that on the farm.

Planted in the midst of his own acres the wise farmer may be completely independent.
He can raise, first, the crops for food for his family and feed for his livestock. He can raise, secondly, those money crops best adapted to his soil and available markets and live in a manner unrivaled by any of his city cousins. The auto truck makes it easy for him to transport his products to market and the passenger car makes it easy for his family to visit the city whenever they desire to attend some particular cultural or entertainment attraction.

The consolidated schools bring education easily within reach of his children and when they grow older there is the our own South Georgia Teachers College to provide those branches of higher learning that will best fit them for life.

Surely there is no place on earth where a man may more completely enjoy his living than here in Bulloch county with these things, if not already at his command, they will soon be.

It takes courage to blow a whistle under the circumstances under which the ones in Statesboro are being blown so much recently.
And they are not Boy Scout whistles either.
Traffic is being speeded up by the close attention that the local police are paying to it.
Double parkers are courteously requested to move on, light jumpers are cautioned, and traffic in general is being moved more to the comfort of the local drivers.

MORE LIVESTOCK CERTAIN

"The unintelligent selfishness which seeks to 'freeze' southern or United States agriculture at its present status will fail," says Dr.
Tait Butler in The Progressive Farmer, in a discussion of reduction of acreage devoted to cash crops. Pointing out that if Southern soils are to be made fertile, it must be done with legumes, and that it is an economic necessity to use these legumes in the way to get the most from them, this veteran editor adds:

"There is the mistaken idea in some quarters that the south will continue to eke out a bare living from the cotton it can sell and that the livestock producers of other sections need not fear any competition in livestock production from the south. It is true that cotton growers will not attend to livestock so long as they can supply their need by growing cotton. But the necessary restriction of cotton production and an increasing ambition for a better living on the farms of the south are forcing them and will continue to force them into more livestock production. No man-made laws or arbitrary regulations will prevent this.

"All that is necessary to increase livestock production in the south and make it profitable if carried on in connection with present farming operations is the will to do so and that is being rapidly provided by the necessity of restricting cotton production."

MONTREAT, N. C. — RAINING ... and then RAINING some more, just as when today the cannonading came across the mountains, seemingly from the heights of Old Gray-beard, the 6600 ft. of rock and dirt nature piled just north of us with reckless abandon. One of the wild-ers smart chillun remarked the other afternoon that "God musta had plenty of rocks when he made this country," and truly he must. At first sound we thought Mt. Mt. Col. Franco, Hitler, Mussolini, and all the Japs and Chinese were having a little practice ball game over beyond the hills using dynamite for pitching the ball. Mike, who had gone straying up the mountain side, had been hurt, fell started to steeple his head, but his feet played him an ornery trick and shot out from under him, whence he came in home in a beautiful roll, sliding in just as the other two "never-at-homes" suddenly decided their presence at the home base had been requested. Then IT RAINED. ... and it is still RAINING. Bob Loveman, our beloved Georgia poet may have thought he was right when he sang long ago:
"It is not raining rain to me, it's raining daffodils. . . and etc.," but friend of mine, I want you to know that it wasn't this kind of rain he was talking about. This isn't any daffodil rain, it's one of those dull, dreary, doleful, disturbing, dislatory downfalls that talks of more boll weevils, less cotton, rotten ended corn, disturbed hope, past due notes with nothing to meet them and not I almost added tears. Every drop on this dirt roof rings like the hammer of the auctioneer as he repeats in front of the courthouse door: "What am I offered, gentlemen? Somebody make me an offer. . . this is one of the finest farms in the 1575th district. . . once the property of the heavy day's plowing, sinking for a moment of rest before doing the evening milking. (And we imagine that if we ever sunk into one of those mile-deep chairs, Old Besty would go unthinkin' THAT night).

Scattered at random, printed upon the surface of great stones, are mottos supposed to furnish the intellectual with food for thought, (but we are sure if your reporter ever attained the necessary iron men for a stay at such a hot dog stand, he wouldn't be interested in "INTEL-LECTUAL" food). Boy, how I bet that old lady can fry beefsteak. Two of the mottoes appealed to us so much we are going to give them to you. One about midway where the silence is so deep and thick you could cut it with a knife, read: WHEN MONEY SPEAKS, TRUTH KEEPS SILENT. Evidently truth wasn't the only silent thing in that Hall of Wonders. The whole works was about as noisy as the Rheims cathedral, and I hope you know what I mean!!!!!! The other motto, just at the huge doorway as one departs, reads: THINK NOT SO MUCH OF WHAT THOU HAST NOT, AS OF WHAT THOU HAST.

And so the roommate and the old gent, whose eyes had imbibed a snatch of the beauty of that world he could never attain did a little quiet thinking of the humble little dwelling, the forty acres and the old gray mule. And so we wrapped were with the glory of the utterly magnificent, we even forgot to give a thought to faithful old Betsy and the forty Rhode Island Reds.

It's a great world, my fellow Communists, and we are ready for dividing time, when, as and if it comes.
—Your Roaming Reporter.

Well, boys and girls, your old mas-tro has at last decided what to do when Henry Ford leaves us that cool million. One day this week we drove up to Grove Park Inn, just outside of Asheville. There, about half way up the side of the mountain we beheld the most beautiful structure our eyes have ever seen. If I had a million I'd gather all my friends, near friends and enemies (and what a gang that would make) and take you to an outing at the Grove Park Inn, where the rates run from $8.50 to $24 PER DAY. I am not going to describe it, I couldn't.
My vocabulary is entirely too limited to do its justice. It is built entirely of rough rock pieces, many of which weigh a ton or more, just as they were blasted from the mountain side. You enter from the back, apparently, or from the mountain side, and you can walk thru to the down-hill side and from the twenty foot —veranda overlook, not only Asheville, but miles upon miles of the most beautiful scenery one could hope for. Wandering away to the north you can follow the magnificent French Broad river, justly appraised by the late Henry Van Dyke, the great poet, as the most beautiful bit of scenery on earth. Across in front of you some fifteen miles of the splendor of the great million-dollar Vanderbilt home in all its magnificence, a great gray, somber-ing castle, its turrets glittering in the summer sun. Back of one is the continuing glory of the Blue Ridge mountains and on every side the verdant green of virgin forests. If you could ever get so close to the most of ex-slaves were unwilling to go on the magnificent adventure. Afterward they sorely regretted their decision but it cost them forty years of aimless wandering and the never-ending sorrow of the past. They died before any serious attempt was made to win their homes.

Let me remind you that only a minority really followed Jesus when he was here. Most people spurned him and refused to credit his claim that he would win the world. Nevertheless he has made it true. He has made it true for us and as usual the majority come and accept his plans only after they see that they are working and after they see that the cost to themselves will not be great.
Minorities are leading today. Why will not men see the right and, joining that side, will by the sheer force of their numbers.

First Baptist Church next Sunday morning at 11:30.

C. M. COALSON, Minister

Many times majorities are wrong.
History has proved this over and over again. When human progress has been made in the past a determined majority has usually been in the lead. The cost to the few who take the lead in progress has always been very great, for men have a habit of stoning precursors to death and, a few years later, building enduring monuments to their hallowed memory.

A small minority of two courageous men declared that Israel could cross the Jordan and take the promised land. They believed that and were confident that their people were able to do what they were commanded to do. Yes, they lost, for the host of ex-slaves were unwilling to go on
the magnificent adventure. Afterward they sorely regretted their decision but it cost them forty years
died before any serious attempt

METHODIST CHURCH

G. N. RAINEY, Pastor

11:30 a. m. Preaching by the pastor: Theme, The Christian Home and the Community. The Questioned Associated with the theme: "Happy though married?" This is the third in the special series of messages on the general theme, The Christian Home.

There are those who hold that the church came into being when the home began to fail. Do you hold with this theory or do you think the home, church and the community each have their own function to perform? Are there any standards of morality and religion the community has a right to expect the home to maintain? Then are there standards the home has a right to expect the community to uphold? These and other phases of the theme will be discussed by the pastor.

8:30 p. m. The pastor will speak using as a text a part of the report the ten spies made upon their return from searching the land of promise and we were in our own sights as grasshoppers and so were in their sight. Numbers 13:33, as the church today looks upon the tasks of life it can be the grass-coper attitude toward it. It need not, therefore, be surprised when the world takes the same diminutive attitude toward it. It was a fine land, they said but that they were not able to take it. Joshua and Caleb, saw the danger and the difficulty but believed the task could be done. Davary does not consist in never being afraid but facing up to danger in spite of fear. What are the tasks of all's fair

We are certainly fortunate in having such lovely new people come here to make their homes with us—Mrs. Ernest Brannen, an attractive teacher and is so gracious with her talent. Mrs. Oscar Israel has a lovely voice, and since we lay some claims to the higher arts we welcome such additions. . . . Both Mr. and Mrs. Sumner have entered into religious and civic interests and are proving "one of us" in every sense of the word.

Dean Futch has decided to "Live Alone and Like It" . . . but he has such an attractive bungalow on U. S. No. 80 that I don't believe the enterprising girls of this day and age will let him get away with it—and come to think of it, it does need a feminine touch.

Know Clyde Vansant was glad to go swimming Sunday at the pool. Young Vansant, because of a deep wound on his leg, has been denied all the pleasures of the old swimming hole for several months. Heavily Louise Hughes Crouch, enumerating all the gifts of that astonishing pair, Rose and Ronald Varn, Jr., Alma Varnis children is a historian who, even at a tender age, remembers all his dates (which is more than some grown folks do) while Rose has a decided flair for poetry and drawing.

The Abtelle of Mulldowns, so much publicized by our masculine contingent, has certainly brought the lowly catfish in the limelight. Now it would be much more to our liking to have a cake baking contest and encourage such entrants as Mrs. Tom Brannen, Mrs. Donohoe, Willie Lee Groover, Lena Della Foy, Edna Brannen, Nell Ellis, Alma Coleman, and Melroe Kennedy. . . . Simon Donehoo, Doc Norris, Bruce Olliff and Roger Holland would qualify as excellent judges due to their superior knowledge regarding all culinary arts with Evelyn Poole as referee.

A symphony in yellow—nay rather I should call it a rhapsody—the party that Lila Averitt and Mrs. Grady Attaway had last Thursday morning. . . . zinnias, gladioli, and marigolds and refreshments a study in tints from amber to gold. . . . I've always known that Lila was artistic but this time she had a partner who could really assist. Mrs. Attaway is a graduate in that sort of thing.

Have you been to the hospital lately? When I first saw the bare interior I wondered if any one could relieve the emphatic air of "institution" it had, but now that the new furnishings are installed one would think that Orr Norris, or Lillian Franklin had set up housekeeping there. It's so nice and homey. Sewell Kennedy's room was especially attractive. . . . a bower of garden flowers and his own radio going full tilt bringing his favorite program to him while instead of five little beds in a row there are six! We are really proud of Raymond Kennedy. . . . now he can strut in that uniform Governor's staff members wear. He has a most responsible position on the new school board.

We hear a persistent rumor that our local glamour girl, a lovely blond will not teach this fall. It seems that the handsome brunette's arguments proved more powerful than a mere Board of Trustees.

P. S. You'll have to overlook it if my remarks inevitably return to romance and brides. . . . (old maids are sentimental, but I was just wondering if you knew that one of our newest bride couples was married by a woman. Yes, a woman issued the license and performed the ceremony. Then too I might pass it on to you that Catherine Pittman will buy her wedding dress while in New Orleans, shopping where her mother bought her bridal outfit. There's a young fellow who just finished high school this year who received a candid camera from his girl friend on his birthday. . . . by the way her birthday was this month too, and she received a tennis racket. I hope this doesn't bore you but "Love is News."

Romantically yours,
MISS JANE . . . ?

MRS. FOXHALL HONOREE AT BRIDGE PARTY

Wednesday morning Mrs. Heyward Foxhall was the guest of honor at a pretty morning party given by Mrs. Bruce Olliff at her home on Savannah Avenue. A profusion of garden flowers adorned the rooms where three tables were placed for the players. Mrs. J. H. Brett made high score and received a fan; Mrs. R. L. Cone was awarded a deck of cards for cut. A facon of perfume was her gift to Mrs. Foxhall. After the games the guests were served sandwiches and coca-cola.

DANCE AT NEW NORRIS HOTEL FOR TWENTY-FIVE COUPLES

Friday evening saw the spacious room of the New Norris Hotel beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers and dancers moving in time to music by the Wurlitzer. Twenty-five couples enjoyed the dancing and refreshments. The chaperones for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Burton O. Parks and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Norris.

EVERING BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Oscar M. Israel entertained informally at her home on South Main street in honor of Mrs. Beatrice Bulloch, who has recently come here to make her home. Guests were invited for two tables. Mrs. Israel's gift to the honoree was a pair of hose. High score prize for the ladies went to Mrs. Roy Green. This was a chiffon scarf. Mrs. Hal Thompson received a handkerchief for low. J. H. Wyatt and C. S. Cromley say there is no need to wait until the corn is matured to turn the pigs in the field. Their system of farming calls for some of the corn to be interplanted with soybeans. When the corn is plowed the last time these soybeans are large enough to graze. The spring crop of pigs can then be put right in the field.

One good method of starting a foundation herd of cattle is to use native cows with a good purebred beef sire, Cecil Anderson says. Mr. Anderson's calf crop this spring is unusually large calves.

P. F. Martin decided to check the value of Austrian winter peas with compost and commercial fertilizer on corn this spring. So far the Austrian winter peas is proving to be the best for corn.

Emerson Bell thinks the best way for a 4-H club boy to have money to go to college with is to start in club work early and put away all the money he can from his projects annually. In event Emerson fails to go to college he will have something to start farming with.

Hogs can be put on the market early before the seasonal drop if kept growing until they can be given some early corn, declares T. D. Vickery, who has some 50 head that will be marketable shortly.

D. M. Bell finds that one way to always have a herd of steers to feed out in the spring is to raise your own—using native cows and a purebred beef sire. The quality of steers Mr. Bell has to put on feed is equal to any he could put on feed earned money in.

MRS. DUKES TO ENTERTAIN THE READING CLUB
Because of bad weather last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Frank Dukes, our story-teller for the evening was unable to be present, but we are expecting to have her with us Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock with some good worth while stories that will be new to us, so we are inviting all those who will to come and enjoy this program. We had a large group of children to attend last Saturday but a good many were detained by the rain. Those that contributed to last week's program were Misses Althea and Alva Mae Martin and Arthena Burnside. The library will be open from 4:30 to 6:30 Saturday afternoon rain or shine. The story hour will be turned over to Mrs. Dukes at 5:00 o'clock. Be sure to come and be on time. The library will close strictly at 6:30 o'clock.

GETTING READY FOR TOBACCO MARKET

The tobacco growers of this community are now at the high point of curing their tobacco. A good many have already cured out more than half their crop. Evidently from the frequent visits of the tobacco warrens officials and the demonstrators encouragement, the farmers will be well pleased with the sales made this year. The tobacco seems to be curing out with a better quality than the growers anticipated and the production seems to be of a quantity to be proud of. Most farmers are now finishing their fadler pulling in spite of the daily showers we are having which is detrimental to the best curing. The darbies can begin getting in time for the old southern melodies which they always enjoy singing.

Some day when you yearn for scenic beauty and, like this household, can't go to these mountain retreats, etc., drive down near the little town of Arden in Bryan county and see, "Glenn Echo," the home of the late Glenn Smith. By chance we found it, having been invited to spend last Wednesday with the Eli Beasley party at Vandy's Bluff, and this being the route. In passing, we were so enthralled with its beauty that we were compelled to stop on our way home and found that two of the children not Mr. Smith still live there who very kindly showed us around and told many interesting facts about the place. They showed us an oak which Mr. Smith says is the largest in the county and we believed it. Ride down some afternoon and see for yourself.

TOBACCO MARKET HISTORY

will be operated by J. G. Tillman, Julian Tillman, and Charlie Randolph. Joe and Julian Tillman do not need an introduction to the people of this section. For many years Joe Tillman served Bulloch county as sheriff and for many years both Joe and Julian Tillman have been active in all affairs for the progress of the county. Their partner, Charlie Randolph, married Elizabeth DeLoach, a Statesboro girl, and considers himself a Statesborian by adoption. In the past he has been on the local market as a buyer for the American Tobacco Company.

The summer of 1937 is expected to add even more history for the local market. Being the farthest most market to the north in the state and the market farthest to the east of the state, with a large acreage planted in tobacco in Bulloch and other counties of this section, and with added warehouse facilities the present season will no doubt set a record for tonnage.

Both the old houses have been repaired and put in readiness for the opening next Thursday. The new house is completed and is also ready for service. The cry of the auctioneer is only one week away and when that time arrives the Statesboro market will again be making history.

BULLOCH EPWORTH LEAGUE UNION TO MEET HERE

The Bulloch county Epworth League Union will hold its regular monthly meeting with the Statesboro League at the Methodist church Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The program will be in charge of the local young people. After the program of the local young people, after the program games, a social hour and refreshments will be enjoyed.

NEW ROTARY OFFICERS INSTALLED THIS WEEK

Dr. J. H. Whiteside, retiring president of the Statesboro Rotary Club was presented a gold pat's presidents button, with a diamond stud, at the weekly luncheon program Monday at the Hotel Hotel.

The seven months old Statesboro Rotary Club installed new officers Monday. When the club received its charter in February officers were elected to serve a seven months period. The annual election of officers is held each summer.

The new officers installed at the meeting Monday were, S. W. Lewis president; Dr. A. J. Mooney, vice-president; and J. Gilbert Cone, secretary and treasurer. Secretary Cone was the original secretary of the club and was re-elected this summer.

Mrs. Lane Is Made Cononel and Asst. Historian of U.C.V.

RECEIVES HER APPOINTMENT FROM ADJUTANT GENERAL JOHN W. HARRIS. SHE HAS NOT MISSED MEETING WITH VETERANS ON MEMORIAL DAY IN 30 YEARS.

Mrs. Julian C. Lane, well known Georgia woman leader in Georgia, and a native of Statesboro, has again been honored by the Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, Gen. L. M. C. Claypool, having been made assistant historian of the U. C. V.

Mrs. Lane received her appointment this week from Adjutant General John W. Harris. The appointment carries with it the rank of Colonel and was given to Mrs. Lane in recognition of her loyalty to the Confederate cause.

Mrs. Lane has always been active in veterans work. She has not missed meeting with the Confederate Veterans on Memorial Day in the past thirty years. She is Honorary Commandant and official Adjutant of the local U. C. V. and as a historian she has been instrumental in our state records. During the World War Mrs. Lane was made Captain of the Red Cross Motor Corps and her interest in World War Veterans is no less than those of the Sixties. She has had the pleasure of having served applicants for pensions in the war. A few years ago she found a widow who in her early teens had married an elderly soldier of the Confederate Army. It was discovered that the husband of the widow had served also in the Mexican and Seminole wars. In addition to these veterans Mrs. Lane has also served veterans of the Spanish War.

Mrs. Lane has served as assistant historian under other commanders and the fact that she has been re-appointed to serve under General Claypool is indeed an honor that she richly deserves.

BULLOCH 4-H BOYS IN ESSAY CONTEST

The 368 4-H club boys in Bulloch county will compete for eight purebred gifts during next week.

The clubsters interested in the contest will submit to the county agent an essay of not more than 1000 words on the subject, "Value of the hog, hen, and cow program to my county." The essay will be due in the agents office not later than 6 p. m., August 10.

The papers will be judged by the committee upon knowledge and information the writer has of the subject. The clubsters can procure information for the paper from any source they desire. The judges have reserved the right to talk with the clubsters before making the awards.

Pigs will be delivered to the eight winners from Bulloch county and the seven other counties around Savannah August 16.

The winners will have a chance to show their ability as a livestock farmer at a show for the 64 pigs to be held later in the fall in Savannah. The winner of the group will receive a purebred heifer, while the four winners from the county will receive 100 purebred baby chicks each.

Bulloch county clubsters entering the contest are urged to assemble their information on the subject and proceed to write the essay in their own words.

Starrs, Roebuck and Company, Savannah, is giving the county agents in this section the financial backing for the project purely in an effort to increase interest among clubsters in the important part livestock plays in a balanced farm program.

WORK ON NEVILLS RURAL ELECTRIC BEGUN THIS WEEK

Construction of a new rural electric line, extending 15 miles from Statesboro to Nevills was begun this week, according to an announcement by W. W. Barr, manager of the Augusta division of the Georgia Power Company. The line is expected to be completed sometime in August. Fifty six consumers, who have never had electric service in the past, are expected to be served.

The Statesboro-Nevills line is a part of the power company's statewide program which calls for the construction of more than 700 miles of new rural lines and extensions, at a cost of almost $1,000,000 during 1937.

At the present time, the power company is serving more than 36,000 rural consumers in small communities and on individual farms. Since the beginning of rural electrification in Georgia nine years ago, the company has constructed approximately 3,300 miles of rural distribution lines.

A. P. BELCHER USES MODERN METHODS IN HIS HOG FARMING

Hog farming is not difficult if a farmer goes into it as they do in cotton or any other system of farming, according to A. P. Belcher.

Mr. Belcher has his field arranged for his hogs just as a cotton farmer arranges his field for cotton. The 53 head of hogs he will market during the next few weeks have moved from field to field just as the program called for.

In a statement made by P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company, before the Georgia Public Service Commission, Monday, it was learned that since 1928 the commission has made 28 reductions in the electric rates of the power company, of which nine have been applied to commercial consumers. In making this statement Mr. Arkwright declared that any further reduction in commercial electric rates would seriously impair the company's ability to finance necessary construction work, including the extension of rural lines into areas now unserved.

With above 325,000 pounds sold and 175,000 pounds left on the floors unsold, the Statesboro tobacco market opened its tenth tobacco selling season here yesterday (Thursday) with the biggest rush ever known for an opening day.

Sales began here in the Bulloch Tobacco Warehouse, where the first basket sold for 20c. Sam Robbins the grower also sold 2158 pounds on the first row for an average of 24 cents. The first 41 baskets sold averaged 25.31 and at the end of the first hour sales the average was $25.27 a hundred. The sales closed at twelve-thirty in the Bulloch Warehouse with approximately 175,000 pounds sold. In the afternoon the sales moved to Sheppard's Warehouse which sold approximately the same amount of golden weed.

Farmers were jubilant at the opening day prices and many unusual averages were recorded. The first Rural Resettlement farmers sales record was that of Wm. N. Kiecklighter, who sold 1396 pounds for an average of $25.50 a hundred. Kiecklighter is a horse farmer; this is his first year selling tobacco, and sold one-third of his crop Thursday. W. L. Essie Davis sold six sheets for an average of $31.66 a hundred. The highest tobacco sold was sixty cents with several selling for as high as forty cents. Sales ran from seven cents to sixty cents.

Farmers were well satisfied with the opening day's sale and no tags were turned. There was strong demand for smoking tobacco. Both domestic and foreign companies bought freely. The offerings were mostly first primings with at least ninety percent of the offerings lugs.

Last year the Statesboro market sold 240,000 pounds on the opening day for an average of slightly above 21 cents. The figures on the averages for the opening sales were not complete as this paper went to press but it is conservative estimated that the average would go two cents above the opening day last year.

With one house unsold here today Statesboro expects another blocky tomorrow.

Tobacco began pouring into Statesboro as early as Monday afternoon. Much weed was unloaded Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and night the grounds around the warehouses day for an appearance of a circus ground with trucks lined up for blocks at the doors of three houses. Fully 200,000 pounds of tobacco left Statesboro, Wednesday night unable to find space to unload.

Taken altogether there is a general feeling of jubilation over the situation, since the prices are two to three cents higher than last summer and it is known that there were will be more tobacco sold on the local floors.

MR. TOBACCO GROWER

HERALD TO GO INTO 3000 HOMES

We are happy to announce that the Bulloch Herald has been selected by the Tobacco Warehousemen of Statesboro Market to go into homes of every tobacco grower within the territory surrounding the Statesboro Market. Each week during the tobacco market The Bulloch Herald will go into more than 3000 homes of people in Bulloch and the surrounding counties.

The three local warehousemen have furnished the Bulloch Herald with their list of tobacco growers and each week these tobacco growers will read full details of the market activities and the advertising managers of the local progressive merchants.

It is the aim of The Bulloch Herald to promote the Statesboro Tobacco Market as it has never been promoted before. This is in keeping with the policy of The Herald, which adopted with its first issue, and which policy has been adhered to ever since.

During the tobacco season many merchants will have bargains galore to offer the people of this section. Tobacco growers who bring their weed to the Statesboro market will find everything that is needed on the farm and in the home with very attractive summer prices offered by the merchants. Every tobacco grower will do well to read the advertisements in this issue and the forthcoming issues and take the many advantages in trading in Statesboro.
