

CALL FOR PAPERS
ISSUE 9

SPRING - SUMMER 2017

The Coastal Review will publish its tenth issue in Spring-Summer 2017. On behalf of the Department of Foreign Languages at Georgia Southern University, we invite everyone who presented a paper at the Southeast Coastal Conference on Languages and Literatures \(SECCLL 2017\) to submit a revised version of it for possible inclusion in the journal. However, all articles must be unpublished, original, and of high academic standards.

Article Length

Because this journal is published electronically, page limits are not as relevant as they are in the world of print publications. This said, authors should exercise some discretion with respect to length. (Appropriate length would be approximately between 15 to 20 pages.). Authors need to adhere to MLA style rules. In addition, authors should follow our Guidelines for Submission, specifically, the Final Manuscript Preparation Guidelines.

Submission Guidelines

Proposals may ONLY be submitted online through Digital Commons at Georgia Southern. In order to access Digital Commons, visit: <http://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/thecoastalreview/>

1. Click Submit Article.
2. Create a Digital Commons Account or sign in with your existing Digital Commons Account.
3. Follow the instructions provided to submit your article.
4. Towards the end of the submission form, please, make sure your mark appropriately whether you are submitting your article to our regular issue, and not to the "special issue."

Articles must be received by October 30, 2016.

Your proposal will undergo a blind review process, and you will receive notification of the decision regarding your submission once the review process has ended.

Should you have any questions or for further inquiries, please, e-mail the editors at TheCoastalReview@georgiasouthern.edu
