He said that this National Guards unit is to be transferred to an anti-aircraft unit, to include a search light battery, a machine gun battery and a three-inch gun unit. He said that the personnel of the unit will be increased. There has been on definite information as to where the new unit will be located but it is expected that several cities will want it.

Colonel Noyes explained the operation of each battery in the unit and the part it would play in case of an attack on this section of the county. Other guests of the club were: Rev. H. E. Russell, Fielding Russell, Dr. R. J. Kennedy, Midshipman A. J. Rucker, Bob London and Rev. H. L. Snead.

Midshipman Rucker talked for a few minutes and answered questions asked him by the members of the club. He told of the three-month course he made up toward Greenland.

Library Lends 1,990 Books

The Bulloch County Library Board held an interesting meeting in the library room over the Sea Island Band in Statesboro at which the following members were present: Mrs. F. W. Hodges of the Ogeechee School community, chairman of the board, Mrs. Frankie Watson of Register, Mrs. F. W. Hughes of Brooklet, Mrs. Ernest Womack of Port, Miss Eleanor Ray of Georgia Teachers College, Mrs. A. J. Mooney, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, Mrs. Nan Edith Jones, J. L. Renfro, Miss Eunice Lester, R. Lee Moore, all of Statesboro.

Mrs. Jones, the head librarian reported circulation of 1,990 books during the month. Aside from the adult and juvenile fiction, these were thirteen different classes of books circulated in different sections of the library. The number of visitors in the library was 1,758 during the month. There children have been regularly conducted each Friday afternoon. All these facts bespeak themselves.

Mrs. R. S. Henderson of the how this education assist of Bulloch county is serving the public. Teachers College will conduct the story hour next Friday. She will entertain with her accordin and song at interviews and a story teller from the college will entertain with stories.

Mrs. Jones, the librarian reported that she had received the fourth unit of "Occupational Outlook for Georgia Youth Service" from the state administration of NYA. She stated this series comprises studies of job conditions in Albany, Atlanta, Columbus, Griffin and Savannah. his addition to the library contains full information concerning occupational opportunities. It is especially valuable inasmuch as different occupational outlooks have been studied with reference to job conditions for young people who have reached or are nearing the employment age.

The library board announced that although there was no field librarian during this month, the schools of the county may come to the library and receive their allotments of books.

Bryan County Would Be Glad To Get Bay District

It was announced here last week that the residents of the lower part of the county in the Bay district are seeking to have the section in which they live transferred from Bulloch to Bryan.

The petitioners are all residents of Bulloch county, but live nearer to Pembroke, the county seat of Bryan county, than they do to Statesboro. Carl Iler, William Canney, and W. E. Parrish seem to be the moving spirits in the movement. Mr. Iler and Mr. Canney live four miles from Pembroke and about twenty nine miles from Statesboro. Mr. Parrish lives four miles from Pembroke. The reason offered for petitioning the change is so that they might be nearer to a county seat.

It is said that every person living in the Bay district would like through written form or by oral declaration expressed the desire for the change. It is being pointed out in Bryan county that the people in Pembroke and Bryan county are taking no part in the efforts to effect a change.

Frank C. Miller, editor of the Pembroke Journal, said in an article published last week: "Those back of the plan say that they are going right ahead with the movement and taking the necessary steps to secure the success of their undertaking."

"It would not be a great loss to Bulloch county, it would be a gain for Bryan and those living in the Bay district would be with in six or eight miles of their court house. Most of them transact their banking business and do their trading in Pembroke anyway and it would be a great help to them if it were possible for them to do their 'courting' in Bryan."

It is said that to effect the legal procedure would take nearly a year or longer.

District PTA At Nevils

Mr. F. C. Parker, Sr., states that they are doing this in order that the buyers and sellers may be able to get back to their homes by night. The sales will begin at one o'clock, and Mr. Parker urges all the farmers to bring their stock as early as possible.

An extra set of scales has been added, together with an extra barn which will provide adequate space for all the stock coming in.

Mr. Parker said "We are one of the oldest markets in the south and have always had the reputation of securing satisfaction for all our customers."

The AAA is promoting better use of land by making it possible for every farmer to take part in the work of soil conservation.

L.A. Kennedy Found Guilty Of Murder

L. A. Kennedy was convicted of murder by a Bulloch Superior Court jury here Tuesday morning. The jury recommended that he be imprisoned for his natural life. Kennedy was charged with the murder of John Woodward, 28, of this county.

John Woodward, son of Frank Woodward, of the Denmark community, was found dead on Sunday, July 30, fifty steps from a dance hall at Denmark. A coroner's jury reported that he came to his death from a blow on the head. The father of the dead man swore out warrants for Kennedy, Miss Cleta Hodges, Dennis Hodges and Lewis Akins and they were arrested and placed in the Bulloch county jail. A preliminary hearing was held for Hodges and Akins and they were released. Kennedy did not ask for a hearing. The July Grand Jury, at a recessed session last week, indicted Kennedy for murder.

The case was tried before Judge Woodward of the Denmark community. Col. F. T. Lanier assisted Solicitor W. G. Nevils in the prosecution. D. C. Jones was counsel for the defense. An hour was used to select ten witnesses of the state. The state attempted to show that Kennedy struck Woodward over the head with a bottle of the night of July 29 in front of a newly opened dance hall at Denmark. There were no defense witnesses.

Kennedy in his sworn statement denied that he hit Woodward and stated that he did not know Woodward was dead until the following morning.

Judge Woodward charged the jury at 10 o'clock Monday night, and the jury was put to bed at 11 o'clock. The verdict was reached Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock.

According to the report of William B. Parker, special agent of the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Bulloch county has ginned 14,555 bales of cotton from the crop of 1939 prior to September 16. This is 706 more bales than the same period last year.

A proposal was made and passed that the executive committee prepare a resolution to present to the district meeting of the Georgia Education Association, taking a stand on just what the teachers of Georgia will do on January 1 when the state fails to provide funds for the operation of the schools.

Little Twister Hits Statesboro

A freak storm hit part of the business section of Statesboro Tuesday afternoon doing damage to several buildings.

The storm blew up from the south and developed into a small "twister" in Statesboro when it took several squares of roofing from E. A. Smith Grain Company warehouse. Blowing across the southeastern part of the business section, it tore two large double doors from the Marsh Chevrolet Company, and at the Howard Lumber Company it twisted several large trees and lifted lumber out of place there.

The path of the twister was not more than 100 feet wide and people two blocks from its path were not aware of it, until later.

Rally At Baptist Church Oct. 8

Dr. C. M. Coakson, pastor of the Statesboro Baptist Church, announced today that Mr. Edwin S. Preston, Executive Secretary of Shorter College, Rome, Georgia will be the speaker for the annual Rally Day to be held at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, October 8.

"Mr. Preston," said Dr. Coakson, "was for many years Training Union Secretary of Georgia and is a very popular and interesting speaker." On this Rally Day the church expects and hopes to have the presence of every member. Visitors are cordially invited.

Hundreds of Baptists living in and around Statesboro are now busily engaged in making preparations for their Rally Day.

Under the regulations that have been prescribed, it is extremely unlikely that the 1940 acreage allotment for any regular or old tobacco farm will be reduced drastically below the 1939 allotment of 'acres to plant', unless an error is found in the figures used in calculating the 1939 acreage allotment.

"Any farm on which the harvested acreage in 1939 was material in 1940 by reason of having planted the larger acreage, but may receive some increase in the 1939 allotment. It is justified by the land, labor and equipment found to be available for tobacco after considering other cash crops on the farm."

"For some on which tobacco was grown in 1939 without an acreage allotment, the allotment will be based on 1-5 of the 1939 harvested acreage adjusted up or down by local and county committees on the basis of crop rotation practices and the land, labor and equipment available for tobacco as compared with other farms similarly situated in the community."

"One of the changes provides a flat penalty of 10 cents per pound on all sales of tobacco in excess of the actual production on the acreage allotment for the tobacco farm."

As a result of the large tobacco crop of this year and the recent withdrawal from the market of the buyers for the British trade, the county agent said growers of flue-cured tobacco are confronted with what is considered by many to be the most serious crisis they have ever experienced in marketing their crop.

"Everything possible is being done to get the buyers for the British trade to go back on the market and to make their normal purchases," he said. "The result of these efforts probably will not be known for some time. In the meantime, the most important matter is the decision as to the size of the 1940 crop."

This year the flue-cured growers in Georgia marketed their crop without marketing quota regulations. The county agent said it

Let's Keep Our Primary Out Of State Politics

Mr. D. B. Turner, editor of the Bulloch Times, one of South Georgia's better newspapers, carried a story on his front page, last week, pointing out the dangers involved in holding our county primary on the same date as that of the state primary.

We heartily concur with The Times in the statement made in that story. It would seem unfair to our local candidates to embroil them in state and national politics, in which anything might happen so far as we are able to learn our primaries have always been held early in the spring. They have been local affairs held in our own back yard, away from the heat of state primaries.

The Times story said:
"While some counties around this section are beginning to fix dates for their forthcoming primaries, and at least one of these dates has been fixed within the present year, little discussion has been heard of the matter in Bulloch county."

"However, the little discussion so far heard carries the suggestion that there might be a change in the custom of holding a separate primary-which is to say, that some are said to favor the holding of the county and state primary on the same date.
"So far as is known the discussions have not gone very far, and we are not informed as to the popularity of the suggestion, nor as to its significance, if any. Having said this much, we venture the further prediction that there will probably not be any change from the usual custom. There does not appear to be any reason which would justify a change. In the past, the candidates for county offices—and they are the ones who have been called upon to defray the expense of holding the election—have demanded the right to be kept free from such entangling alliances as might arise from holding the state and county primary on the same date.
Which means, those who seek county office demand to be protected from state and national issues in the conduct of office."

"It is a recognized fact that state and national contests generate more heat than county elections, the heat from these might burn innocent candidates who do not have to be overshadowed and enmeshed in other person's candidates."

"Whether that is a good or bad argument, we are not saying, but there is almost a certainty that no candidate or friend of any candidate for county office will be willing to get that candidate involved in a joint primary."

We are sure that we would be more able to select our county officers with more care and with a clearer mind if we keep state and national politics from muddying up our county primary.

"Better Than A Three-Ring Circus"

A stranger seeing for the first time a session of our Court must say to himself: "Can this be where men and women settle legal differences?"

The Bulloch Superior Court was in session for three days last week. The first day was given over to determining what cases should be tried. Several were agreed upon and it was learned that either the lawyers or their clients were not in court.
Delay resulted. Other cases were called with the same results. Lawyers began arguing back and forth among themselves and with the Judge over minor points of law which could have been settled in minutes yet took the greater part of the day.

The second day was given over to the trying one case which had been in and out of court over a long period of time.

The third day was a repetition of the first with the disputes among the lawyers more heated.

And it all cost money. More than fifty jurors were called at $3.00 a day. These alone cost the county $450. There is the Judge's salary, the special bailliffs, and other costs. This does not include the time lost by the jurors who had to be away from their businesses for the period of three days.

One asks where lies the trouble. It seems that no one knows where the trouble is. They say "the system."

As a layman we do not know, but we do know that the court machinery should be tightened up without a drain on the county finances and we are the last one to admit that Bulloch county cannot do what other counties can do.

Congratulations to the city on their new street signs. They are attractive and make it easy for a stranger to find the street for which he is looking.

Marking the streets of our city was one of the first projects for which the Bulloch Herald beat the drum and it is with great delight that we see them now erected.

Georgia Teachers College

More than 600 students have enrolled in the Georgia Teachers College this term. A great percentage of these are boys and girls who do not live in Statesboro or Bulloch county. They are strangers in a strange county. Some will be here four years. Others have been here one, two, and three years. Some will come to know Statesboro and like it, and will go home to sing praises of Statesboro, the home of their Alma Mater.

Georgia Teachers college is one of the greatest assets that Statesboro and Bulloch county possesses.
And every student who attends it is a potential ambassador of good will for us.

The college makes this one of the leading cultural centers of the state. There are more than fifty professors here from all section of the country, all participating in and adding to the cultural activities of the city.

It furnishes an opportunity for every boy and girl in this section to acquire a higher education at a most reasonable cost. And a graduate of Georgia Teachers College finds that it is on a par with all the other colleges which offer the same degree.

So we, on behalf of the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county welcome the students and teachers of Georgia Teachers College. May your stay here be pleasant.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

THE ALMANIC SAYS THE WEATHER

Today, (Thursday), September 23 will be cool.
(Full Moon.)

Friday, September 29, will be cool.

Saturday, September 30, will be frost.

Sunday, October 1, will be delightful.

Monday, October 2, will be delightful.

Tuesday, October 3, will be shower.

Wednesday, October 4, will be fair.

But Don't Blame Us If The Almanac Is Wrong.

You who go to court may have wondered why the sheriff and his deputies and all the bailiffs wear their hats in that sacred hall of justice. We had wandered the same thing. Barney Averitt explained it to us last week. He used "Mule" Smith to explain it. "Now you take 'Mule' there said Barney, if he didn't have his hat on you would not pay him any attention at all, but with his hat on, you wonder if his folks didn't forget to tell him about keeping his hat on in the house. But with it on in the court house you know it must be something special, so when the judge wants something and you hear his call Mr. Smith, then you know him to be a bailiff."

"But seriously speaking," added Barney, "I am of the opinion that bailiffs keep their hats on for the same reason that a man in the army carrying arms keeps his hat on when he enters any building. It would be kinda inconvenient for a soldier to take his hat off before pulling his gun and besides it would be sorta awkward shooting a rifle or a pistol in one hand with your hat in the other.
And so since bailiffs and sheriffs are likely to be carrying arms, and if there should be need to use them, it would be just a bit embarrassing to have to take the time to doff their hats so that they can get down to the business of shooting. "And then, it makes them easy for the judge to pick out when he is looking for them."

It sounds reasonable to us. So when you see the sheriff and his bailiffs know that he is not being impolite but just "prepared for action."

We thank Barney for the information.

And we give credit to Barney for the most descriptive sentence this week: "As much out of place as a side saddle on a sow".

We were of the opinion that dove shooting was no fun unless it was so cold that one had to have a fire to warm up in order to be able to shoot.

And won't there be fun if the county primary is tied on to the state primary.

The Political Pot

The name of Dan N. Riggs goes into the pot this week. Mr. Riggs is a potential candidate for the office of Ordinary. He has been in politics in Bul-loch County for a long period of time, having held the Clerk's office for several terms.

Barbs Of The Brair Patch Philosopher . . .

Dear Editor:

Last first Sunday Sunday I went to church and our preacher didn't show up so we just had to have a singing service, and one of our members got up and read a verse or two out of the Bible.
While he was areading I set me to thinking. "Suppose I was to be called on to preach", I ask myself. And my heart started pumping something terrible. "Why, I do believe I'd faint shore".

But know we sometimes raise Cain with our preachers and think they otta preach better gospel.
But did you ever reckon on what you would say if you had to get up in the pulpit and preach a sermon. How long you reckon you could talk and what would you use for your text?

When I got home I set me down and wrote me out as prettier sermon as you ever heard. Mama helped me and I got the oldest youngun (he's been going three years out to Statesboro to the Agriculture school-they call it the Teachers College now) to help me and he used some big words and help me to learn to say 'em and so now if I have to take our preacher's place I can do it. It is 570 words long and I use this text:

"Sirs we would see Jesus". I got it from John 12:21, and it looks like this.

Of all the amazing things in human life I see, the most amazing is the blindness of humanity, physical and spiritual. I stood with a group on the shore of a clear mountain lake. (I just made this up, like Seldom—that the oldest youngun's name—says all the preachers do, they make up stories to make their sermon more gospel-like.) Round about were the mountains clothed in the beauty of forest-clad slopes, sweet in the witchery of June sunshine.
And high above, across the bluest sky in the world the white clouds drifted toward a far horizon of violet. (I used to see them clouds up over my head when I was a ploughing but I couldn't put what was in my mind in this. You know education is a good thing to have. I didn't even know Seldom could do this till we started this sermon. I am about to talk him into being a preacher now.)

Did the men and Women of the party see any of Nature's beauty? No, they were too busy appraising the personal appearances of their friends, too eager to see the flashing new car that stood at the roadside. They had eyes but the saw not.

But to the physical blind is not the greatest tragedy. The most appalling blindness is spiritual blindness (I kinda like this part)—the inability to see spiritually and rightly evaluate the eternal world of spiritual forces that is all about us. We know that this is true because: "The things that are seen (physically) are temporal but the things that are unseen are eternal." (Right here I expect to hear my congregation say "Amen") It has been truthfully said that "where there is no vision the people perish. "That is true, in an economical sense, because in the world of business it takes men of foresight and courage to plan wisely in that field of human endeavor, men who can see out before them the promised land that is the heritage of every good business man. But in the field of spiritual conquest the power to really see is infinitely precious and it is the spiritual seers of the race that save civilization from despair and death. No disaster can overcome the individual, no calamity can check the growth of a people that we blessed with the quality of clear vision.

The reason is that the individual man knows that in spite of defeat and weakness he had God on his side and that one man with God is a majority, a majority small as to numbers but strong with the strength of the Infinite. And a people of spiritual vision cannot be defeated. They know that the eternal stars fight for them as they move in their courses. They see beyond the visible material world, an invisible eternal realm of the spiritual, a blessed life joyously victorious in an endless immortality.

These men that came to speak these memorable words to the disciples of Jesus were motivated by the desire of thoughtful men in all ages. They wanted to see truth, to come face to face with a shining spiritual personality that was strangely moving the world. And yet as they stood face to face with this messenger of God from the unseen spiritual world, I doubt if they even really saw Jesus. Most men never see with understanding spiritual eyes the invisible deathless personality of those that they love most in human life.

How strange that we are content to live always in a world of dissolving material substances and think that the material universe is the only reality. It is no wonder that these men came a long time ago, as such men have been coming in all ages to see Jesus, because He was the revelation of spiritual truth, the messenger of the shining, invisible but eternal world that is the only reality in our ever-changing material universe.

"Sirs we would see Jesus."

And I bet you half of that red sow's litter of pigs was telling you bout that if I got called on to preach I would get up in the stand and God would just fill my mouth-not with the words like I wrote down-but with just plain ole every-day air, and I'll faint dead-a-way. But I learned a lot just a writing it.

B. P. P.

local reports reveal that if a syphilitic woman is treated by a qualified physician before the fifth month of her pregnancy, she will probably give birth to a normal and noninfected child. Every pregnant woman should insist on blood tests as part of the general examination and prenatal care given her by her physician or clinic.

There is a record of one family of six children in which every child was afflicted with what was supposed to be tuberculosis. Upon investigation, however, it was found that the mother had syphilis and that she had been infected by her husband. The children were suffering from this disease and not from tuberculosis. Under treatment the children improved. Understanding on the part of the parents might have prevented the infection of the children or at least have given them a better chance for cure through early treatment.

Bulloch Farmers May Apply For Price Adjustment Payment

Bulloch County farmers that cooperated with AAA program with cotton in 1939 may now sign their application for the price adjustment payment, according to J.
W. Gaskins, administrative assistant.

Mr. Gaskins explains that this is the 1.6 cents on the cotton quota multiplied by the 1939 normal yield for the farm.

Only about 15 farmers in the county have not cooperated with the cotton program, Mr. Gaskins says. Some farmers have cooperated on one farm by staying within the cotton quota but exceeded their quota on another farm. Since the subsidy payment is based on the individual farm cooperating it will be possible for these farmers to collect the 1.6 cents payment on the farm they cooperated on for 1939.

The 1939 work sheets are also being signed at the time the application is filled. However, it is not necessary for the share croppers to sign the work sheet. Mr.
Gaskins urges landlords to bring the share croppers that are interested in cotton in 1939 with them so that the application may be completed without any delay.

1940 AAA Farm Program Approved

Provisions of the 1940 A A A Farm Program have been approved and will be made known to Georgia farmers in plenty of time for them to plan cropping operations before planting time, County Agent Byron Dyer announced this week.

With The County Agent

Byron Dyer

The county agent explained that, according to a statement made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, "through consideration was given to the present European situation and its possible effects on American agriculture when the 1940 program was drafted. The aim of this program is to maintain a production of farm commodities in this country which will balance with the demand; whatever that demand may prove to be, and to maintain and improve the fertility of our farm land. Farmers' interests are carefully safeguarded in this program, which also serves the public interest."

The provisions of the program dealing with agricultural conservation measures closely follow those in effect this year and are based on farmer recommendations, the county agent said. The wheat allotment of 62 million acres—7 million acres larger than the 1939 allotment—has already been announced, as have tentative conservation and price adjustment payments which will total from 18 to 22 cents per bushel next year. Acreage goals for other major crops together with rates of payment will be established in view of developing conditions.

The county agent explained that changes in the 1940 program recognize special conditions in certain areas and emphasize soil conservation on all farms the county over.

An important provision which will encourage further soil conservation measures on small farms insures that as much as $20 may be earned on every farm participating in the program. Another important conservation provision will encourage the planting of forest trees on farms by allowing farmers to earn up to $30 for tree planting in addition to the regular soil-building allowance for the farm.

Soil-building practices have been provided to meet more adequately the needs for soil conservation, the county agent said, and special emphasis will be given to the commercial peanut a home-garden provision will be and commercial vegetable production. The new provisions are grams to more counties than in 1939.

INCREASE IN SWINE PRODUCTION NEEDED ON GEORGIA FARMS

Georgia falls far short of producing its pork needs, despite the fact that she ranks ninth in the nation, being exceeded only by the seven Corn Belt states and Texas, Charles E. Bell, Jr., of Tifton, pointed out to Georgia hog raisers this week.

Bel, swine specialist for the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service, estimated the state could probably double the number of hogs produced. The number of hogs on Georgia farms this year has been placed at 1,554,000, with an estimated value of $11,132,000, which is more than for any year since 1923, when the census showed a total of 1,600,000.

Due to favorable climate, soil, and wide variety of crops adopted to grazing and hogging off in the fields, the specialist stated that farmers, particularly those in the southern part of the state, have demonstrated that they can produce pork as cheaply as any section of the country. Even with low hog prices, they can successfully produce this increased number of hogs, provided full use is made of the advantages present for raising cheap pork, he further stated.

The agent explained that hogs suffer much more than other kinds of livestock from lack of calcium in their rations, since their growth is rapid and their grain feeds are usually low in minerals. He said that calcium deficiency commonly results in pigs becoming crippled during growth of shipment and in brood sows breaking down while suckling pigs. He suggested a good mineral supplement to keep before growing pigs at all times is a mixture composed of equal parts of ground limestone, bone meal, and salt.

Zetterower Tigers Romp On S. Main Polecats

The Zetterower Tigers defeated the South Main Pole Cats in a contested game of football Saturday to the tune of 25 to 0.

In the first quarter Junior Poindexter scored two touchdowns for the Tigers. The first from the 45 yard line and the other from the 35 yard line. In the second quarter Robert Brannen caught a long pass and ran ten yards for a score. Dan Groover accounted for the fourth score when he ran 23 yards to the goal line in the third quarter.

A feature of the game was Foy Olliff's sensational catch of a 30 yard pass for a long gain. Another spine chaser happened when Inman Foy got away on a fifty yard jaunt to the glory land but was run out of bounds on the 15 yard line.

The South Main Polecats were unable to cope with the strong defense machine built up by the Tigers.

The Tigers will play the West Main Iron Gang Saturday.

The Tiger lineup was: Foy Olliff, RE; Wester Upchurch, RT; John Groover, LT; Frank DeLoach, Center; Teeny DeLoach, LE; Inman Foy, HB; Dan Groover, FB; Junior Poindexter, HB; Robert Brannen, QB, Referee, "Bo" Hag-an.

The new station is located on North Main Street, next to S. W. Lewis, (the Ford Place).

Mr. Tyson stated that the new station is one of the most modern and up-to-date in southeast Georgia.

He pointed out that Mr. Everett and Mr. Hodges are both experienced service station operators and are prepared to offer every service known to the motoring public. He added that a motorist is assured of the finest known gasoline, lubricants, oils, accessories, when they drive into this modern Standard Service Station.

Mr. Olliff Everett, of the Hodges and Everett Service Station, is well known to every one in the city and county. Mr. Everett has had long previous experience in serving the motoring public, having operated a service station here in Statesboro for a number of years.

He is qualified as an expert in oils and lubricants and general knowledge of the proper care of automobiles and trucks.

Men prefer Brogues!

"We couldn't explain why, but real he-men seem to prefer brogues to any other style of shoe. Maybe it's the rough and ready sturdiness that all brogues have. Maybe it's their characteristic life and pep. Anyway, we've noticed that bankers and "bouncers", butchers and bell-boys all show a hankering for a rich, full brogue."

With that in mind we're giving you men a preview here of three of our most popular Fortune brogues. They can't be touched for style and wear, and we think you'll agree that they're a steal at four dollars. See 'em

Delicious Dishes From The Georgia Sweet Potatoe

By Miss Elvie Maxwell
Home Demonstration Agent

Food Value—The sweet potato is a nutritious, palatable, and universally liked food. It constitutes one of Georgia's principal vegetable crops and occupies an important place in Georgia dietary.

It is an excellent energy food. Its food value is somewhat higher than that of the white potato, the sweet potato yields 558 calories per pound as compared with 378 calories per pound for white potato.

As compared with root vegetables, sweet potatoes rank high as a source of protein. They supply substances necessary for growth which are lacking in certain seed and grains. For this reason they supplement the deficiencies of the protein of corn, wheat, lima beans, and cowpeas.

As a source of mineral the sweet potato compares favorably with white potatoes and other root vegetables.

The sweet potato is base-forming. It may be substituted for bread rice or grits in any meal to balance the acid-forming foods.

The vitamin content of sweet potatoes is an importance consideration in their food value. They rank high as a source of vitamin A. Since vitamin A is associated with yellow coloring matter, the yellow varieties contain more of this vitamin than white varieties. They are a good source of vitamin B, and contain appreciable amounts of vitamin C.

The sweet potato is valuable for every member of the family but because of its excellent food value and ease of digestion when properly cooked, it is especially recommended for children. It is easily digested when mashed and combined with milk or some other food. Fried sweet potatoes are not advised for children.

Economical Good.—Making a valuable contribution to the diet at small cost, the sweet potato is one of the most economical of foods. It may be served as a vegetable, as a desert and as a breakfast. When it is used plentifully in the diet, it adds to the food value of the diet and it aids the Georgia farmer to dispose of his potato crop.

The following recipe provide a variety of ways for using the sweet potato.

RECIPES

Candied Sweet Potatoes
6 medium sized sweet potatoes
1 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg
2 cups brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup butter

Partially boil the sweet potatoes (or bake). Cool and peel. Cut in one-third inch lengthwise slices and arrange in layers in baking dish. Make a syrup of the sugar, water, lemon juice, cinnamon and salt. Add the butter and pour the syrup over the potatoes. Cook in a moderate oven until the potatoes are clear and the syrup thick.

Orange Candied Sweet Potatoes
1 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
6 medium sized potatoes

Peel and slice uncooked potatoes in one-fourth inch slices, arrange in a buttered baking dish, make a syrup of the other ingredients. Pour the syrup over the potatoes, cover and bake in a moderate oven until tender. Baste occasionally. Remove the lid the last ten minutes to brown. If desired a layer of marshmallows may be added and browned just before removing from the oven.

Breaded Sweet Potatoes
Cut boiled or baked sweet potatoes in lengthwise slices. Dip the slices in beaten egg then in crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain on paper. Serve hot.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes
4 large potatoes
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup hot water
1/4 cup butter
Pinch of salt

Boil potatoes until partly done, peel and cut in quarter lengthwise. Place in a buttered baking dish. Make a syrup of the sugar, butter, water, and salt and pour over the potatoes. Bake in moderate oven until the potatoes are brown, basting often with the syrup. If necessary add a small amount of boiling water. When ready to serve sprinkle with chopped nuts.

"The First Complete News In The County"

Loose Screws In The News---

James Hobson, of Jasper, the proud possessor of an Asiatic tigre, recently refused $10,000 for this rare holly plant, one of its existence in America. The technical name means literally "intricate holly," which is an excellent description of this botanical curiosity. Mr. Hobson received the evergreen some 15 years ago as a tiny shoot from the Royal Botanical Gardens of Sidapur, India, and has seen the plant grow into a seven-foot giant, with a dark green hue, wax-like leaves, and intricately-laced branches.

There's a hen in the Elberton vicinity that takes her work seriously, even to the point of working over time. Mrs. J. D. Stratton, of Mossy Creek, has a fowl that not only sets a large egg every day but puts out a "special edition" twice a week—a mammoth affair with two yolks. If eggs were valued according to weight, Mrs. Stratton's hen might bring in a neat income.

Mr. M. C. Popp, of Milledgeville, also has a hen with ideas. This Rhode Island Red lays Easter eggs! The eggs are of a dark brown color.

J. P. Billingsley, of Newman, who apparently believes "life begins at 107," is going to take in the World's Fair alone, despite his advanced years. Billingsley, as spry as a man of 90, is being awarded the trip for being the "oldest man in Georgia," and will meet with 47 centenarians from other states. Though he has almost doubled his "three-score and ten," Billingsley walks frequently from his home to town, and is looking forward to his trip to the fair. "I don't want to miss any of the shows," he said.

P. A. Gray, of Pelham, thought he was one farmer who did not "sow what he reaped" recently, when what he thought was peanuts, turned out to be little "fuzzy balls". It was only when peanut-pulling time came that Farmer Gray discovered one-third of his crop had "fizzled". Gray blames the strange occurrence on "weather conditions."

Mrs. G. W. Seay, of Tifton, paid a visit recently to two sisters in Atlanta whom she had not seen for 38 years. Mrs. Cynthia Wynn and Mrs. Jennie Harrelson. Mrs. Seay also saw her brother, last April, from whom she had been absent for the same length of time. She stated that the family was "broken up" when the children were small and had not seen each other since.
