

Teachers Defeats Douglas 25-6

T. C. Drubs Douglas In First Night Game Before Large Crowd

Before a crowd of 2200 people the South Georgia Teachers defeated Douglas in the first night game of the season. The game was the first to be played in the new stadium and it was played under the newly lighted Municipal Playground before the largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Statesboro. The very touch of the chilly night air seemed to have every one of the fans keyed to the highest pitch of excitement and everyone seemed to be fully alert. The band playing out in full blast and everything was just wonderful and the most important thing was, that the Teachers won their first victory of the year.

Both teams scored in the first quarter. Golden scoring for the Teachers and Ransy scored for the visitors. Each team's try for the extra point failed. The two eleven ball evenly for the remainder of the first half.

In the second half the Teachers opened up early in the third full pass to Jeff Stewart who carried it the rest of the distance. This put the Teachers out in front by a touch-down. Later in the half two more touchdowns were chalked up, one being made on an end run by Stewart and the other came from manover pass from Battle, who passed to Rigby. This made the score 25-6 and it remained this way until the final whistle.

The Teachers outplayed the visitors from start to finish. They made more first downs, gained more yards, completed more passes and intercepted four of the Douglas passes. The Douglas kicker had the edge on the Teachers with an average of thirty-five yards to thirty.

NEVILS NEWS

BY MISS MAUDE WHITE

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION
The November meeting of the Nevils P. T. A. will be held Thursday afternoon, November 18th, at 3:30 o'clock. A program that is worth while is being planned. All members and patrons and their friends are especially urged to be present. Some very important business will be transacted at this meeting, so please show your interest by being present to have a voice in this matter.

HALLOWEEN PROGRAM
"The Interrupted Courtship," a comedy in three acts, was staged in Nevils High School auditorium Thursday night very successfully. This play was under the supervision of Miss Emma L. Adams, the music and expression teacher of our school. Much skill and talent was displayed by the characters as well as the leader in this presentation. After the play the cake walk and carnival part of the program began. Miss Evelyn Kennedy was crowned the Halloween queen from our high school department. We realized $58 from this show.

STATSBORO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
We are expecting to have the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce to meet at our school some time the latter part of November with the Nevils P. T. A. as host. Plans are being made for this occasion.
We are expecting to get the final answer from this organization some time within the next few days in regard to the date of their coming and the number of members and wives who will attend.

Mr. Brainerd Hodges, our Section A Seventh Grade teacher, is back with us after a severe two weeks illness. We are glad to have him back, for we missed him very much.
Miss Susan Snipes of S. G. T. C., one of the Rosenwald scholarship students, will be with us for one month to assist the teachers of our school in any way they wish. We are enjoying having her with us very much. We really think she is very beneficial to our school and inspirational to our faculty. We always welcome Miss Frances and her able helpers to our community, for no community can rise any higher in its social and economic life and in the culture of its citizen.

High Blue Devils Are Defeated By Inspired Millen Eleven 8 to 0

Showing the poorest exhibition of offensive football this season, the Statesboro High Blue Devils were defeated by the Millen Red Raiders last Friday afternoon on the Millen grid-iron by the score of 8-0.

Millen completely outplayed the Blue Devils after the first quarter, and the Millen boys stopped all attempts of the Statesboroians in trying to cross the glory mark. The offensive playing of the Blue Devils seemed to be at lead and they carried the game from the beginning until about three minutes of time left and out of a clear blue sky the Blue Devils back seemed to have awakened from a slumber. In three plays the Blue Devils ained about 40 yards and seemed certain they could get a touchdown. At the half the Millen team led by a 6-0 score.

At the beginning of the second half the Statesboro fans were hoping that the boys would dig in and go to work to overcome that six point margin. But instead, Millen evidently decided to increase their lead. During the first quarter the Blue Devils did some wonderful playing. They did score a touchdown, but it was a costly one, and it did not count. The second quarter Millen got a break as cashed in on this break and made it 8-0. The Blue Devils were in a bad pun and they were in a bad pun and they were in a bad pun.

Fame of the Bahamas Probably the greatest claim to fame possessed by the Bahamas is the fact that it was these islands which gave Christopher Columbus his first glimpse of the New World. It was the island of San Salvador, now known as Watlings island, which the great navigator first sighted on October 12, 1492, on his voyage in search of a new route to India.

J. L. Renfro Appointed To Judgeship Of City Court Until An Election Is Held

Three Candidates For City Court Judgeship Are Being Mentioned

STATSBORO MAYOR JUDGE LEROY COWART ACCEPTS STATE POSITION AND MAYOR J. L. RENFROE APPOINTED TO SERVE AS JUDGE OF CITY COURT

Statesboro's Mayor is Judge of the City Court, former Judge Leroy Cowart is state disbarred officer for the Georgia National Guards, and now who will be Statesboro's next Mayor? Mayor J. L. Renfro has accepted an appointment from Governor E. D. Rivers to serve as Judge of the City Court of Statesboro until an election can be called and a successor to Judge Cowart selected. Judge Renfro presided over the November term of City Court here Monday. Only pleas and uncontested matters were heard at the November term and no jury was called.

Former Judge Cowart was appointed to the office of disbursing officer of the Georgia National Guard to succeed Phil Brewster who became head of the newly organized State Highway Patrol. Major Cowart has been in his office in Atlanta now for more than a week.

Three candidates for the Judgeship have been prominently mentioned here. It is definitely known that Linton G. Lanier will seek the office. Mr. Lanier is a native of Bulloch county and has a large family connection here and has practiced law in Statesboro for the past fifteen years. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia Law School. It is also assured that Judge Renfro will be a candidate for the office.

Another candidate is Col. D. C. Jones, who served as solicitor of the City for six years. Though he has not made a definite announcement that he will run, it is believed he will be a candidate.

According to the state laws the Ordinary of Bulloch County must call a special election to fill the office of a county officer who has resigned. Just when this election will be called is not known. The present term of office of the Judge of the City Court expires after one more year and next year would be election year. At the same time county commissioners are elected in the primary. There are some citizens who have suggested that the primary be held early in the year and that no special election be called, thereby eliminating the expense of holding a special election.

Now the question arises, "Who will be Statesboro's next Mayor?" There is no answer to that question since no names have been mentioned as a successor to Mayor Renfro. It is understood that Mayor Renfro will resign his post with the city as soon as the special election for Judge is called.

Frank Zetterower of Dublin was elected president of the freshman class at the Teachers College, Wednesday. Two students from Statesboro were also given posts by the first year students.

All class officers, with the exception of the freshmen, are elected in the spring. The freshmen election is not held until mid term the first quarter in order to give the newcomers time to get acquainted with their classmates.

Zetterower defeated Pat Colquitt of Cedarport in a run-off 92 to 78. After the run-off the election of vice-president ended in a tie between Brantley Johnson of Statesboro and D. R. Barber of Bainbridge. Another run-off will be held later. Earl Byrd class secretary and T. A. Bacon, Jr. of Patterson was an easy winner for Manassas was elected class treasurer. In an election where there were six candidates, Ennis Call of Statesboro defeated Joe Joyner of Scriven in a run-over 66-68 for representative on the student council.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Yesterday marked the first day of the annual Red Cross Roll Call, which extends to Thanksgiving Day.

In considering the good that your answer to this Call will do let's look at last year's record of service given by the Red Cross:

More than a million persons, flooded out of homes and livelihood by the nation's greatest flood catastrophe in Ohio-Mississippi Valleys, were rescued, fed, housed, clothed and given medical care.

Red Cross public health nurses made more than a million visits to persons ill in their homes last year, assisted with the health inspection of hundreds of thousands of school children, held well-baby conferences and instructed mothers and girls in home care of the sick. Working chiefly in rural areas, where medical and nursing facilities are at a minimum, these nurses went to their patients' bedsides by car, on foot, on horseback, or by goat to give the trained care so helpful to recovery.

1,600 Emergency First Aid stations were established on highways to cut motor accident tolls.

7,000,000 homes and farms were self-checked for accident hazards and 8,000,000 boys and girls were enrolled in the Junior Red Cross and numerous other services rendered which were made possible by the Red Cross.

You can have a share in the fine work of the Red Cross by enrolling as a member during the Roll Call now being made.

MAKING GOOD

In Saturday's Savannah Evening Press there appeared the following editorial pointing out the Bulloch county men who have attained positions of prominence in the state: "Savannah's enterprising neighbor, Statesboro, the metropolis of Bulloch county, seems to be coming very strongly into statewide limelight through the naming of its citizens to positions of trust. It has become a sort of habit up in Atlanta for the news agencies to flash the appointment of a Statesboro man to some job of Statewide interest and corresponding responsibility.

"The latest information of this character came in Friday when it was announced that Maj. Leroy Cowart and Judge J. L. Renfro had been chosen to places of interest and importance by the Governor. The former is to be purchasing and disbursing officer of the Georgia military department. The latter is to serve as judge of the City Court of Statesboro. This is the place held for some time by Judge Cowart, who now takes up other duties.

"Those who are acquainted with Leroy Cowart and Judge Renfro are convinced the executive had made no mistake in attaching them to his official force. They are thoroughly equipped to attend to the duties of the offices to which they have been chosen.

"Statesboro, as has been suggested, is furnishing its share of public servants in the state's activities at the moment. Not so long ago Dr. R. J. Kennedy of Statesboro was named a member of the State Board of Education. He is doing fine work in that capacity.

"There are other Bulloch county residents, too, who have been called to perform a service for the state. And they are all making good."

These are all men who are living with us and have been all their lives. Their services are at home. There are other men who are also Bulloch county men who are making good in positions out of the state. Rupert L. Rackley, eldest son of W. J. Rackley, last week was made president of the Realty Board of Miami, Fla., the largest organization of its kind south of Philadelphia. Though Mr. Rackley has been away from Statesboro since 1925 he is still thought of as a Bulloch county man. We add him to our list of Bulloch countians who have made good. Congratulations to them all.

WHO'S AHEAD IN CHINA?

Newspaper accounts make it difficult for the average observer to know who has the best chances in the Sino-Japanese conflict. If we believe what we read from day to day we, like the music, sound 'round and come out here. The Current History magazine notes this difference: Both Chinese and Japanese soldiers are well armed; have excellent rifles and carry 50 rounds of ammunition. Suppose two of these soldiers were to fire these 50 rounds at each other, thus exhausting their immediate ammunition. At once the Japanese soldier would receive an issue of new ammunition. At best, the Chinese soldier would have to wait 24 hours, and under the circumstances would have to retire or be killed. Such is the efficiency of Japanese industry which lies in the hands of fifteen interests who control 70 per cent of it. But, that is in the present. Japan's industrial structure is one in which there are other people's raw material and manufactures them for other people's needs. Even the Japs agree that her lack of raw materials is overwhelming. The biggest surprise to Japan is the new nationalism of the Chinese people, an iron will to survive. This stiffening of the Chinese people has riddled the strategy of Nipponese militarists. So long as Chiang Kai-shek's Government continues resistance and gets the support of the people, there can be no peace for Japan. The war has spread over more fronts with more resistance than Japan thought possible. Cutting off overseas contacts is bound to plunge Japan into more international complications than mere campaigns against North China would do.

Americans eat on an average of 18 pounds of butter a year. Our Canadian neighbors and the Australians consume 29 pounds.

During the current year American manufacturers will spend some $70,000,000 for chain radio advertising. More than 25 per cent of this outlay will be accounted for by manufacturers of drugs, toiletries, and soaps. And this does not include the coast of talent to use on the programs.

The Egyptian first estimate of 1937 cotton production is placed at 2,264,000 bales of 478 pounds net compared with 1,887,000 bales for 1936.

The government cotton estimate released November 8 is not going to make things any easier for the government leaders when they meet in an attempt to shape a new farm program for the special session of Congress.

The new estate sets the 1937 cotton crop at 13,243,000 bales which is 670,000 males above the estimate a month ago. If the government estimates are correct the 1937 crop will be the largest in history. The largest to date being in 1926 with a crop of 17,978,000 bales.

An average American is a man who works hard all winter to fill his home with comforts and conveniences, and spends his summer in trailers, tourist camps, fishing boats and mountain shacks getting along nicely without comforts and conveniences.

A NEW START

Author Unknown

I will start anew this morning with a higher, fairer creed;
I will cease to stand complaining of my ruthless neighbor's greed;
I will cease to sit repining while my duty's call is clear;
I will waste no moment whining, and heart shall know no fear.
I will look sometimes about me for the things that merit praise;
I will search for hidden beauties that elude the grumbler's gaze.
I will try to find contentment in the paths that I must tread;
I will cease to have resentment if another moves ahead.
I will not be swayed by envy when my rival's strength is shown;
I will not deny his merit, but I'll strive to prove my own;
I will try to see the beauty spread before me rain or shine;
I will cease to preach your duty, and be more concerned with mine.

Cliponreka Cullings

By Your Roaming Reporter

Dear Patient Congregation:
Your one-time Roamer comes this morning feeling like a penitent to the altar and before the congregation to whom your love, affection and consolation in his latest bereavement. When the tax authorities and the loan man (Tom Rouse, dem him-til!) finally decided that they had milked old Betsy dry as the proverbial bone and found no further interest in his case, when various and sundry bank collectors and officials found no further interest in what was supposed to be his bank account (now long dead), in the ravages of Time and the encroachment of Old Age had left their telling marks upon his decaying carcass . . . when it seemed that all that was left of him had settled upon his feeble frame and certain he would be of no further service to mankind, winking or even the lower brutes (of whom there remaineth quite a crop) . . . it was then and there, immediately and forthwith (not to mention moreover) that one certain Head Cold did, with malice aforethought, set upon and claim for her very own this certain Roaming Reporter and did then and there with said evil intent sear his very soul, poison his disposition and cast him up like a torment bound soul upon the sands of injury. Using double sheets for handkerchiefs, this penitent has fought a good but losing fight and it seemed now that the next trip will be to East State, where we may be for that kind of travel. Even last night we caught Ben Deal, M.D., and impounded him for kindly aid and free advice, only to find that Ben v probably worse off than your truly, and decided if Ben could not do Ben any more good than that, he certainly would exhaust his medical skill on a charity patient in the free ward. There was one fleeting moment when we thought of that fine hospital, those charming nurses and that awful good looking Miss Zittrouer (did we get that right, Naomi?) and we did lead ourselves to believe that if we could, we would get a rest cure one of those Beauty Rest mattresses, a diet from that snow-white kitchen, a twice-daily alcohol rub from smooth and tender hands we'd begin improving in no time . . . but the other nine-ninths of this Reporter business killed that mental meandering by asking in that "what-sa-ye-manner": "How are you going to pay for all this hospitalization?" And you know that had a sort of quieting effect and so we drag out the passing rays, aching, snarling, biting and snapping. A kind friend confided to us that when we get this way we're meaner than forty bells . . . and don't doubt it. It is entirely possible we've even meant than that.

Along in the month of October a former Statesboro girl found herself right korbah in the middle of one of the hottest wars of the century and Mary Lee Carmatic (nee Jones) showed us a letter she had just received from her mother, but who had been named Mamie Healy, but who had been named Porrit to the name we knew as hers, wrote home. The letter, which was written from Hongkong, China, where Mamie had fled from her Shanghai home reads: October 4, 1937, Gloucester Hotel, Hongkong. Dear Mary Lee: Mamie thanks for your letter of August, which has just reached me. It was a long time, reaching Shanghai and then had to be forwarded on to me here. I am still sitting down here, but hoping to get back to Shanghai before much longer, although Mr. Pawley (my boss) and Jimmie (her husband) will probably insist on my staying here. There is no telling what might happen at any time in Shanghai and they'll probably order me to sit here and shut up about wanting to go back home, though I've written letters begging to go back. Mr. Pawley is on his way out from Europe now and will reach Hongkong on the 15th and maybe then I shall learn whether I am to stay in this inferno or go back to Shanghai and her bombs. Any hot weather we ever had in Shanghai was just a gentle zephyr, when compared to the terrible heat we have had here during September. In addition, we have had a cholera epidemic and even though I'm milking in the best hotel here, I have to be most than careful about what I eat and drink and in fact everything we touch. Right after I got here they had the worst typhoid since 1906 and even seems to be compelled to speak in superlatives during this year of grace 1937. What a year! We were just settling down well in Shanghai and business was plenty good . . . in fact that's why the dog-gone Japs started this dirty war . . . which seems destined to blow up everything. How don't know, as the property loss and the terrible loss of human life is too awful to contemplate. Until I die I'll apiece for all who drove the car

(And me" driving all the way to Dover this morning and getting a ten ton thrill out of that trip!!!!)

Uncle Hezy came in from across the creek this morning to send a money order for his drivers license and although we hadn't seen the old gent since he came back from his summer vacation we couldn't help but enjoy a full grown laugh at his expense. He was as near howling mad as we ever saw him and when we got it all boiled out of his system it had to do with taxes. "Give me a money order for three dollars," he began, and when we corrected him by saying, a drivers license only called for ONE dollar, he really got hot under the collar. "One dollar, nothin'," he yelled, "I've got to get a license for myself, the old lady and one fer John. You know John is the oldest boy and he has to drive the old Ford when we haul wood from the branch. You know that old Model T has already cost me more'n a lot of feller's Packards cost fer taxes and I haven't reached the end yet. I didn't have a wagon of any kind and it looked like we'd have to have some kind of outfit to haul wood and so on around the place, so me and the old lady and little boy to go on the old Model T out to get some goods we got from Jake Fine's store. Well when it come time to get a tag we sent off our three dollars fer a tag and because it wasn't a sedan nor a limousine we just called it a cut down truck. Then a feller come out of Atlanta in a big painted car and said some department was charged all trucks a maintaining tax and we must send them $4.50 or go to jail. Well that was about the time the weather was so hot and we didn't want to impose on him so we paid that and decided to tear the dern thing up. An we hadn't been able to get some bolts to put this yalv maintaining tax on before another soldier come along and sed we had to be examined before we could drive the care and hit cost a dollar to get examined, and since we had so much cotton to pick they wouldn't make us go all the way to Atlanta to be examined but if we js send them a dollar to contemplate. Until I die I'll apiece for all who drove the car

At The Churches

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
C. M. Coalsen, Minister

Loyalty to the gospel of the Son of God is more than the ability to repeat the old shibboleths of the creeds. A great deal of what passes today as the teachings of the scriptures is in reality the teaching of Dante, Bunyon, St. Augustine and other theological writers. If we are to be loyal to the gospel we must go back and find out what the gospel is.

The gospel is news concerning a way of life. It is so easy to substitute mental for actual service and men sometimes do so without being really conscious of it. Even many ministers are deceived by the fallacious idea that believing something can take the place of helping the world into a place where the will of God is done. Sanctimoniousness is easily put in the net of active piety.

How often we hear this advice given to ministers: "Preach the gospel and do not be meddling with social and political problems. The church is not a legislative institution. Its business is to prepare for heaven and not deal with problems of this life." I wish here and now to enter my solemn protest against the implication of that kind of "pother." Jesus spent almost all of the time of his ministry trying to make the world ethical in human relationships. How about the parable of the good Samaritan, the description from his own lips of the last judgment, and the golden rule?

Sunday morning we shall extend this discussion.
This whole city grieves over the departure of Brother Rainey and his fine family. This church will attend his funeral service at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

"In every thing give thanks" was the word of a great apostle to the people of God in the first century; while we should give special thanks as a nation in this season, yet christian people should always be thankful for the great fountain of all our comforts.

they could examine us by mail and give us permission to drive right down the hard road. An this is that three dollars and so we sold two of the best tires off the Ford to get the drivers license." Old Man Ethenide busted in right here and said, "But Hezy, the Ford won't be any use if you sold the tires off it. Yeh, replied Hezy, but the taxes will be paid, on that's what they're after. How in all heck is any feller going to set at a roll top desk in Atlanta an test my drivin ability anyhow. Hiss just another tax on the people, like we didn't already have more money we could pay it is. Take the schools. They taxed us to build brick houses an tore down better houses than you an me ever saw. They taxed us fer fireworks, electric lights, and went to haulin the children to school an then hirn folks to test 'em how to play so they wouldn't get muscle bound jist ridin. They taxed us fer free books when the children hadn't learned the ones they already had. They doubled the tax on cigarettes

Georgia's Area And Farm Production Figuers Show State Stands High

Cotton Is Grown In Nearly Every County

1. Georgia has 137,684,000 acres of land area, 19th among the 48 states in total land area and is the largest state east of the Mississippi river.

A-General Information

2. 67.3 per cent or 25,296,522 acre of Georgia's land area was in farm land in 1935 (43 per cent crop land, 25 per cent pasture, and 32 per cent woodland not pastured and other land).

3. Georgia has 250,544 farms with a total value in 1935, including land and buildings, of $429,755,216.

4. Georgia ranked 27th among the 48 states in the percentage of farm land devoted to harvested crops but 14th in the acreage (8,783,000) actually in harvested crops in 1934.

5. Georgia ranks 8th among the states in acreage of idle crop land (2,038,388 acres).

6. Georgia's 6,209,625 acres in pasture in farms gives her a rank of 26th among all states.

7. Georgia, with 11,675,369 acres in woodland in farms, ranks second among all states. Texas holds first place with 25,135,727 acres.

B-Cotton

1. Cotton is grown in 155 of Georgia's 159 counties. The acreage in 1936 by counties varies from 20 in several minor counties to around 60,000 in the largest. The three counties in Georgia with the largest cotton acreage are Burke, Laurens and Carroll.

2. Cotton ranks first in value among the crops of Georgia.

3. The acreage of 2,276,000 in cotton in Georgia in 1936 was approximately 22 per cent of the state's total crop acreage. The value of the crop of $3,975,000 (lint and seed) was 43.8 per cent of the total value of all crops in the state.

4. Georgia ranked 11th in yield per acre in 1936 among all cotton producing states and 5th among the states of the southeast.

5. Georgia ranked 5th in total production of cotton in 1936 (1,086,000) bales, Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Alabama exceeding Georgia's production.

6. Georgia ranked 5th in 1935 in cost of production per pound of lint cotton, with an estimated cost of 7.9c not including rent of land as an item of cost. Including rent of land at a cost of 9.5c per pound, Georgia's cost per acre of cotton in 1935 of $23.38 ranks her 7th in economy of production. Oklahoma had the lowest cost of $15.58 per acre. Georgia's greater yield per acre results in her more favorable standing upon a cost per pound basis.

8. Georgia ranked second among all states in the cotton belt in the purchase of 665,399 tons of commercial fertilizer in 1936, being exceeded only by North Carolina. Of the amount purchased in Georgia, approximately one-half was used under cotton at a cost of over $6,500,000, according to data secured through a country-wide survey.

9. Georgia used commercial fertilizer on 97 per cent of her cotton acreage in 1936.

10. The boll weevil caused the greatest reduction in yield per acre of cotton in Georgia in 1923 when the lowest yield per acre was recorded since 1875. The average yield of cotton per acre in Georgia, however, for the 54-year period 1932-1936 of 215 pounds, is 4.9 per cent above the pre-weevil average of 205 pounds (1914-1918).

11. It is interesting to note that Sea Island cotton is beginning to be grown once in extreme southern Georgia. This type of cotton was virtually eliminated from Georgia's agriculture about 1919 through ravages of the boll weevil.

C-Corn

1. Acreage of corn in Georgia in 1936 totaled 4,203,000, or 40 per cent of all crop acreage.

2. Georgia ranks 8th among the states in acreage devoted to corn and 145th in total production. The yield per acre, however, in Georgia, for the 10-year period 1923-1932 is the lowest of any state in the Union. All counties in Georgia grow this crop.

D-Sweet Potatoes

1. Georgia leads all states in the production of sweet potatoes. The average annual production for the state during the ten-year average period 1927-1936 was 9,001,000 bushels.

FORMER BROOKLET AND STATESBORO RESIDENT DIES AT LARGO, FLORIDA

J. C. Ludlum was called to Largo, Fla., because of the death of his sister, Mrs. Vernon Lewis, age 50, who died suddenly at her home in Largo. Before her marriage Mrs. Lewis had lived many years in the Brooklet community, and for a number of years she lived in Statesboro and was connected with the Statesboro Telephone Company.

Funeral services for the deceased were conducted at the Methodist Church in Largo, and interment was in the Largo cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Mrs. Alma Hassett, both of Brooklet, Walter H. Lewis of Largo, by her brother, J. C. Ludlum and a sister, Mrs. C. C. Ludlum.

OLD-AGE INSURANCE CLAIMS BEING PAID

A steady flow of claims for lump-sum payments of Federal Old-age insurance is being certified, including a total of 240 in Georgia up to October 1, 1937, it is announced by J. W. Overstreet, Jr., Manager of the Social Security Board's Savannah Field Office. Included in that total, Mr. Overstreet said 26 have been certified in those counties served by the Savannah office. He stated that to date a total of 85 claims have been filed following the local office.

Mr. Overstreet explained that there are two types of lump-sum benefits under the old-age insurance provisions of the Act that can be made any time after December 31, 1936. One is a benefit which an eligible worker may obtain upon reaching age 65. The other is known as a death benefit.

"About 72 per cent of male wage earners who die leave a widow," Mr. Overstreet pointed out. "In more than half the cases in which old-age insurance claims have been filed, the amount of the claim was all that the deceased had to leave for his family."

More than 41 death benefit claims and 99 claims of eligible workers who have reached age 65 already have been certified in Georgia. The claimants are men and women who have earned wages in a factory, shop, mill, mine, store, or some other line of business, included under the law since December 31, 1936, and before reaching age 65; and, relative or estate of those who have died this year."

Mr. Overstreet declared that, in the case of a death claim, the worker's relative or executor of his estate should obtain the proper application form, fill it out, furnish proof of the claim and send the information to the Social Security Board, Livestock, said, "eligible workers, upon reaching their 65th birthday should obtain application forms."

Residents of Toombs and nearby counties may obtain application blanks by writing to the Savannah Field Office, located at 206 American Building, Mr. Overstreet said, adding that claimants are assisted free of charge in filing claims.

BOARDER HEN NOT WORTH FEED; CULL

Non-Producers Will Bring No Profit From Eggs.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, Bulloch University—WNU Service.

Don't feed boarders if it is the aim to maintain high egg production during the summer months.

Egg prices will probably begin to advance soon, but in view of present grain prices, the hope of profit in egg farming lies chiefly in keeping egg production at relatively high levels.

Cull the laying flocks carefully, removing birds which have stopped producing. Such birds are easy molters with yellow pigmentation on the shanks and beaks and with withdrawn combs.

Carry on the same feeding program as in winter and provide an ample water supply. There should be no let-up in feeding, for it requires lots of good food to produce eggs no matter what the season.

Do not change rations in summer. Keep the nests clean, sparsely littered, well ventilated and sufficient in number to furnish one nest for every five hens.

Gather eggs at noon and in late afternoon. Preferably, using wire baskets which permit a circulation of air and rapid cooling. Store eggs in a cool, somewhat moist room and market them frequently during hot weather.

Remove any male birds—except young ones for hatching may be still desired—and produce only fertile eggs for table use.

Good quality stock is necessary to get the best results in summer egg production regardless of fine management. If present stock is questionable as to breeding, perhaps the coming fall will offer a good opportunity to change.

Shipping Inspection for Fruit and Vegetables

This is the fifteenth year of the federal shipping point inspection service for fresh fruits and vegetables, administered by the bureau of agricultural economics. Nearly five times as many carloads of these commodities were inspected at shipping points in 1936 as during 1923, the first full year this service was available.

During the first years the service was available in only a few states and only during the harvesting season of certain products. Today it is available during the entire year, and under co-operative agreements with the state, in California, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Oregon, Texas, Utah, and Washington.

In other states, with the exception of New Mexico, Kentucky, and Vermont, where no co-operative agreements are in effect, the service is offered during the season of the major fruits and vegetables if the volume for inspection is sufficient to permit prohibitive costs to users.

In nearly all parts of the country the service is self-sustaining. A few states have small appropriations which are used to supplement the fees collected.

The United States Department of Agriculture receives from the inspection fees only enough to cover the cost of supervision and general overhead expenses.

Don't Wash Eggs

Eggs have a natural bloom to them when fresh. When state they become slick, or shiny. This bloom seems to be made up of the pores in the shell, which may be seen upon close examination. When a hen sets on the egg a few days, when the egg becomes old, or when it is washed, these tiny pores become stopped up and the egg cannot "breathe" with a consequent deterioration in quality. For that reason, says the Missouri Farmer, eggs should never be washed if they are to be sold on the market. A better way is to wipe them off with a dry cloth, or sandpaper the spot of dirt off with a piece of sandpaper or emery cloth.

Farm Notes

Apples, pears, and peaches are produced in three-fourths of the states.

A daily loss of nine ounces per 100 eggs during the incubator period indicates that the proper humidity is being maintained.

Milk or cream cooled quickly after milking time keeps much better in hot weather than that which is allowed to cool slowly.

Agricultural authorities say a single barberry bush can harbor 64,000,000 acres of grain-destroying, black-stem rust.

It is estimated that in the United States 12,000 dozens of eggs are laid every three minutes, day and night, throughout the year.

South Dakota's duck crop for 1937, in 38 of 60 counties, not including four United States refuges, is estimated to be 325,000 to 350,000.

Silver Wedding Brilliant Event

A beautiful event of Saturday evening, November the sixth, was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Anderson at their home on Zetterover Avenue in observance of their silver wedding anniversary. The lower floor of the spacious home, decorated with a profusion of yellow and white chrysanthemums interspersed with maidenhair fern, presented an exquisite setting for the occasion.

The guests entered through the music room where the receiving line was formed. Mrs. W. E. Dekle greeted them as they arrived, and they were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. F. L. Williams. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were their daughter, Carol, and Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sharpe.

Mrs. Anderson was lovely in a royal blue velvet gown softly molded to the figure, designed with a neckline outlined with intricate details of steel beads. Her corsage was of tallies and roses, the lovely gifts were displayed in the sun room. Left DeLoach presided there and was the door from which the guests departed.

Mrs. Z. S. Henderson, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. C. B. Matthews, Mrs. G. Moore, Mrs. Roger Holland and Mrs. W. M. Phillips rendered many lovely musical selections during the evening.

About one hundred and thirty five guests called between the hours of eight and ten.

all's fair

Some day Joe Tillman is going to blow up and bust. We saw him at the football game last Friday night and he was pacing up and down like a caged lion. . . . And if Coach Johnson did not let Edwin Groover, Joe Robert Tillman and the rest of his "pony backfield" play ball some time soon there is going to be "mutiny on the bounty."

And how did Blitch and his one and only have buried the hatchet and all is hunky-dory. . . . And the Big Apple is not confined to the younger set, 'cause we saw Vern Martin out at Cecil's trucking up a storm. . . . And Cecil's hamburgers are something to stay away nights over.

This week's mystery—where does Hoke Brunsen come home from, late at night? Some "lady in blue"? Oh, well, we suspect that it will remain unsolved. . . . If John Mooney and Bill Bowen don't give up flying of Sally and Honey don't take up flying, somebody in these two families are going to blow their tops. . . . And Jerry Rushing getting married, remember the tall lieutenant from the CCC camp when it was at Brooklet? Wrong—he is not the lucky one. We just happened to think of him. . . . And that crowd who went to see Georgia play Florida, we bet they regret having gone. . . . And aren't the Teachers-Gordon game Saturday afternoon. . . . Silver weddings mean nothing to Mrs. W. H. Sharpe, what with her and Mr. Sharpe's wedding in the not too far future. . . . And Willie Groover in white evening gown with brief jacket of bright colored sequins. . . . And Alma Booth turning back time. . . . Butlers meeting us at the door. . . . And the bride and groom. . . . Ah, me. . . . Carol and Billy? . . . And if Dr. McGinty is not just . . . of his kind. . . . And his worries do not age him like ours. . . . And this bunch who go over to Swainsboro every Sunday night to the picture show worries us. . . . It makes us wonder why we can't have them here on Sunday. . . . And what is worrying Margaret Brown that she has to seek the advice of Fortune Tellers? . . . And Sara Poindester glad to see all her pals. . . . Our Anniversary, and Merry Christmas. . . . And Jessie asks Mrs. Mac to do it to Barney. . . . "Decided our anniversary is soon," says Jessie. . . . We see that bunch of deer hunters chaffing at the bit waiting for the 15th. . . . And if we ever have any money we are going to let Kermit Carr take care of it for us. Post Office To Take Census Of The County's Unemployed

POSTMASTER GEO. GROOVER EXPLAINS WHO SHOULD AND WHO SHOULD NOT REGISTER FOR UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

In a statement made this week by Geo. T. Groover, postmaster, it was learned that during the period from November 16 to 20, the Post Office Department is to take a national census of the unemployed and the partly employed.

On Tuesday, November 16, stated Mr. Groover, the Statesboro post office will deliver an Unemployment Report Card to each of four thousand dwellings served by this office here in Statesboro. These report cards must be filled in and returned to the Statesboro post office before midnight Saturday, November 20.

Mr. Groover stated that no postage stamps are needed to return these cards, as they may be placed in any mail box or handed to any mail carrier for delivery.

The return of the report cards is voluntary on the part of the worker. In his statement, Mr. Groover said that if anyone is unemployed and wants to work, that that one should register, since this is the only way in which the President and the Congress can secure information upon which to formulate a program to give the people of the United States unemployment relief.

PERSONS WHO SHOULD REGISTER

In explaining who should register, Mr. Groover stated that persons who are totally unemployed, able to work and want work, should register. Included in this group are the following:

(1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work.

(2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, but who are able to work, and want work.

(3) Persons who have never worked at all, but are now looking for their first jobs.

(4) Persons working part-time at regular jobs, who are able to do work and want more work.

(5) Persons employed part-time on irregular jobs, who are able to do more work, and want more work.

(6) Persons working on any project, which is considered emergency work, and is supported by public funds, either National, State or Local.

PERSONS WHO SHOULD NOT REGISTER

Mr. Groover in explaining who should not register stated that the following groups of employed persons should not fill in and return unemployment cards.

(1) Persons who are working full time for wages, commissions, or who devote full time to their own business, farm, or professional practice.

(2) Persons who are working part-time, except on emergency work projects which are supported by public funds, and who do not want more work.

(3) Persons who are on a strike unless they are actively seeking another job.

(4) Persons who are temporarily sick or disabled but have a full time job to which they will return as soon as they get well.

(5) Persons who are on vacation or taking time off from job to which they will return.

(6) Administrative employees of agencies which are conducting emergency work projects which are supported by public funds.

(7) Persons who are unable to work because of permanent disability or chronic illness.

(8) Persons who have retired or do not want to work.

(9) Young persons who are excluded from work because a state child labor law or local ordinance.

Postmaster Groover cautioned that before all report cards are returned to the post office to be sure all questions are answered correctly. The name at the top of the card should be printed clearly and distinctly. Give the first name, middle name or initial, and last name. Do not give any information on the card that is not asked for. If you do not know how to fill in the card, or can't write plainly, get someone to help you.

Any further information as to who should, or should not register, or the manner in which report cards should be filled in, may be secured at the post office or from any mail carrier, said Mr. Groover.

Blue Devils Turn Sylvania Game Into Track Meet To Score 47 Points

Displaying tremendous power and bullet-like speed the Statesboro Blue Devils gave the 1200 people that were at the game last Friday night proof that they still have one of the best teams in the district and that if they can get those tough Millen boys back over here in their backyard they will do the same thing to them that they did to the Sylvania boys Friday night. The Sylvania boys were doped to beat the Blue Devils at least one touch-down, but the boys in blue upset the bucket and trampled the Sylvania team by the lopsided score of 47-6.

Sylvania started out as though they were going to lick the home boys by scoring in the opening minutes of the play. Bell made enough yardage in four plays to account for the first two downs. Mobley then dropped back and passed to Brandt who ran the remaining five yards to score. The try for extra point failed. The Statesboro boys seemed to have been caught napping. But six points woke them up and on the kick-off Gene Hodges took the ball on the thirty-five yard line and behind perfect interference ran sixty-five yards to score. The extra point failed. After this the Blue Shirts had all the fun.

In the second period they completed three drives that netted three touch-downs and two extra points. Robert Hodges, Skeet Kennon and Davis Barnes doing most of the ground gaining. The second score came after a twenty yard run by Robert Hodges, fifteen yards by Kennon and Barnes bucking it over. Barnes made the extra point also. The third came after a fifteen yard run by Hodges and a nice thirty yard sprint by Cone which carried the ball over. Barnes again bucked the line for the fourth and the fourth came after Kennon sliced off fifteen yards around end and successive line gains by Cone and Barnes. Barnes finally bucked through the center of the line for the score.

In the third quarter the Blue Shirts scored once, Barnes scoring after Hodges made several gains to put the ball in scoring territory. In the final period two more touchdowns were made one resulting from a beautiful run of six yards by Robert Hodges, and the other the ball on his own goal line and ript off sixty yards. Barnes scored after this run and Hodges scored again. The final score being 47-6 in favor of the underdog, Statesboro High.

OFFICIAL ESTIMATE PLACES THE 1937 COTTON CROP AT 18,243,000 BALES, 670,000 MORE THAN THE OCTOBER ESTIMATE.

Government estimators, on November 6, estimated the 1937 cotton crop at 18,243,000 bales, which if realized, will be 265,000 bales more than the previous largest crop of 17,978,000 bales in 1926. The new estimate was 670,000 more than the indicated production one month ago.

This official forecast will add to the difficulties of government leaders attempting to shape a new farm program for the special session of Congress which meets this month. The crop board also estimated the average yield per acre at 288.8 pounds for the entire cotton belt. This tops all previous yields. This year's crop is being produced on 33,736,000 acres of land.

Abandonment of acreage this year was much less than average and favorable weather and other conditions combined to boost the production estimate each month after the first official forecast in August.

It is rather interesting to note that the 1937 cotton crop in China is not expected to exceed 4,000,000 bales, compared with earlier estimates of 4,200,000 bales. This crop estimate of 4,000,000 will be an all time record for China. Plantings were increased from 10 to 15 per cent this year.

The Turkish cotton crop this year is likely to establish a new high record by exceeding 250,000 bales, according to the Cotton and Cotton Oil Press.

Military operations in the Shanghai territory have destroyed many cotton fields, in addition to damage done to the crop by heavy rains.

COACH B. A. JOHNSON AND HIS BLUE DEVILS LEFT THIS MORNING FOR GRAYMONT, GA., TO PLAY THE BULLDOGS OF EMMANUEL COUNTY INSTITUTE. Coach did not say as to what he expects out of his boys this afternoon, but he knows that he is going up against one of the toughest teams of the Blue Devils entire schedule.

Should the Blue Devils win this game they will have a very good chance of winning the Eastern Division Championship and also the right to play in the play-off game for the First District Championship. But if they lose the game this afternoon they will be out of the running for the title.

The Blue Devils will use their Thanksgiving dinner next Thursday night by playing a tough Reidsville eleven on the Municipal Playground Football Field.

The Reidsville team is a new foe on the Statesboro High School football schedule and little is known about them although it is expected that they will bring a good football squad over here.

The Teachers will play Armstrong Junior College Thanksgiving afternoon.

THANKSGIVING

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is bright—
The gleam of the day and the stars of the night,
The flowers of our youth and the fruit of our prime,
And the blessings that march down the pathway of time.

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is dear—
The sob of the tempest, the flow of the tear,
For never is blindness, and never is vain,
Thy mercy permitted a sorrow or pain.

We thank Thee, O Father of all, for the power
Of aiding each other in life's darkest hour;
The generous heart and the bountiful hand
And all the soul-help that sad souls understand.

We thank Thee, O Father, for days yet to be
For hopes that our future will call us to Thee,
Let all our eternity form, through Thy love,
One Thanksgiving Day in the mansions above.

Smith's Hatchery Has Qualified Under The 1937-8 Poultry Plan

Since Smith's Hatchery has qualified under the National Plan it will be possible for the local hatchery to distribute chicks as "Georgia U. S. Approved Pullover Tested" stock. A certificate will be issued to the hatchery by the Georgia Breed Improvement Supervisory Board.

Hubert Smith has also qualified as an official tester of flocks, according to Mr. Gannon. With Herbert and Frank Smith, owners of the local hatchery, qualified to test flocks, it will be possible for Bulloch county poultrymen to be in position to furnish the various hatcheries pullover eggs and perhaps command a premium on their hatchery eggs.

The outlook, according to Mr. Gannon's letter, is that there will be a big demand for "Georgia U. S. Approved" chicks the next five months making it advisable for poultry raisers to place their orders for chicks in advance in order not to be disappointed.
