MARKET ON HOGS AND CATTLE UP SOME AT THIS WEEK'S SALES

1350 HOGS AND 120 HEAD CATTLE SOLD AT TWO WEEKLY LIVESTOCK MARKETS WITH PRICES UP.

With prices up considerably over last week Statesboro's two weekly livestock auctions sold 1350 hogs and 120 head of cattle this week.

The run was not as large on hogs and cattle this week as it has been for the past few weeks but there was an increase in both cattle and hog prices.

The Bulloch Stockyards, Tuesday, sold 350 hogs with tops averaging $7.35 a hundred pounds. Number two sold from $6.90 to $7.10. Number Three $6.50 to $6.75; Number Four and Five $5.80 to $6.75. Feeders brought around $7.00 a hundred pounds. Though only a few cattle were sold the cattle market was strong with beef type selling for $6.00 a hundred pounds and fat native cattle from $4.00 to $4.75. More buyers than usual were represented at the sale.

Wednesday, the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company sold 1000 hogs and 100 head of cattle. Tops averaged above $7.55 a hundred pounds on hogs with one lot of 100 selling for $7.75 a hundred. E. F. Rivers of Louisville sold one lot of corn fed hogs for $7.75. B. L. Gay of Millen, sold 30 head of hogs for $7.85 a hundred bringing him $428.00. Farmers expressed satisfaction with the sale with 310 farmers participating. A big run of hogs is expected for next Wednesday. Despite a 10 point drop in the hog market this week the Wednesday sale was 65 points higher than last Wednesday. The cattle market was fifty cents a hundred pounds higher than last week.

1346 MORE BALES GINNED TO DECEMBER 31 THAN LAST YEAR

According to a report made by Wm. B. Parrish, Special Agent of the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, 1,346 more bales of cotton were ginned to December 13, 1937, than were ginned prior to the same date in 1936.

The report shows that there was 24,980 bales ginned in Bulloch county from the crop of 1937 prior to December 13 as compared with 23,634 bales ginned to December 13 of last year.

The Friendly Cafe has moved into their new location net door to its former location.

The Friendly Cafe is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cail. It opened here in 1932. It is well known for its friendly atmosphere and its well prepared food. It is the only cafe in Statesboro that remains open all night.

This afternoon (Friday) the Friendly Cafe is holding open house between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. The public is invited to call and see the new location.

Thirty-eight Dozen Eggs Used In Making Eggnog At Annual Affair

There is one annual occasion which Statesboro looks forward to from year to year and which has become a Christmas tradition here. Mr. Webb Akin's Christmas open house.

Mr. Akins started the custom about eight years ago and every Christmas he invites more than a hundred of his friends to call at his home on Christmas morning and partake of this eggnog.

The eggnog which he serves has become famous and is acknowledged the best in the county. Mr. Akins claims that he does not use any recipe for it but says that he just puts it together. This year he used more than thirty-eight dozen eggs and kept five additional dozen on tap "just in case" said Mr. Akins. He does not use whipping cream in his "nog" as some do.

He has his eggnog mixed in batches so that it will be "standing" when it is served to each guest as he arrives. The guest is allowed the privilege of "sweetening" in his serving if he wishes.

Mr. Akins will not allow any guest to leave his home until he has been thoroughly convinced that that guest has had all the eggnog that he wishes. This year about ninety called during the morning.

Annual "Hog Killing" At South Georgia Teachers College

South Georgia Teachers College students will have plenty pork to eat when they return from the Christmas holidays, Monday. Sixty large hogs have been butchered and placed in a curing plant from the college farm.

Each year the college farm raises 100 head of Poland-China hogs. Each week during the winter months enough hogs are killed to take care of one day's feeding in the college dining hall. This leaves about 60 head of hogs to be butchered at the regular annual "hog killing." Wednesday thirty hogs were killed and thirty more at a later date.

The hogs butchered were about ten months old and weighed around 200 pounds apiece.

The shoulders, hams, and sides were carried to a curing plant. The by-products, sausage, hogs head cheese, livers, and many gallons of lard will also be used in the dining department.

According to President Marvin S. Pittman of the college these hogs reduce the cost of living at the college and at the same time furnish plenty pork meat for the students.

January 15 Is Date Set For Deadline To Get Driver's License

COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC SAFETY ANNOUNCES THAT THIS IS THE FINAL EXTENSION OF TIME TO SECURE LICENSE.

According to a statement released by Phil Brewster, commissioner of public safety, in Atlanta, January 15 has been set as the dead line for securing drivers licenses without an examination.

The law specifies a fine of $50, or imprisonment of six months for driver's license.

Mr. Brewster stated that this is absolutely the last time that the deadline will be moved up. The date has been put off several times so that every automobile driver would have ample time to secure a license.

15 Bills Passed By General Assembly

With their eleven day Christmas vacation nearly up, members of the Georgia legislature are preparing to return to Atlanta Monday to take up where they left off last week. How long the extraordinary session will continue after it reconvenes January 3 no one knows, or even will venture a guess.

Before adjourning for the holidays, both branches of the general assembly had passed fifteen major bills, while many other measures had been passed by one house or the other but not yet enacted into law. Major bills that have been passed by both houses are:

The $2,000 homestead exemption. The $300 personal property exemption.

Doubling tax on beer. Treasury stabilization fund.

Extension or pension privileges to widows wed to Confederate veterans prior to January 1, 1920. Intangible property tax.

Revision of motor vehicle license law. (The price of auto tags start at $1.50 and scale upward.

Plugging loopholes in present tobacco tax law (no increase.) benefits.

State absorption of the 10 per cent cost of administering Social Security. Regulation of state building and loan associations.

Permitting counties to levy up to three mills for assistance to cripple children, the blind and old age pensions.

Granting state permission to send counties their share of the gasoline a monthly instead of quarterly.

Allowing deduction of federal income tax payments from state income tax returns; deductions of dividends on corporation earnings which already have been taxed; elimination of the $2 and $10 filing fees; making four months' residence in Georgia the basis of income tax liability.

Allowing counties to levy taxes to pay salaries of county agricultural and home economics agents.

Abolishing liens on estates of persons receiving Social Security benefits.

Burned Wins Three Bouts In Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament

TOURNAMENT HELD IN SAVANNAH DECEMBER 13-16. YOUNG BURNED PLANS TO ENTER GOLDEN GLOVES EVENT IN ATLANTA IN 1938.

At the Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament held at the Municipal auditorium in Savannah, December 13-16 Bulloch county was represented by G. W. Burned, Jr., of Groveland.

During the tournament Burned fought four fights and won four, two by knock outs one by decision and lost one fight by decision. Young Burned was entered as a fly-weight in the novice class. The novice class being made up of fighters who had never won a match in a public tournament.

Prior to the Golden Gloves Tournament Young Burned had fought 3 fights at Young Harris college, winning all three.

This Bulloch county fighter took up boxing when he was 11 years of age, sparring with anyone who was willing to take a licking from him. He stands about five feet four inches and stockily built. He fights "left-handed" which is to say he uses his left hand followed by the right hand. Left-handed fighters according to young Burned are rare.

Young Burned plans to continue his boxing after he finishes Nevils High School. He uses 12 ounce gloves in his sparring with his school pals. He believes that Tommy Farr is the best fighter in the boxing game today. He says that Farr should have won that fight with Joe Louis recently.

Burned plans to enter the Golden Gloves Tournament which is held annually in Atlanta, in 1938. He is built like one expects a boxer to be built. He is endowed with a confidence that will help keep him on his feet through a number of rounds and a bull-dog expression which will carry him far. He is the son of Mr. G. W. Burned of Groveland.

Cail Name Drawn Six Times At Local Theatres On Bank Nights For Cash

his name was pulled from the cage. Mr. Cail's name was again called but this time the Georgia for $100.00, but again fate decreed that he should not be present. Ralph Cail, another son, has been called twice for $15.00 each time, but since he works at night it was impossible for him to have been present. During the recent Zenith Radio contest which the Georgia and State theatres held, Mrs. Cail won a mattress given by Bowen Furniture Company.

With this luck this family should do well at the race track.

ELLIS HEALTH LAW TO BEGIN OPERATION IN COUNTY IN FEW DAYS

DR. H. E. McTYRE, GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA HERE AND WILL BEGIN WORK IN FEW DAYS

Bulloch county's health program, under the Ellis Health Law, will be in operation within a few days.

He is a Savannahian, a graduate of the University of Georgia Medical School and has done special training in Public Welfare Work at the University of North Carolina. Along with Dr. McTyre the County Board has hired Miss Elsie Bailey of LaGrange as nurse. Miss Bailey is a graduate of the Emory University Hospital.

Headquarters for the County Department will be set-up in Statesboro shortly. Two Bulloch county Grand Jurors recommended that the Ellis Health Law be put in operation in this county and the County Commissioners have been getting ready to put the program in effect in Bulloch county.

J. H. WATSON DIES AFTER VERY BRIEF ILLNESS

J. H. Watson, age 61, one of Statesboro's well known citizens died at his home Wednesday of last week after an illness of just a few hours. He was seen working at the F. W. Darby Lumber Mill about noon. He came to his home for lunch and went to town to the barber shop and just a short time after he returned to the house he became ill and in a short time he died.

Interment was held in East Side cemetery Thursday afternoon. Rev. C. M. Coalson conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Watson is survived by his wife three sons, Rufus Watson, of Sawtelle California; J. L. Watson, of Jacksonville, and J. D. Watson of Statesboro; two daughters, Mrs. F. W. Darby and Miss Jewell Watson, of Statesboro and two brothers, S. O. Watson of Moultrie and Dr. Hammond Watson of Lakeland, Fla.

Six times the name Cail has been called at Statesboro's theatres "cash nights." The name Cail seems to be the one name in the cage which turned up more than any other. During the time when the State and Georgia theatres were holding their cash nights, names of the members of the Cail family were called six times. Of the six times called, however, only twice were the ones called present to claim the rewards.

Mr. W. L. Cail's name was called at the State Theatre for $25.00. He was not present. Enis Cail, son of Mr. W. L. Cail, won $15.00 at the Georgia by being present at the time

THE NEW YEAR

Whatever the passing year may have meant to you, make it dead history. But let this approaching new year be a living issue.
Just in proportion as we are not contented with our sphere, nor satisfied with ourselves, do not reach out longingly to a better sphere and therefore it is that, to so many of us, the end of the old year brings a sense of relief, in that its shortcomings and failures are now to be left behind, while the approach of a new year suggests a hope of something different and better beyond.

Make no resolutions for the new year, for after all, new year's resolutions are only something to be broken. Better to make a compact with your self to make the best of whatever your lot may be.

AND THEN THE AMBULANCE

"Nearly every automobile accident is caused either through ignorance or carelessness on the part of the driver. The number of accidents that occur as a result of mechanical failure in properly cared for cars, or of improperly constructed highways is such a small part of the total that it is negligible," begins a new book published recently and written by John J. Floher-ty entitled "Youth at the Wheel."

The book is written for young people, particular those of High School and Junior High School ages. But there is much in it with which any adult who drives a car would do well to familiarize himself. Every line of it is factual. The author holds that the human and economic losses that appal us each year are the result of a lack of knowledge on the part of drivers. With knowledge will come common sense and common courtesy, the really fundamental necessities for safety on our highways.

Some of the facts revealed in this small volume are startling. The very first figure hits us fair in the middle: "In a recent year, 38-000 people in the United States and injured more than 1,000,000 Americans. The financial loss resulting from these accidents came close to the $3,000,000,000 mark."

Figures of times are rather meaningless to us until they are translated into forms which we can grasp. To say that during eighteen months including the year 1936 and the first six months of 1937, 55,000 Americans were killed on our streets and highways and nearly 1,450,000 were injured does not mean so very much; but to say that during the eighteen months we were in the World War our losses were 50,475 killed and 284,000 wounded in combat as compared with the 55,000 killed on the streets and highways and nearly 1,450,000 injured, then we stop to think.

Does it seem possible that during the period between 1925 and 1937 the number of lives lost as a result of bad driving in the United States is greater than the number of Americans killed in all the wars in which we have participated since the days of Washington?

Translated into figures of minutes our killing rate is about one person every fourteen minutes and we injure more than thirty in the same period. These figures mean something.

Automobile driving is the one sport in which age excels youth. The accident records show clearly that drivers under the age of twenty are the most dangerous drivers on the American highways. Thirty-nine out of every thousand of them, licensed to drive, were involved in accidents in a single year, while licensed drivers between the ages of forty and fifty-nine had only twenty accidents per thousand during the same period.

There are 37,000,000 motor vehicles in the world or one for every fifty-four inhabitants while in the United States we have 26,000-000 registered vehicles which is equivalent of about one for every five persons.

When you are bowling down a smooth highway at 60 miles an hour does it occur to you that to bring your machine to a full stop requires 265 feet to do so? Does it occur to you that your car will have moved 60 feet before you can even get your foot on the brake pedal? At twenty miles per hour a car may be stopped in 50 feet. If you are driving your car at 60 miles an hour at night you have less than two seconds of good road illumination ahead of you, since the average car has under ordinary atmospheric conditions an efficient beam of about 150 feet. At 60 miles an hour you are traveling 88 feet per second and at that speed it takes 265 feet in which to stop your car. It is then obvious that if an object appears in the path of your car it is impossible to stop before reaching the object.

The top speed at which one may drive safely at night is considered to be between 30 and 35 miles an hour provided the headlights are clean and bright and the brakes are in perfect condition.

The final paragraphs of the book contains the whole story of safe driving:

"One of the great engineers in the automobile industry is noted for his good driving. He drives long distances in remarkably good time yet no one has every known him to break a speed law or to jeopardize himself or others by reckless driving."

"He obeys all signs, respects every law and ordinance. Although he is no longer a young man he steps from his car after a long journey fresh and unfatigued."

"His driving ability has created much comment among those to whom automobile is a part of their daily life and any have wondered what his secret was."

"One day an associate asked him what his driving formula was."

"The engineer's eyes twinkled. 'It is very simple one,' he said, 'I never drive faster than I can see.'"

"In that simple if somewhat cryptic statement is contained the whole story of safe driving as it covers how to negotiate hills, curves, two three, and four lane roads, intersections, night driving, city driving, driving in heavy traffic and passing. In fact it is the epitome of everything that can be learned about safe driving."

NEVER DRIVE FASTER THAN YOU CAN SEE

In a short talk to the Rotary Club, Monday, Z. S. Henderson presented some of the facts given in the above editorial. It was his talk which prompted our passing on to you the facts contained in the book "Youth at the Wheel."

LIVESTOCK SALES

Just how the raising of livestock is catching on in Georgia is unmistakably indicated by a recent report from the livestock market at Statesboro, which showed that during the second week of December the market in three sales disposed of 2,323 hogs and 425 head of cattle. The sales established records for the amount of money handled, for the quantity of livestock disposed of, and for the number of farmers participating in the sales.

The three sales, conducted by County Agent Byron Dyer, the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company and the Bulloch Stockyards, gathered livestock from a wide area. Buying was brisk and competition for the stock offered was keen. Prices were entirely satisfactory. One consignment of hogs were shipped on an order to Richmond, Va. Others were bought for shipment to Atlanta.

The encouraging feature of this fine development of the Statesboro market is the demonstration both that there will be plenty of buyers for the better grades of livestock, and that the movement for the development of the livestock industry in Georgia is resulting in the growing of better grades. Hogs at $7.25 to $7.50 a hundred and $4.50 to $5-50 for beef cattle will result in more and more farmers turning their attention to livestock production.

It is a sort of growing snow ball. The better markets, the better livestock; the better livestock and the more livestock, the more and better markets will be developed. Livestock raising in Georgia is not competitive in any way. The more good livestock everybody raises, the more satisfaction the prices will be.

FIRST BAPTIST

C. M. COALSON, Minister

"Well, what's wrong with that?"
We often hear people say. "Much everything," I want to ask you now, what's wrong with sin?

There is a tendency to let up on sin and to imply that there is nothing so terrible about it after all. Sometimes men make a joke about it and laugh at its hideous results. Wrong names are given sin. Plain covetousness is called ambition, stinginess is dubbed thrift, pride is called self-respect, and even murder as a colossal scale is made to appear as self-defense. We live by slogans and catch words anyhow. Think how much damage is done to the living of the world by making words give the wrong impression of their real meaning.

If we could strike from sin its camouflage and disguise so that when men think of it they would get a mental picture of something horrible and something which injures man and deceives him, then I think we might get the answer to our question, "What's wrong with sin?"

All these things about sin have been said that we may see it clearly and recognize its awfulness but never to imply that there is no hope for the sinner. The cross of our Lord Jesus Christ stands as the sinner's remedy for sin. Will you not, every one of you, come to the cross this very moment and receive forgiveness for all your sin? Come now while we pray.

Come with us Sunday morning and evening.

"Well, what's wrong with that?"
We often hear people say. "Much every-
wrong with sin?

There is a tendency to let up on
so terrible about it after all. Sometimes
men make a joke about it and laugh at
its hideous results. Wrong names are given
sin. Plain covetousness is called ambition, stinginess is dubbed thrift, pride is called
scale is made to appear as self-defense. We live by slogans and catch words anyhow. Think
how much damage is done to the living
of the world by making words give the wrong
impression of their real meaning.

If we could strike from sin its
think of it they would get a mental picture
of something horrible and something which injures man and deceives him, then I think we
might get the answer to our question, "What's wrong with sin?"

All these things about sin have
recognize its awfulness but never to imply
that there is no hope for the sinner. The cross of our Lord Jesus Christ stands as the sinner's remedy for sin. Will you not, every one
of you, come to the cross this very moment
and receive forgiveness for all your sin? Come now while we pray.

Come with us Sunday morning and evening.

We wish you a happy and prosperous New Year

NEVILS NEWS

BY MISS MAUDE WHITE

SCHOOL SUSPENDED WITH PARTIES IN ALL ROOMS

On last Wednesday, December 22, Nevils school suspended until after the holidays. A Christmas program was planned for each class room with the home room teacher in charge. In each of the grammar grade class rooms a small but beautiful Christmas tree adorned one corner, which brightened the hearts of the youngsters to see so many beautiful gifts swirling, awaiting "Ole Santa Claus" arrival.

A short Christmas program was presented in most of the rooms to five some of the children the true meaning of Christmas celebrations.

Immediately after the program Santa Claus in person appeared and with his little helpers clipped the beautiful gifts from the tree and distributed them to their proud owners.
Immediately after the class room ceremonies, the grade mothers of most every class throughout the school took charge and finished the entertaining with a Christmas party in their own way. Refreshments were not forgotten. Some of the grade mothers lavishly supplied the pupils with home made Christmas candies, while others distributed fruit. Some made it more individual by placing candy and fruit in a beautiful candy box and distributed it to each of their little class members.

These youngsters really enjoyed one whole day of fun and frolic. The halls and rooms were ringing with gay laughter and happy chattering of the good things they had received and how thankful they were. The responsibility of the teachers and grade mothers was to see that every little child, rich or poor, was served equally to make all happy at this one time of the year. This responsibility was well taken care and we are sure at the close of the day that every one present realized the true spirit of Christmas.

Nevils School to Reopen January 3
The Nevils school will reopen on Monday, January 3. We are hoping to have all the children present on the opening day. We sincerely hope the over-flow condition of the third and fourth grades will be taken care of by this time. We are very sorry to have to lose some of our best pupils by their moving away, but we feel sure others will immediately take their place. We always welcome all pupils to our school.

FARM TO FARM

Erosion does not take a heavy toll of top soil from Sam Bracks' fields.
The valuable top soil is saved and each field is given an opportunity to do the job for which it is best suited through the use of properly constructed terraces. Mr. Brack does not use a terrace here and yonder in the field, but has the entire farm drain with broad based terraces with the proper grade. The whole system of terraces on this farm have been under construction several years.

Livestock help to balance a farming program. W. H. Smith thinks that the livestock enterprise in the farm program should also have a balance to it. Mr. Smith has several hundred hogs, some 300 head of hogs that he is marketing cheap corn with about 75 head of Angus cattle, and a small herd of hogs to use as scav-all's fair

Jingle Bells and Santa Claus, and carols sweet and clear. Have made a joyous Christmas. May we have a glad New Year.

If noise is any indication of a merry holiday, this year marks a peak in merry times. The most cruel incident that we've heard about was the tying of pack of firepoppers to an alley cat's tail. Bicycling is regarded as the best form of exercise, and Santa must be in full accord, for so many youngsters are enjoying new wheels. Among the number that we've seen pedalling new bikes are Billy Waller, Wister and Jack Upchurch, Billy Olliff, Foy Olliff, Betty Rows, Harold DeLoach, Dick Brannen, Gerald, Richard and Eloise Northcutt. Mrs. L. J. Shuman has renewed her belief in Santa, and all because of a lovely ivory bed room radio and a cameo necklace. Just as we were lamenting the fact that Grace Hook was not dressing up her house for Christmas, we drove by one night and upstairs and down stairs, blue candlelight streamed from windows banked with snow. Grace always has some decorative surprise 'up her sleeve'. Any way we think it's lovely. You've seen these gloves with every finger a different color?

Well, why not go a step farther and use a different shade of nail polish on each nail. It really has been done with devastating effect. We select Sarah Mooney and Cecil Brannen to introduce this new fad.

Mary Virginia Groover received two bracelets and two necklaces for Christmas and with charming impartiality she wears them all at one time. Julian Tillman rates our column this week because, on a recent deer hunt he killed the first deer he saw with the first shot and on his first deer hunt. When Santa left Virginia Lee and Waldo Floyd a playground with set he couldn't foresee that Tom Niland would practically demolish it in his efforts to set it up. We offer the following evidences that there is no depression in this neck o' the woods: Left DeLoach's mother at her annual Christmas dinner had three turkeys, and a barbecued pig.

Webb Akins used 38 dozen eggs in the egg nog party. Cora Smith got a gorgeous silver service from her boyfriend, Harry. . . and that aerial-minded Lannie Simmons stayed on 'terra firma' long enough to purchase (We'll venture to say a trade was made) Ouida a two carat diamond ring surrounded with diamonds. . . and Willie Dorman can be prompt at all social engagements by merely looking at that diamond wrist watch, the gift of Alfred Dorman the 'Produce King' and gentle rumor has it that Frances Felton Floyd took a trip de-luxe to Concord, N. C., accompanied by her personal maid. . . So when anyone in your presence dampens your New Year spirits with dismal pictures remind them that we're living in a town that is far removed from gloom and quote lines to them:

"Heart o' mine, issen!

Why will you fret?

Dere's a whole day tomorrow

Dat ain't been teched yet."
