Office Hours & Instructor Planning Time – Office hours for this course are scheduled to provide you with specific assistance with the course assignments, questions about seeking an internship or other career related issues. If you cannot make any of these scheduled “open” hours, please email me to arrange an appointment that accommodates both schedules.

Class Policies:
Attendance – Our class meets once a week, therefore, missing class is comparable to missing a week of information. There will be some weeks that we do not meet in class to attend relevant campus activities (Living Well Fair, Health Networking Professionals Fair). I will take attendance weekly.
PLEASE NOTE: “The University does not issue an excuse to students for class absences. In case of absences as a result of illness, representation of the University in athletic and other activities, or special situations, instructors may be informed of reasons for absences, but these are not excuses.” Each professor has the responsibility for setting specific policies concerning class attendance beyond the first class meeting, including whether they will accept excused absences and whether they will allow work missed to be made up. (2014-2015 Georgia Southern University Course Catalog, p. 53). University Policy on Religious Holidays - It is the policy of the University to permit students, faculty, and staff to observe those holidays set aside in their chosen religious faith. The faculty should be sensitive to the observance of these holidays so that students who choose to observe these holidays are not seriously disadvantaged. It is the responsibility of students who wish to be absent to make arrangements in advance with their instructors.

Assignments & due dates Assignments are assigned a specific due date to ensure that everyone has equal time in which to complete the assigned requirements. In some cases, assigned due dates attempt to correspond with specific course content. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that ALL assignments are received by the instructor either submitted on-line on the date/time which they are due. Therefore, NO LATE ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE ACCEPTED with the student receiving a zero for that assignment.

Professionalism

1. Timely and regular attendance.
2. Considerable and consistent effort in the preparation of assignments.
3. Typed and well prepared assignments.
4. Active class participation.
5. Appropriate and respectful behavior to students and professor.

Cellular Phones, Pagers, IPODs and any other assorted Electronic Devices – Again as a courtesy to the instructor and fellow students, please turn your phone, pager or portable music device to the off or to the silent position before entering class and completely stowed during class (including the use of ear “buds”). Vibrations are also disruptive to others. Any student not complying with this policy will be asked to leave their device in a basket at the front of the room receive any credit for attendance or other class activities. BOTTOM LINE – REFRAIN FROM ENGAGING IN ACTIVITIES THAT DISTRACT YOU (texting), THE INSTRUCTOR AND OTHER STUDENTS while class is in session. In the event you believe you have an extenuating circumstance that warrants keeping your cell phone or pager on, you must get permission from the professor prior to entering class.

Course Requirements – 200 points can be earned. A=180-200; B=160-179; C=140-159..

* Mock CHES exam: The exam is worth 50 points. You scores will be graded out of 50 points. That is one point for each question on the exam. There is no minimum passing grade or score you will need to achieve in order to pass the exam or the class. This is worth 25% of your grade, so it is in your best interest to do well on this exam for your overall grade, but a failing score on this exam will not mean you also fail the class. On page two of your syllabus it says, "Course Requirements" and lists the grading scheme for points for this class. The Mock CHES fits into the points for this grading scheme.

Evaluation Criteria All assignments will be submitted via Folio to the appropriate dropbox. Late work will not be accepted UNLESS there is an unforeseen PERSONAL emergency. It is expected that the student will produce excellent quality work. Assignments will be evaluated using a rubric. A description of the assignment will be in the dropbox.
