On Friday, February 9th at 3:30 o'clock, the Christian Woman's Union urges all the women of the Statesboro Churches to meet at the Baptist Church for an hour of prayer and meditation. This meeting will be our part in observing the "World Day of Prayer" which had its beginning as far back as 1887, when Presbyterian women in the U. S. A. came together to pray for Home Mission. Interest in this Day of Prayer increased and so the Foreign Mission forces chose a day for united prayer in the early nineties. As early as 1920, both in Canada and the United States, church women of all denominations united in prayer, the first Friday in Lent being selected as the "Day of Prayer for Missions"—Home and Foreign.

EASIEST TIME TO CURE DRAFTS IS WHEN YOU BUILD!

WATCH THESE THREE PLACES IF YOU WOULD STOP THEM

There is just no excuse for drafts in your new home, because drafts are definitely curable if you will watch just three places—and all three places are around your windows.

First and foremost offender in the making of drafts in your new home is the window frame. Now you've never bought window frames so you don't know anything about them and that is one reason why so many home builders have drafty windows, because they were careless about the window frame. If it makes a permanent leakproof weather-tight joint with the wall—fine and dandy. If it doesn't, you'll have drafts, no end of drafts. How can you make sure about a weather-tight joint? Just specify that the window frames used in your new home have wide blind stop construction. This special construction should be familiar to your contractor.

Proper Fitting Necessary

Next in importance to window frame is the window sash (the part of the window that moves within the frame). Many home builders buy window frames in one place and sash in another with the result that the sash and frame never fit properly in spite of trimming and cutting on the job. And sash that don't fit properly cause drafts, and more drafts. The modern trend is towards what is known as complete window units that are delivered with frame and sash precision fitted to each other at the factory. Many of these window units are even complete with weatherstripping. In any event be sure that the window sash are fitted properly to the window frame and you'll eliminate another big source of drafts.

Glass Cools Air

Now here is the third cause of drafts. It's warm air being quickly cooled against a single pane of glass. The cold air then drops to the floor. This flow of air causes drafts. Why the cure? A double pane of glass. Some windows are made so that this double pane of glass fits on the inside of the window, while the most common is the ordinary storm window which are hung on the outside. Whether your double glass is inside or outside, the result is the same. The glass that is within the heated room is kept warmer by the dead air space between the two panes. Result: Warm air is not cooled so fast; no cool air—no drafts.

TO ALL DELINQUENT TAX PAYERS

The County and School Boards have notified me that all tax bills must be levied immediately, which I will begin to levy at once, but will not charge for any levy until March 1st. At which time advertising will begin, and there will be additional cost of levy and advertising, please arrange to take care of your taxes, and save this additional cost, as I have nothing further I can do under the notice served.

Yours Very Truly,
L. M. MALLARD, Sheriff.

TAX NOTICE

To the delinquent taxpayers of Bulloch County:

The Bulloch County Commissioners and the Bulloch Board of Education, in a joint session held this day, decided to postpone the sale of the tax bill as until April 1, 1940. All persons who desire to save the cost of a levy can do so by paying their taxes by March 1, 1940. All tax bills not paid by April 1, 1940, will be offered for sale after that date.

This action is made necessary in order that the schools may run for the full term for the year 1939-40, and that the county may carry-on in a normal way.

Please keep in mind that levies with additional cost will begin March 1, 1940.

Your cooperation will be appreciated. The schools are yours and the county is yours, and still takes money to pay bills.

Respectfully,
J. A. Motts, J. Floyd Nevills, Ethan D. Proctor, E. L. Proctor, E. L. Monack, W. C. Cromley, Members of the Board of Education.

H. P. Womack, Superintendent of Bulloch County Schools.

Geo. P. Lee, M. J. Bowen, Fred W. Hodges, Bulloch County Commissioners.

NOTICE AT BRIDGE
DEALT IN SPADES

Thirteen is lucky, says Hubert Sanders, Editor. Especially when that is the number of spades you are dealt at a bridge game. Such a stroke of luck, never in occurrence than a hole in one, came to Sanders recently, and so enthused the novice that the game was broken up in his jubilation.

Listen to Them

This week the Bulloch County Hospital Service Association begin selling memberships in its organization to provide for ordinary hospitalization for citizens of Bulloch county in the Bulloch county Hospital in case of sickness.

It is to be understood that when those offering these memberships come to you to explain to you the contracts they have only the welfare of the county at heart. They are receiving just exactly nothing in return for long hours of hard work and exhaustive research in order to make this thing possible. All the work done and the work being done is cheerfully given. So when one of them comes to you give that one a chance to tell what the hospitalization plan has to offer you and your family.

The success of their work depends upon the response you give to the plan. There can be no doubt that the plan they have worked out is workable. It means for everyone who subscribes to its services freedom from all future worries general built up in one's family when a member of that family must go to the hospital.

Going to a hospital is something that catches us off our feet and something for which we have made no provision in our budgets. With a membership in the Bulloch County Hospital Service Association one need never worry about hospital costs.

So when a member of the organization comes to you listen to their explanation of the plan and know that they are giving their time and services free and are only hoping to provide this community with a means by which the people living in it may be free of the fear of hospital costs when the time comes when they may have to go in one's family when a member of that family must go to the hospital.

Thanks to the Journal

Last week we were pleased to read in the editorial columns of the ATLANTA JOURNAL a piece entitled "Tweedledum and Tweedledee."

The editorial was in comment on an editorial we had written several weeks ago. Now it is especially pleasing to our vanity to have a great paper like the Journal noticing our editorials and more pleasing to have them comment on what we write.

The editorial in full is as follows:

TWEEDLEDUM AND TWEEDLEDEE

Rudyard Kipling long ago created the unforgettable couplet that Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's lady are sisters under their skins, but Editor Leodel Coleman, of the BULLOCH HERALD, has just made the important discovery that there is mighty little difference between Statesboro and New York City. "There is no such thing as a 'Big City,'" he says. "There is such a thing as more people living in one town than in another town, but that does not give the town with the more people the right to say, 'We are a city.'"

This thought arose from the fact that Editor Coleman picked up a copy of the NEW YORK TIMES and saw two editorials. One was entitled "New Street Numbers." "Where have you seen an editorial under the same title?" he asks and answers, "Sure, just the other day in the BULLOCH HERALD." The other was a demand for reforms in court procedure, a subject on which the Georgia weekly had thundered only a few weeks ago.

"Here we see the city of New York, the greatest metropolis on the face of the earth, confronted with the same problems facing Statesboro and Bulloch County, and a great newspaper writes of these problems just as we write of them, in the hope of having them corrected. Either Statesboro is not yet grown, or New York is a small town overgrown. It makes no difference, they both are bothered with the same pain."

The ATLANTA JOURNAL then adds this paragraph. "There is one difference which may be cited on the authority of the late and great O. Henry. The most verdant yokel of the Greenback River bottoms is an urbane cosmopolitan as compared with the lucks of Gotham."

"Bill Biffen" Back at His Desk

The people in this section are delighted to note that W. G. Sutlive, better known as "Bill Biffen" has returned to his desk at the Savannah Evening Press.

"Bill Biffen" is one of those rare characters with the ability to lighten the mental burdens of those with whom he comes in contact. Since being in the newspaper game we never fail to go to the Press office to look in Mr. Sutlive's door. He never fails to ask of the welfare of Statesboro and Bulloch County and we never fail to come out of his office without feeling mentally refreshed.

Barbs of the Brier Patch Philosopher

Dear Mr. Coleman:

It has been raining so that Pa has not been able to get out like he expected to last week. He wanted to write you this week but I told him that I wanted to finish them recipes I started last week. I told him he could go out to the barn and work on that old planter cause he's going to be needing it pretty soon. He's just like every man I know—anything to get out of work. He thinks he is getting to be something just because he writes you a letter every week and you print it. He's been fretting 'round the house all the morning since I told him I was going to write you this week.

(Editor's Note: Dear Brier Patch Philosopher: Now listen we don't want to get mixed up in this affair. We don't want it ever said that we had anything to do with causing domestic. We want you to keep writing to us for we have a number of people who read your letters and like them but if you and "Ma" start "fretting" like she says in this letter, then you two had better get together on which is to write or just write them together. This is the best idea. For several have expressed their like for "Ma's" letter last week.)

This week I want to finish out those recipes I started last week. Here is my recipe for Liver Pudding, Cracking Bread and Brains and Eggs.

LIVER PUDDING
Take one cup liver, lights and one jewel. Boll together until tender. Mash well or grind in food chopper. Add one and one half to two cups cooked rice, one medium size onion, chopped fine, salt and pepper to taste. Pack in a bowl.
Pa likes this with syrup and flitters.

The first step toward greatness is to be honest, says the proverb; but the proverb fails to state the case strong enough. Honesty is not only "the first step toward greatness"—it is greatness itself.—Bovee.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK.

TODAY, Thursday, February 15, will be rain.
Friday, February 16, will be fair and cold.
Saturday, February 17, will be rainy.
Sunday, February 18, will be clear and pleasant.
Monday, February 19, will be clear and pleasant.
Tuesday, February 20, will be clear and cold.
Wednesday, February 21, will be rain and snow.

BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC IS WRONG.

I don't know of a man in Bulloch county who seems to get so much done, sees so many people, hear so many complaints, and yet with it all remain pleasant, and pleasant to always see you when you go in his office. Fred Hodges who he is the man. He has the most thankful job in the county. With every body riding him for funds and hoping to impress her he instructed his mother to be sure and wash his face and hands and his knees clean that morning. So she did and the lady did not show up. And now Jerry is a disillusioned young man. But cheer up old fellow. As a lot of man to man you are due for a lot of such disappointments. But don't let it get you down.

The Man of the Week

DR. ALPHONSE J. MOONEY
Editors Note: The biographical sketch of Dr. A. J. Mooney, The Herald's "Man of the Week," was written by Zack Henderson, and appeared in The Service Wheel, weekly publication of the Statesboro Rotary Club.)

When I started to write this article, Mary, our four year old daughter, knowing that I was going to write about Doctor Mooney, said, "Tell him I love him, and I want him to come to see me."

There are many children in this county who feel the same way about Doctor Mooney. Not only children (he is the godfather of approximately 1,200 children who came into the world through his service as a physician) but the men of the Rotary Club as well as the men of the community appreciate his fine example of Christian living.

He was born at Taylor's Creek in 1875, in Liberty county. At the age of 12 his family moved to Bryan County and he completed the high school course at Bryan Institute located at Malden Creek. For three years he was a student at Mercer University, and then attended Baltimore Medical College in Baltimore Md. He did not get his degree from Baltimore, but came back to Georgia and finished his degree in 1898 at the Atlanta Medical College, now a part of the medical college of Emory University.

Dr. Mooney did post graduate work at John Hopkins University, Chicago Polyclinic Hospital and the New York Polyclinic Hospital. He moved to Statesboro in 1900 and has practiced medicine here for 40 years. During this time he has taken an active part in the life of the community.

For several years he was a member of the town council. He is past master and past high priest of the local Masonic Lodge, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and past president of the Statesboro Rotary Club. For several years he has been chairman of the Board of Deacons of the Baptist Church and for eight years the teacher of the Philanthropic Sunday School class. During the world war, he was captain of the Medical Corps, 810 Pioneer Infantry at Charlotte, N. C.

He is a fellow in the American Medical Association, American College of Surgeons, the South-eastern Surgical Congress and the local surgeons for the Central of Georgia Railroad.

He married Sally Wimberly of the Statesboro and they have three children; John, Marilyn, and Sarah. John is a graduate of Emory and the Marylin and Sarah of the Statesboro. He is a charter member of the Statesboro Rotary Club and because of his life service he can truly be called a Rotarian. In every week, I just want to say to you, a gentleman, and a credit to Statesboro. May you live long, Dr. Mooney, and your life be full of happiness. We need more men like you.

Very Truly Yours,
MRS. B. P. P. like you

Right Way, Easy Way to Carve Ham

THE SCENE OF THIS DOMESTIC "TRAGEDY" IS THE FAMILY DINNER TABLE.

All is quiet. All eyes are on the host, who is seated behind a beautiful whole baked ham, oblivious to the pride and joy of mother's culinary ability. Mother has laid out "Oh, it's so pretty, isn't it? A shame Henry won't make a scene of it!"

HOSTESS DOES HER PART

The host isn't the only one who has an important role in a carving scene. A little forethought on the part of the hostess will make the actual carving much easier.

In setting the table she should be sure that the carver has room for his platter and for his elbow. The platter itself should be large enough to accommodate slices of meat when cut, or an additional warm platter should be placed in a safe zone with respect to the carver.

An over generous garnish becomes a decided hazard to the man with the knife. Adequate and attractive garnishes can be arranged with a thought to the work that has to be done by the host.

PROPER COOKING IMPORTANT

Cooking the meat properly, neither overdone nor underdone, is the most important preparation for carving and if a large roast is allowed to stand about thirty minutes, it can be carved more easily. Since servings cool quickly, don't forget to have the plates and platters heated.

This is just a little hint to the hostess, but it will be appreciated more than anything else. When you come to the natural halt in the conversation just as the carver is to demonstrate his skill or lack of it, start talking about the weather or Chinese fishing fish. Anything to divert the guests' attention from the scene of activity.

AND HOST DOES HIS PART

Now a few "cutting remarks" to the host. Stand up or sit down when you carve, as you prefer. Be certain your knife and sharp as it can be. Avoid changing the angle of the blade when making a slice, for neat, uniform slices. A little investigation concerning the bones will help you choose your course.

Plan the servings before carving so that each person will receive his part of the choice portion. The carver must be the judge of how much to serve, when to prepare second helpings and other incidental problems which might arise. First, foremost, last and always, however, he must remember that at all times he must "cut across the grain" except when carving the neck, the exception which proves the rule, in the case of steaks.

TO CARVE A HAM

Since our star family is having ham for dinner this evening, let's see just how the host should proceed with actual carving. The ham is on the platter with the fat and decorated side and the shank end is to the carver's right - at least it should be. The carver inserts the fork and cuts several slices parallel to the length of the ham on the nearest side. He then turns the ham so that it rests on the surface just cut, holds it firmly with the fork and cuts a small wedge from the shank end. This wedge is removed making it much easier to cut the succeeding slices and to release them from the bone. Keeping the work in place to steady the ham, the host cuts thin slices down the leg bone and releases these slices by cutting along the bone at right angles to those cut.

FOR MORE SERVINGS THE HAM CAN BE TURNED BACK TO ITS ORIGINAL POSITION AND SLICED AT RIGHT ANGLES TO THE BONE.

If you can get your cues from hints such as these, the carving will surely have a traditional happy ending.

THE PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION met Wednesday, January 31 in the high school auditorium and the following program was given:
