Meet Gulzar Shah – Award for Excellence in Research and/or Creative Scholarly Activity

Dr. Gulzar H. Shah, PhD, MStat, MS, is the Associate Dean for Research at the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health (JPHCOPH). Dr. Shah is a prolific researcher with over 85 publications in the peer reviewed journals and over 120 presentations at professional conferences. Dr. Shah currently serves as the Senior Associate Editor of the Frontiers in Public Health Services and Systems Research, and as the Consulting Editor for the Journal of Public Health Management and Practice. His research interests include data improvement tools; practice-based PHSSR; eHealth and public health information; public health finances; and higher education research. "I am honored to be recognized for excellence in research – something I do purely out of my passion," he said. "It is humbling in that so many of my colleagues are excellent researchers, and anyone could have been the winner. I am fortunate to have worked with such high quality students and faculty researchers, making me a highly collaborative researcher." Dr. Shah attributes his research productivity to JPHCOPH's research-conducive environment, high quality Georgia Southern student researchers available for collaboration, and an impressive network of collaborators he has managed to maintain in public health agencies and other schools of public health across the country.

FY17 Awards for Excellence in Research and/or Creative Scholarly Activity

The Faculty Research Committee would like to invite you to submit your nomination for the FY17 competition for the Awards for Excellence in Research and/or Creative Scholarly Activity. Nominations must be received via the online portal before 5 PM on September 12, 2016. Any member of the Georgia Southern faculty or administration may nominate one core faculty member for the award using the online nomination form located here. This award seeks to recognize faculty who excel in their research efforts in addition to fulfilling regular full-time teaching responsibilities. Nominees must have completed 3 years of service at GSU prior to nomination. Two awards are given each fiscal year, accompanied by a $4000 stipend to allow recipients time to devote to their scholarly pursuit. Faculty who have won the Excellence in Research Award in the past 10 years are not eligible to compete. Award recipients must be members of the core faculty during the academic year following election to remain eligible to serve and will participate in the Focus on Excellence Lecture Series, highlighting their scholarly work.
