PROTECT WOODS FROM FIRE
A tree will make a million matches—a match will destroy a million trees.
Take no chances with lighted matches, tobacco, brush or camp fires.
Forest destruction is quick—forest growth slow.
Burned timber pays no wages.
When fire is discovered, put it out if you can. Get help if you need it.
ARE YOU PRACTICING PREVENTION AND FOREST PROTECTION?
GROW TIMBER—IT PAYS!

GIVE THEM SOMETHING TO PUT THEIR TEETH IN!

This fall will see a Home Economics course included in the courses of study at the High School for the first time in a number of years. The Board of Education is to be congratulated in offering it again to the girls of Statesboro.

We would like to see next a commercial course offered. The advantages and benefits that such an addition to the High School curriculum are too obvious to enumerate.

Mr. S. H. Sherman, the new superintendent of the Statesboro Public Schools, asked a question at this week's Rotary meeting: "How many of you men here today have had to use the Latin or French you learned at high school in your business? How many of you have used the Algebra you studied in high school to work out a problem in your business?" The boys given at that meeting indicate the need of courses in high school that our young people can put their teeth in—typewriting, bookkeeping, business arithmetic manual training, agriculture.

A great number of high school graduates do not get to go off to college. These who do not should be given an opportunity to study something they can use when they finish high school. And what course could be of more use than a commercial course? Let it be next?

"SERVICE ABOVE SELF"

At its meeting this week the Statesboro Rotary Club announced its intentions of setting up a student loan fund to help young people without the necessary funds secure a college education.

This fund as planned by the Rotary Club will be administered solely for the benefit of Statesboro and Bulloch county youths and loans will be restricted absolutely to those who cannot obtain a college or university education without help. A committee of Rotarians will be named to administer the fund.

Definite work of this kind by a civic organization will develop a solidarity of purpose and unity of action, and stabilize its ideals of service. The opportunities to serve are all around us and no matter what our resources are the demand will not be met. If a report should become current that there was a large treasure buried in our community we would dig the place to pieces in an effort to find it. There are richer jewels than any material treasure hid away in humble homes that can be found and developed and marketed with very little effort. And it is a significant fact that as we grow older it is the acts of service that we have rendered to others along the way that we will remember with the most pleasure.

We do not know of a greater service that can be done in a community than the one the local Rotary Club is planning with its Student Loan Fund. Here is a real application of the club's motto, "Service Above Self."

THE IVANHOE COMMUNITY CLUB
Statesboro cannot claim all the organizations for community improvement and promotion in Bulloch County.

There is the Ivanhoe Community Club which has received wide recognition for the promotion of the welfare of the people of its section of the county.

The club was organized on July 4, 1932. In

A news item of a Negro taxi driver who was unable to work for a time because of illness. He obtained $50 from a government relief agency to tide him over. Now he is back at work, and is trying to return the money. When it was pointed out to him that he was not legally obligated to do this, he observed that "that was the way I'm raised—and that's the way I'm raising my child."

A great many other Americans can learn a lesson from this Negro taxi driver. One of the most ominous portents on the horizon is the fact that thousands of people have apparently come to look on relief as a "profession." They plan to make it their "life work." Productive jobs in private industry hold no attraction for them, when they can take it easy at the taxpayers' expense. They figure someone owes them a living.

This isn't a criticism of those people who have turned to relief only as a last resort, and are eager to get off the rolls as soon as opportunity for a real job comes along. Nor is it a criticism of relief per se. The hungry must be fed, the homeless sheltered, the clothed clothed. Honest beneficiaries of relief aggressively seek real employment. Professional "relief bums" are a new menace to democratic government.

The Negro's statement was news because his attitude was so unusual today. It should be printed on every relief check and public grant.—Telford Enterprise.

All's Fair...

Miami Shores, waves breaking gently on warm sands, and three children ranging from 5 years to 18 months splashing in the snowy spray, all form a part of the picture as Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hart enjoy a belated honeymoon at the Florida resort. Mr. and Mrs. Hart were married seven years ago in Ridgeland, S. G., but kept postponing their honeymoon, but now they are off at last. Mrs. Hart was before her marriage, Dottie Lester. Dottie, we salute you. A woman who can get her husband to take her on a honeymoon after seven years of matrimony deserves our orchids this week.

But we nominate as our luckiest vacationist, Jim Coleman, now of Atlanta, but still one of our boys. Jim was one of a party making a Caribbean Cruise. Everything was going nicely, but not particularly exciting, until a Swedish Consul entered the scheme of things. The consul invited Jim and three girls who were in the party to stay in his home while they were in Panama City. Their host proved to be very wealthy and entertained them most lavishly. He insisted that they stay for three nights and join their party at Cristobal. The time drew near and Jim and the girls were wondering how they were going to get to Cristobal by sailing time. They didn't want to question such a perfect host. But at the proper time this gentleman made a modern Aladdin chartered a Pan American Clipper and set his guests down beside their steamer just a few minutes before sailing time. And as if he had not been royal enough in his attention he joined them later in Havana having come there by plane from his home in Panama City.

And we are reminded that Almaria Johnston and her attractive children are breathing the salt air of Tybee and dodging stingers. With them are the Mark Etheridges of Louisville Ky. We believe she could eat hot dogs with the greediest of us along with the leanest, and slap mosquitoes with a much gusto as the next one, and then when the moon comes up, I'd like to be there for her description. Black Ducks Know How to Avoid Enemies. Their nests, well-camouflaged with weeds and hidden in swamps or brush, can be found only by accident. Parent ducks keep their young huddled close on reeds, swamps, rarely venture on open water. They fly at night, feed generally at dawn and dusk. When danger nears, they fly to the middle of a river or lake, or leave the vicinity entirely.

CAREY CORK INSULATED SHINGLES

Shield Your Home From Summer Heat

Houses roofed with Carey Cork Insulated Shingles are many degrees cooler in summer, but also warmer in winter. A layer of cork, as shown in the cut, tends to stop heat from passing through. These massive shingles not only make a more beautiful roof, but cost less than ordinary shingles, when you consider their high insulating value. Ask us for prices.

For an Electrified Georgia---
WHERE WE OURSELVES CAN'T BUILD
WE WILL HELP OTHERS TO BUILD

TWO YEARS AGO when the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) was first making itself felt as a force for good, the Georgia Power Company in a newspaper advertisement publicly offered its cooperation to the REA and to the Georgia cooperatives organized under the REA plan.

For years before then we had been vigorously carrying forward our own rural electrification program—and that work still goes forward. But we knew that the federal government, with millions of dollars at its command, could build the additional rural lines faster and farther than we could. And so, for AN ELECTRIFIED GEORGIA, we offered our help.

That public pledge has been backed up by actual deeds. In some instances, our engineers have made the preliminary surveys for Georgia REA cooperatives. In others, our field representatives have aided rural groups in getting organized, and our home service girls have helped farm wives to learn to use their new appliances advantageously.

We are not seeking to take more credit to ourselves than is due. We have merely joined with other organizations and individuals to help wherever we could, in whatever way we could, and we have considered ourselves honored that so many groups of farmers and their leaders have wanted us to help. These services to the REA cooperatives we have given without charge, and we now renew our offer of these services FREE to other cooperatives.

We have helped in this movement because it offers outstanding benefits to Georgia, and the tradition of the Georgia Power Company is that we help in ANY movement for the good of Georgia. We have helped also for sound and solid business reasons. In these hard times, we need all the business we can get, and we are grateful to the federal government and the REA for having broadened the market for electric power in Georgia.

Seventeen of the Georgia REA cooperatives are now obtaining their electric power supply from us (at advantageously low rates). We thus regard them not only as good friends but valued customers.

For all of these reasons, we are proud that the first REA cooperative in the United States to be dedicated by the President of the United States is in Georgia. Our congratulations to the Lamar Electric Membership Corporation and to the people of Barnesville. Sincere good wishes also for the success of your venture in extending electric service to previously unserved farms.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

Mr. President...

Here is good news of electrical progressiveness in your adopted state—

In addition to aiding the REA cooperatives, the Georgia Power Company has now built 4,033 miles of rural lines of its own and is now serving 46,000 rural electric consumers—exactly the same low rates as we offer in the heart of Atlanta.

In very few other states can the villages and farms buy their electricity as cheaply as the big cities. This uniformity of rates, plus the lowness of our rates, explains why Georgia ranked lowest in the nation in the price of electric service in communities of less than 1,000 population. In a recent survey by the Federal Power Commission.

Georgia homes and farms served by this Company are now buying their electricity at an average price of 2.9 cents a kilowatt hour. The national average is 4.3 cents.

Among the states, Georgia continues to rank FIRST EAST OF THE ROCKIES in the use of electricity in the home.

Homes, urban and rural, served by this Company now use an average of 1,372 kilowatt hours of electricity a year. The national average is 872.

These records have been made despite the fact that the 161,000 rural and urban homes served by this Company's electric lines are scattered over an area of 44,000 square miles. We serve 545 Georgia cities, towns, villages and hamlets, and only eight of them have populations of more than 10,000. A total of 448 have populations of less than 1,000.

Electrically speaking, Georgia is setting the pace for the nation! Already Georgia is far ahead of many wealthy communities in the East and North, both in the cheapness of electric service and in its widespread use by women in the home, by farmers and by industrial workers. But we are not satisfied with the progress already made. We recognize electricity's important role in the advancement of human welfare. And we will ever strive, in the future as in the past, to hasten the day when our state will truly be—

Announcements

Washington, D. C., May 21, 1938

As of this date, I have filed for nomination of my candidacy for re-election to the Democratic primary of September 14, next, for United States Senator.

I wish to express to the Democrats of Georgia profound appreciation of the confidence they have reposed in me, and to say that I have to the best of my ability sought at all times to justify that confidence. If again nominated by them, I shall be equally diligent and appreciative.

In the course of the coming weeks, as opportunity and occasion may offer, I shall be glad to discuss the vital questions of our time and frankly to make known my views on all subjects of concern to the people of Georgia.

Respectfully yours,
WALTER F. GEORGE.

"AT YOUR SERVICE" CAR IN TOWN TO HELP LOCAL DEALERS

One of the American Oil Company's white fleet of "At Your Service" cars which are traveling from Maine to Florida in the American Oil Company's territory is in Statesboro, stopping at the local Amoco stations for the benefit of the dealers. It was brought here by A. B. McDougald, Amoco contractor.

Each car carries buckets, paint brushes, brooms and all the equipment needed to show Amoco dealers how to clean up rest rooms and station premises. Each car has a porter who will do the work of cleaning up the stations inside and out. These men will leave each station in clean and up-to-date condition and will point out to the dealers the benefits of maintaining their stations in this condition.

The object of the "At Your Service" and "Clean Up" campaign, says Mr. McDougald, is to teach every dealer to operate his station more efficiently and to instruct him as to how he may be a better merchant. Sanitary code, sidewalk signs and enamel discs will be given to those stations which conform to the principles of service and cleanliness which the American Oil Company has established.

M. V. Huling, dealer sales promoter of the Atlanta Division in making stops in the Statesboro district, in the company's drive to insure its customers better and more efficient service stations.
