ONE VARIETY COTTON

PAYS DIVIDENDS TO FARMERS IN GEORGIA

Carroll county farmers saved an average of $5 per acre last year on all cotton planted in one-variety communities. The total amount saved in the county from planting one-variety cotton was $115,000.

County Agent G. F. Wiley said in Carrollton this week that 25,000 acres were planted in D & P L cotton in the county last year and that this figure is expected to be increased in 1938. Two new one-variety communities have already been organized this year.

The one-variety movement was started four years ago in one of the small communities in the county. This beginning was so successful that the next year three new communities were organized. There are now 11 communities doing this work.

When the campaign to produce better quality cotton was started in Carroll, the farmers in the county were growing 43 varieties of cotton. Wiley explained. Most of these were short staple varieties and it was practically impossible for an individual to improve his variety of cotton.

The number of varieties has since been reduced to 22, and last year a County Cotton Improvement Committee was organized to consider plans to solve problems for the county as a whole. This committee is made up of leading growers and ginners in the county.

The aim of this committee is to spread the one-variety community over the entire county. Wiley said that a good beginning had been made and that he thought this was the most important part of the program.

The four teams of the division that won are Pembroke, Stillson, Register, and Ludowici in the order of the places won by them. The teams of the B division that are eligible to enter the finals are Statesboro, Hinesville, Brooklet and Glennville.

These eight teams will go into the finals with eight teams of the C and B divisions of the upper section of

More than 350 farmers recently attended a series of 12 pasture and livestock meetings held throughout the Chattahoochee Valley area. Sessions were held at Greenville, Hamilton, Talbotton, Cassata, Columbus, Newnan, Franklin, Lumpkin, Preston, and Ellaville. The relation between soil conservation and livestock was discussed and farmers were advised how to build and care for their pastures. Helpful advice was offered by R. E. Davis, extension beef cattle specialist and Frank W. Fitch, extension dairyman. County agents were in charge of the meetings at each point.

Emerson Anderson and Frederick Beasley of Statesboro, Thomas Hill and Clark of Brooklet, Salter of Hinesville composed the first string all-star team of the lower section of the district. Statesboro placed two more men on the second string all-star team. They were Skeet Kennon and Robert Hodges, Clifton of Brooklet, Bagley of Glennville and Stafford of Hinesville, rounded out the second string with the two Statesboro boys.

Comment was aroused at the fact that John Smith, scrappy little player on the Statesboro quintet was left off the all-star list. Smith is not a high scoring man and he is not the type of ball player that might be one of the fans but he is undoubtedly one of the best ball players on the Statesboro squad and during this season he has gained quite a reputation being fouled out. But any ball player that doesn't make fouls is no ball player at all. Comments were made that John Smith is the best all-round player on the team with the exception of Emerson Anderson.

On the all-star team of the C division, Stillson and Pembroke placed two each. From Stillson were D. Smith and W. Shuman and from Pembroke were Morgan and Thomas. Stephens of Register completed the first string. The second team was composed of C. Smith of Stillson, Stafford of Ludowici, Downs of Pembroke and L. Moore of Register and Chapman of Ludowici.

W. Shuman of Stillson led the C division for individual scoring honors and also the entire tournament. He scored a total of 37 points in three games. He was followed by Anderson of Pembroke with 28 points in as many games.

Emerson Anderson of Statesboro carried off individual honors for the B division and was runner up for the entire tournament. Anderson was only one point behind Shuman of Stillson with a total of 36 points in three games. In the Glennville game Anderson scored 19 points. He was pushed for the lead by Frederick Beasley who scored 30 points in three games.

products to maintain a proper standard of health," Fitch said. "Therefore any expansion which might result from diverting land under the new farm program would likely be in increased home consumption."

"This might even mean that some of the 70,000 Georgia farmers now without cows will be able to keep one in the future."

The dates for the Macon fat stock show have been changed from May 3 and 4 to April 25 and 26.

Farm Briefs

When more of Georgia's land is retired from over depleting crops, the dairy farmers in the state will raise their own feed on the farm, in the opinion of Frank W. Fitch, Georgia Extension Service dairy specialist.

Not until that time can the dairy industry in the state be expected to expand much, he said.

"Records show that the people of the state do not consume enough dairy

Blue Devils Win District Cage Title

First Basketball Crown In History Of High School

BROOKLET WINS SECOND PLACE IN "B" DIVISION WHILE STILLSON WIN HONORS IN "C"

Playing first class basketball all throughout the finals of the First District Basketball tournament held here last weekend, the Statesboro Blue Devils won the first time in the history of the high school, by trouncing Brooklet, 48-35.

The Blue Devils, by far the best team in the tournament, won all three of their games by top-heavy scores. The Statesboro squad scored a total of 167 points against a total of 86 by their opponents in three games. On the opening day of the tournament, Statesboro defeated Reidsville 66-21. Friday in the semi-final game they defeated Alamo 53-30 and in the final game Saturday night for the district crown the Blue Devils snowed under the Brooklet cagers by the time of 48-35.

Brooklet was awarded second place honors in the B division. The Brooklet team had to defeat both Swainsboro and Metter before reaching the finals and they found both of these teams very stubborn foes. Swainsboro was beaten 28-19 and Metter was beaten by a single field goal, 30-22.

Metter defeated Swainsboro for third place in the B division. Simpson of Metter was an outstanding player throughout the tournament.

Stillmore defeated Pulaski for first place in the C division by a four point margin, 30-26, while Stillson defeated Register 34-26 for third place honors of the C division.

Emerson Anderson and Frederick Beasley of Statesboro, along with Clark of Brooklet, Simpson of Metter and Jackson of Alamo, rounded out the all-district team in the B division.

Anderson was the outstanding player of the tournament and deserved the position that he received. Beasley did not play as much as Anderson, but he displayed the ability that a first class ball player might need. Another one of the best ball players of the tournament was Clark of Brooklet. Next to Emerson Anderson, Clark was the second choice for the best all-round player.

The second all-district team consisted of Hodges of Statesboro, Hill and Clifton of Brooklet, Braswell of Alamo and Nutter of Metter.

The all-district team of the C division consists of J. Youmans of W. A. Youmans of Stillmore, Fredrick of Pulaski, W. Shuman of Stillson, and Stephens of Register.

On the second string of all-stars in the C division is Scarborough of Stillmore, Williams of Register, Cartee of Pulaski and Shuman and J. Smith of Stillson.

Out of the four all-star teams that were selected, eleven of the twenty members of the teams were from Bulloch county teams.

EMERSON ANDERSON SCORES 62 POINTS IN THREE GAMES

Emerson Anderson, who made the All-District team, of the Statesboro squad scored a total of 62 points in three games for an incomparable average of 21 points a game. In the Reidsville game Anderson scored 18 points, in the Alamo game he accounted for 22 points of the 53 made by Statesboro and in the Brooklet game he again was high man with 22 to his credit. In the Brooklet game he shot seven free throws and six of them were good.

Other individual high scorers were: Proctor of Pulaski with 46 points; Jackson of Alamo 41 points; W. Youmans of Stillmore, 39; Clark of Brooklet, 35; and Simpson of Metter, 38.

ROTARY CLUB OBSERVES THIRTY-THIRD YEAR OF FOUNDING

Basing its program on the general theme of "International Friendship," the Statesboro Rotary club observed the thirty-third anniversary of the founding of Rotary at its meeting on Monday.

Mr. C. M. Coulson of the First Baptist church addressed the club on the subject of "International Friendship."

The club announced its plan to attend the meeting of the Millen Club Friday at which meeting the local club will present the program. Next Monday night the Statesboro club will be host to the Waynesboro club at a dinner at the Woman's club.

At the meeting Monday a Safety Council was formed and a set of rules adopted for each member to observe. Mr. Everett Williams was made recorder and will fine each member as that member reports his own infraction of the rules.

BULLOCH TO SEND JUDGING TEAM TO SAVANNAH STOCK SHOW

Kermit Clifton, M. P. Martin, Jr. and Lamar Smith will represent Bulloch county 4-H club boys as a judging team at the Savannah Fat Stock show and sale, March 24. Rupert Clifton will serve as alternate.

Mr. Sheppard is widely known in this section as the hardest working tobacco man in the business. People refer to him as "Old Reliable." Last year he sold more tobacco than the other houses here. He also operates a big warehouse in Kinston, N. C.

Mr. Sheppard announced here last week that work would begin on his new tobacco warehouse about April 1. Mr. Sheppard has operated a warehouse in Statesboro for the past five years, having come here in 1932. He has operated under the name of Sheppard's Warehouse since his establishment here.

Plans, according to Mr. Sheppard, call for the largest tobacco warehouse in the state of Georgia. The house, when completed will be 550 feet long and 187 feet wide. The floor will cover approximately 105,000 square feet of space and will accommodate more than 6,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The three warehouses now here occupy only about 80,000 square feet of space.

The new warehouse will be built with a double drive running through the middle of the house to accommodate two lanes of trucks and wagons. Two sets of scales will be provided so as to speed up the weighing to the greatest possible extent. According to Mr. Sheppard his house will hold two days and one hour's sale. Arrangements will be so that one half of the house will be sold while the other half is being filled which will relieve the tobacco grower of having to wait for space on the floor to place his weed. The additional space also makes it possible for the tobacco to remain in its original place from the time it is placed on the floor until it is moved by the buyer to be shipped. There will be no necessity of moving it and stacking it away so that additional tobacco may be placed on the floor as has been true in the past.

New, modern baskets will be provided, which are smaller than the ones used in the past. The new ones will be 40 inches square as compared with the old 44 inch ones. The new house will accommodate approximately 156 baskets to each row.

The lighting system for the new house will be the most modern in the state. The house will be lighted in a new scientific manner to provide the best possible light which is one essential for the successful selling of tobacco with the greatest ease and speed. Only two rows of posts will obstruct the space in the entire house, thus making it considerably easier to place the weed on the floor.

In commenting on the Statesboro tobacco market of the future, Mr. Sheppard predicts that this market here will become one of the largest in the state. He added that this market is in one of the largest trade territories in the bright leaf tobacco belt. He further stated that it is just a matter of time until this market will have two sets of buyers.

Asked regarding this year's tobacco crop, Mr. Sheppard stated that it looked like it would be good. He volunteered the information that in his short survey of the county last week he had found very little trace of Blue Mold. In answer to the part crop control will play with tobacco he stated that because of the complicated manner in which the act was drawn it would be hard to determine at this time. He added that a more friendly attitude now exists between the manufacturers and the producers that would be in the producers favor.

Mr. Sheppard is widely known in this section as the hardest working tobacco man in the business. People refer to him as "Old Reliable." Last year he sold more tobacco than the other houses here. He also operates a big warehouse in Kinston, N. C.

He stated that the show will be held after all the other shows in this section have been held and that there will be plenty of stock to show. Mr. Parker predicts that this show will be one of the largest ever held in this section. He added that more than 500 head of cattle have already been promised for the show. Prizes will be announced later.

"INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP"

By C. M. Conslon
(The following is from the address made to the members of the Statesboro Rotary club at its regular meeting Monday when it celebrated the thirty-third anniversary of the Founding of Rotary.)

"Chaos reigns supreme in international affairs today. Toga of office cannot confer supernatural intelligence, and so far as I can see, there is nobody in office or out among the nations of the earth, who knows what to do with the situation in which we find ourselves. International diplomacy for the last 30 years has been in a maze of chicanery and deceit.

Departments of propaganda have been held in higher esteem than departments of conciliation. Governments have run riot under the direction of irresponsible dictators, and nations have been bathed in blood while the hearts of those who were left have been sated with vicious hatred which augurs ill for the immediate future.

We are in a fearful plight. The world is sitting on a seething volcano which may erupt at any time and engulf humanity in a deluge of blood and death. Fire of hate runs along the roads of idealism and rivers threaten to run with blood.

But enough about the chaotic condition of international relationship. Friendship among the peoples of the earth would quickly correct the mistakes of soldier-diplomats and usher in an area of understanding and consequent peace. For the development of this kind of friendship, I wish now to make a few suggestions.

For one thing, we must somehow become immune to the virus of militaristic propaganda. It is amazing that people whose interests and very lives are at stake have for so long been influenced and led by men whose livelihood depended on stirring up hatred and war. Great corporations in the leading nations of the world have succeeded in enriching themselves by creating a market for their engines of death. They charge to this advertising departments millions of dollars which they expend buying space for agitating nations against one another. Real patriots must learn to read behind the lines and detect the poison of profit-seeking engenders of war in all international news.

We need also to know other nations better. We fear those whom we do not know and we hate those whom we fear. Rotary is doing a great work in making the men of the different nations acquainted with one another but we need to go deeper than occasional meetings in learning other people. Wherever possible we ought at least to read both sides of a controversy, even when one side is our own. So long as we are so gullible that we do not even do that we are still childish and immature and are unfit to govern ourselves. We must get away from our supercilious attitude of superiority over all people who do not belong to our race or tribe.

I come now to a most intricate and difficult proposal. There must be found some way to distribute the resources of the earth among the nations. Wars are fought in many instances, because a nation needs markets in which to buy and sell.

International races in naval and army building is inimical to intercontinental friendship. America is in position to lead the world in reduction of armed forces and if we sincerely made an effort to bring about friendship among the nations it would be amazingly effective. If we spent one-third as much money endeavoring to build friendship as we spend preparing for war we could bring our world far in the direction of peace and consequent prosperity and friendship.

We must find a way to curb our great financial interests. America entered the World War as a direct result of the activities of international money lenders. The house of Morgan was the fiscal agent which loaned money to England and France and when Wilson wanted to make peace among the fighting nations in 1916 and 1917, these moneyed interests thwarted him because they had loans among the allies. The first fifty million dollars of the first liberty loan went to pay Morgan his loans to the allies — loans made before we entered the war at all. Bryan resigned rather than be a party to it. And when the war was over the international bankers had all their loans repaid with interest while the ordinary tax-payer lost his European loans completely. Money lenders and munitions makers must answer in the great assizes of eternity for the millions of lives lost in most of modern warfare.

The courage of peace and friendship is superior to the courage of war and hatred.

In spite of its deadliness war is the most popular institution in the world at this moment. There must arise a minority in international life who shall be willing to stand for friendship and peace even when it is costly so to stand Patriotism must change its demands. The age is past when men shall permit patriotism to synonymous with hatred and bloodshed. That was barbarism. Why does a country demand that its citizens become ruthless murderers in order to be patriotic? What right have war-makers to challenge my patriotism because I refuse to be deluded into their war for profit-making.

Can any deliberate war-maker be a true Rotarian?

We can afford to extend our hands across the sea and say, "Let us be friends!" Shall we?

THE STATESBORO ROTARY SAFETY COUNCIL

The Statesboro Rotary Club is taking the lead in an attempt to make the streets of Statesboro and the highways and roads of Bulloch county safer places for motorists and pedestrians.

At its regular meeting Monday the club organized a Safety Council and each member signed a pledge in which that member agreed to talk safety, think safety and encourage safe driving at every opportunity. That member further agrees to report conscientiously at every meeting of the Safety Council of the Club any violations of the "common sense" safety rules adopted by the club and to accept the ruling of the "recorder."

The rules as adopted by the club might easily be made to serve as a guide for a "personal safety council" in which every automobile driver becomes personally responsible for the observance of the safety rules.

These common sense safety rules are as follows:

1. Apply the Golden Rule in driving. Use courtesy.
2. Never drive too fast for conditions. Intersections, school grounds, parked automobiles may obscure children who may dart in front of car. It takes 73 feet to stop at 30 miles per hour. At 40 miles per hour it takes 115 feet to stop. At 50 miles per hour it takes 166 feet to stop.
3. Never drive faster than you can see or stop.
4. Never pass another car on a curve or hill. Always drive to right of center line.
5. Yield the right-of-way at intersections unmarked to car on the right.
6. Never walk out from behind any obstacle without looking both ways carefully.
7. Slippery pavement is uncertain. Keep 50 feet between your bumper and the car ahead.
8. Always signal when stopping, slowing, turning or pulling out from parked spot into line of traffic. (Arm straight out for left turn, pointed downward for stop, pointed upward for right turn). Sound horn when passing another vehicle.
9. Be sure your brakes, lights and tires are in good condition before driving. Carry an extra bulb for head and tail light. Never stop at night on highway without lights burning. Pull off road if possible.
10. After slowing or stopping for railroad crossing proceed only in gear that minimizes chance of stalling on tracks.

CLIPONREKA CULLINGS

By Your Roaming Reporter

It seems this week has been mighty full of interesting things for your Roamer. There won't be space or time to enumerate them all but there was the splendidly-made Indian axe John Oliff showed us, plowed up by one of his plowmen just across the old River Road from Union church, the oldest Methodist Church in the county, and the story of the two college professors who were helpless lost, returning from a fishing trip inquiring their way from a passing carload of other men, also on their way back from the same fishing experience, and ignoring their directions when said college professors, twice to their disgust found that the passing carload of fellows were furiously drunk, and yet let the drunks beat them to town by hours. . . then there was the lovely lady, holding court in a local eating house, being joined by a handsome young man, who, by mistake, had signed the pledge for the red-headed Rotarian who congratulated Preacher Colson on his fine address on Monday, and added "Preacher, I heard a lady say this week that you were getting where you could make a fine talk!" and Hobson drove, after having to settle for damages to a couple of fenders, front lights, bumpers and such like of a passing car, and the beautiful innocent-looking blonde sporting a wicked-looking black eye which she said her husband gave her by mistake, while dreaming. We couldn't help wondering who he was dreaming about, but being a little above the average of a moron we didn't dare to ask. . . and then some other scandalous things from such fellows as Frank Parker, "Bill" Ab' Bowen, and Bob Griffin. We're having these stories dry-cleaned in hopes of getting them fit to print by next week.

Tonight we read a human interest story in the Morning News describing some hospitals maintained for the animal pets of millionaires which concluded with this illuminating statement:

"What does he plant who plants a tree? He plants his faith, a prophecy of bloom, and fruitfulness to be; He plants a shade where robins sing, Where Orlando's nestlings wing."

He plants a strong mast for the sea. He makes the clark productive fair; He helps the vines climb high in air And from their censers shed perfume To sweeten night and bless high moon, Against the vandals who despoil He sets his protest in the oil.

Who plants a tree, he doeth well. Performs, with God a miracle." Apologetically yours, Roaming Reporter.

To The Ladies

Silk stockings were introduced by Queen Elizabeth and she wore them first in the year 1560—and didn't she start something? Now we have the new Ombre hosiery which gives a lighter shading in the front and a darker in the back—thus giving amazing slenderness to the leg.

Spring always reminds us of house cleaning doesn't it. Digging in the corners, where the sunshine uncovers, what have coal and wood has done to our homes—bringing down soiled curtains and getting the winter grime off from everything in general. Most of us count ourselves in on this cleaning up and bemoan the pounds we have added by eating rich, winter time foods—and the blotchy skin we have acquired in the same way. Here is a simple and effective way of treating both problems at the same time. One day a week, leave off all solid foods. Drink any kind of fruit juices you want, and as much as you care for. If you will do this, and then not over eat on the other days of the week, you will get surprising results.

Try substituting grated American cheese for one-half the required amount of shortening in your favorite biscuit recipe—and you have Cheese Biscuit. Add a dash of color to your new (or old) spring suit or dress by pinning on one of the fanciful new bird, bug, or flower pins.

This recipe for nut bread, I'm going to give you, is cheap, and rarely fails. Children adore it in lunches. Two thin slices, with plenty of butter between—and just as delicious for family meals or "grown-up" party plates.

Good terraces are a necessity on a farm in the opinion of C. B. GAY. Mr. GAY took advantage of the favorable farming weather in January to rework every terrace in his cotton fields—every acre of his land is now terraced.

ROY BELL knows that it is possible for any farmer that is not afraid to work to own some kind of a home. Roy purchased a small piece of land down near Black creek then cleared it and built him a house on it. The land is new and hard to work but Roy finds that he is being able to meet the payments annually.

The silvery gloss on all the fencing around J. R. GRIFFIN's farm naturally makes an observer notice the long straight lines of wire. They add materially to the looks of the farms and provide a protected grazing area for his cattle.

J. A. BUNCE plans to continue to expand his livestock, both cattle and hogs. However, his largest expansion is in permanent pastures. Mr. Bunce is providing grazing by planting all the available lands to carpet grass, the common lespedeza, and using certain kinds of fertilizer on the seeded areas.

R. G. DEKLE thinks there is still some money to be made with poultry. His some 700 layers are producing some 40 to 45 dozen eggs daily.

Just Us And Ours

Last week we received the letter which we publish below. In accordance with Miss DeVoe's request we are going to give her this space each week under the above head. After you have read the letter and wish to write Miss DeVoe you may do so in care of The Bulloch Herald, Statesboro, Box 179, Statesboro, Ga., and it will be forwarded to Miss DeVoe, whose answer will be printed, together with the problem submitted.

The Editor, The Bulloch Herald:

Recently a woman came to me with a problem—an intensely human problem of a wife whose husband loves her tenderly but doesn't give her a cent of money she can call her own.

I did not offer this woman a solution to her problem, but advised her to secure a copy of a small magazine called "Woman's Day" and read the article entitled "Love and Money." She did so and returned to me and told me that she had received a world of consolation in the piece. We talked quite a long while and I am sure that when she left she went with a feeling of lightness which she had not had until she had unburdened herself of her problem. It did not matter so much that it was I who listened to her, anyone would have had the same effect on her.

This woman gave me the idea that perhaps there are a number of women, young and old, who would take advantage of an opportunity to break down and tell their troubles to someone who would take the time and trouble to listen. Realizing that I just can't go out and say "tell me your troubles," I decided to write to you to ask that you cooperate with me in starting a column in your paper. I am sure you are familiar with such columns as Dorothy Dix and Marie Ross and others. If you will print this letter and let it be an invitation to anyone who wish to do so, to write to me. Let it be known that any problem of general interest submitted by our readers will be discussed in this column. Let it be known that I invite correspondence and that the writer's name will be held in the strictest confidence.

For obvious reasons I wish to conduct this column in the name of Vivian DeVoe. All correspondence may be directed to Box 179, Statesboro, Ga.

Consult your friend on all things, especially on those which respect your self, his country, his neighbors, and your own. Your own self-love might impair your judgment.

VIVIAN DEVOE.

RIGHT AND WRONG—
Right and wrong—
You know their fate
You've heard their song
Of love—of hate.

Right and wrong—
You know their will
Both are stronger
Take which thou wilt.

But choose you wise
And don't forget
With right you win
With wrong—regret.

YOUTH—

Must I alas lose precious youth
So limited—so dear,
So longed for by those already who
Have passed its carefree year?

Once, oh often I have tried
To say 'twas not to grieve
That I would stay forever
But, how wrong I was—alas!

Then once more give me hope,
Strength anew I pray,
For I would capture youth again
Before it fades away.

Marketing Quota Is Explained

For Tobacco Growers In Series Of Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: All Bulloch County farmers who produced flue-cured tobacco in 1937 will be given an opportunity to vote March 12 on whether marketing quotas for flue-cured tobacco are to be effective for 1938, as provided for in the new farm act. The vote will be secret.

Feeling that local farmers should thoroughly understand what they are voting on, The Bulloch Herald asked the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service to answer a series of questions on how the new program affects the flue-cured tobacco grower.

Local tobacco growers are invited to study these questions and answers so that they can go to the polling place in their community on March 12 and cast a vote on the basis of their own knowledge.

Here are the questions and answers: Marketing Quotas for Flue-Cured Tobacco

Q. When will flue-cured tobacco marketing quotas be put into effect under the new farm act?

A. They will be in effect in 1938, unless more than one-third of the producers voting in a referendum are opposed to such quotas.

Q. What determines when tobacco marketing quotas will be applicable? A. The act provides that when the total supply exceeds the "reserve supply level" for flue-cured tobacco a national marketing quota will be in effect.

Q. What is the reserve supply level of flue-cured tobacco?

A. The reserve supply level is a quantity of tobacco 5 per cent above the "normal supply." The figure used in determining the 1938 marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco was 1,681,000,000 pounds. Normal supply, as defined in the act, is the sum of a normal year's domestic consumption plus 175 per cent of such consumption and a normal year's exports plus 65 per cent of such exports.

Q. What is the total supply of flue-cured tobacco?

A. Total supply is the quantity of tobacco on hand July 1, the beginning of the marketing year, plus the estimated crop for the year. The total supply of flue-cured tobacco for July 1, 1937, was 1,733,000,000 pounds.

Q. What is a tobacco marketing quota?

A. A marketing quota is the quantity of tobacco which can be marketed without penalty.

Q. How much is the 1938 marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco? A. The national marketing quota for 1938 is 705 million pounds.

Q. When is the secretary required to announce the national marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco? A. In 1938 the quota had to be announced within 15 days after the approval of the act. In later years any quota must be announced not later than December 1.

Q. When is the tobacco referendum required to be held? A. In 1938, the referendum will be held March 12. In other years not later than December 31.

Q. Who is eligible to vote in the tobacco referendum? A. Farmers engaged in the production of flue-cured tobacco in 1937. Each farmer will have one vote.

Q. How does the tobacco referendum affect the operation of the act? A. If more than one-third of the growers voting in the referendum are opposed to the marketing quota, the quota will not go into effect.

Determination of State Quotas Q. How is the national flue-cured tobacco marketing quota divided among states? A. The national marketing quota is divided among the states on the basis of production in the past five years (including estimated production on diverted acres), with adjustments for abnormal weather and plant bed disease, for small farms, and for trends in production.

Q. Is all of the tobacco quota distributed on this basis? A. Not less than 95 per cent of the quota is distributed on this basis.

Q. How is the remaining part of the tobacco quota distributed? A. The remaining part of the quota not exceeding 5 per cent, is used to provide allotments to new farms on which tobacco is produced for the first time in five years—and

Stable Tobacco Supply Is Aim Of New Farm Act

REFERENDUM ON MARCH 12 TO DETERMINE WHETHER OR NOT THE FARMER FAVOR OR OPPOSE THE QUOTA

One of the announced objectives of the new farm act is to help flue-cured tobacco farmers stabilize income and supplies at fair levels.

As a means of keeping supply in line with demand at fair prices to producers, the new act provides for marketing quotas in years when an abnormally excessive supply of any kind of tobacco exists, with penalties for marketing over the quotas.

For 1938, the Secretary of Agriculture, carrying out the provisions of the act, has found that the supply of flue-cured tobacco is in excess of the reserve supply level. Consequently he has announced a 1938 marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco of 705 million pounds.

A referendum will be held on March 12 among the growers of flue-cured tobacco to determine whether or not the farmers favor or oppose the quota. If more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum oppose it, the quota will not be effective.

The supply of any kind of tobacco is the carryover plus estimated production during the current marketing year, while the reserve supply level is the normal domestic consumption and exports plus normal carryover plus 5 per cent.

If the marketing quota is in effect, the national marketing quota will be apportioned among the states producing that kind of tobacco. In each of these states the local committees of farmers now helping conduct the Agricultural Conservation Program, will distribute the quota among individual farmers.

In recommending quotas for individual tobacco farms, the local committees are required to take into consideration several important factors. These include the past marketing of tobacco, adjusted for abnormal weather and plant bed disease; land, labor and equipment available for production of tobacco; crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco.

All tobacco marketing quotas will be in terms of pounds. There will be a national acreage quotas under the new act. The acreage allotments set up under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program will serve as a guide to help individual farmers keep production in line with the marketing quotas.

In Georgia, it is estimated that from 11,000 to 14,500 acres will be needed to produce the state's allotted poundage.

The provisions for regular tobacco producing farms are such that the marketing quotas cannot be less than average production (including diversion) during the past three years, if, in the case of flue-cured tobacco, this average is 3,200 pounds or less. If the average production (including diversion) has been more than 3,200 pounds for flue-cured tobacco the marketing quota cannot be less than 3,200 pounds.

The act specifies that the quota for a farm on which tobacco is produced in 1938 for the first time in five years is not to exceed 75 per cent of the quota which would be given similar regular tobacco farms.

In years when the marketing quota is in effect, a penalty will be imposed on tobacco marketed in excess of the quota for the farm. This tax will be the higher of the following: in the case of flue-cured, 50 per cent of the market price or 3 cents a pound. The tax must be paid by the person who acquires the tobacco but it may be deducted from the price paid to the producer.

Provision is made in the act for the transfer of poundage allotments from one grower to another under the regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

yield for flue-cured tobacco appears to be around 825 pounds per acre. For the ten years prior to 1932 the average yield was 686 pounds; for the five years from 1933 to 1937, the average yield was 842 pounds. Yields during the past five years have been unusually favorable.

Q. Is the normal yield of 825 pounds per acre of flue-cured tobacco higher than that used heretofore under Agricultural Adjustment Administration Programs?

A. Yes. The yield under previous AAA programs has been around 775 pounds per acre.

Harboring the sentiment of observing their golden wedding in the same home where they were married fifty years ago, and desiring to have as their guests friends, and neighbors, of yesteryears, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Denmark of Atlanta celebrated their golden wedding Sunday, February 27, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. R. T. Simmons who lives between Brooklet and Pembroke. In re-enacting the scene of their first wedding the couple repeated the vows of fifty years ago and the bride of half a century was presented a diamond ring by the groom. Rev. F. H. Sills of Metter officiated.

Adding interest to the event was the fact that there were three other couples present who had recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries. These were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Mitchell of Statesboro, Mr. and

The marriage of Miss Nell Brannen and Avery G. Smith, Jr., took place on Saturday night, February 19, in Miami, Florida at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stilson Brannen, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Rev. Glenn C. James performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Brannen, wore an aqua blue tulle and tulle dress with a white hat and white accessories, and a gold carriage. Mrs. J. Robert Sandebeck and Cecil A. Avant, Jr., were the attendants. A reception followed the nuptials. Crystal bowls of sweet peas marked either end of the bride's table. Assisted in the serving were Mrs. Frank Collier, Miss Jane and Dorothy Anne Brannen, nieces of the bride. Miss Lois Hahn was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ewell Brannen of Stilson, went to Miami seven years ago and has been active in the Young People's organization of the White Temple there. She attended South Florida College of Law. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Avery C. Smith of Norwich, Conn., and Miami Shores, is a native of Miami and attended Windward Prep College at Lakegrove, L. I. He is a salesman with the Walgreen Drug Company. His father, the late Avery C. Smith, was a well-known pioneer of Miami and Miami Beach, having operated the first ferry between the two cities. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Jr., are at their home at 9130 North East Tenth Avenue, Miami.

Mr. Stilson Brannen, brother to the bride is the manager of Junkin and Avant, Inc., agents for the Bankers and Shippers Insurance Company of New York, in Miami.

Mrs. ATTAWAY HOSTESS AT BRIDGE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

A lovely event of Thursday afternoon was a bridge party given by Mrs. Grady Attaway at her home on Donaldson street. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of daffodils and epiphylls.

The unique tally cards, the method of progression, and the dainty refreshments all reflected approaching spring. On each tally was a flower and the possessor acquired the name of that particular flower for the afternoon, and directions for progressions featured the flower.

Mrs. W. H. Blitch made high score and received a bridge set. Mrs. Cliff Bradley was given a double deck of cards for cut. For low, Mrs. J. G. Moore received celophane covers for refrigerator bowls.

The party plates with open-faced sandwiches were most attractive. One sandwich bore a Graham bread flower pot, from which issued a green pepper stem and flaunted a delicate flower modeled from carrots and creamed cheese; another sandwich star shaped, was centered with a stuffed olive. Chocolate ice cream in cups simulating flower pots contained such blooms as pansies, violets, snow drops and other dainty flowers. Fruit punch was also served.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Percy Averitt. Her guests included: Mrs. J. S. Murray, Mrs. Gordon May, Mrs. J. G. Moore, Mrs. W. H. Blitch, Mrs. E. L. Poindecker, Mrs. Z. Whitehurst, Mrs. W. D. McGauley, Mrs. A. M. Braswell, Mrs. Cliff Bradley, Mrs. Hinton Booth, Mrs. Arnold Anderson, Mrs. Thad Morris, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. Walpole, Mrs. J. F. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Denmark Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Harboring the sentiment of observing their golden wedding in the same home where they were married fifty years ago, and desiring to have as their guests friends, and neighbors, of yesteryears, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Denmark of Atlanta celebrated their golden wedding Sunday, February 27, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. R. T. Simmons who lives between Brooklet and Pembroke. In re-enacting the scene of their first wedding the couple repeated the vows of fifty years ago and the bride of half a century was presented a diamond ring by the groom. Rev. F. H. Sills of Metter officiated.

Adding interest to the event was the fact that there were three other couples present who had recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries. These were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Mitchell of Statesboro, Mr. and

The marriage of Miss Nell Brannen and Avery G. Smith, Jr., took place on Saturday night, February 19, in Miami, Florida at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stilson Brannen, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Rev. Glenn C. James performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Brannen, wore an aqua blue tulle and tulle dress with a white hat and white accessories, and a gold carriage. Mrs. J. Robert Sandebeck and Cecil A. Avant, Jr., were the attendants. A reception followed the nuptials. Crystal bowls of sweet peas marked either end of the bride's table. Assisted in the serving were Mrs. Frank Collier, Miss Jane and Dorothy Anne Brannen, nieces of the bride. Miss Lois Hahn was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ewell Brannen of Stilson, went to Miami seven years ago and has been active in the Young People's organization of the White Temple there. She attended South Florida College of Law. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Avery C. Smith of Norwich, Conn., and Miami Shores, is a native of Miami and attended Windward Prep College at Lakegrove, L. I. He is a salesman with the Walgreen Drug Company. His father, the late Avery C. Smith, was a well-known pioneer of Miami and Miami Beach, having operated the first ferry between the two cities. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Jr., are at their home at 9130 North East Tenth Avenue, Miami.

Mr. Stilson Brannen, brother to the bride is the manager of Junkin and Avant, Inc., agents for the Bankers and Shippers Insurance Company of New York, in Miami.

Mrs. ALFRED DORMAN HOSTESS AT DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Alfred Dorman was hostess on Monday evening with a delightful informal dinner party. The novel place cards deserving of mention were small mirrors covered with Bon Ami with the given name of each guest written thereon.

REV. ED H. HAMILTON OF SU-CHOWFU SPEAKS TO YOUNG PEOPLE'S LEAGUE OF SAVANNAH PRESBYTERY ON SINO-JAPANESE STRUGGLE

Declaring that the common people of neither Japan or China want war and that it is not for the Lords and politicians of the predominant War Party the Sino-Japanese struggle would quickly dwindle to nothing, was the opinion expressed Saturday by the Rev. Ed H. Hamilton of Su-chowfu, China. Dr. Hamilton was here to address the Covenant District of the Young People's League of the Savannah Presbytery and he spoke at the Presbyterian church on both the morning and afternoon programs. His addresses were highly interesting especially in view of the war torn condition of China at this time. The Chinese are naturally lovers of peace and have allowed themselves to be imposed upon for generations in what finally proved to be a futile effort to avoid war with Japan. Repeatedly Japan has left nothing undone to provoke war and the situation ultimately reached the point where it was a case of fight or be murdered. China is becoming well organized and if the war can be held in check for a while longer she will present a well-ordered and fully prepared enemy such as Japan, the result of the war now depends on the willingness of China to die, as the Japanese are exterminating them literally by the millions.

Dr. Hamilton's home is in Atlanta, from which the Savannah Presbytery Church sent him to China in 1922. Shortly after arriving there he married the daughter of a couple who had been in China 48 years, so he has quite a missionary background. At the present he and Mrs. Hamilton, with their five children are at home on Fultonsburg as his assistant is right in the middle of the war area. While here he is lecturing throughout the bounds of the church and those who were fortunate enough to hear him Saturday are hoping to bring him here for another lecture shortly.

Two Bulloch County Farmers Purchase Two Pure-Bred Bulls

JOHN H. BRANNEN AND J. B. FIELDS BUY TWO OF BEST BREED OF CATTLE FOR HERD SIRE

After using a good purebred beef bull for a few years it is wise to then procure a better herd sire, is the opinion of John H. Brannen and J. B. Fields.

These two Bulloch county farmers went to a herd of Hereford cattle that ranks with the best in the United States to buy herd sires Friday. They purchased two young bulls with Prince Domino lines of breeding, which is the outstanding line of breeding in the country. Neil W. Trask, the owner of the herd, had several cows and bulls that he selected over the country and paid from $350 to $1000 for.

The herd sires these farmers are now using are good individuals and have added about 125 pounds to the weight of their calves at 12 months old. The bulls purchased Friday carry deeper fleshing on the hind quarters and are thicker, with a deeper body, than probably any other bulls in the county. C. B. Gay found some four years ago that bulls carrying all the desired qualities, even though they cost more, pay for the difference in price in one crop of calves.

The two bulls purchased by Mr. Brannen and Mr. Fields are blocky and of the compact beef type.

New Farm Bill Provides Cotton Marketing Quota

MUST BE APPROVED BY TWO-THIRDS OF COTTON PRODUCERS VOTING IN REFERENDUM ON MARCH 12

The establishment of cotton marketing quotas, based on farm acreage allotments, is authorized for all cotton producing farms under provisions of the new farm act. The principal objective of the new measure is to strengthen the Agricultural Conservation Program and provide more effective control of burdensome crop surpluses.

The quotas, if approved by two-thirds of the cotton producers voting in a referendum on March 12, will represent the number of acres whose production may be marketed this year without restriction. Georgia's tentative acreage allotment is 2,036,000 acres.

The Adjustment Act provides for a national cotton allotment of approximately 10,750,000 acres in 1938. The number of acres needed, at normal yields, to produce the balance allotment is being apportioned to the cotton producing states and counties with no county to receive less than 60 percent of the cotton acreage planted and diverted in that county in 1937. The Mr. Kennon will be divided among individual farms, with special consideration for small producers.

This division will give all farms a minimum allotment up to five acres of cotton and a small allotment will be available for producers receiving between 5 and 15 acres. The remainder of the county allotment will be divided in such manner as to give each farm in the county or administrative area a uniform percentage of the crop land on the farm after excluding wheat, rice, tobacco acreage and the acreage used for commercial livestock production as its cotton acreage allotment. No farm may have an allotment greater than its planted and diverted cotton acreage in any of the past three years.

The 1938 marketing quota of an individual farm will be the larger of the actual or the normal amount of cotton produced on that farm's acreage allotment, plus any cotton carried over by the farm from the 1937 crop. In other words, the farmer may sell without restriction, all the cotton he can produce on his allotted acreage. On all cotton sold from the farm in excess of its marketing quota a penalty of 2 cents a pound must be paid. This means that if the farmer overplants, the cotton sold in excess of the actual or normal production of the allotted acre will be subject to the 2-cent penalty. The penalty does not apply to cotton on farms where the total production is less than 1000 lint pounds.

Furthermore, if a farmer overplants he will lose his 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program payment and the Cotton Price Adjustment payment to which he might be entitled on his 1937 cotton, and will be eligible for a cotton loan on only that part of his cotton produced in excess of his quota and at a rate 40 per cent lower than the loan rate provided for co-operators.

For co-operators, cotton loans are authorized at a rate to be fixed by the Secretary of Agriculture between 52 and 75 per cent of parity. The parity price of cotton at present is approximately 16 cents.

The provisions of the Act do not apply to long staple cotton, 1-1/2 in. or longer, such as Georgia's Sea Island cotton.

The Act extends the maturity date of 1937 cotton loans from July 1, 1938 to July 1, 1939.

F.W. Darby Lumber Company Enlarges Mill

Beginning with a small saw mill nineteen years ago the F. W. Darby Lumber Company has grown until today is one of the largest lumber mills in this section, with a daily capacity of 30,000 feet of lumber and an average weekly payroll of $1,000.

In the past few months the F. W. Darby Lumber Company, under the supervision of E. S. Lane, general superintendent, has completed the installation of a heavy duty saw mill and carriage which, according to Mr. Lane, has a capacity of 30,000 feet of lumber every ten hours. In explaining the modern methods in handling lumber Mr. Lane stated that they can now completely control the drying of all their lumber. He stated that they had installed a new Moore Cross Circulating Dry Kiln with automatic control of both moisture and heat which assures a perfect conditioning of lumber. Mr. Lane has been with the F. W. Darby Lumber Company since 1920 and has seen the growth of the firm from infancy to its present position. Mr. Lane takes a great pride in showing his many friends the operations of the new enlarged mill.

Mr. H. L. Kennon, recently added to the personnel of the firm, is in the capacity of business manager. Mr. Kennon was formerly connected with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Since Mr. Darby's expansion in the lumber industry, of owning large lumber interests in Jacksonville, Mr. Kennon is in charge of

Bulloch County Fat Stock Show March 21

Sponsored By Local Chamber Of Commerce

AFTER SHOWING HERE CATTLE WILL BE FILLED BY SPECIAL TRAIN TO SAVANNAH SHOW AND SALE

On Monday, March 21 the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the Bulloch county fat stock show to be held at the pens on the Central of Georgia railroad. The fat stock show is being sponsored as an educational project.

In order that the maximum benefit may be derived from this show the County Board of Education, at its regular meeting last Tuesday, voted to give all the schools in the county a half holiday. All the county school students will come into Statesboro for the show.

The present plans are for the Central of Georgia to pull 10 calves to Savannah following the show with a special train. Several of the boys will accompany the cattle on the train and bed them down for the night. The other boys and farmers will probably go to Savannah on Tuesday and assist in caring for the cattle and get them in condition for the showing. Thursday, March 24 at the Savannah fat stock show and for the sale on March 25.

It has been suggested that there be a parade of the cattle at high noon through the main streets of Statesboro. The show March 21 will have the best cattle that have been fed out in the county. There are several steers in the group that practically every one who has seen them predicts they will grade U. S. Prime, which is tops as far as cattle go. All of the cattle will grade medium or better.

Details of the program and showing the cattle have not been completed. Dr. R. J. Kennedy, Mayor J. L. Renfro and C. P. Olliff comprise the Chamber of Commerce committee to work out the details.

For growers that have an established base, the following scale was given the county office by the state office to figure the quotas on:

When the base acreage is 5.1 acres or more the quota is 70 per cent of the base. With a base from 4.8 to 5 acres the quota is 3.5 acres; from 4.4 to 4.7 acres the quota is 3.4 acres; from 4.0 to 4.3 acres the quota is 3.3 acres; from 3.8 to 3.9 acres the quota is 3.2 acres; and where the base acreage is 0.5 acres or less the quota is 90 per cent of the base.

Each new tobacco grower that has applied to the county agent for a base there will be allotted one acre, then an additional acre is granted if he has a barn as much as half completed by February 16, 1938, then an additional one-tenth of an acre for every ten acres in cultivation in excess of 50 acres on the farm. The maximum quotas for new growers is 1.5 acres where there is not a barn, with one barn the maximum is 2 acres and where there are two barns the maximum is 4 acres.

More than three hundred students from fifteen schools of the First District took part in the District Music Festival held at the South Georgia Teachers College last Friday.

The festival consisted of musical programs presented by bands, choruses, orchestras and instrumental solos from each school in the district. Two bands and two orchestras were present and a large number of choruses.

The festival was supervised by Mr. Charles Miller of Savannah, assisted by Mrs. E. K. Newton. No awards or prizes were offered at the festival. Judges were selected to give constructive criticism. The judges were: William Deal, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Mrs. W. L. Downs and Ronald J. Neil.

The first festival was held here four years ago. The idea was originated by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman and William J. S. Deal, with the Teachers College as host.

QUOTAS ARE IN LINE WITH NEW FARM PROGRAM IF MARKETING QUOTA IS VOTED IN ON MARCH 12

Tobacco growers quotas in Bulloch county are now available through the county agent's office for the soil conservation program in 1938. These quotas are also in line with the new farm program if the marketing quotas are voted in March 12. Every tobacco farmer is being notified officially how his quota for 1938 for that farm will be.

For growers that have an established base, the following scale was given the county office by the state office to figure the quotas on:

When the base acreage is 5.1 acres or more the quota is 70 per cent of the base. With a base from 4.8 to 5 acres the quota is 3.5 acres; from 4.4 to 4.7 acres the quota is 3.4 acres; from 4.0 to 4.3 acres the quota is 3.3 acres; from 3.8 to 3.9 acres the quota is 3.2 acres; and where the base acreage is 0.5 acres or less the quota is 90 per cent of the base.

Each new tobacco grower that has applied to the county agent for a base there will be allotted one acre, then an additional acre is granted if he has a barn as much as half completed by February 16, 1938, then an additional one-tenth of an acre for every ten acres in cultivation in excess of 50 acres on the farm. The maximum quotas for new growers is 1.5 acres where there is not a barn, with one barn the maximum is 2 acres and where there are two barns the maximum is 4 acres.

History is full of singing troubadours, blind musicians, roaming minstrels and other romantic musical characters. Periodically Statesboro's own "Wandering Minstrel" finds his way back to his childhood haunts. We know him as "Doug," the blind colored musician who picks his way with confidence about the streets of Statesboro, his guitar strapped over his shoulder, answering voices which call to him cheery greetings.

"Doug" is not unlike that of the singing troubadours of bygone days. He has traveled all over the world, singing and playing his way, without benefit of sight. He finds no strangers in these far places despite his color.

"Doug" came to Statesboro in 1910 at the age of 9, as William McLeod, from Thompson, Georgia. He lost his sight at the age of six. His only schooling days was that given him by his mother at the fireless. His mother, Minnie McFell, cooked for Mrs. W. H. Ellis for a number of years. While here he learned to play the guitar, and except for a period of several years when he did not have an instrument, he has never been without his guitar. When he was 17

Statesboro Production Credit Association Shows Signs Of Growth

STATESBORO PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION EXPECTS INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP AND VOLUME OF BUSINESS

An increase in membership and the volume of business this year is expected by the Statesboro Production Credit Association, which serves Bulloch and Evans counties, according to J. E. Hodges, president. He says that many farmers have already made arrangements for their short-term credit needs for this year through this farmers' cooperative credit organization.

The record of the Statesboro association to date is one of steady progress, Mr. Hodges said. In 1934, the first year it operated, it had 155 members. Last year it served 407 members. In 1934 it made loans totaling $44,599.00, and its volume has increased each year. In 1937 it made loans totaling $149,422.00.

In 1934 the association did not have any reserve. It now has a reserve of $6,380.00. Members of the association now own $7,795.00 worth of stock in the association.

"Each year has been one of progress," said Mr. Hodges. "And as more and more of our farmers learn of the short-term credit service which we have to offer them we expect the membership and volume of business of the association to continue to grow. Our association makes loans to farmers not only for production purposes but for almost every purpose for which a farmer needs short-term credit."

Cotton Allotments For 1938 Now Being Distributed

IF MARKETING QUOTAS ARE VOTED IN ON MARCH 12 COTTON FARMERS WILL BE PERMITTED TO SELL ALL PRODUCE WITHOUT PENALTY

Bulloch county cotton allotments for 1938 are being distributed to individual farms on the following basis:

- Five acres are allotted to individual farms unless the highest number of acres planted to cotton during the previous three years, plus the diverted acreage, is less than five acres; in this case the highest acreage planted and diverted in any of these three years is allotted to the farm.
- Three per cent of the remaining acreage is allotted to farms having allotments of less than 15 acres.
- The remainder is allotted to the farms on a basis of tilted acreage less acreage devoted to tobacco. No farm is given an acreage allotment exceeding the acreage planted to cotton and the acreage diverted under the farm programs for the previous three years. This means that the percent of tilted acreage which may be allotted to cotton will be the same for all the farms in the county.

It is understood that yields of lint will be given to the various farms getting an allotment of acreage in line with the per acre yield during the past three years. This yield will be used only as a basis of pay under the soil conservation program. If the marketing quotas on cotton are voted in March 12 individual farms will be permitted to sell all the cotton free of penalties on the allotted acreage.

March 12 Is Date Set To Determine Marketing Quota

FARMERS WHO PRODUCED COTTON OR FLUE-CURED TOBACCO ARE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE FOR 1938 FARM PROGRAM

Bulloch County farmers will vote on Saturday March 12, on whether marketing quotas for cotton and flue-cured tobacco are to be made effective for the 1938 season, as provided for in the new farm act.

County Agent Byron Dyer announced that the polls will open in Bulloch county at 9 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m. The ballot will be secret. A community referendum committee will be in charge of the balloting in each community. This committee will be composed of three local farmers.

The voting on cotton and tobacco will be separate. All persons who were actually engaged in the production of cotton in 1937 are eligible to vote in the cotton referendum. All persons who were actually engaged in the production of flue-cured tobacco in 1937 are eligible to vote in the tobacco referendum. A farmer cannot vote in both referenda unless he was actually engaged in the production of both cotton and flue-cured tobacco in 1937. Separate ballots and separate ballot boxes will be provided at each polling place for the cotton and tobacco votes.

Each community committee has a list of all persons, whether operators, share tenants, or sharecroppers who were actually engaged in the community in the production of cotton or tobacco in 1937. Farmers should vote at the polling place established in their community.

No one (whether an individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association or other legal entity) will be entitled to more than one vote in the cotton referendum or more than one vote in the tobacco referendum, even though engaged in 1937 in the production of cotton or tobacco in two or more communities, counties or states. There will be no voting by mail, proxy or agent, but a duly authorized officer of a corporation, firm, association or other legal entity may cast its vote.

In case several persons, such as a husband, wife and children, participated in the production of cotton or tobacco in 1937 under a lease or sharecropping agreement, only the person or persons who signed or entered into the lease or sharecropping agreement, may vote.

In the event two or more persons engaged in producing cotton or tobacco in 1937 jointly, in common, or in community, each such person is entitled to vote.

In order for the marketing quotas to become effective in 1938, two thirds of the farmers voting in the cotton referendum must vote in favor of the quotas. In other words, each referendum is separate and it would be possible for farmers to approve quotas for one crop and reject them for the other.

Ballot boxes in Bulloch county will be located at the regular voting place in each district.
