

FEE's Top 5 Resources for Educators

1. FREE BOOKS PROGRAM NEW!

Order your free Classroom Kit at FEE.org/ck. Each student will receive their very own copies of the following timeless classics: I, Pencil, The Law, Economics in One Lesson, and Great Myths of the Great Depression. You will also receive lesson plans and a Teacher's Guide to help facilitate class discussions and it's all free (US only).

2. FREE ONLINE COURSES

Visit FEE.org/courses to access free online courses for the perfect introduction or supplement to free market economics, ethical entrepreneurship, poverty alleviation, business cycles, US Government, and more.

3. FREE DOWNLOADABLE TEACHER-LED WORKSHOPS NEW!

Conduct a fun teacher-led classroom workshop! FEE offers free downloadable workshops that anyone can facilitate.

Economics in One Day is a fantastic and exciting introduction to the principles of a market economy and involves 3 different learning activities that get the students up and moving around in teams. They will experience first hand the differences between a top-down central government economy versus a free-market economy. Get ready to witness some light-bulb "aha!" moments with this one! FEE.org/eod

Entrepreneurship in Action! helps prepare students for life-long success by teaching the importance of ethical entrepreneurship, strong character, and thinking with an entrepreneurial mindset. It includes Powerpoint Presentation slides with short videos and discussion questions focused on competition, profits, and free enterprise, and comes complete with a scripted Facilitator Guide. This workshop teaches leadership, speaking and communication skills, critical thinking, business plans, and culminates in a Shark Tank competition! FEE.org/eia

4. HOST FEE AT YOUR HIGH SCHOOL NEW!

Bring FEE to your school at no charge with our 4-hour seminar giving high school students a taste of college-level economics, political science, and philosophy with renowned Professors Antony Davies and James Harrigan. School groups with 75-200 students may apply by visiting FEE.org/ft.

5. 3-DAY SUMMER CAMPS

Among FEE's most sought-after programming are the High School Summer 3-Day Camps. Named by Forbes as a top summer program, students ages 14-17 get to spend 3 days at one of our host universities with top students, business leaders, and professors while gaining invaluable skills and real-world knowledge. Registration is December through March, first come first served. Tuition and travel scholarships available. FEE.org/seminars
