500,000 Drivers Licenses Sold

The last of 500,000 drivers licenses, issued by the Georgia Department of Public Safety, was in the mails today, Commissioner Don E. Sullivan announced.

He said the final batch included licenses for all applications made before the July 31 deadline with the exception of about 2,000 which were mailed but returned to the department "unclaimed," or those which contained errors.

Commissioner Sullivan said he wished to thank in behalf of the entire department drivers who have had to wait, some as long as two months, for their permits.

"We realize the drivers have been caused considerable inconveniences during this delay and every member of the department appreciates the consideration and patience drivers have had during this jam," he said.

When Mr. Sullivan became commissioner on July 1, there were 400,000 unexpired applications piled in the department offices. Since that time, he said, clerks have worked day and night to get licenses mailed "as fast as possible."

"Today the jam is cleared and only those applications held up for corrections or delayed for some other specific reason have not gone in the mails," he said.

Commissioner Sullivan said the system is being simplified so that such a delay will not occur again during renewal period.

Hog Prices Follow Cycle

Pointing out that hog prices normally follow a cycle which usually takes from seven to eight years to complete, County Agent Byron Dyer this week declared that successful hog producers, after all, are those who stay in the business through good and lean years, and adjust their operations to meet conditions as they arise.

"Despite seemingly low prices for hogs the trend at present is normal," Mr. Dyer said. "However in view of declining hog prices, farmers will do well to make plans for producing pork at minimum cost by taking full advantage of the wide variety of grazing and finishing crops available."

The county agent explained that hog production balances up the farm production by assuming part of the risk due to fluctuation in prices of other commodities. Hogs help distribute farm labor and income, and aid in supplementing the income at times when prices of other farm products are low, he added.

"Harvesting of peanuts by hogs enables farmers to produce around 350 to 400 pounds of pork per acre," he said. "In addition, this method will aid greatly in improving the soil."

The agent said also that breeding herds be called closely this fall, retaining only the best sows. He suggested that this is a good time to produce better boars, since purebred prices are unusually reasonable during the fall months.

"Good sires in the herd will pay dividends to farmers, even during low-price periods, by improving the grade of the hogs marketed," he declared.

"The buyer of seed cotton are being required to report to all purchases of seed cotton including toll cotton, on a special form which is being provided them."

Gin Records Important

County Agent Byron Dyer this week said records of cotton production being kept by ginners and buyers and the promptness with which they report to the county committee in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program are important to all producers.

He pointed out that the federal farm act requires the ginners and buyers to make periodic reports to the county committee, and from these records the amount of penalties are determined.

Most important, he said, the ginners' records are used to establish the normal yield of cotton for each farm and will also provide information on cotton production for counties, including cross-county ginners.

Prior to 1938, accurate records were not available for all production of counties, consequently the amount of cotton produced in one county and ginned in another county could not be accurately established. Mr. Dyer said an accurate record is important to the farmer as all farm payments on cotton are determined on the yield established for each farm.

"The ginner should obtain from his customer the farm serial number for the farm on which the cotton has been produced," he said. "The serial number can be obtained from the marketing card and the ginner must obtain it in order to make a proper report."

The buyer of seed cotton are being required to report to all purchases of seed cotton including toll cotton, on a special form which is being provided them."

The county agent explained that a farmer may gin all the cotton of his own production without paying a penalty. "It's only when he sells beyond his allotment that he has to pay the penalty," he said.

The change was confirmed by the Board of Regents.

Franklin Explains

employees of the state should receive their pay checks regularly on the 1st and 15th of each month and the teachers have to do without their money for an indefinite period.

I am willing and ready to vote for some law that will be so written that when one employee of the state gets paid all others get paid.

My letter to the Governor last week did not say specifically that I was in favor of paying the back salaries to the teachers-but it pointed out the only way that I see that it can ever be done and that is complete revision of our tax system.

I think the question the Governor asks is unfair to every member of the Legislature as he or anyone else who is fair minded knows that there is not a member in the Legislature who doesn't want the teachers paid for the full term of the school. But they may differ widely as to sources and methods of getting it.

very truly yours,
DARWIN FRANKLIN

Week's Sentence Sermon

Sometimes a fog will settle over a vessel's deck and yet leave the topmast clear. Then a sailor goes up aloft and gets a lookout into the helmsman on deck cannot get. So prayer sends the soul aloft; lifts it above the clouds in which our selfishness and egotism beguile us, and gives us a chance to see which way to steer.—C. H. Spurgeon.

WE BET IT CAN BE DONE

We can't keep grafters and peddlers from imposing on this community, that is the City Police's job.
But the merchants who advertise in the Bulloch
Herald do tell you that you can have reliable service or merchandise for less.

Peddlers and grafters are not concerned about the quality of what they sell. They are here today and gone tomorrow, when you discover that it is not what it looked like when you were listening to him give his sales talk.

The first consideration of your home-town merchant and business man is quality, because they must depend upon your future patronage.

We can't keep peddlers and grafters from imposing on you. But our advertisers will sell you reliable service and merchandise for less money, with satisfaction guaranteed. Let them prove it.

THE POLITICAL POT

This week we place two more names in the po-

the Board of County Commissioners and Rupert Parrish of Port running for the County School

But Don't Blame Us If The Almanac Is Wrong

We drove up to Swainsboro Sunday with the Hon. "Shrimp Brannen, member of the State Senate; the Hon. Harry S. Aiken, member of the State House; and Colonel Jack Murry, Minister-plenipotentiary. Being an unusual crowd we went to Swainsboro in an unusual way. We took the old Swainsboro road. It carried us out by West Side
School, Upper Lotts Creek Church, Mr. Perry Cobb's place, and the old place once belonging to Judge Leroy Cowart. We came out on U. S. 80 at the old Dr. Johnson place about five miles this side of Graymont.

All this country was new to us but Jack and "Shrimp" knew it like a book. Jack showed us where he played baseball fifty years ago. He said he was playing center field for Statesboro against Port. Port was way a-head and was at bat. A Port fellow hit a long high fly, deep in Jack's center field. Jack hit-tailed after it. He missed the ball and it rolled in a stump holler. Jack reached in the holler to get the ball and a black snake came out. Jack tore out for the tall timber yelling "lost ball. . . . lost ball!" Jack didn't tell us, but we are of the opinion that Jack gave up baseball after that.

We had a post card from a friend of ours who went to the New York World Fair. It read "Having a Wonderful Time. Wish I could afford it."

One of our local doctors tells a story on one of the county's leading story-tellers.

"Don't talk," the doc. advised our teller of tales (we'll call him Bill just for the sake of the story). So Bill made all preparations and lapsed into a two-weeks silence, necessary in order to keep his voice from lapsing into a permanently cracked state.

A badge, bearing the legend, "I ain't a saying"
was worn on Bill's shirt front.

A friend learned of Bill's sign and sought him out. "This is one time," he said with glee, when

Barbs Of The Brail Patch Philosopher . . .

Dear Editor:

Gracious a-life. Why didn't you tell me that I wrote so much. Why when all that stuff I sent in last week come out in your paper it took up pretty near half a page. Ma told me I was spouting to much—now I believe her, so I ain't gonna write that much this time.

Last Thursday I was down in that field next to the lower pasture tearing up a patch of bermuda grass. Gracious it was hot. . . . Ole Jake, he's a-going on 19 years now and still a dum good mule, stubborn, but that's jest mule anyway and we were tearing that stuff up.

I got to thinking and 'fore I knew it I was talking to Ole Jake. Now Ole Jake—he's a philosopher jest like me. I said to that jar-head mule: "Ole Jake, you are a man, the son of a jackass, and here I am a man made in the image of God. Yet, here we work, hitched up together, year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. Verily, I think it is a partnership between a mule and a fool, for shorley I work as hard as you do, if not harder. Plowing or cultivating, we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I do it on two. I, therefore, do twice as much work, per leg, as you do.

"Soon we'll be getting ready for another crop.
When the crop is harvested, I give one-half to the landlord, and you get one-half of what I get. You eat all your part while I divide mine with seven children, six hens, two ducks and the man at the

where he is engaged as surgeon in the Lamar Hospital.

Fireside Health Chat

"THE GREAT IMITATOR"

"Syphilis is a disease which does not respect any age, sex, race, or social class. It has inflicted misery and death for hundreds of years; in past centuries, because no one—not even physicians—know the nature of the disease or how to cure it; and in the present age, because the knowledge which science has attained for its prevention and treatment is not generally supplied.

"The fight against syphilis is hampered because the nature of the disease has prevented open warfare against it. It can be stamped out only if the facts about it are known and used to prevent its spread and to secure prompt treatment for its victims. Every man and woman and every adolescent boy and girl should be acquainted with the seriousness of the syphilis menace, the manner in which this disease is spread, what its symptoms are, and how it may be cured."

Realizing the gross ignorance of the majority of parents and the absolute necessity of their being enlightened as regards to this disease in order to protect our children, Dr. Thomas Parren of the United States Public Health Service has made the following appeal:
To Fathers:

For the first time in your memory and mine, decent people are talking openly about what can be done to stop the spread of the disease syphilis,
which is one of the most dangerous that can afflict
man, woman or child.

Every intelligent man realizes how syphilis can blight family life and how great is the loss of life
and the physical and mental disablement it causes.
Many of us had not realized, however, until national studies had been made of the problem that it is preeminently a disease of youth. Up to the present, one young person in every ten acquires the infection at some time in his or her life. In spite of the fact that we have safe medical methods to stamp out the disease, there is no evidence that we are making headway against it in this country. Yet in other countries, especially Denmark, Sweden, and Great Britain, the amount of syphilis has been reduced greatly during the past several years.

This is a realistic age. Since these things are true, our boys and girls should have not only every protection which medical science can give them but also the self-protection which comes only through an intelligent understanding of the nature of the disease, its symptoms, the ways in which it is transmitted from one person to another, and the methods of cure.

You, as a father, can play an important part in our national effort against syphilis. The accompanying booklet "The Great Imitator" gives you the opportunity to give your children, in words they can understand, the information they should have about syphilis. (This booklet is available at your health department without cost.) Your children will welcome it as proof of your loving concern for them.
If this information could be impressed upon every young adult, and if these principals were followed,
we should have taken a long step toward eradicating the disease.

In addition, every community has agencies interested in fighting syphilis. Work with them. Help to make their work practical rather than conversational. You will earn the thanks of each of us who would like to make this a better world for our children.

Thomas Parren, M. D.
Surgeon General

Your health department joins Dr. Parren in this earnest appeal to fathers and during the next few weeks will attempt to offer material through this column which will be beneficial to all and result in making Bulloch County a safer and healthier place for our children.

Letters To The Editor

Statesboro, Ga., Sept 11, 1939

Editor, The Bulloch Herald
Statesboro, Ga.

Sir:

In regards to my letters to you trying to explain
that we need more crops grown on the same land, each year that we may realize more income from our investment in farm equipment, stock and other outlay.

My stand is that we are loosing as farmers each year many dollars spent for various vegetables for our tables that can be successfully grown here.

So why let this opportunity pass, I mean this season, as the Fall months approach let's get ready to put in at least a small plot, well fertilized, which is protected by nature from the cold and get a little experience on this line, and I assure you that you will be well paid for your efforts, as you did while you were learning how to make the Grand Old County of Bulloch one of the leading tobacco markets in the south. Now let's go and do something, and not wait for our neighbor to lead.

Consult your county agent on this and get his views.
Thanks Mr. Editor for your comment on my letters, it shows you are trying to help us farmers by allotting us space in your paper to discuss this matter which needs more and more discussion and some eussing to get this county to get out and keep on doing to get ahead in truck farming as we have done in various other lines of farming. Thanks.

Yours truly,
BEN P. BEST

Any way, me and Ole Jake gonna get that bermuda patch tore up and that's summing.

Fight Those Cockroaches

Through the history books don't mention it, cockroaches are among the world's greatest travellers.
They're the cleverest of stowaways and hitch-hikers. Free of charge they cross the seas on liners, freighters, Chinese junks or any other boat where they find food and shelter. On land, they travel by train or automobile, hidden in luggage, in clothing, in packages of laundry or market baskets from the grocery stores.

The grown American cockroach has made its way from kitchen to kitchen and state to state until almost every housewife recognizes
it. Beside this native roach, immigrants from the far ends of the earth are settled and prospering in many American kitchens.

One of the ways to avoid roach trouble is to water all baskets or boxes of food and laundry as they come into the house. Roaches hide in such packages and so get a free ride into your home. Kill any stray roaches you find. Use a fly swatter, or a folded paper, or crush them with your shoe, whatever is quickest. Kill them before they can escape and settle themselves in your kitchen or pantry.

If they have already become pests in your house, you'll find sodium fluoride powder the best all-round roach remedy. But sodium fluoride powder is a poison,
so keep it out of reach of children
and pets.
With roaches as with most other household pests, starvation is an effective remedy, too. Keep all cracks, drawers and shelves clean of all traces of food. And keep food in tight insect-proof containers. Keep all garbage in a tight container. Roaches won't linger long where they can't find food.

Tests Show That Winter Legumes Aid In Cash Value

Winter legumes increased the value of the corn crop following tests by $9.15 per acre, according to the data from five tests presented to the United Georgia Farmers Saturday by O. E. Gay, vocational teacher at Register.

The data showed that these legumes increased the yield of cotton when planted behind Austrian winter peas or vetch.

L. F. Martin stated that he could still see the increased yields caused by the planting of winter legumes on certain fields five years ago.

W. H. Smith found that winter legumes increased his cotton production per acre. However, Mr. Smith the belief that it was better to follow winter legumes with corn. J. E. Deal followed five acres of winter peas with peanuts and found this to be a very satisfactory practice.

Winter legumes should be turned early enough in the spring to avoid complications in the cultivation of the crops to follow as well as to keep down certain worm infestation, B. C. McElveen observed.

These along with other topics relative to winter legumes were discussed Saturday. The cooperative order for winter peas and vetch is being made up. Austrian winter peas have been reserved $4.80 per hundred if procured by October 1 and hairy vetch at about $9.25 during September.

The boat with the Bulloch county order is now due in Savannah and the peas and vetch can be booked with the county agent or the six vocational teachers at these prices. The United Georgia Farmers could not reserve but 100,000 pounds of peas and 25,000 pounds of vetch at these prices.

In the fall of 1938 Bulloch farmers planted about 180,000 pounds of winter legumes. The 1939 plantings will probably exceed this figure.

Under the AAA program farmers may earn $1.50 per acre for planting these legumes until their soil building allowance is exhausted.

Shopping Around Town

By ALMA MOUNT

The stores in Statesboro can furnish a person clothes for almost any price, for any age, and for any occasion. Did you know that dainty baby clothes could be bought here? That a little boy's or girl's clothes could be bought? That the young married set's clothes could be bought? That mother and dad could buy clothes that fit them to a "T"? That even grandma and her spouse could buy clothes that would please them? That there are even second hand stores here? That all kinds of piece goods can be bought here?

The baby's clothes at Minkovitz's and the Fair Store are the best that can be had anywhere. They also carry rattlers, and all the play things and other things a baby needs.

Minkovitz's, Dunn's and the Fair Store have clothes for little boy's and girls and things for the awkward age that are just right.

The college girl can buy every thing she could possibly need at Oliver's, The Fashion Shop and Minkovitz's. The big fuzzy sweaters with the short sleeves one's to match caught my eye at Oliver's. Of course they have skirts to match or for contrast and shoes and hats and for tea dances and such things they have darling dresses.

The Fashion Shop has some grand looking tailored and three piece suits and coats. The fitted coats that you've read so much about are there in all colors. Their tailored wool dresses make a perfect campus outfit with one of the coats.

Minkovitz's fur coats, cloth coats, velvet dresses and evening dresses caught our fancy. Not only can you buy clothes there but you can fix your room up to perfection with their curtains, sheets, spreads and pillows.

Of course we can't leave the college man out and when he goes shopping he can't leave out Donaldson and Smith's. They have suits, overcoats, ties, shirts and even those loud colored socks that boys don't.

Mother and dad and the older members of the family can get clothes at all these places that have been mentioned and at reasonable prices too! Why I saw a very young grandmother looking at dresses the other day and she was pleased as punch at the new styles she was shown. "So youthful looking!"

For those who sew their are several stores with beautiful piece goods. The Fair Store already is showing new fall silks, Minkovitz's has all the front of their store turned over to wools and velvets. Brady's has most any kind of material any one could possibly want and in all colors too. Dunn's Dept. Store also has all kinds of piece goods and ready to wear too—where the materials are sold and buttons, zippers, threads and anything else a person needs in sewing.

To go with all the lovely clothes of course shoes are needed. The new Favorite Shoe Store, Oliver's, Donaldson and Smith's, Dunn's, Minkovitz's, Brady's, and the Fair Store can all give you a wide variety to shop from. Hats can be bought at all the department stores and there are two hat shops on South Main street. The first garden club in America was founded in Athens, Ga.

We couldn't begin to name all the clothes a person can buy in Statesboro but with all these stores why go out of town to shop? Try buying here and you'll be surprised to see what all our town has to offer in the way of clothes!

Blue Tide's Gridiron Schedule Announced For '39

With only eight of last year's team among the forty reporting for practice the Georgia Teachers College Blue Tide began practice here early this week to do justice to one of the toughest schedules in recent years.

According to Coach B. L. "Crook" Smith, the prospects for the line are good while the backfield is light and inexperienced. He is expecting to have fifty or more out for practice by the last of this week when the Tide will begin scrimmaging. The schedule for this year includes games with Armstrong, University of Havana, and Appalachian Teachers.

Members of last year's Blue Tide who have reported for practice this fall include: Herschel Hamill, Arlington, who played end every game last season; Jody Robertson, of Americus, veteran linebacker; and Robert Moss, Doon, and Orman Hamilton, of Brunswick, in the backfield; and Charles Smith, Tifton; Haygood Morrison, Thompson; Joe Joyner, of Jesup.

While the members of last Fall's Tide are swinging back into form easily, newcomers who are showing up well are: Hill Paschal, threat from Albany, Red Ivey, Colquitt; and Reese Ellison, Americus in the backfield; while H. L. Davis of Brunswick has 230 pounds on the line.

Teachers College students of last year who are reporting for football practice this fall include: Theron Anglin, Wadley; Clay Walker, Tonnelle; Delmas McGowan, Metter; and Lawrence Enloe of Atlanta.

Others answering the mighty "Crook" Smith call to the gridiron are: Joe Feaster, Bath, S. C.; Tim Crawford, Americus; J. C. Shiffey, Colquitt; N. H. White, Americus; John Dunn, Charles Wright, and Ben Butte, of Spartan; James Brown, Hinesville; William Cox, Dawson; Lloyd Braden, Macen; Carl Gave, Waycross; Bill Lynn, Belleville; W. B. Shivar, Brunswick; N. V. Sperry, Reidsville; Jack Morgan, Abbeville; J. D. Langley, Cedartown; James Hall, Norman Park; and George Pafford of Homerville.

The correct Teachers College football schedule for 1939 is: Sept. 23 Oglethorpe in Atlanta, Sept. 29 Stetson in DeLand, Fla. Oct. 7 Jacksonville (Ala.) Teachers in Statesboro. Oct. 14 University of Havana in Statesboro. Oct. 20 Troy Ala. Teachers in Troy, Ala. Oct. 27 South Georgia State in Douglas.

PORTAL F. F. A. NEWS

The Portal Chapter of F. F. A. boys are running a demonstration showing the effects of Nitrogen on one plant with a joining plant with no Nitrogen.

This nitrogen is furnished by the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Company, the makers of Natural Nitrate of Soda and the plants are located with Mr. W. W. Woods on route 80 about a half a mile out of the town of Portal.

The demonstration has proven quite a success as you can ride down the road and see the two different patches, and see the difference in growth and the number of bolts to the stalk.

The F. F. A. boys are holding a guessing contest as to the yield of the two plots: one with Nitrate added and the one with no Nitrate. If you have not made a guess, see any of the Vocational boys and ask for a card and fill it out as you may be the winner of $2.00.

The Portal Vocational boys have a corn demonstration showing the effects of Nitrogen on three plots of different amounts of soda per acre.

One plot has 300 lbs. per acre, one with 200 lbs. per acre, and one with 100 lbs. per acre, and one with no Nitrate of Soda. This demonstration is being run with Mr. W. W. Woods on U. S. W. H. WALKER, WILD LIFE RANGER DEFINES PRIVATE POND

Mr. H. H. Walker, Wild Life Ranger for Bulloch Evans and Candler counties, stated today that there is some doubt as to what constitutes a "private pond." He said that the definition of a private pond, is "a pond which lies in the bounds of a single ownership, and which has no inlet through which fish can pass to other waters under other ownership, he owner of a private pond, his tenants and their families, with the consent of the owner, may fish in such pond at any time provided they comply with the fishing license law."

Georgia climate is marine with continental influence. The rainfall averages 44 inches for Swainsboro to 70 for Clayton annually.

Chartered in 1785, the University of Georgia in Athens is the oldest state chartered university in the United States.

Purebred Cattle Herd Started

There is a possibility that Bulloch county farmers can in the near future purchase herd sires for their cattle in the county from the Prince Domino line of Hereford breeding.

G. B. Bowen has purchased six outstanding Hereford heifers from Nell W. Task as a start toward an outstanding purebred herd. Mr. Bowen has been raising high quality cattle for several years. However, his cattle in the past have been native cows bred to purebred sires. He now has an outstanding herd sire from a nationally known western herd. Mr. Task has practiced select breeding for several years and now has perhaps the outstanding Hereford herd in the southeast as far as quality is concerned. With heifers from this herd as a foundation, Mr. Bowen is off on the purebred line with the best breeding that can be procured.

Ivy Anderson thought enough of the cattle at Mr. Task's farm to buy a herd sire to make his start in the beef business.

John H. Brannen, John B. Fields, C. B. Gay, and P. F. Martin, have previously purchased herd sires from this herd of cattle.

Mr. Task has practiced going from herd to herd in the west and buying the outstanding cows and sires until now he has just the type of cows he thinks are the ideal. The herd he has built up is now producing calves that are purchased by purebred breeders for large prices, some as high as $2,500 per head.

Concrete Street Markers Set Up Name Statesboro's Streets

The first of approximately 225 street markers were placed on the corners of several of Statesboro's streets Tuesday of this week.

The markers are of concrete and stand five feet above the ground. The street names are cast vertically in the concrete posts and are easy to read. The names will be permanent since they are cast about one-fourth of an inch deep and are painted black.

Mr. C. E. Layton, city engineer, designed the markers after considering a number of signs being used in other cities. He stated that he thinks the ones they are using will be attractive as well as being the most durable. The representative of the city of Savannah has adopted his design and will use more than 3,000 in Savannah.

The markers will be placed on the North West and South East corners of the streets except in cases where it will be impossible to do so and will mark all the principal streets here. It is expected that they will have all the markers up by the first of the year.

The erection of the street signs is a part of the street paving project.

Conservation District Planned For Bulloch

The Bulloch county chapter of the United Georgia Farmers made all the necessary preliminary steps at the Saturday's meeting for procuring for the county a soil conservation district and a land-use planning program.

Twenty-five members of the organization signed the application for the soil conservation district and filed it with the state conservationist. A hearing will be called to vote on the district. This matter was brought to the county organization through H. W. Mikell at the request of the community UGF at Warnock.

The land-use planning program is a farm management analysis organization that is spreading to the various counties. Bulloch farmers first learned that it might be possible to get a group of these specialists to work in the county at the Warnock meeting and L. F. Martin presented the matter to the county meeting.

The important points found during the discussion led by G. C. Avery, Nevada vocational teacher, on treating small grains for smut were that the improved cereals were cheaper to us and most effective, and that the dry and sprinkled methods of using formaldehyde are good on oats.

It was brought out by Mr. Avery that from now until October 15 is the best time to seed Austrian winter peas and hairy vetch. The cooperation order being assembled by the vocational teachers and county agents has protection on prices for these seed until October 15.

Orders booked after that date will have to be filled at the prevailing price and may not result in the savings that are now available.

Commissioners At Mount Vernon

The quarterly meeting of the First District Association of County Commissioners will be held today (Thursday) at Mount Vernon, it was announced here by Fred W. Hodges, president of the association. Mr. Hodges is chairman of the Bulloch county board of commissioners.

Mr. A. F. Shirley of Tifton will address the meeting on "Forestry." G. T. McDougald of Atlanta, chief engineer of Post Roads Division of the Highway department will present a "Plan for Post Road Work."

Mr. Hodges stated that in the round table discussion the subject of county consolidation will be brought up.

At the noon hour the county commissioners from the eighteen counties will be the guests of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners at a barbecue dinner.

Going to Mount Vernon with Mr. Hodges will be M. J. Bowen and G. P. Lee. Mr. Bowen will represent Bulloch County on the Board of Managers.

Livestock Market

Mr. O. L. McLemore of the Bulloch Stock Yards reports a good sale of hogs and cattle this week, with good quality small 110 feeder pigs bringing as high as $8.25.

No. 1's brought 6.80 to 6.70; 2's 6.25 to 6.75; 3's 6.25 to 7.50; 4's 7.25 to 7.40; 5's 6.15 to 6.30; 4's sows, 6.00 to 6.75; thin sows, 4.75 to 5.75; stags, 2.50 to 5.00; sows and pigs were in good demand at 8.00 to 22.50.

Mr. McLemore announced that beginning at his next sale the commission for selling pigs and hogs weighing up to 110 pounds will be 20 cents per head. On hogs and pigs heavier than 110 pounds the commission for selling will be 35 cents per head.

The cattle market remained steady on fat cattle. It was higher on grazing or feeder cattle. Fat heifers and steers brought 7.00 to 7.50; yearlings, 6.25 to 7.00; calves, 3.50 to 6.00, according to quality; bulls, 4.50 to 6.50. Thin feeder yearlings were in extra good demand at 6.00 to 8.70.

To Conduct Revival

Rev. H. E. Russell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Atlanta will assist in a series of Evangelistic services at the Church next week. Mr. Russell will preach his first sermon Sunday morning at 11:30 and at eight o'clock in the evening. The services during the week will be at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. and close with the evening service Friday.

Surely there is need of a revival of the old time religion. Mr. Russell is a young man who loves and preaches the Gospel in its purity as the hope of a lost world. Come and worship with us during these few days.

H. L. SNEED, Pastor

Negro Convict Killed In Escape Attempt

Curtis Lee Howard, 18 year old negro convict was shot and fatally wounded Tuesday by Fate Curry, Bulloch County chain gang guard. Howard died in the county hospital.

The negro convict had escaped from the Bulloch chang gang camp on Sunday before he was killed on Tuesday and was serving a 2 year sentence. He was a trusty at the camp.

This is the first attempt of escape from the camp since the elimination of the old "chain and shackle" days used on prisoners. It was the first attempt of escape that resulted in death that has happened in Bulloch County in many years.

Howard's trail was struck on Tuesday when he stole some clothes from Lonnie Zetterrower. Sewell Kennedy and Fate Curry gave chase, and when the convict was first sighted the officers asked him to halt, but the negro refused. At first the Guards shot at him with small buck shots, later they had to use a pistol on him. Five Pistol shots were fired before the negro was struck. After he was hit he ran for over one mile down the road.
